Money matters. Especially if it's yours.

Already complained to your bank, insurance company or finance firm? Still not happy? The ombudsman has official powers to help resolve financial complaints.

Set up by law, our service is free for consumers. We're independent and decide what's fair by looking at the facts.

If we think you've been treated fairly, we'll explain why. But if we uphold your complaint, we can order things to be put right for you.

Find out more about our service and how we settle financial complaints at www.financial-ombudsman.org.uk or phone us on 0845 080 1800.
