1. Executive Summary

Introduction

1.1 On 1 April 2014 we take over the regulation of around 50,000 consumer credit firms from the Office of Fair Trading (OFT). This means we will be bringing all firms that carry on regulated consumer credit activities into our regulatory regime, including our authorisation, supervision and enforcement processes.

1.2 We will have stronger powers and more resources than the OFT to regulate the consumer credit industry. Firms will have to comply with our Principles for Businesses, such as treating customers fairly, from 1 April and they should feel the difference under our regime from day one.

1.3 Our supervisory approach is risk-based and proactive to allow us to identify consumer harm quickly. Where we find evidence of consumers suffering due to poor services and products, we have powers of intervention, which we will use to take action – including enforcement action and securing redress for consumers where we deem it necessary.

1.4 We are now publishing our final rules following our October 2013 consultation paper (CP) and our December 2013 quarterly consultation paper (QCP). While many standards have been carried across from the Consumer Credit Act (CCA) and the OFT guidance, we have made additional rules for high-cost short-term credit (payday) lenders and debt management firms.

1.5 In the summer we will consult on proposals for a cap on the cost of high-cost short-term credit. We will also continue to engage with the industry to encourage real-time data sharing.

1.6 We will soon publish more information for firms who obtain interim permission about when they should apply for full Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) authorisation or variation of permission. In the meantime if OFT licensees want to continue carrying on the consumer credit activity covered by their OFT licence after 1 April, they must have an interim permission from us or they could be breaking the law.

Changes to proposals

1.7 We summarise in Table 1.1 which of the proposals for the new regime have changed as a result of our consultation and how, and which have not.

1.8 Table 1.2 summarises the further legislative changes the Government has made since we published our consultation.

1.9 For the high-cost short-term credit (HCSTC) sector we have amended the risk warning that we are requiring firms to include in their financial promotions. We have also made some adjustments to our rules about the use of continuous payment authority (CPA) in light of responses to our consultation, including for loans paid by instalments. We will review whether additional protections are needed for other credit products at a later date.

1.10 We have also made some amendments to how we propose to carry across OFT standards into our rules and guidance.

Listening to consumers and firms and acting on what we heard

1.11 We received around 300 responses to our consultation from a wide range of stakeholders. We also received feedback in other ways, including from ten roadshows that we held across the country where we spoke directly to firms affected by our proposals. Some stakeholders also corresponded with us directly.

1.12 As a result we were able to listen to, consider and act on the concerns raised. Most of our proposals have not significantly changed, but we have amended some based on the responses we had to the consultation. We have also amended and re-consulted on our proposals for authorisation fees.

1.13 Respondents generally welcomed our overall approach to regulating consumer credit. We received a lot of comments about how we propose to carry across OFT conduct standards, as well as general requests for further clarification on certain parts of our regulatory approach, such as how we will supervise and enforce our regime.

1.14 We received the most feedback on our proposals for the HCSTC sector, including about the consistency of our approach with other lending products, for example overdrafts and credit cards. Some debt management firms also asked for more clarity about our proposals and expectations, for example they wanted to know what proportion of customers’ payments should be passed on to creditors from day one of a debt management plan.

1.15 We set out the feedback we received and our responses throughout this policy statement.

Who should read this policy statement?

1.16 This policy statement will interest:

- firms that currently hold individual credit licences or are covered by group licences issued by the OFT under the CCA
- firms that are considering carrying on consumer credit activities
- operators of peer-to-peer (P2P) platforms
- trade bodies representing consumer credit firms
- consumer organisations
- not-for-profit bodies providing debt counselling, debt adjusting or credit information services
• firms that have registered for interim permission
• local authorities that carry on lending within the scope of the Consumer Credit Directive
• other bodies currently involved in regulating consumer credit.

1.17 This paper will also interest consumers. Anyone who has taken out a loan, used a credit card, had difficulties repaying debts, or looked for advice on debt problems may want to see how we will regulate consumer credit firms. More information is included in this document and on our website.

What happens next?

1.18 In this paper we set out the rules we have now made and explain whether they have changed since we consulted on our proposals last year. Firms can use this, and our Handbook of rules and guidance, to see what our expectations are of them. We will expect all consumer credit firms to comply with our rules. Tables 1.3 and 1.4 set out the dates they come into force.

1.19 We will start authorising firms from 1 April 2014. It will take some time to handle the significant number of applications we expect to receive, so if you have interim permission we will notify you to let you know when you should apply and we will publish some help online, including a video, to guide you through the process.

Last chance to register for interim permission

1.20 Many firms have now registered with us for interim permission, which means that they can continue to carry on the consumer credit activities covered by their OFT licence from 1 April as long as they continue to hold a valid OFT licence until then.

1.21 If you do not have interim permission on 1 April, you could be breaking the law if you continue to carry on consumer credit business, and you may be subject to enforcement action by us.

1.22 For more information on registering for interim permission please see our website.

Help for new firms

1.23 Many consumer credit firms will be new to us as a regulator, so we want to make the way we work and the transition from the OFT to our regime as clear as possible. We will publish a guide to help firms understand how it will feel to be regulated by us – please see our website for more details.

Rebates on licence fees for some consumer credit firms

The Government has decided to offer rebates to some consumer credit licence holders as licences will expire on 1 April 2014. For more information on applying for a rebate on your OFT licence, please see our website.
Table 1.1 – Summary of the new regime and the changes we have made in response to consultation

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Key proposals: position unchanged</th>
</tr>
</thead>

Interim permission
- Firms with consumer credit licences from the OFT can register for ‘interim permission’ to continue carrying on consumer credit activities from 1 April 2014.

Authorisation
- Firms with interim permission must apply for authorisation (or variation of permission (VoP)) within a specified application period.
- Firms carrying on lower-risk activities can apply for ‘limited permission’.
- The approved persons regime will apply to credit firms in a proportionate way.
- Consumer credit firms can be appointed representatives (excluding lenders that apply interest or charges and credit reference agencies) and there is the option of multiple principal arrangements (including for third party debt collectors).

Supervision and reporting requirements
- During the interim permission period, our supervisory approach will be similar to our normal three-pillar model, but with a greater emphasis on focused firm visits. As firms move through the authorisation process they will fall into line with the normal model.
- Proportionate regulatory reporting will be required.
- HCSTC lenders and providers of home-collected credit will have to report product sales data (PSD).

Conduct standards for all consumer credit firms
- From 1 April 2014 all consumer credit firms must comply with our high-level standards: the Principles for Businesses, the relevant systems and controls rules, and some general provisions including status disclosure rules.
- CCA and OFT standards will be carried across as FCA rules or guidance.
- Detailed rules and guidance will apply to ‘regulated debt counselling’ (but not to giving unregulated generic advice).
- Standards for financial promotions will be aligned with our existing regime, including the requirement to be clear, fair and not misleading.

HCSTC
- Additional requirements will be introduced for HCSTC lending:
  - Advertisements for HCSTC must carry a risk warning.
  - There will be a limit of two unsuccessful attempts to seek payment using a CPA, which can be reset subject to strict conditions.
  - Loans can only be rolled over twice and borrowers must be informed about sources of debt advice before a loan is refinanced.

Prudential standards
- Prudential requirements will apply to debt management firms and large not-for-profit debt advice bodies, reflecting the size of their ‘debts under management’.

P2P lending
- New rules will apply to peer-to-peer lending platforms.

Debt management firms holding client money
- Client money requirements will apply to debt management firms and not-for-profit debt advice bodies holding clients’ money, with additional requirements for larger firms.
Second charge loans
• OFT regime to be carried across pending implementation of the Mortgage Credit Directive (MCD).

Complaints to the Financial Ombudsman Service and redress for consumers
• Firms must comply with requirements for handling, recording, reporting and publishing complaints.
• All micro-enterprises will be eligible to complain to the ombudsman service for activity it covers.
• Complaints against not-for-profit debt advice bodies can be referred to the ombudsman service.
• There will be no Financial Services Compensation Scheme (FSCS) cover but this will be reviewed in 2016, in particular for the debt management sector.

Enforcement
• Our general approach to enforcement, and related policy and procedures for imposing penalties, will be applied from 1 April 2014.

Financial crime
• Firms must comply with requirements for establishing, implementing and maintaining adequate policies and procedures for countering the risk that they might be used to further financial crime.

Key proposals: changes made

Reporting requirements (see Chapter 3)
• PSD for HCSTC and home-collected credit: two data items dropped.

Conduct standards for all consumer credit activities (see Chapter 4)
• Some specific OFT guidance is to be carried across as guidance rather than rules; other drafting changes made to reflect OFT’s wording more closely or provide further clarity.
• Financial promotions: specific transitional arrangements for certain catalogues.
• Guidance added that debt management firms should not allocate more than half the money received from customers in debt management plans to meeting their fees and charges.

HCSTC (see Chapter 5)
• Credit providers with a social purpose, such as community development finance institutions are excluded from the HCSTC definition.
• The wording of the risk warning has been amended.
• Adjustments to our rules on the use of CPAs have been made to (among other things) make clear how they apply to instalment loans and single payments separately agreed by the customer.

Prudential standards for debt management firms (see Chapter 7)
• ‘Debts under management’ metric adjusted for larger firms to reflect economies of scale.

2 Authorisation and potential alternatives

This chapter summarises feedback on Q1 to Q4 of CP13/10 together with our response.

We are expecting many thousands of applications for FCA authorisation, so we are staggering when firms should apply so that we can handle all the applications. We are introducing ‘application periods’ between October 2014 and January 2016 in which firms with interim permission must apply to us if they want to be considered for authorisation.

We are considering an early application period for firms that want to become principals of appointed representatives. We will publish more information about this along with a timetable towards the end of March, and we will write to all firms that have registered with us for interim permission by 1 May with details.

Introduction

2.1 Firms (including individuals) carrying on regulated financial services activities in the UK must be authorised by the FCA unless they qualify for an exemption or an exclusion.

2.2 For an activity to be a regulated activity it must be carried on ‘by way of business’. If an individual who meets our criteria for being classified as an agent carries on an activity for their principal firm’s business, and not their own, the individual may not require authorisation for it.

2.3 An authorised firm will be granted either full or limited permission depending on the activity it undertakes.

2.4 The most common way a business can qualify for an exemption is to become an appointed representative of an authorised person (which includes firms). This means the authorised person (called the principal) takes responsibility for the regulated activities carried on by the appointed representative.

2.5 This chapter includes updates on interim permission and our plans to authorise consumer credit firms, and feedback on the questions in the consultation on issues relating to authorisation or exemption.
Interim permission

2.6 If a firm that currently holds an OFT licence wants to continue to carry on consumer credit activities from 1 April 2014 it must:

- Register with us by 31 March 2014 for interim permission to do so, or
- If the firm obtains a standard OFT licence between 18 March 2014 and 31 March 2014 it must register by 14 April 2014; if such a firm registers after 1 April, they can obtain interim permission from the date of their registration.

2.7 Interim permission continues until we determine a firm’s application for authorisation, if it applies within its ‘application period’ (see below), but we have the right to remove interim permission at any stage if we determine that the firm is no longer fit to hold it.

2.8 If a firm has not registered for interim permission by the deadline above, it will need to apply for authorisation from 1 April 2014 to carry on the activities for which it needs to be authorised. It will not be able to carry on those regulated activities unless and until authorisation is granted.

Applying for authorisation

2.9 To become authorised, firms apply to us using forms that we make available online. More details on our authorisation process, as well as help and guidance on what it means for firms, are on our website.

2.10 When deciding whether to grant a firm authorisation, we assess whether it meets our ‘threshold conditions’. We set out below the comments we received about this and our response.

2.11 We cannot consider applications for authorisation for consumer credit activities before 1 April 2014.

2.12 We will make an authorisation pack available before firms need to apply for authorisation. This will include information to help firms prepare for and complete their application through the online form.

Application periods

2.13 As we are expecting many thousands of applications for authorisation, we must stagger this process to ensure we can handle the applications in a streamlined manner and ensure that decisions are made within our usual service levels.

2.14 We are therefore introducing ‘application periods’, giving firms with interim permission a three-month window in which they must apply to us, otherwise their interim permission expires at the end of the application period. The first of these will run from October 2014.

3 Third party tracing agents, currently licensed for debt collection that carry on tracing but take no other steps to collect debts and carry on no other regulated activities, will not need to be authorised from 1 April 2014.

4 http://fca.org.uk/firms/firm-types/consumer-credit
2.15 We aim to publish the timetable for these application periods towards the end of March and we will write to all firms that have registered with us for interim permission by 1 May with details of the particular application period for that firm.

2.16 Firms will generally be allocated to an application period based on the category of business notified to us when they registered for interim permission. In cases where firms indicated that they undertake more than one category of business, we will make clear which application period applies.

2.17 There will be a few exceptions or variations to this process and further details about these will be published with the timetable.

2.18 We intend to work with large groups, holding multiple consumer credit licences, to minimise operational impact for them. Where possible, we will try to allocate the same application period to all interim permission holders within that group.

2.19 Respondents to CP13/10 were concerned that firms cannot become appointed representatives from 1 April 2014 as there will be no authorised principals then.

2.20 We are therefore proposing offering the choice of an earlier slot for firms that want to become principals. We will seek to prioritise applications where firms have indicated as part of the interim permission process that they want to become a principal, subject to resource constraints. We will publish further information about this additional option in March with the timetable.

2.21 Firms that seek to take on new activities, outside the scope of their interim permission, will be able to apply for authorisation at any time from 1 April onwards.

Authorisation fees

2.22 We published our proposals on authorisation fees for consumer credit firms, and the fees structure following authorisation, in our October 2013 CP on regulatory fees and levies. In light of feedback from firms, we issued revised proposals on authorisation fees in a supplement to CP13/14 in December 2013. We will publish our feedback on the consultation responses in our CP on periodic fee rates for 2014/15, which we will publish at the end of March.

Threshold conditions

2.23 In Table 3.1 of CP13/10 we set out the current threshold conditions for authorisation, with an explanation and our proposed approach for categorisation of activities.

2.24 In the consultation we asked:

Q1: Do you have any comments on the way our threshold conditions are being applied to consumer credit firms and/or the updates to our Handbook rules?

6 The March CP will include our proposals for consumer credit periodic fees. Respondents to CP13/14 have raised issues on lower fees for smaller firms and for ancillary activities that do not generate income.

Responses to the consultation

2.25 Most respondents commented on the categorisation of activities which were set out by the Government and summarised in CP13/10. The Government has now finalised the categories which are summarised in Table 2.1. This includes deciding that local authorities will only need a limited permission for lending within the scope of the Consumer Credit Directive (CCD).

2.26 The contents of this table are not a comprehensive list of the regulated activities. To determine whether particular activities are lower or higher risk, firms should review the legislation or take legal advice.

2.27 We received a number of responses about paying an insurance premium in instalments. This is likely to be a credit agreement for the purposes of the CCA (because a financial accommodation is being provided). There is an existing CCA exemption for credit agreements repayable in four or fewer instalments within 12 months without interest or other charges, which is being carried forward into the new regime. The Government announced in December that it intends to consult on the pros and cons of possibly extending this exemption to cover monthly instalments, without interest/charges.

2.28 We also received several responses that:

- queried when we look for a firm’s ‘mind and management’ to be in the UK, how we will approach ‘effective supervision’ and ‘appropriate resources’

- asked for clarification about how we will assess business plans against ‘market norms’

- suggested rewording part of the text in 2.7.8G in the Threshold Conditions sourcebook (COND) relating to business models.

Our response

It is for firms to show us that the way in which their business is organised makes them capable of complying with the threshold conditions relating to ‘location of offices’ and ‘effective supervision’. If the business applying for authorisation is an overseas firm which needs to be authorised, rather than a UK subsidiary or branch, this can make it difficult for us to assess its business model, resources and suitability, both at authorisation and on an ongoing basis.

We set out in CP13/10 when overseas firms will not need to be authorised. Other overseas firms will need to be authorised, and in most cases will need to have a UK establishment. We recognise that this requirement may force some firms to make significant changes to their business models. While we will look at each application on a case-by-case basis, this remains one of our key requirements, both at authorisation and in continuing supervision thereafter.

Given the wide variety of firms that apply to us, we do not think it is possible to set out how we assess what are appropriate resources in each case. When we assess against market norms and a business plan shows market conformity, this will not necessarily meet our threshold conditions if we believe it will not produce the right outcomes for consumers.

None of these responses has persuaded us to change our guidance in COND.

Approved persons

2.29 As part of the authorisation process firms will have to identify the individuals who will be performing controlled functions and so must be approved by the FCA. In CP13/10 we consulted on a number of proposals relating to the application of our approved persons regime to consumer credit activities. These included extending the client asset operational oversight function to debt management firms and not-for-profit debt advice bodies that hold over £1m of client money.

2.30 In the consultation we asked:

9 Our proposals were set out in paragraphs 3.8 and 3.9 of CP13/10: http://www.fca.org.uk/your-fca/documents/consultation-papers/cp13-10
Q2: Do you agree with the updates to our draft Handbook rules for approved persons for consumer credit firms?

Responses to the consultation

2.31 Overall there was qualified support for our proposals. While a number of respondents fully supported our approach to allocating responsibility for specified controlled functions to approved individuals in firms carrying on credit activities, a number questioned the proportionality and benefit.

2.32 There was strong support, from a proportionality perspective, for our non- or limited application of certain controlled functions to sole traders, and support also for us not applying a customer function to credit firms.

2.33 A couple of respondents considered that the compliance function should be extended to firms carrying on higher-risk credit activities and, in particular, HCSTC providers. It was suggested that an approved compliance officer could have specific responsibility for, among other matters, ensuring appropriate affordability assessments are undertaken before granting such loans.

2.34 There was strong support from a number of respondents for our proposal to extend the application of the client asset oversight function to large not-for-profit debt advice bodies that hold significant amounts of client money. A number of respondents considered that we should also extend the function to all profit-seeking debt management firms, including small firms. It was suggested that smaller debt management firms pose a greater risk of non-compliance with our client asset requirements.

2.35 Some respondents considered that we should postpone the introduction of our proposed approved person requirements given the degree of uncertainty created by our consideration of the Parliamentary Commission on Banking Standards (PCBS) reforms, which include the introduction of a new senior persons regime / certified persons regime (SPR/CPR) for deposit takers.10

2.36 A few respondents considered that our cost benefit analysis did not give sufficient weight to the likely cost and burden for credit firms of recruiting and training approved persons. It was also suggested that we should make some allowance (in terms of the information requested) when considering the approval of individuals already approved for governing functions for other FSMA-regulated activities.

2.37 A number of respondents said that they would welcome more information from us on aspects of our approved persons regime and, in particular, whether the same individual in a (small) firm can be approved for both a governing function and the money laundering reporting officer (MLRO) function.

Our response

Compliance function
We understand why some respondents suggested that we might extend the compliance function to HCSTC providers but we consider that our current package of measures for the regulation of such firms should address the risks identified.

10 Retail and investment banks, building societies and credit unions.
We also consider that in this sector it is more appropriate for compliance to be an executive responsibility resting with those individuals approved for the firm’s governing functions. We have differentiated between our approach to this sector and the debt management and credit repair sectors (where we are requiring individuals to be approved for the compliance function) because debt management and credit repair firms are involved in activities with a significant ‘advice’ element and we expect the person approved for the compliance function to take responsibility for ensuring that high-quality advice\(^{11}\) is given.

Client asset operational oversight function

One of the principles for the consumer credit transfer to the FCA is that our requirements should be proportionate. We have taken this into account in applying the client asset operational oversight function only to large debt management firms. However, many of the requirements we are applying to debt management firms to protect client money do apply to all debt management firms, regardless of size.

Our client assets regime is also designed to help protect client money in the case of firm insolvency (rather than fraud) and the impact on customers is likely to be greater when a large firm fails.

SPR

We have decided to proceed with implementing our approved persons proposals as set out in CP13/10. Although the Financial Services (Banking Reform) Act 2013 introduces a new SPR/CPR regime, this is limited in application to UK deposit takers.

We will not be consulting on our SPR proposals until later in 2014 and we do not want to postpone introducing requirements for individuals in credit firms to take responsibility for key functions. We want all credit firms to have the right people responsible for important functions, to ensure that consumers are protected.

Limiting costs and burdens on firms

We would expect responsible and compliant firms to already have people in place, with the required skills and experience and with responsibility for matters that fall within the scope of the controlled functions. For example, we would expect debt management firms to already have individuals responsible for the firm’s compliance with relevant regulatory requirements, including oversight of clients’ money.

If people are already approved for significant influence functions (SIFs), or have been within the last six months and have no new disclosures to make, they can submit an abbreviated individual application form, not requiring them to repeat details already disclosed in their previous application. However, we expect every applicant for approval to meet our ‘fit and proper’ test for the specific controlled function applied for, and we review each application on its own merits.

In a small firm, a single person (provided that he or she has the relevant competencies) can take responsibility for a number of controlled functions, including a governing function and the money laundering reporting function. This person would normally be a director or partner in the firm.

\(^{11}\) We are not applying a customer function to debt management or credit repair firms.
Alternatives to authorisation

2.38 In Chapter 3 of CP13/10 we consulted on our draft rules covering three potential alternatives to becoming authorised:

- becoming an ‘appointed representative’ of an authorised firm
- satisfying the criteria to be an ‘exempt professional firm’
- being a ‘self-employed agent’.

2.39 In the rest of this chapter we summarise the feedback we received on our proposals and give our response.

Appointed representatives

2.40 We consulted on our draft rules relating to appointed representatives, including our proposal to permit debt collector appointed representatives to enter into multi-principal arrangements. We also mentioned that the Government had extended the option to be an appointed representative to lenders that provide interest-free credit without any other charges.

2.41 In the consultation we asked:

Q3: Do you have any comments on the updates to our draft rules regarding appointed representatives of consumer credit firms?

Responses to consultation

2.42 The majority of respondents were supportive of our proposals for appointed representatives, considering them to be proportionate and reasonable.

2.43 There was general support for the position that the option of being an appointed representative should not be extended to credit reference agencies (CRAs), and for extending the multi-principal option to third party debt collectors. However, a few respondents were opposed to the appointed representative option being extended to any firm carrying on ‘higher-risk’ credit activities.

2.44 Some respondents considered that the appointed representative option would not be available to many firms (in particular smaller ones) that wanted to take advantage of it as there was insufficient incentive for the majority of consumer credit firms to act as principals.

2.45 Some respondents raised a number of specific concerns about the implications of our appointed representative proposals for second-charge brokers, as in the longer-term they will be subject to a different regime reflecting the Mortgage Credit Directive (MCD).

2.46 A particular concern was that brokers/intermediaries broking second charge loans (but not first charge) will initially be able to act as appointed representative for multiple principals but may subsequently have to fundamentally restructure when the longer-term regime for ‘second charge’ broking comes into effect if it limits them to single-principal arrangements.

2.47 A couple of respondents proposed that the option of becoming an appointed representative should be extended to P2P lending platforms.
2.48 One respondent proposed that we should require all lead generators operating in the debt management sector to be appointed representatives of debt management firms.

Our response

It is the Government’s and our intention to make the lower-cost appointed representative option available to as many firms as possible. Where appointed representatives are carrying on higher-risk credit activities we would expect their principals to have appropriate systems and controls to mitigate the associated risks.

Availability of principals

Based on our discussions with credit industry representatives, we understand that a number of firms wish to act as principals, with some willing to act as principals for multiple appointed representatives. However, ultimately it is a commercial decision for a firm whether or not to act as a principal. Some firms that might want to be appointed representatives may not be able to identify a suitable firm willing to act as their principal. These firms will need to consider whether they want to apply to be authorised firms.

Debt collectors

Having considered the responses to our consultation, we are extending the multi-principal option to appointed representative third party debt collectors. However, if we find evidence that they are not being sufficiently transparent and/or not exercising appropriate forbearance in their dealings with debtors, we may review our position.

Broking second charge loans

The single-principal approach is a long-established feature of our mortgage regime and we have no evidence of the market having significant concerns about our approach. It was put in place to deal with concerns about fraud and oversight and because of the broadly similar nature of mortgage products.

We would expect that second charge intermediaries will have regard to the likely impact of the longer-term regime and would structure their business arrangements accordingly.

Firms can enter into single-principal arrangements for some regulated markets (for example, mortgage advice) and multi-principal arrangements for others (for example, broking unsecured credit).

P2P lending platforms

The Government has now extended the option to be an appointed representative to P2P lending platforms carrying on the new regulated activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

Lead generators

Being an appointed representative of an authorised firm can only ever be an option not a requirement. While the option of being an appointed representative of an authorised debt management firm may be open to, and appropriate for, some lead generators, this will only be the case where the lead generator is carrying on a credit-related regulated activity (for example, regulated debt
There is no requirement for a firm to be either authorised or an appointed representative if it is not carrying on any regulated activity.

Exempt professional firms

A professional firm that is a member of a designated professional body (DPB) can carry on certain regulated activities under the regulation and supervision of its DPB, rather than the FCA, if it fulfils certain criteria set out in FSMA Part 20. These firms are known as exempt professional firms (EPFs). The Government has decided that EPFs should be able to carry on certain consumer credit activities if their DPB puts in place appropriate rules and supervisory arrangements.

We consulted on giving DPBs an option to apply an equivalent transitional arrangement to the one that will apply to authorised professional firms from 1 April 2014. This was intended to give DPBs additional time after 1 April 2014 to complete their preparations for the supervision of their members’ consumer credit activities. We also outlined alternatives if professional firms did not meet the criteria to be an EPF.

Responses to consultation

The majority of DPBs were content that FSMA Part 20 could represent an appropriate way to deal with consumer credit activities that are incidental to and arise in the context of providing professional services.

Some DPBs expressed concern about applying the EPF regime to consumer credit. This was mainly regarding the Part 20 tests, including incidentality. Rules made by a DPB must be designed to secure that, in providing a particular professional service to a particular client, a member must carry on only regulated activities that arise out of, or are complementary to, the provision by the member of that professional service to the client.

DPBs in general sought clarification about the timing and certainty of consumer credit rules, including the carrying across of OFT guidance into rules, as this affects the rules they are required to put in place. DPBs were also concerned that a prescriptive rules-based approach would not be consistent with their own approach to regulation.

A number of DPBs were interested in other aspects of the regime, including its application to IPs (see below), payment by instalments and AML supervision.

Our response

We have discussed the application of Part 20 with and provided additional support to various DPBs and their members to assist with their preparations. This includes the DPBs’ rule-making process and the implementation of rules in accordance with the proposal in our consultation. We are aware of the challenges of the process and timetable and will continue to work closely with the DPBs to deliver a proportionate and effective regulatory regime.
Insolvency practitioners

2.55 Some DPBs have IP members. In CP13/10, we referred to the Government’s proposal to exempt IPs whose activities are limited solely to certain specified matters. Since then the Government has made further statutory changes relating to IPs. The exemption has now been changed to an exclusion covering activities undertaken by a person acting as an IP for the purposes of section 388 of the Insolvency Act 1986 or in relation to certain activities undertaken in ‘reasonable contemplation’ of the IP being appointed to act in this capacity.

2.56 The Government’s change to the legislative framework for IP activities reflects concerns expressed by members of the professions during the consultation process. We expect that the change from an exemption to an exclusion will be largely welcomed by IPs and that professional firms who genuinely operate within the scope of the exclusion will benefit. Where firms carry on consumer credit regulated activities that do not fall within the scope of the IP exclusion, they will need to consider their overall business model and ensure they obtain the correct permissions.

Self-employed agents

2.57 We consulted on draft perimeter guidance which set out the factors that we consider relevant in deciding whether a person is treated as carrying on their own business (in which case they may require authorisation unless an exemption or exclusion is available) or whether they are carrying on their principal firm’s business as an agent (in which case they will not require authorisation).

2.58 In the consultation we asked:

Q4: Do you have any comments on the criteria that we are proposing a person would have to fulfil to be a self-employed agent of a principal firm (as set out in Appendix 2)?

Responses to consultation

2.59 The majority of respondents to our consultation considered our proposed criteria to be both appropriate and proportionate. In particular, there was support for the change we proposed to allow individuals who are paid commission by the principal to be agents.

2.60 However, some concerns were raised and/or clarification sought on the following:

- A couple of respondents wanted to know whether the option to be a self-employed agent was limited to the home-collected credit and mail order sectors or whether it extended to anyone carrying on a credit-related regulated activity who meets our criteria.

13 Carrying on debt counselling, debt adjusting, debt collection or credit information services in relation to Debt Arrangement Schemes in Scotland and debt management plans is not acting as an IP for the purposes of section 388 of the Insolvency Act 1986 — and consequently not within the scope of the Government’s exclusion for IPs.

14 The exemption for IPs was amended to an exclusion by SI 2014/366. For acting as an IP, the exclusion covers the non-credit activities for which IPs were previously exempt, plus debt counselling, debt adjusting, debt administration, debt collecting and credit information services. For acting in reasonable contemplation of such an appointment, the exclusion only covers debt counselling, debt adjusting and credit information services.
Some respondents (predominantly but not exclusively from the debt collection sector) considered that our requirement for an ‘agent’ to only be able to work for one principal is too restrictive.

Some consumer groups raised concerns about our ability to effectively monitor that principal firms are exercising appropriate supervision/controls over the conduct of their agents. They had concerns about the level of forbearance currently exercised by some individuals involved in the recovery of outstanding debts and a lack of transparency about the firm they are representing.

Scope of the ‘agent’ option

It was our intention that the ‘agent’ option should extend to individuals carrying on any credit-related regulated activity that meets our criteria, but this was not reflected in the draft CONC 14.1.1R, which limited the option to those carrying on consumer credit lending or consumer hire. So we consulted in QCP13/18 on amending the scope of CONC 14.1.1R to extend the application of the agent option to all credit-related regulated activity.

No objection was raised by respondents and CONC 14.1.1R has been amended accordingly.

Limiting the agent option to individuals working for single principals

We are not limiting individuals to only being able to work for one principal firm but, if an individual is providing services to or on behalf of a number of different firms, it is likely to be carrying on its own business rather than carrying on as agent the business of its principal (and as such will need to be authorised by the FCA or exempt). This does not represent a departure from the current regulatory position. However, the credit transfer has highlighted that this was not well understood.

Individuals that do not meet our criteria to be an agent, because they provide services to or on behalf of a number of firms, may want to consider taking up the lower-cost option of being an appointed representative of multiple principals when and if that option is available to them.

Monitoring the conduct of agents

As set out in the consultation, one of our criteria for being an agent of a principal firm is that the principal accepts full responsibility for the conduct of its agent when it is acting on the firm’s behalf in the course of the firm’s business.

We will hold firms fully accountable for misconduct by their agents during the course of carrying on the firm’s business. We have also introduced an additional rule (CONC14.1.4R(1)) requiring firms to establish, implement and maintain adequate policies and procedures to ensure the compliance of their agents with the firm’s regulatory obligations.
3 Supervision and regulatory reporting

Introduction

3.1 Chapter 4 of CP13/10 provided information about how we will supervise firms and invited comments on our detailed proposals for the data we will collect through regulatory reporting. The draft rules were set out in Appendix 2.

Our supervisory approach

3.2 Our overall aim is to ensure that providers of consumer credit or related services have sustainable and well-controlled business models, underpinned by a culture based on doing the right thing for their customers.

3.3 To achieve this, we will initially be delivering a hybrid supervisory approach to consumer credit firms during the interim permission period. We will focus on the way that firms treat their customers by:

- Conducting firm-specific visits to the largest firms within certain sub-sectors, including debt management, debt collection, home-collected credit, HCSTC, pawnbrokers and credit card issuers. These visits will be similar to our Firm Systematic Framework (FSF) – or ‘Pillar 1’ – currently in place for all FSMA-regulated firms and through which we assess whether a firm is being run in a way that results in the fair treatment of customers, minimises risks to market integrity and does not impede effective competition. We will place greatest initial emphasis on focused firm visits.

- Dealing with events across all sub-sectors (similar to ‘Pillar 2’, but with a lower risk tolerance to deal with a greater number of events).

- Conducting targeted thematic work (‘Pillar 3’).

3.4 As we do so, we may find issues that we need to address and we will take appropriate action where necessary. We will also be reviewing financial promotions to make sure they are fair,
3.5 As firms go through the full authorisation process, we will bring them in line with our current three-pillar supervision model. Further details about our supervisory approach can be found in CP13/10, FSA CP13/7 and in the Journey to the FCA.15

3.6 As stated in CP13/7, we will continue to work closely with Local Authority Trading Standards Services (LATSS) and the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment in Northern Ireland (DETINI), who will continue to have a role in enforcing the remaining provisions of the CCA.

Reporting requirements

3.7 In the consultation we asked:

Q5: Do you have any comments on our proposed regulatory reporting regime?

Responses to consultation

3.8 Most respondents were generally supportive of our proposals. They mainly agreed that regulatory reporting is necessary to help us monitor and supervise the consumer credit industry effectively, although some did not consider that our proposals were proportionate and in particular did not differentiate (in terms of the data required) between different sizes of business or different levels of risk. The cost and resource implications of systems reconfiguration and ongoing reporting were also raised by some respondents.

3.9 Some respondents suggested that we should collect information on the amount of commission that debt management firms pay to lead generators.

3.10 Several respondents asked for clarification of what should be included in ‘debt management plans ending early’, and some were uncertain about when their first report would be due and the period that should be covered.

3.11 Some organisations requested that aggregate data, including data split by postcode regions, is published on a periodic basis so that they can focus resources accordingly.

Our response

Given the support we received, we are proceeding with the rules largely unchanged.

Proportionality

We propose to adopt a simplified approach to regulatory reporting that focuses on key pieces of data that are generally common across the different sectors of the credit market, with some limited sector-specific data elements. A regime tailored more specifically to each type of activity would involve a very long, complex set of rules that would be hard to maintain, understand and implement.

We acknowledge that our reporting regime places a new requirement on firms that are not already regulated by us. However, we believe that our proposals are proportionate and should not cause undue burden on the industry. The amount of information we are requesting is low when compared to other FCA-authorised firms and we have limited the burden on smaller firms (with annual revenue from credit-related regulated activities of £5m or less) by only requiring annual reporting.

Firms with limited permission will only be required to complete one short return annually.

Commission paid to lead generators

While we can see the potential benefit in obtaining information about commissions paid to lead generators, we do not believe that the regulatory reporting regime is the most efficient way of obtaining such data and so we will not be amending our proposals.

Debt management plans ending early

We understand that there are a number of reasons why a debt management plan could end before the original term agreed, and that not all of those reasons are indicative of potential harm to customers. However, we consider that, in many instances, a debt management plan ending early is likely to be symptomatic of an unaffordable plan. Therefore, we will proceed as planned and expect firms to record all debt management plans that end early in the relevant field in form CCR004.

First reports due by firms

The reporting regime starts on 1 October 2014 and applies once a firm is fully authorised. Data submitted in a firm’s first report should not include data from before it was fully authorised.

For example: A HCSTC lender, with annual revenue of less than £5m from credit-related activity and with an accounting reference date of 1 May, which becomes fully authorised on 1 February 2015, will be required to submit its first report under Regulated Activity Group 12 (SUP 16.12) within 30 business days of 1 May 2015 covering the period from 1 February 2015 to 1 May 2015.

Its first quarterly PSD report (SUP 16.11) will be required within 20 business days of 30 March 2015 and should cover sales data from 1 February 2015 to 30 March 2015.

Publishing aggregated data

We will give this consideration in the context of our long-term data strategy.

3.12 In the consultation we asked:

Q6: Do you agree with our proposals to collect product sales data on high-cost short-term lending and home collected credit?
Responses to consultation

3.13 Most respondents were generally supportive of our proposals on PSD and agreed that they are necessary to help us effectively monitor and supervise the high-risk lending activities of HCSTC lenders and home-collected credit providers.

3.14 However, a significant number of respondents indicated that most lenders do not currently record details about customers’ total household income or car ownership. Respondents did not consider these details to be relevant to a decision to grant credit, and so raised concern, in relation to the Data Protection Act (DPA), as to whether firms could justify asking for them.

3.15 Some respondents suggested that we should:

- be collecting more data than we proposed, including indicators of financial distress at the time the credit is granted and post-sale performance information
- generally be mindful of the DPA because we are obtaining personal data that must not be processed unless the individual concerned has given permission
- maintain or be given access to a real-time database of information about loans, which would enable us to more effectively monitor business practices, for example, in relation to breaches of the rollover rules.

Our response

We are proceeding with our rules on PSD, but we have listened to respondents and have amended our requirements in relation to two specific elements of data.

Information about total household income and car ownership
We agree with the responses and have removed these two elements from the specific reporting fields for HCSTC lenders and home-collected credit providers.

Additional product data
Our general reporting requirements will require firms to provide information including the total number and value of loans and the amount of arrears. This will provide us with high-level information about the performance of firms’ loan books.

We agree that additional information could help us to identify individual instances of irresponsible lending. However, there are many different factors that firms should take into account when making lending decisions. We do not consider that the PSD requirements could, without a significant degree of additional complexity, be enhanced to provide us with sufficient evidence to accurately assess the quality of lending decisions.

We will not, therefore, be increasing the amount of information requested from firms at this time, although we will keep this under consideration in the future.
Data Protection Act
Similar questions about data protection arose last year in the context of our PSD proposals related to the Mortgage Market Review. At that time we contacted the Information Commissioner who did not identify any data protection issues, subject to our compliance with necessary data protection requirements.

One of the conditions for processing personal data is that the processing is necessary for compliance with any legal obligation to which the data controller is subject, other than an obligation imposed by contract. Our rules will impose that legal obligation.

We believe that sharing PSD with us will be fair processing of personal data as it should be reasonably obvious that a regulated firm may need to disclose that data to its regulator. Firms may wish, as they move to FCA regulation, to update the information they give to their customers or potential customers, to refer to the possibility that the firm may be required to pass customers’ personal data to the FCA.

Real-time data
Real-time monitoring of sales data is not currently part of our planned supervisory approach.

However, as explained in Chapter 5, we are working with the industry to overcome barriers to real-time data sharing.

4 Conduct rules for all consumer credit activities

From 1 April 2014 all consumer credit firms must comply with our high-level conduct standards, such as our Principles for Businesses and relevant parts of our systems and controls rules and general provisions.

We are carrying across standards from the CCA regime and OFT guidance into our rules and guidance.

We have made some changes to our proposals based on the feedback we received, such as allowing a specific transitional period for financial promotions in certain catalogues and clarifying that debt management firms should not allocate more than half the money received from customers in debt management plans to meeting their fees and charges.

We have also reviewed the boundary between rules and guidance, and amended some of the wording to align it more closely with the relevant OFT guidance.

Introduction

4.1 Chapter 5 of CP13/10 invited comments on our proposed conduct of business rules for consumer credit firms (in Appendix 2 to CP13/10), other than in relation to HCSTC and P2P platforms.

4.2 This chapter should be read in conjunction with Annex 5, which sets out in a table the main feedback on the draft CONC provisions and our response on each. The key elements are summarised below, and the final CONC rules are in Appendix 1.

Carrying across CCA rules

4.3 Table 5.2 in CP13/10 sets out the CCA provisions that are being repealed and their proposed equivalents in the FCA Handbook.

4.4 We received feedback in relation to the following:

- s51A (provision of credit card cheques)
- s55A (pre-contractual explanations)
We have made a number of changes (see Annex 5). In particular:

- We have moved the provisions on credit card cheques into CONC 2.3.
- We have clarified at CONC 6.3 that information on significant overrunning on a current account (i.e. unauthorised overdrafts) must be in writing.
- We have reduced the time limit in CONC 9 on the obligation on CRAs to notify firms about corrected information on credit files.
- We have clarified in CONC 11 that the distance marketing rules apply in relation to consumers, and do not extend to consumer hire agreements.

Carrying across OFT guidance

Paragraph 5.9 of CP13/10 listed OFT guidance that we were proposing to carry across into CONC rules/guidance and invited feedback. We confirmed our intention to substantially replicate the guidance in a way that meant that firms already complying were unlikely to need to change their behaviour.

Q7: Do you have any comments on how we propose to carry across CCA and OFT standards, in particular in the areas highlighted above?

Most respondents were broadly supportive of our proposals and felt that they adequately transposed existing standards. However, there were a number of concerns:

- Some respondents argued that all OFT guidance should be transposed as guidance not rules (see below).
- Some accepted the principle of turning guidance into rules, but felt that certain provisions were more suited to guidance.
• Some argued that aspects went further than OFT guidance, and were inconsistent with industry codes, such as the Lending Code.

• Some felt that our wording should be aligned more closely with the wording in the OFT guidance, to minimise scope for ambiguity and ensure no substantive change of application.

• Others argued that key elements of OFT guidance had been left out, which reduced consumer protection or hindered interpretation.

4.7 In some cases, respondents (particularly consumer organisations) argued that we should have gone further.

Our response

The general issues relating to carrying across OFT guidance into FCA rules are considered in the next section.

Having analysed the responses, we accept that some of the drafting can be improved. In particular, in some places this inadvertently went beyond or differed from the equivalent OFT guidance, or did not include relevant context. We have looked to remedy this. More generally, we accept that a greater alignment with the wording of OFT guidance is desirable, in the interests of regulatory certainty and to minimise burdens on firms who will be familiar with the current regime.

We set out below and in Annex 5 our response on each of the main areas of feedback, and the changes we have made to CONC in light of these.

In general, our approach has been to carry across OFT guidance in substantially the same form and with substantially the same effect as previously. Where we have gone further (e.g. in relation to HCSTC) this was based on a detailed assessment and cost benefit analysis.

We will keep under review the possibility of further changes in light of experience of supervising the credit market from 1 April. We are also committed to undertake a post-implementation review.

Converting OFT guidance to FCA rules

4.8 Some industry respondents criticised the principle of converting OFT guidance into FCA rules (although consumer representatives were strongly supportive of the need for binding requirements).

4.9 In particular, some respondents argued that OFT guidance merely sets out the OFT’s view on how CCA compliance can be achieved, and as such is purely advisory. They suggested that firms are not required to take it into account, and may not have factored it into their systems and procedures. Having to do so now may be impracticable within the timescales, and could entail significant costs. It could also unnecessarily limit firms’ discretion going forward.
Our response

We have converted OFT fitness guidance into rules where we consider it necessary or appropriate. In particular, where OFT guidance lays down minimum standards, with a presumption that failure to comply could lead to licensing action, and the guidance is clear and unambiguous, we believe it is appropriate to make it into binding rules.

In addition, some OFT guidance elaborates on the statutory requirements, by indicating how these apply, either generally or in particular sectors. For example, in implementing aspects of the CCD, the Government took a conscious decision to limit the legislation to the minimum necessary to ensure transposition, and leave to OFT guidance the task of fleshing this out and giving it practical application. This was on the basis that, unlike legislation, OFT guidance could be changed relatively easily in light of market developments and evidence of harm to consumers. That also applies to FCA rules, subject to consultation and cost benefit analysis.

On the other hand, we accept that some OFT guidance merely sets out illustrative examples of factors that may be relevant (but without suggesting these should always apply), or is drafted more in terms of ‘best practice’ than minimum standards. We consider that this is more appropriate as FCA guidance, either on specific rules or in relation to the Principles for Businesses and in particular ‘treating customers fairly’.

We have, however, reviewed the boundary between rules and guidance, and made a number of adjustments, as set out in Annex 5. In particular we have downgraded the following from rules to guidance:

- 4.3.2R (now 4.2.2G) – Firms should consider whether it is necessary or appropriate to provide pre-contractual explanations for agreements which are currently excluded from s55A CCA. In particular, they should consider highlighting the principal consequences of not keeping up repayments.

- 4.3.4R (now 4.2.4G) – Pre-contractual information and explanations should take into account any preferences expressed or information provided by the customer where the firm would in principle agree to lend on such terms.

- 4.3.6R (now 4.2.6G) – The pre-contractual explanation should enable the customer to make a reasonable assessment of whether they can afford the credit and to understand the key associated risks.

- 4.2.7R (now 4.2.7G) – In deciding on the level and extent of explanations, firms should consider, to the extent appropriate to do so, relevant factors including those specified.

- 5.2.2R(2) (now 5.2.3G) – The extent and scope of the assessment of creditworthiness or affordability should be dependent on and proportionate to relevant factors which may include one or more of those specified.

- 5.3.4R (now 5.3.3G) – Firms should take adequate steps, insofar as it is reasonable and practicable to do so, to ensure that information relevant to the creditworthiness or affordability assessment is complete and correct.
Gold-plating the Consumer Credit Directive

4.10 A related argument was that converting OFT guidance into rules (in particular in relation to affordability and explanations) amounts to ‘gold-plating’ the CCD, in breach of maximum harmonisation. It was also suggested that applying rules as guidance to excluded agreements could breach the CCD.

Our response

We do not accept that our proposed rules infringe CCD harmonisation. In some cases they merely carry across existing CCA provisions, which the Government has decided are in accordance with the CCD. Where OFT guidance is being converted into rules, we are satisfied that this implements the CCD or at least accords with the discretion afforded to Member States under the Directive.

For example, the EU Commission has stated, in relation to CCD transposition, that Member States have ‘a margin of manoeuvre’ about how to comply with the creditworthiness check and ‘may adapt their requirements’ in order to promote responsible lending, and recital 26 of the CCD refers to Member State authorities ‘giving appropriate instructions’ to creditors. Similarly, the final sentence of article 5(6) of the CCD makes clear that Member States can adapt the adequate explanations requirements in relation to the type of credit offered.

We have, however, clarified that the provisions on creditworthiness and affordability do not apply to overrunning (i.e. unauthorised overdrafts).

Proportionality

4.11 Some respondents suggested that the proposed rules were unduly prescriptive and would limit firms’ discretion to do what is appropriate in the circumstances. They could also add unnecessary costs, particularly in areas where risks to consumers are low.

4.12 For example, where insurance or other services are payable by instalments, with no or insignificant credit charges, it was argued that it would be disproportionate to require detailed explanations or creditworthiness assessment and this could lead to products being withdrawn, to the detriment of consumers.

Our response

Our intention is to carry across CCA provisions and OFT guidance in the same, or substantially the same, form as currently. In some areas, that is necessary to ensure compliance with the CCD.

In particular, the CCD requires Member States to ensure that lenders assess creditworthiness, on the basis of sufficient information, obtained from the borrower where appropriate and from a credit reference agency where necessary. We are not prescribing in our rules what is sufficient or necessary, but rather setting out principles in terms of affordability and sustainability, and including examples of the kinds of factors that lenders might take into account. This is no different from the approach adopted in the OFT’s Irresponsible Lending Guidance.

For example, we state at 5.2.3G that the extent and scope of the assessment in any given case should be dependent on and proportionate to relevant factors, which may include one or more of those listed. And at 5.2.4G we state that a firm should consider what is appropriate in the circumstances based on, for example, the type and amount of credit and the risks to the consumer.

The risk of credit being unsustainable is likely to be greater, the higher the actual and potential costs of the credit are relative to the borrower’s financial circumstances. The risks will be correspondingly lower if the credit is free of interest and charges, or there are either no charges payable on default or these are insignificant.

Similarly, we make it clear that, in deciding the level and extent of the required pre-contractual explanation, a firm should consider relevant factors including the type and amount of credit and the associated cost and risk to the customer.

Irresponsible lending

4.13 We received feedback in relation to the following:

- general principles for credit-related activities
- pre-contract disclosure and adequate explanations
- creditworthiness and affordability
- post-contract business practices
- arrears, default and recovery

Our response

The issues raised and our response are in Annex 5. In particular:

- We have clarified that, where practicable, firms should facilitate customers shopping around for credit by offering a quotation search facility – 2.4.3G.
- We have clarified, in line with OFT guidance, the requirements relating to pre-contractual explanations – 4.2.5R, 4.2.7G and 4.2.15R.
- We have clarified the extent of the obligation to obtain and verify information relevant to creditworthiness and affordability – 5.3.1G and 5.3.3G.
• We have clarified the circumstances in which it may be reasonable to take account of future income or expenditure – 5.3.1G.

• We have clarified the guidance on the assessment of affordability for running-account agreements such as credit cards – 5.3.1G.

• We have clarified the extent of the obligation post-contract to assess affordability and monitor repayments – 6.7.2R.

• We have aligned the post-contract requirements more closely to relevant OFT guidance (reflecting code commitments) – 6.7.5R to 6.7.12R and 6.7.16R.

• We have clarified the scope of the requirements relating to refinancing (this also impacts on the HCSTC provisions) – 6.7.17R to 6.7.19R.

Credit brokers and intermediaries

4.14 We received feedback in relation to the following:

• conduct of business (general)

• pre-contract business practices

• post-contract business practices

Our response

The issues raised and our response are in Annex 5. In particular:

• We have removed reference in 5.4 to assessment of creditworthiness and affordability as this falls to the lender.

Debt collection

4.15 We received feedback in relation to the following:

• arrears policies and procedures

• information on status of debts

• pursuing and recovering repayment

• use of CPA

• application of interest and charges

• contact with customers
• data accuracy and outsourcing

Our response

The issues raised and our response are in Annex 5. In particular:

• We have clarified our expectations around missed payments being made up within the original term of the agreement – 7.3.3G.

• We have elaborated the ‘breathing space’ provisions (minimum 30 days) – 7.3.12G.

• We have modified the requirements in relation to third parties acting on the lender’s behalf – 7.5.4R, 7.5.5R, 7.12.3G and 7.14.6R.

• We have clarified the rules applying generally to the exercise of CPA (this also impacts on the HCSTC provisions) – 7.6.1R to 7.6.8G.

• We have deleted the provisions at 7.8 of the draft rules relating to exercise of the right of set-off, as this is covered adequately by the Banking Conduct of Business sourcebook (BCOB).

• We have clarified the requirements around confidentiality and what this means in practice – 7.9.7R and 7.9.8G (moved from 7.3).

• We have modified the requirements relating to contact with customers and third parties – 7.9.7R to 7.9.12R and 7.12.3G.

Debt management

4.16 We received feedback in relation to the following:

• conduct standards for debt advice

• pre-contract information and advice

• financial statements and repayment offers

• changes to contractual payments

• charging for debt advice services

• debt management plans

Our response

The issues raised and our response are in Annex 5. In particular:
• We have elaborated on certain of the requirements around pre-contract information and advice and signposting customers – 8.3.7R.

• We have moved the provision on debt management firms signposting the availability of free debt advice to 8.2.4R.

• We have clarified our expectations about ‘significant repayments’ to lenders – we would normally expect no more than half of any payment from a customer from the first month of a debt management plan to be allocated to the firm’s fees and charges (covering both its initial set-up costs and ongoing management costs), and for the proportion to decrease after six months or (if earlier) once the initial set-up costs have been recovered – 8.7.3G. We consider the implications for firms and consumers in the update to our CBA in Annex 3. Although some firms may incur increased costs, consumers receive direct benefit if their debts are repaid earlier, and so we consider that there is limited net impact.

• We have also clarified that we expect firms to spread any management fees payable by the customer for the administration or operation of a debt management plan evenly over the duration of the plan – 8.7.3G.

• We expect the proportion of the customer repayments retained by a firm to take account of the level of customer repayments – 8.7.3G.

Other OFT guidance

4.17 We received feedback in relation to the following:

• misleading names

• mental capacity guidance

• guidance on sections 77-79 CCA

• second charge lending

Our response

The issues raised and our response are in Annex 5. In particular:

• We have clarified the scope of the mental capacity guidance and the reference to particularly vulnerable customers – 2.10 and 7.11.

• We have clarified the scope of the guidance on sections 77-79 CCA and added reference to relevant CCA regulations and case law – 13.1.

• We have clarified the extent of certain of the additional obligations on second charge lenders, deriving from the OFT guidance – 15.1.
Status disclosure

4.18 A number of respondents expressed concerns about the requirements for status disclosure, and felt that it would be impracticable to make the necessary changes by 1 April. There was also some uncertainty about what the requirements mean in practice.

Our response

It is important that consumers are aware of who regulates a firm. Our status disclosure rules in GEN 4 (which were published last August) will therefore come into force from 1 April. It will not, however, be necessary for a firm to indicate whether it has interim or limited permission, as we accept that this is unnecessary and could confuse consumers.

Firms will also be required to indicate the supervisory authority in credit agreements and pre-contract credit information forms. For a limited period before and after 1 April, it will be open to a firm to indicate that it is supervised by the OFT until 31 March and by the FCA from 1 April.

In some cases, it is also necessary to state the firm’s registration number. This will be its interim permission number (which will be the same as its consumer credit licence number) or its firm registration number (FRN) if applicable.

Financial promotions

4.19 Chapter 5 of CP13/10 set out our proposals in relation to financial promotions. These were based primarily on our high-level principle that financial promotions and other communications should be clear, fair and not misleading. In addition, we proposed to carry across, substantially unchanged, the CCA advertising rules and OFT guidance.

Q8: Do you have any comments on our proposed approach to financial promotions?

4.20 Most respondents were broadly supportive of our proposals, although some questioned whether aspects went further than is permissible under the CCD. A number of respondents supported the idea of a ban on cold-calling, and argued that work in this area should be carried out as early as possible.

4.21 The main issues raised in the consultation are summarised below, together with our response on each. We have clarified our approach in some areas, but our overall approach remains unchanged.

4.22 Some respondents asked for guidance on specific issues, such as prominence, and we will consider this in due course if it seems appropriate.
APR triggers

4.23 Several respondents expressed concern that our proposed rules mean that all statements about speed or ease of service are to be treated as an ‘incentive’, triggering the requirement for a representative annual percentage rate of charge (APR) to be included. In particular, it was argued that this goes further than is permissible under the CCD.

Our response

We do not agree that our proposed rules contravene the CCD. On the contrary, article 4(1) expressly permits Member States to require an APR under national law without this triggering a representative example, and we are simply elaborating on what is already in the CCA regulations.

We have, however, added guidance at CONC 3.5.8G to make it clear that whether or not a reference to speed or ease constitutes an ‘incentive’ to apply for credit or to enter into a credit agreement will depend on the circumstances, including whether it is likely to persuade or influence a customer to take those steps or is merely a factual statement about the product or service.

Transitional provisions

4.24 There was concern that firms publishing catalogues on a biannual basis may not be able to comply in time with the new rules. For example, an autumn/winter catalogue may need to be produced before the rules are finalised and will remain in circulation after the end of the six-month transitional period.

Our response

We have included a specific transitional provision (at CONC TP6) for catalogues, etc, of at least 50 printed pages. If these are first communicated before 1 October 2014 and comply fully with the current CCA advertising rules, they will not need to comply with the new CONC rules until 1 April 2015.
Approval of promotions

4.25 There was concern that our proposed rules at CONC 3.11 – on not approving financial promotions made in the course of a personal visit, telephone conversation or other interactive dialogue – prevent firms from promoting their services by telephone.

Our response

As some respondents correctly observed, the aim of this rule is not to ban financial promotions made in the course of a personal visit, telephone conversation or other interactive dialogue by an authorised person (including its staff). However, the effect of this rule is to prevent the approval by an authorised person of a script to be used in the course of these dialogues or visits or conversations by another person and as such it will prevent persons who are not authorised from communicating these types of financial promotion.

Communications

4.26 There was concern that, as our proposals include communications and not just financial promotions, they go much further than the existing regime.

Our response

We do not agree that this is a substantial change for firms. Most of the rules in CONC 3 are limited to financial promotions, and where they extend to communications this is in line with the clear, fair and not misleading rule (which is itself an extension of Principle 7 of our Principles for Businesses).
5 Conduct rules for high-cost short-term credit, including payday loans

The HCSTC market has grown quickly in recent years as more and more consumers turn to this type of credit to help manage their finances. However, there is considerable evidence that there are serious problems in this market that are leading to poor outcomes for consumers.

We received a lot of feedback from a variety of stakeholders about our proposals. We considered all the responses and as a result we have made some adjustments to our rules on how firms can use continuous payment authorities – this now allows the customer to ‘reset’ the CPA when the CPA limit is reached and a loan is refinanced (including rollovers) or for instalment loans, subject to strict conditions to ensure consumers remain in control of their accounts. We have also changed the wording of the risk warning and the information sheet to make them more practical and effective in line with the comments we received.

Our proposal to limit rollovers to two has not changed and, subject to the changes set out above, we still propose to limit the number of CPA attempts to two.

Introduction

5.1 In CP13/10 we proposed new rules for HCSTC to help improve the poor outcomes that consumers experience in this market and address the issues being caused by harmful business practices as evidenced by consumer groups and the OFT compliance review.

5.2 Our proposals had two main aims:

- to ensure that firms only lend to borrowers who can afford it
- to increase borrowers’ awareness of the costs and risks of borrowing unaffordably and ways to get help if they have financial difficulties

Definition of HCSTC

What we proposed

5.3 In CP13/10 we defined the HCSTC sector as set out below. This definition tried to capture the fundamental business models currently in the market and future-proof against potential gaming.
‘High-cost short-term

‘a regulated credit agreement:

• which is a borrower-lender agreement or a P2P agreement;

• in relation to which the APR is equal or exceeds 100%;

either:

i) in relation to which a financial promotion indicates (by express words or otherwise) that the credit is to be provided for any period up to a maximum of 12 months or otherwise indicates (by express words or otherwise) that the credit is to be provided for a short term; or

ii) under which the credit is due to be repaid or substantially repaid within a maximum of 12 months of the date on which the credit is advanced;

• which is not secured by a mortgage, charge or pledge; and which is not a home credit loan agreement, a bill of sale loan agreement or a borrower-lender agreement enabling a borrower to overdraw on a current account or arising where the holder of a current account overdraws on the account without a pre-arranged overdraft or exceeds a pre-arranged overdraft limit.’

5.4 In the consultation we asked:

Q9: Do you agree with the definition of a high-cost short-term credit provider as set out at the start of this chapter?

Responses to the consultation

5.5 Several respondents highlighted that different definitions have been used by the OFT, the FCA and the Competition Commission (CC), and that one definition should be used consistently.

5.6 Others thought we might not have captured the market appropriately. Several firms argued that anything more than six months is not short-term, others that the definition would capture loans up to 24 months because of the way it is drafted. Several responses argued that the APR is not the best measure to use given the short-term nature of these loans.

5.7 Many responses suggested the definition was too narrow as it excluded certain forms of credit that can be just as expensive for consumers, for example unauthorised overdrafts and home-collected credit. In contrast, others thought the definition too broad and felt that it should explicitly exclude products such as credit cards. Other responses argued that certain providers should be excluded due to their nature or social purpose, such as community development finance institutions (CDFIs) and industrial and provident societies.

18 This is defined as “a community benefit society, a registered charity or a community interest company limited by guarantee (within the meaning of Part 2 of the Companies (Audit, Investigations and Community Enterprise) Act 2004)”.
5.8 A number of firms argued that the proposals on rollovers and CPAs would have an adverse impact on instalment loans. Instead, they proposed that the definition should focus on products that are paid back in one payment.

5.9 Some responses highlighted the impending cap on the total cost of credit, either to suggest that the total cost should be used instead of the APR or that the proposals in CP13/10 should be suspended until work on the total cost cap has been finalised.

Our response

Our definition stems from our analysis of the market, with conduct rules that are specifically designed to respond to concerns about firms’ business models. Despite some respondents being concerned that our definition was too broadly defined, we believe it is appropriate to future-proof and address potential gaming.

We do not propose to change the definition to include or exclude any further specific products. While many respondents suggested widening the scope of the definition to other forms of high-cost credit, we have not at this stage considered whether these specific rules would be appropriate or proportionate in other sectors. We have designed these rules to respond to the specific evidence for the HCSTC market but not beyond. This does not mean that we will not look in more detail at other lending markets after the transfer. We will set out our priorities in our Business Plan, which is due to be published in March 2014.

We have considered the impact of the rules on HCSTC on credit providers with a social purpose such as CDFIs. We recognise the important role that these organisations can play in addressing the gap between mainstream credit and HCSTC in a fair and responsible way, and have decided to exclude them from the HCSTC rules. As there is no statutory definition of a CDFI, we propose to exclude from the rules charities and the other corporate forms which are most commonly adopted by CDFIs. These are community benefit societies and community interest companies limited by guarantee. All of these are subject to an element of scrutiny of their social purpose by their respective registering authority or regulator. They will also continue to be regulated by the FCA for their consumer credit business.

While our definition is not identical to that of other bodies such as the CC, in practice the definitions target the same firms.19

We are aware of concerns about how the definition relates to our work on the total cost cap. We do not anticipate a contradiction as both workstreams concern HCSTC. However, we will consider whether the definition needs to be amended in light of our work on the price cap.

Cap on rollovers

What we proposed

5.10 In CP13/10 we set out our concerns that loans that are repeatedly rolled over can lead to an unsustainable debt burden for consumers. By the second rollover a consumer could owe twice as much as they borrowed. We accepted that in some circumstances rolling over offered flexibility and might be in the customer’s best interests, but we were concerned that any benefits from the added flexibility quickly diminish. Excessive rollovers can hide financial difficulty and can lead consumers’ debt to spiral out of control.

5.11 We therefore proposed a cap of two rollovers, but we also asked for thoughts on whether one rollover might be a more appropriate cap.

5.12 In the consultation we asked:

Q10: Do you have any comments on limiting rollover to two attempts?

Q11: Do you have any comments on whether one rollover is a more appropriate cap?

Responses to the consultation

5.13 The majority of respondents, including some firms and trade associations, agreed with our proposal to cap rollovers at two.

5.14 Several responses, mostly from the industry, did not agree and questioned the rationale for the proposal. They felt that three would be more appropriate, in line with the Consumer Finance Association (CFA) Lending Code for Small Cash Advances. They argued that the data and evidence upon which we made our judgment are now out of date – principally, because firms’ practices have changed following regulatory changes such as the OFT’s compliance review of the payday sector.

5.15 These responses argued that there was insufficient evidence that a limit of two rollovers would improve consumer outcomes overall. They argued that the proposed limit will lead to a reduction in lending to some borrowers for whom it is ultimately affordable as businesses would be unwilling to lend to those who pose a higher credit risk. Many responses thought the alternative, for those excluded from this form of credit, would be resorting to illegal borrowing, which would lead to worse outcomes for those consumers.

5.16 In contrast, some responses, primarily from consumer groups, felt that we should go further and limit rollovers to one or ban them altogether, to limit costs escalating for consumers in financial difficulties.

5.17 Several firms argued that a limit of one would be too low, as it would substantially increase consumer defaults and have a negative impact on a consumer’s credit rating and their ability to obtain future credit.

5.18 Several responses agreed with the proposed cap but argued that this would have limited effect as consumers are able to source multiple loans from different lenders. There was considerable support for real-time data sharing, whether through CRAs or a regulatory database.
5.19 Some respondents agreed in part but argued that at rollover the lender should require a certain amount of capital to be repaid to ensure that the total amount payable is reducing.

5.20 Two respondents raised concerns about the impact on the flexibility of their product offerings, and argued that our proposals would restrict the ability of consumers to ‘renew’ their agreements.

Our response

It is clear to us from the responses to the consultation that there is a consensus that some sort of restriction on rollover is necessary, but there is a debate centering on how many should be allowed. We understand the concerns raised by consumer groups about the impact of rollovers on consumers, and in particular the negative effect on consumers of loans being rolled over numerous times that were not affordable at the start.

We also recognise that there is a need for some flexibility for consumers to roll over their loans if they are unable to repay on time as a result of unexpected circumstances, such as being paid late. However, it is clear to us that the benefits of this flexibility diminish rapidly and the cost to the consumer increases sharply. Repeated rollovers can exacerbate financial difficulties. If a customer has run into unforeseen financial difficulty which prevents repayment even after a rollover then the best way to address it is forbearance and the agreement of an affordable repayment plan, not extending the loan and increasing the debt.

While there was considerable support from both consumer groups and some firms for prescribing whether the interest or charges as well as the original loan amount can be rolled over, there were a variety of views about how to give effect to this. Our work on the cap will address concerns about the cost of HCSTC including interest and charges, so we do not propose to address this issue at this time.

As we said in our consultation, a large part of the industry has acknowledged the negative effects of rollovers on consumers; for example the CFA Lending Code limits the number of rollovers to three. In our view this does not go far enough to protect consumers in financial difficulties, and so we have maintained our proposed limit of two rollovers, which we consider will provide the appropriate degree of consumer protection whilst enabling firms and customers to respond flexibly where the customer is unable to repay as a result of unanticipated circumstances.

We understand firms’ concerns about the impact on the reduction of lending and how that impacts on the most marginal customers. As we set out in paragraph 6.67 of CP13/10 we recognise that some consumers may suffer detriment as a result of the direct or indirect consequences of these proposals. However, we believe these proposals including the limit on the number of rollovers will substantially increase consumer protection overall.

We discuss the broader issue of data sharing at the end of this chapter.
Cap on the number of CPA attempts and banning part payment

What we proposed

5.21 In CP13/10, we discussed some of the abusive practices associated with CPAs. We explained that we believe that CPA repayments encourage inadequate affordability assessments and the unfair treatment of customers experiencing difficulties, but we recognised that CPAs also provide some flexibility for consumers. In seeking to strike the right balance between enabling a flexible payment method and ensuring consumer control we proposed to introduce a limit of two unsuccessful attempts to use a CPA to pay off a loan, and to ban the use of CPAs to take part payments.

5.22 In the consultation we asked:

Q12: Do you have any comments on our proposal to introduce a limit of two unsuccessful attempts on the use of CPAs to pay off a loan?

Q13: Do you have any comments on our proposal to ban the use of CPAs to take part payments?

Responses to the consultation

5.23 There was a general consensus that the FCA does need to limit the use of CPA to prevent consumers losing control of their accounts but very differing views on how that cap should apply and the overall benefits of what was proposed.

5.24 While the majority of responses supported our proposal to introduce a limit of two unsuccessful CPA attempts (including consumer organisations, some firms and their trade associations) some responses, mainly from consumer groups, argued that the number of unsuccessful attempts should be limited to one, or that we should ban the use of CPAs altogether. However, a number of HCSTC representatives argued that our proposals would have unintended effects on consumers and asked for more attempts to be allowed, and for clarification in a number of areas.

5.25 Overall there was strong support for the proposal to ban part-payment by CPAs, especially from consumer groups. The vast majority of responses agreed with the proposal, although some respondents were confused about what this would mean in practice. Many firms on the other hand were opposed.

Reduce CPA limit

5.26 Many consumer groups argued that we should reduce the number of CPA attempts to one, or ban the payment method altogether. They raised concerns about the way that CPAs are being used by firms and argued that CPAs enable firms to establish themselves as priority creditors, which can lead consumers to miss genuine priority debts and not have funds for priority expenditure such as food. They included many examples where the use of CPAs has led to considerable consumer detriment. They also expressed concern that CPAs are not well understood by consumers. They suggested that the use of CPAs is a sign that lenders’ checks are not rigorous and that firms are using CPAs as a safety net.

5.27 Many respondents highlighted that consumers are still having difficulties trying to cancel CPAs, despite their right to do so. They said that we should ensure consumers can cancel CPAs quickly and easily.
5.28 A number of respondents argued that consumers need advance notice about when the firm will take payment and how much that will be.

Increase or alter CPA cap

5.29 In contrast, a significant minority of respondents, including most HCSTC firms and their trade associations, argued strongly against the proposed CPA restriction. These responses argued that our proposals would result in fewer benefits and greater costs for consumers than we had suggested. Many proposed alternative ways of restricting CPAs, which they argued would not be so restrictive on a payment method that can be beneficial for consumers.

5.30 In particular, they highlighted the benefit and convenience to consumers of CPAs. Industry respondents argued that CPAs can fail for many reasons, including human or telecommunications errors, fraud and timing of credits. Some argued that many consumers are self-employed or have occupations where their income may fluctuate.

5.31 They argued that, if funds are not available on the correct date, but are available on a subsequent day, CPAs provide a convenient means of making payment, which allows the customer to avoid (or at least minimise) any default and penalty charges. The CPA is a flexible payment method which, in contrast to direct debits, does not incur a charge for missed payment.

5.32 Several trade associations and firms argued that a limit of two failed CPA attempts will not lead to good consumer outcomes, but will cause a significant increase in consumer defaults and lead to higher default fees and interest charges as a consequence.

5.33 They also maintained that the proposals will increase debt collection costs, and could force lenders to make greater use of county courts at an earlier stage, which is not in consumers’ best interests.

5.34 Many industry responses questioned the evidence on which the proposal is based. They argued that the current safeguards are sufficient and that the evidence on which the FCA made its judgment and the problems identified by the OFT compliance review were out of date. They further suggested that there is no evidence that the CPA limit we proposed would have positive economic outcomes in particular in the form of benefits for consumers. They proposed that we should focus on enforcement of the OFT standards rather than making new rules.

5.35 A few responses also argued that our proposed approach was inconsistent with the approach taken to CPAs across the wider consumer credit market. These responses argued that our rules on CPAs should be the same for all providers. If two unsuccessful attempts are an indicator of a consumer in financial difficulties, then they argued that this should be applied more widely than HCSTC.

5.36 A number of smaller firms suggested that the proposed restriction on the use of CPA could have an unfair impact on their ability to carry on trading in this market because their banks will not facilitate their use of direct debit.

5.37 Many of these responses proposed a repayment window of two to five days, linked to the contracted payment, in which multiple CPA attempts could be made by the lender. They argued that this offered a better balance between customer convenience and consumer control.

Further clarification

5.38 There was some confusion in the responses about how the CPA limit applied to instalment loans and whether it was two unsuccessful attempts per instalment or per loan. Several responses highlighted the potential difficulty for instalment loans where the CPA is more likely to fail for reasons other than financial difficulties due to the increased number of payments during the course of the loan.

5.39 These respondents argued that a hard limit of two unsuccessful failed CPA attempts unfairly disadvantages instalment loans, and may force consumers to use other payment methods that can be more costly and burdensome to consumers. They suggested it would lead to products being withdrawn, a reduction in consumer choice and restricted competition.

5.40 Many responses to the consultation questioned what would happen to a consumer who was unable to repay the loan on the agreed date and who chose to roll over the loan or who agreed a repayment plan with the lender. They wanted to know whether the limit of two unsuccessful attempts per loan would mean that CPA was no longer an option for consumers who chose to roll over their loans or agree repayment plans.

5.41 Others questioned what would happen if multiple repayments were agreed under a repayment plan to make the loan more affordable, as this could increase the possibility of CPAs failing in the same way as an instalment loan. Many of these responses argued that there is a need for some type of re-set, or limit to two attempts in 30 days, or to each instalment.

5.42 Many responses also wanted clarification about whether following two failed attempts consumers would be able to use the same card to make repayments, or to reset the CPA restriction.

5.43 Several consumer groups argued that CPAs should not be used unless a consumer is warned in advance. Several firms highlighted that the CFA Lending Code requires members to inform the customer three days before attempting repayment about the use of CPA and encourages the customer to contact the firm if the customer is in financial difficulties and cannot make the payment.

5.44 A number of respondents asked us to clarify whose responsibility it is to ensure that no attempt is made after the limit has been reached – the lender or the payment service provider.

Part-payment

5.45 On part-payment, there was general support for our proposals. However, there was clearly some confusion about exactly what we meant. Some consumer groups expressed concern that a ban on part-payment may prevent consumers from paying down part of their debt if they are unable to pay back the whole amount. This would have adverse consequences, for example when a part-payment may prevent late payment fees or default interest charges being applied.

5.46 Several firms also argued that it is in the interests of the borrower to reduce their debt where they can afford to make a part-payment, and that we should not prevent them from doing so, as this will mean that they will remain indebted for longer. Several firms queried whether part-payment would be allowed where a repayment plan has been agreed.

5.47 Certain firms argued that, rather than a ban on part-payment, there should be a focus on ensuring that consumers are informed at point-of-sale about the use of part-payments. They proposed that consumers could be given the option at the outset to make full repayment or allow part-payment to be taken by the firm.

5.48 Of those firms who did not agree, several argued that this would make it easier for consumers who choose not to pay.

5.49 Some firms argued that the ban on part-payment should be applied more widely to the consumer credit market as a whole.
Our response

Limit of two failed attempts
We recognise that, used correctly, CPAs can provide consumers with a convenient and flexible payment method as they do not rely on manual transfer and, unlike other payment methods, lenders and payment service providers do not generally charge for failed payments.

Many firms sent detailed data to demonstrate the impact that our proposals may have on their businesses and to support their arguments for a greater number of attempts over a longer period. However, what this data underlined is that the majority of consumers are able to pay back on the due date or the following day, and this finding is reinforced by the CC findings. The responses by some firms also clearly demonstrated that they have been using CPAs very aggressively and as a debt collection method because they do not consider other forms of debt collection to be proportionate given the low value of these loans.

Some firms and their trade associations argued that the evidence on which our proposals are based is out of date. We are aware that there has been a reduction in the overall number of CPA attempts since VISA introduced its rule change on excessive authorisations in March 2013. However, given the evidence from consumer groups in response to the consultation it is our view that these changes do not go far enough to address the concerns we set out in CP13/10. Furthermore, VISA continues to report CPA attempts which are in excess of its own rules.

The consumer group responses on the other hand provided numerous examples of consumers losing control of their bank accounts with the consequence that they could not make priority payments (e.g. food and heating) and being bombarded with repeated attempts to take payments through CPAs even when they had made clear to the lender that they were unable to pay.

We start from the position that the failure of a CPA may be an indication that the borrower is in financial difficulty, but acknowledge that there may be other reasons for the failure. We consider that a limit of two failed attempts provides an appropriate degree of consumer protection, while making allowance for the possibility that CPAs may fail for reasons other than financial difficulties. By no later than the second failed attempt the lender should contact the borrower to establish the reasons for non-payment.

If, for example, the customer can afford to pay but the CPA has failed twice because the customer was paid late, then the customer can give separate consent for a one-off payment, or make other payment arrangements. But if in the course of the dialogue with the customer the lender establishes that he or she cannot pay, then the lender is required to treat the customer fairly and with forbearance and due consideration. This may include the lender agreeing a repayment plan that includes a number of reduced payments.

20 We have found that around 65 per cent of loans are repaid in full on time or early. A relatively high proportion of those paid late appear to be repaid late by only one day (paragraph 34 of the CC’s payday lending market investigation annotated Issues statement).
As explained below, we have revised how the CPA limit will work in certain circumstances, but we have maintained our overall approach and limited CPA to two failed attempts.

One-off payments by consumers
We found that many of the responses were based on a misunderstanding that we intended to ban one-off payments by consumers. As a result, the responses over-estimated the impact of our rules. It was not our intention to prevent customers making one-off payments using the same card as that used for the CPA. We have adjusted our definition of a CPA to make this clearer.

"continuous payment authority consent given by a customer for a firm to make one or more requests to a payment service provider for one or more payments from the customer's payment account, but excluding:

(a) a direct debit to which the Direct Debit guarantee applies; and

(b) separate consent given by a customer to a firm following the making of the credit agreement for the firm to make a single request to a payment service provider for one payment of a specified amount from the customer's payment account on the same day as the consent is given or on a specified day."

Refinancing
Given the benefit to the consumer of CPAs when used responsibly, we will allow the consumer to ‘reset’ the CPA when the agreement is rolled over or refinanced. In these situations the failed CPA attempts will trigger a dialogue between the lender and the consumer, and this will mean that the CPA can be restarted by the consumer if they choose to and the firm has explained the way in which the CPA will be used.

In these circumstances, we would expect firms to keep records to demonstrate that the consumer has consented to the further use of the CPA. We have included guidance that highlights to firms that they should have particular regard to the general record-keeping requirements set out in SYSC 9.1.

Instalment loans
The intention of our proposals as set out in CP13/10 was to limit the CPA to two failed attempts per loan, as set out in paragraph 6.39. We recognise that the CPA limit as proposed could have a disproportionate impact on instalment loans. Having carefully considered the feedback, we will allow the CPA limit to be re-set, provided that following two unsuccessful attempts to collect the instalment, the firm makes contact with the customer and the consumer is able to pay the instalment by means other than a CPA. In this case, the firm would be able to ‘re-set’ the CPA limit for the remaining payments.

If a customer is not able to make up the instalment payments, this may indicate financial difficulties. In these cases, we would expect the firm to enter into a dialogue with the consumer. We do not believe that it is appropriate for the firm to continue to use a CPA if the consumer is in financial difficulties. However, if it is clear that a consumer is not in financial difficulties, but they are unable to pay possibly due to unexpected circumstances, then the firm may continue to use a CPA if the firm is able to evidence that:

- they have had a discussion with the customer in which the customer consents to the use of the CPA, and
- they exercise forbearance (in accordance with CONC 6.7.17R (2)), or
- they do not increase the total amount repayable under the agreement as a result of a missed payment on a due date.

The rules on refinancing and part-payment also apply to instalment loans, so a firm will be able to use a CPA where they have allowed the customer to pay instalments which are less than are due under the agreement in a repayment plan, as long as the consumer has given their express consent to the use of the CPA.

We will monitor the market for any evidence that instalment products are being used to bypass our restrictions on repeated CPAs inappropriately, and we will not hesitate to take action if we identify poor conduct.

Information

We did not consult on introducing a requirement for firms to inform consumers before they use CPAs, although we can see that there are potential benefits to consumers. We will consider consulting on such a rule after the transfer.

Cancelling CPAs

CONC 7.6.16R makes it clear that firms must not inhibit or discourage a consumer from cancelling a CPA. Payment service providers also have a responsibility to ensure that consumers are able to cancel CPAs directly with them if they want to.

It was not our intention to prevent one-off payments of a lesser amount by consumers if the consumer is unable to make the full repayment, and we have revised the definition of a CPA to make this clearer. Our proposals were intended to give consumers back control over their accounts. Given the evidence of harm caused to consumers by numerous part-payment attempts, we do not agree that information at point-of-sale is effective or provides adequate consumer protection from unscrupulous practices in this market. For this reason, we have maintained our ban on the use of CPAs to take part-payment.

If a consumer is unable to pay back their loan on time, our rules require lenders to treat customers fairly and with forbearance and due consideration. This may, for example, include the lender agreeing to a repayment plan that includes a number of reduced payments. We have made it clearer in the rules that the ban on the use of CPAs to take part-payment does not prevent the firm from entering into a repayment plan when exercising forbearance or refinancing agreements with a single repayment or instalment loans. However, the use of CPA to take these payments will require the express consent of the consumer to the CPA.
We understand why there was some support for extending the ban on using CPAs to take part-payment to the consumer credit market more widely. We do not have evidence that this practice is causing harm to consumers in the wider credit market, so we do not propose to extend the ban to the wider market at this time, although we may reconsider if we have evidence that this is a wider problem which is leading to poor outcomes for consumers.

Where better disclosure could help: risk warning

In CP 13/10 we consulted on the risk warning below:

Think! Is this loan right for you?

Over 2 million short-term loans were not paid off on time in 2011/2012. This can lead to serious money problems.

If you’re struggling, go to www.moneyadviseservice.org.uk for free and impartial help.

5.50 The proposed risk warning had two objectives:

- To make consumers who may roll over more aware of the risks and consequences from doing so, namely the rapid increases in the amount owed. This was informed by academic thinking in the United States that suggested that highlighting the costs/risks of rollover could have an impact on consumer behaviour, making some less likely to borrow.

- For those in financial difficulties more generally we sought to signpost where they could get help – by directing them to the Money Advice Service (MAS).

5.51 We proposed that the risk warning would apply from 1 April 2014 for ‘electronic communications’, where it was easier to introduce the new warning, and 1 July 2014 for non-electronic media.

5.52 In the consultation we asked:

Q14: Do you have any comments on our risk warning?

Responses to the consultation

5.53 The general feedback was that the risk warning needs to be shorter and sharper. In particular, respondents objected to ‘Over 2 million short-term loans were not paid off on time in 2011/2012’. Responses suggested that it would not change behaviour, was not meaningful, and would soon require updating.

5.54 Some responses thought we should conduct research on what warning would be most effective. Others thought work was needed on what signpost was used. Both industry and consumer groups thought the url link should be specifically for this sector, rather than the generic MAS website.

5.55 Some consumer groups wanted the risk warning to be clearer that rolling over a loan is very expensive, including making each firm provide the exact charges incurred. Others wanted the risk warning to set out that these loans are expensive relative to other credit products. Some respondents also commented on how the risk warning would work in different media such as social media, online adverts and text messages. They noted that the proposed risk statement would simply be too long. Some wanted an exemption for certain media, others an alternative shorter warning, and others further guidance.

5.56 There were different views on whether further guidance was needed on how ‘prominent’ would work for the risk warning.

5.57 There were mixed views on whether the risk warning should apply only for HCSTC or for credit products more widely.

5.58 Many respondents also thought there should be a telephone number on the risk warning to ensure those excluded from the internet have access to help.

Our response

We accept that the initial proposed risk warning was too long but we remain keen to highlight the risks of rollover, which consumers may not otherwise consider. Academic research suggests this can impact on some consumers’ behaviour.

We discussed with MAS how best to revise the warning and also sought the input of other stakeholders and experts in its design. We considered carrying out more consumer research, but we decided that we could get appropriate insights from the professionals we consulted, not least because of the limitations of using research to predict how consumers react in a real-life situation. We are also constrained by the CCD, which prevents us focusing a risk warning on the high cost of these products.

The revised warning is much shorter, and should address the wider concern about how it will work across different media.

Warning: Late repayment can cause you serious money problems. For help, go to moneyadvice.service.org.uk

The initial warning was 38 words and 232 characters; the revised version is 14 words or 103 characters. We think this largely mitigates the concerns expressed, while still achieving, as far as is feasible, the original rationale.

We have discussed with MAS the possibility of creating a specific url for this sector, but they felt that their generic url would gain more traction and recognition for consumers. The url also explains what help is available. We have also revised our rules to enable firms to refer to the MAS logo instead of the url if they want. A licence to use the logo is available from MAS. That may further reduce the length of the risk warning and potentially make the signposting more appealing to consumers.

MAS will put in place a dedicated webpage for this market to ensure that consumers who come through to it get relevant and useful information about their situation. However, we concluded that it was not practical to include a telephone number.
We have decided to keep the risk warning for HCSTC only, as it is directed specifically at the issue of rollover and its impact could be undermined if used across the credit market.

We have decided not to give any further guidance on how the risk warning should be displayed. We would expect firms to reflect on how to make the advertisement work in line with our principles and in accordance with established processes in each medium; for example, for television there are rules around how to ensure a risk warning works – through the Broadcast Committee of Advertising Practice guidance.

We appreciate that for certain social media (with character-limited space) there may be ongoing concerns about how practical the risk warning will be. So we are introducing a test of ‘unless by reason of the space available on the medium in question it is not reasonably practicable to do so’ into our rules for financial promotions in an electronic communication. To use this exemption firms will need to be able to demonstrate to us why they are unable to include the risk warning.

We plan to outline our wider approach to advertising in social and other digital media shortly. This will provide greater clarity about how firms can comply with our financial promotions rules in character-limited media.

Information on free debt advice

What we proposed

5.59 We proposed to introduce a new rule to require HCSTC lenders to provide customers with information on free debt advice before their loan is rolled over or refinanced. This should help consumers to make more informed decisions, in this instance about managing their debt. It would follow broadly the same format as the information sheets already produced for customers in arrears.21

5.60 In the consultation we asked:

Q15: Do you have any comments on our proposals to require high-cost short-term lenders to provide information on free debt advice before the point of rollover?

Responses to the consultation

5.61 Overall the responses strongly supported the proposal to provide information on free debt advice at rollover. Several consumer groups argued that this information should also be given at point-of-application or point-of-sale, or when forbearance is discussed.

5.62 A number of firms argued that the information sheets are not appropriate for consumers at the point of rollover and that they would cause distress to those who are not in financial difficulties. Others argued that it could lead to too much information and may cause consumers to miss key features and terms of the product.

21 http://fca.org.uk/firms/firm-types/consumer-credit/information-sheets
5.63 Several respondents argued that we should not only signpost free debt advice, but that we should also signpost fee-charging debt advice providers.

5.64 Some firms argued that there needs to be greater flexibility about how this information is communicated to consumers to ensure that it does not prevent consumers from rolling over, and to ensure that it is as effective as possible.

Our response

Given the strong support for signposting free debt advice at rollover, we are introducing an information sheet for HCSTC, and requiring firms to provide this when they refinance (including roll over) a loan.

We do not propose to require firms to give this information at point-of-sale, or point-of-application, as the risk warning that will be included in advertising of HCSTC will include signposting.

We have updated the information sheet in line with our approach to the other information sheets, and to ensure that it is appropriate for HCSTC. Debt Advice NI and Money Advice Scotland are now more prominently displayed on the information sheet making it more appropriate for use throughout the UK.

In line with the other information sheets, we do not propose to include fee-charging debt advice providers.

Price capping

5.65 In the consultation we noted that we planned to carry out further research in this area.

5.66 We asked:

Q16: Do you have any comments on the effectiveness of price capping?

5.67 In November 2013, the Government announced its intention to give us a duty to impose a price-cap on high-cost short-term credit. The Banking Reform Act 2013 has brought this duty into law. It sets out:

- that the price-cap applies to HCSTC (but this is not defined in the Act)
- a new duty to exercise the price-capping power under section 137C FSMA with a view to securing an appropriate degree of protection for borrowers against excessive charges
- the cap must be in force by 2 January 2015.

5.68 A number of points were made about the potential impact of a cap in the responses including:

- Prices will gravitate towards the level of the cap, reducing competition.
• Lenders will tighten their criteria and reduce access to credit. This will result in reduced access to credit for lower-income individuals and encourage them to resort to unregulated sources.

Our response

We will take these issues into consideration as we take forward our price-capping analysis.

We have started and will continue to engage with stakeholders to help us develop our proposals. We expect to publish a consultation paper in July 2014 and final rules in November 2014, with the cap coming into force by 2 January 2015.

Real-time data sharing

5.69 In CP13/10 we acknowledged that lenders only have access to the data that has been made available to the CRA that they have sought information from. We said that we would like the Steering Committee on Reciprocity (SCOR) to identify and remove any blockages faced by HCSTC lenders and CRAs in sharing real-time data with the rest of the credit market as a matter of urgency.

Responses to the consultation

5.70 We did not ask a specific question however, we received a significant number of responses that were in favour of data sharing, with a particular focus on real-time data sharing or data being updated at least every 24 hours. Some respondents felt that we should set up a regulatory database. In particular, several respondents who gave us feedback about rollovers felt that real-time data sharing through a regulatory database would be necessary to limit rollovers. Without it, they argued, it would be difficult to stop consumers going to another firm when they are unable to roll over. Several respondents argued that it could also prevent borrowers being able to take out multiple short-term loans.

5.71 Several consumer bodies highlighted that better data sharing through CRAs was essential to enable firms to carry out adequate affordability assessments and reduce the number of consumers who find themselves with spiralling debt problems.

5.72 There was also support by some firms for real-time data sharing, as they argued that without it they are unable to effectively compete in these markets and provide cheaper products.

Our response

We agree that better data sharing would be good for consumers. It would allow lending decisions to be based on more up-to-date information and support more effective affordability assessments; in turn this should enable lenders to make better-informed and more accurate lending decisions. This could also help borrowers who are trying to improve their credit rating by providing more up-to-date information.
We have already said that we would like the industry to identify and remove any blockages to real-time data sharing as a matter of urgency. There have been a number of developments in relation to real-time data sharing by CRAs since the consultation paper was published including announcements by Callcredit and Experian of products that provide daily updates on such loans. We welcome any moves by the industry to overcome the technological barriers to real-time data sharing but other obstacles remain to the systematic sharing of data in this sector.

We strongly encourage action by the industry to improve data sharing, but we are also aware that this approach has not succeeded in other areas such as SME lending. We will prioritise discussions with the industry about whether they can overcome the obstacles to effective real-time data sharing, in particular:

- how to ensure the necessary participation to make this effective
- what is a reasonable timeframe to make clear progress.

We will conclude these discussions by the summer. If the industry cannot overcome the obstacles, and we are best placed to bring about data sharing, we will not hesitate to act.
6 Conduct rules for debt advice providers and peer-to-peer lending platforms

- Most of our proposals for firms that provide debt advice and P2P lending platforms have not changed, but we have further clarified what constitutes debt counselling when providing debt advice.

- The scope of the regulated activity in relation to P2P lending has been clarified by a Government Order.

Providing debt advice

6.1 In CP13/10 we identified two types of debt advice provision:

• generic advice that is not regulated debt counselling

• regulated debt advice on the liquidation of a debt due under a consumer credit or consumer hire agreement (debt counselling).

6.2 We consulted on draft perimeter guidance, which included illustrative examples of different types of debt advice provision.

Q19: Do you have any comments on our draft guidance on the debt counselling activity and our draft rules covering the provision of debt advice?

6.3 Most respondents supported our approach to defining the perimeter for debt counselling. Our examples were largely welcomed, although some changes were suggested. In particular, respondents wanted more clarity on when the provision of money advice or budgetary advice may constitute regulated debt counselling.

6.4 Some respondents welcomed in particular our draft guidance that, where a referral (e.g. by a lead generator) is made to a specific debt management firm known to offer only one form of debt solution, this may constitute regulated debt counselling, as the outcome of the referral is effectively pre-determined.

Lead generators

6.5 Some respondents expressed concern that we had raised the threshold (compared to the position under the CCA/OFT regime) of what constitutes regulated debt counselling, by excluding ‘generic advice’, and as such had ‘deregulated’ some lead generators operating in the debt management sector.

Our response

Generic debt advice is not regulated debt counselling because it does not relate to the liquidation of particular debts, and our position on this is no different from the OFT’s. Generic advice is unlikely, however, to be as relevant in the debt area as it is for advice provided in connection with other regulated activities (see also below).

The Government has stated that it has not seen sufficient evidence to support a decision to regulate the effecting of introductions to debt advice providers but that we would look at alternative measures to tackle misconduct by lead generators.

Consequently, we have included rules that reflect the OFT’s Debt Management Guidance, and some additional guidance, setting out the responsibility of debt management firms when dealing with lead generators. In particular, firms must take reasonable steps before accepting sales leads to ensure that key aspects of the lead generator’s activities comply with relevant legal requirements and that there is adequate transparency to customers.

Debt management firms

6.6 Some respondents (primarily consumer groups) were concerned that some debt management firms might argue that they only provide ‘generic advice’ to avoid being subject to our regulation.

Our response

We consider that an essential element of debt management business is to identify what are suitable and unsuitable debt solutions for clients. So to conduct their business appropriately, debt management firms must necessarily engage in regulated debt counselling rather than merely providing generic advice to clients.

Debt consolidation

6.7 Some respondents (primarily mortgage advisers and independent financial advisers) wanted clarification on whether advising on consolidating unsecured debts into a regulated mortgage contract constitutes regulated debt counselling.

Our response

Advising a client to consolidate debts from unsecured credit agreements (or second charge loans) into a mortgage contract is likely to be regulated debt counselling, as the objective is to enable the client to manage the repayment of their debts better. This will be the case even if the debt advice is secondary to another regulated activity, unless it is ‘advising on regulated mortgage contracts’ (i.e. advising on entering into or varying a particular regulated mortgage contract) in which case it will be subject to MCOB rules.\textsuperscript{25} We include illustrative examples in our perimeter guidance.\textsuperscript{26}

6.8
A number of respondents questioned the scope of the Government’s exemption for IPs from the debt counselling activity.

Our response

Firms are excluded from the debt counselling activity where they are acting as an IP (as defined in legislation\textsuperscript{27}) or in reasonable contemplation of being appointed as an IP.\textsuperscript{28}

However, their conduct when acting as an IP remains subject to scrutiny by their recognised professional bodies (RPBs) such as the Insolvency Practitioners Association. The Insolvency Service and the RPBs regulate IPs to ensure that they are fit to act as insolvency practitioners. IPs are also required to observe the Insolvency Code of Ethics.

The exclusion extends to things done by an IP’s firm in connection with the IP acting as an insolvency practitioner, but not to the activities of the firm (including its debt advice activities) more generally.

Regulatory certainty

6.9
A few respondents wanted clearer guidance on the circumstances in which debt advice may be classified as regulated debt counselling.

Our response

We have made some amendments to our perimeter guidance in light of responses, but we do not consider more substantial changes to be necessary.

We cannot give debt advisers complete certainty about whether or not they are carrying on regulated debt counselling, as this will depend on the context and circumstances in which the advice is provided. Firms will need to decide for themselves, by reference to our guidance, whether they are carrying on regulated activities.

\textsuperscript{25} The scope of the exemption in article 39J of the Regulated Activities Order was amended by The Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) Order 2014, SI 2014/366.

For acting as an IP, the exclusion covers the non-credit activities for which IPs were previously exempt, plus debt counselling, debt adjusting, debt administration, debt collecting and credit information services. For acting in reasonable contemplation of such an appointment, the exclusion only covers debt counselling, debt adjusting and credit information services.
Peer-to-peer lending platforms

6.10 In CP13/10 we consulted on proposals to ensure adequate protections for borrowers who obtain credit via a P2P lending platform.29 In particular, our aim was to ensure similar rights and protections in certain key areas to those available to borrowers generally, while at the same time taking account of the special features of P2P lending.

6.11 Table 6.1 (below) summarises the rules we are applying to P2P platforms. Although some rules do not come into effect until after 1 April 2014, our high-level rules will apply to P2P lending platforms from that date.

6.12 We have consulted separately on our regulatory approach to crowdfunding, including the lending/investing aspects of P2P lending.30 A policy statement will be issued in the near future.

Q20: Do you have any comments on the rules that we propose to apply to peer-to-peer lending platforms to protect borrowers?

6.13 Most respondents welcomed our proposed approach, considering it both appropriate and proportionate. However, a number raised concerns about the scope and complexity of the new regulated activity and our proposals in relation to information sheets.

The regulated activity

6.14 The new regulated activity of ‘operating an electronic system in relation to lending’ is set out in article 36H of the RAO.31 There was concern that this was unduly complicated and difficult to understand, and might inadvertently catch activities unrelated to P2P lending.

Our response

The scope and definition of the regulated activity are matters for Government. In response to concerns raised by stakeholders, the Government has made an Order amending the definition with a view to clarifying its application.32 The key additional elements are that the platform receives payments from the borrower, and passes these on to the lender, and exercises or enforces rights on the lender’s behalf.

The new activity relates to the P2P platform. In some cases, individual P2P lenders may be engaged in regulated activity, if they are lending ‘by way of business’. We have issued guidance on carrying on regulated activity by way of business.33

29 In CP13/13 we refer to firms running ‘loan-based crowdfunding platforms’ as an umbrella term to recognise that not all such platforms facilitate individuals lending to other individuals (peer-to-peer). We use the ‘peer-to-peer’ term here as only platforms arranging consumer credit will be subject to these rules, other similar platforms, like those that arrange loans for limited companies, will not.

33 PERG 2.3 in the Perimeter Guidance manual.
Information sheets

6.15 Some respondents questioned the content of the information sheets that P2P platforms will have to provide to borrowers in arrears or default.

Our response

The wording of the arrears information sheets to be used by P2P platforms is set out in CONC 7.17.5R(4) and 7.18.3R(2). A downloadable version of the sheets will be available on our website by 1 July 2014, three months before the relevant rules come into effect on 1 October 2014.34

If a P2P platform is facilitating the provision of HCSTC, our new HCSTC rules will require the platform, before refinancing the credit, to provide the borrower with an arrears information sheet in substantially the same form as the information sheet to be provided by HCSTC lenders under similar circumstances. The wording of this information sheet (with modifications for P2P platforms) is set out in CONC 6.7.20R. This requirement comes into effect from 1 July 2014 and we will publish a downloadable copy of this information sheet on our website by 1 April 2014.

7 Prudential standards for debt management firms and some not-for-profit debt advice bodies

This chapter summarises feedback on Q17 and Q18 of CP13/10 and our response.
Most of our proposals have not changed, but we have amended our volume-based prudential requirement.

Introduction

7.1 Chapter 7 of CP13/10 set out our prudential standards proposals for debt management firms. In light of the responses to our previous consultation, FSA CP13/7, we proposed to extend the application of our prudential standards to include not-for-profit debt advice bodies that hold £1m or more in client money.36

7.2 We proposed that the prudential requirement would be the higher of:

- a fixed minimum amount of £5,000
- a volume-based measure equal to 0.25% of a firm’s ‘relevant debts under management’.

7.3 We also proposed that our prudential standards would not apply until firms are fully authorised and there would be transitional arrangements for our prudential regime until 1 April 2017.

7.4 The draft provisions were set out in Appendix 2.

Prudential resources requirement

7.5 In the consultation we asked:

Q17: Do you agree with our proposals on how to calculate our prudential requirement for debt management firms and some not-for-profit debt advice bodies? If not, what amendments would you suggest and why?

36 As set out in FSA CP13/7, we have not generally proposed to apply prudential requirements to consumer credit firms, other than debt management firms. The only other firms performing consumer credit activities for which we have consulted on prudential requirements are those performing the new activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending (P2P lending). For details of our prudential approach for these firms, see CP13/13 and the forthcoming crowdfunding policy statement.
We received over 50 responses to Q17, with almost half of the respondents supporting our proposed metric. The majority of the remaining respondents were also generally supportive of our proposals, and agreed that they are necessary to help us protect the interests of consumers. Where respondents provided comments, they typically covered either the calculation of the volume-based prudential resources requirement or the threshold for not-for-profit debt advice bodies.

Calculation of the volume-based prudential resources requirement

Approximately a quarter of respondents (mainly from the debt management sector) did not agree that ‘relevant debts under management’ is the most appropriate metric for calculating the volume-based measure. The main reasons given were:

- ‘debts under management’ is not a good indicator of the risks that a firm poses to consumers
- a proportion of ‘relevant debts under management’ is not a reliable method of calculating the costs of winding down a firm
- it is punitive for firms whose customers are generally making very small monthly payments in debt management plans.

Some respondents suggested alternative calculation metrics, the majority of which were one of the following:

- the number of active customers/debt management plans
- the amount of client money held/distributed
- using bonds (a form of insurance that is used for individual voluntary arrangements) as an alternative to, or part of, a prudential requirement.

In addition, some respondents noted that our proposed volume-based measure may restrict growth and does not reflect the fact that firms will have inactive clients. One firm also stated that there is a disproportionate gap between marginal increases in the prudential requirement and marginal increases in client money.

Our response

As described in CP13/10, our aim is to align the prudential requirement with the risk of harm to consumers and potential market disruption. We consider that debt management firms pose a high risk to consumers because they hold client money, will typically require more time to wind down than other consumer credit firms, and their potential for having to pay redress is greater.

Our intention was to introduce a prudential metric that is not overly complex and can adequately capture all three of the above-mentioned prudential risks, while also not being open to manipulation.

37 Respondents defined ‘active’ clients as those who are making payments under a debt management plan, in contrast to ‘inactive’ clients who are not making payments.
We have assessed the alternative suggestions and whether they align with our aim of a robust risk-based prudential requirement. We do not consider that the alternatives fully address the many prudential risks as effectively as the metric of ‘relevant debts under management’. For example:

- Prudential metrics based on the amount of client assets held or the amounts of funds distributed are open to manipulation. To overcome this we would need to bring in an overly complex prudential requirement and onerous reporting. Equally, as outlined above, prudential standards exist for more reasons than just the risk presented by the amount of client assets a firm holds.

- Prudential metrics based on the number of active clients would understate the risks of having inactive clients and could encourage inappropriate firm behaviour when selling debt solutions.

After considering the responses on the marginal impact of our preferred metric, we accept that our original proposal for a flat rate of 0.25% of ‘relevant debts under management’ does not reflect economies of scale in the prudential risks posed by debt management firms.

For example, as firms grow they do not have to invest proportionally more in systems and controls (such as compliance functions) to manage and mitigate prudential risks. So we propose to adjust our volume-based measure to taper the prudential requirement.

As a result, the revised volume-based measure prudential requirement will be calculated as the sum of:

- 0.25% of relevant debts under management up to £5m
- 0.15% of relevant debts under management between £5m and £100m
- 0.05% of relevant debts under management above £100m.

This will lower the prudential requirement for debt management firms and not-for-profit debt advice bodies with relevant debts under management of more than £5m. This represents the majority of firms that contributed data to our debt management survey last year.

We will not be changing the fixed minimum prudential requirement of £5,000. We consider that this is an appropriate minimum amount given the need to balance our objective of protecting consumers and creating a proportionate regime that does not constrain competition.

For bond insurance, we do not believe that we can rely on the availability of comprehensive policies to negate the need for prudential requirements. However, on a longer-term basis, we are open to further discussions with the industry, or individual firms, about the merits and limitations of bond insurance.
Threshold for not-for-profit debt advice bodies

7.10 A number of commercial debt management firms and trade bodies considered that the proposed £1m client money threshold for applying prudential requirements to not-for-profit debt advice bodies is too high, and thought that very few firms would be covered by it.

7.11 These respondents considered that the risks to customers posed by not-for-profit debt advice providers who handle client money are similar to those posed by commercial firms operating in the sector, so they should be subject to the same prudential standards.

Our response

We agree that smaller not-for-profit debt advice bodies do pose some similar risks to smaller commercial debt management firms. Equally, however, not-for-profit debt advice bodies have different incentives from commercial debt management firms, which mean that the risk to consumers is lower.

We consider that our proposals, by focusing on commercial debt management firms and the very largest not-for-profit debt advice bodies, are in line with our prudential philosophy to concentrate on entities that pose the greatest risks to consumers. We will be proceeding with our proposals.

Transitional approach to prudential standards

7.12 In the consultation we asked:

Q18: Do you agree with our proposal to apply a transitional approach to prudential standards for debt management firms and some not-for-profit debt advice bodies?

Responses to consultation

7.13 Most respondents were supportive of our proposals.

7.14 Some respondents suggested that we should end our transitional prudential regime earlier than 1 April 2017.

Our response

Since most consumer credit firms have no experience of prudential standards, we continue to believe that we should give firms time to adapt to these new requirements. We consider that our proposals provide a suitable transitional period, so we are proceeding with our existing timetable for introducing prudential standards.

This approach is consistent with how we have introduced prudential requirements in the past for other types of firms new to prudential regulation.
8 Proposals for debt management firms that hold their clients’ money

Introduction

8.1 Chapter 9 of CP13/10 set out our proposals for debt management firms that hold client money. These included some changes to the previous proposals, including extending the scope of our client money rules to include not-for-profit debt advice bodies and applying most but not all of the rules to smaller firms.

8.2 The draft client money rules were set out in Appendix 2 to CP13/10.

Q21: Do you agree with our proposals for debt management firms and not-for-profit debt advice bodies that hold client money? If not, which aspects of the regime do you disagree with and why?

8.3 Most respondents were generally supportive of our proposals, and agreed that they will enhance protection for consumers. We did, however, receive a number of detailed comments and requests for clarification, as set out below. These have not caused us to fundamentally change our approach.

Smaller and larger firms

8.4 Some respondents suggested that the risks to client money are broadly the same in smaller firms as they are in larger firms, so the full rules should apply to all debt management firms, regardless of their size.

Our response

While we acknowledge that risks to consumers may be broadly similar, we believe that we have achieved an appropriate balance between proportionality and the need for a robust regime.
We are requiring all debt management firms to comply with key aspects of our client money regime, while applying a slightly lighter regime in some areas to firms with smaller balances of client money, to reflect the lower risks in such cases. In accordance with our proposals in CP13/10, a large firm for these purposes is one that held £1m or more of client money at any point in the previous calendar year or expects to do so in the current year.

Payment of interest to clients

8.5 Some respondents (mainly not-for-profit debt advice bodies) stated that interest earned on client money is generally very low, so calculating the amount earned per customer could be more costly than the interest actually payable.

8.6 One respondent suggested a threshold provision for not-for-profit debt advice bodies whereby the proposed rule would not apply to monies held below a certain amount, with any surplus interest being used for charitable purposes.

Our response

We will not be changing the proposed requirement. Even if a threshold were applied, firms would still be required to calculate and record interest earned per client to determine whether this exceeds the threshold. Also, where interest is earned for the benefit of firms, it creates an incentive for them to hold the money for longer and/or place it in banks on longer terms to generate an income, which is in potential conflict with their safeguarding obligations.

However, where firms only hold small balances of client money for a few days, and any interest that could be earned is negligible from the client's perspective (e.g. a few pence), our rules will not prevent firms from requesting a non-interest bearing bank account. Firms would, as a result, be complying with our rules, even though the interest earned and paid to clients is nil.

When considering whether or not to deposit client money in non-interest bearing accounts, firms should ensure that they pay due regard to their clients’ best interests. For example, if a firm is holding a large balance for a long time for a particular client, then it is unlikely to be in the client’s best interests for that money to be held in a non-interest bearing account.

Selection of a bank account

8.7 Some respondents asked for guidance on how to apply the rules about selecting a bank to hold client money.
Our response

The guidance in our client money rules highlights that a large debt management firms should consider the creditworthiness of the bank it selects to hold client money, and must make a record of the grounds on which it is satisfied as to the appropriateness of that selection. This is because the firm has a duty of care to safeguard the client money it is responsible for, which will include considering whether the bank is appropriately protected.

We have clarified the application of our rule requiring large debt management firms to consider the risks of holding all client money with one bank.

Other possible mechanisms

8.8 Some respondents suggested that we should consider other mechanisms for protecting client money. One respondent suggested requiring insurance and another proposed that additional protection could be provided by way of a ‘bond’.

Our response

We do not consider that these alternatives would provide more robust protection for customers. They could also result in additional costs to firms, particularly smaller firms with more limited resources, if they had to negotiate insurance.

However, we will keep this under consideration as market practices and the client money regime evolve, and we will review the application of the client money rules if evidence emerges of a viable, appropriate and proportionate alternative that would achieve similar outcomes.

Other issues

8.9 Other respondents made the following points:

- As debt management firms will not be covered by the FSCS, the planned review in 2016 should be brought forward.

- A full and final settlement model is inconsistent with the Debt Management Plan Protocol, which does not allow for client money to be held for longer than five days.

- The requirement for monies received by appointed representatives to be paid into the client bank account no later than the next business day should be extended to three days.

38 In which the firm holds money on behalf of the customer and does not distribute that money promptly, pending negotiating a settlement with the customer’s lenders – see CONC 8.7.2R(3).
Our response

Our response in relation to queries raised about FSCS cover is addressed in Chapter 10.

We consider that our rules, which allow firms to hold client money for longer than five days so long as they meet certain requirements, are appropriate. However, as stated in Annex 5, we may look at the suitability of the full and final settlement model in due course.

We do not generally permit appointed representatives to hold client money and see no compelling reason to make an exception in the debt management sector. As noted in CP13/10, a firm that has appointed representatives may have difficulty in properly overseeing how well they handle client money, and hence carry out its obligation to ensure appropriate protections.

Q22: Do you agree with our proposed implementation timetable? If not, please give reasons.

8.10 Most respondents to this question did so in relation to the overall timetable for the new consumer credit regime, when in fact the question was limited to the implementation of our client money regime.

8.11 Of those that did refer directly to the client money rules, most suggested that we should consider implementing these earlier than planned.

Our response

We are proceeding with our planned implementation timetable with the exception of a transitional arrangement for some not-for-profit debt advice bodies grandfathered into limited permission.

We recognise the risks around firms not having to comply with our client money regime when holding interim permission. However, firms need time to implement the requirements alongside the new prudential and conduct rules. Also, while a firm has interim permission, it remains subject to compliance with provisions of the OFT’s Debt Management Guidance dealing with the handling of client money.39

Once we grant a debt management firm full authorisation under Part 4A FSMA and its interim permission ceases to have effect, the client money requirements apply to both the client money held by the firm at that time and to client money received going forwards.

Given that certain not-for-profit debt advice bodies covered by a group OFT licence will not hold an interim permission (they will be grandfathered directly into the limited permission regime on 1 April 2014), we have decided to make a transitional provision so that these firms will not need to comply with the client money rules until 1 October 2014.

Changes in relation to CP13/5

8.12 In July 2013 we consulted in CP13/5 on a number of changes to parts of the Client Assets sourcebook (CASS). While these changes relate mostly to investment business, some aspects are relevant to debt management firms (CASS 11), and we have made some drafting changes as a consequence.

8.13 These include changes relating to acknowledgement letters that firms will be required to send to banks where they deposit client money, among which is a requirement to retain a countersigned acknowledgement letter from the date of its receipt until five years have elapsed following closure of the account.

8.14 Another change relates to the proposed template for acknowledgement letters. Although this is unlikely to change significantly, we have decided to delay publishing the template and associated guidance until March to ensure we fully incorporate the feedback to CP13/5. The final rules published with this policy statement indicate that the form of the acknowledgement letter and the accompanying notes will follow.

8.15 Other changes we have made are in relation to:

• The rules on secondary pooling events (when a bank where a firm has placed client money fails). We are amending our requirements around secondary pooling events, so that if a firm uses its own money to pay all of its clients the amount of money that would have been available in client bank accounts but for the insolvency of the approved bank, the ordinary secondary pooling rules do not apply. We are giving firms this option as we have seen examples in other industry areas.

• The rules on calculating the client money requirement. The amendments are intended to ensure a firm captures any other receipts or holdings of client money which would not otherwise form part of the firm’s internal client money reconciliation.
9 Second charge loans

This chapter summarises feedback on Q23 in CP13/10, regarding reporting requirements for second charge loans. We have not amended our approach.

9.1 In CP13/10, we noted that firms providing second charge loans will be subject to a different regulatory regime in the longer term when the Mortgage Credit Directive (MCD) is implemented.40 We will be consulting later this year on the rules necessary to transpose this directive. It has to be implemented by early 2016 and introduces new conduct requirements for both first and second charge mortgage lending.

9.2 In view of this, we proposed not to impose regular reporting requirements during the interim period on firms providing second charge loans.41 The exception to this is complaints reporting, which will apply once a firm is fully authorised for consumer credit lending.

Q23: Do you agree with our suggested amendments to the reporting requirements for second charge loans?

9.3 Respondents were generally in favour of our proposals, recognising our intention to minimise burdens on firms until the longer-term regime comes into effect.

9.4 However, most consumer groups and some individual respondents did not support the proposals as they felt that the absence of data might inhibit our ability to take action to address issues in the market that could cause harm to consumers.

Our response

Our proposal not to introduce regular reporting requirements on second charge firms which are not currently subject to such requirements does not mean that we will be unable to supervise these firms robustly.

Our intention is to minimise one-off costs in the interim period, recognising that the firms will be subject to a different regulatory regime in the longer term once the MCD is implemented. We do not wish to impose disproportionate or unnecessary costs on firms, so we have not amended our approach.

40 A second charge loan is a loan that is secured on a customer’s property where that customer already has a mortgage. Such loans are currently regulated under the CCA unless a specific exemption applies.

41 Reporting requirements may already apply to firms authorised for mortgage lending, who also offer second charge loans. These firms will continue to provide regular reporting to us.
We will be able to request ad hoc data where we feel it is necessary as part of our day-to-day supervisory work, or to support our policy work on the longer-term regime.
10 Complaints to the ombudsman service and redress for consumers

This chapter summarises feedback on Q24, Q25 and Q26 of CP13/10 together with our response.

We have clarified our proposals and responded to queries, some of which were not related to the policies we consulted on. We have not made any significant changes to our proposals as a result of feedback, although we have made clear that the complaints reporting requirement does not apply to firms with permission only for credit-related regulated activity until 1 October 2014 at the earliest, in line with the transitional arrangements for periodic reporting.

Our proposal for micro-enterprises

10.1 We consulted on our proposals to allow all micro-enterprises to complain to the Financial Ombudsman Service (the ombudsman service) about consumer credit activities from 1 April 2014.

10.2 In the consultation we asked:

Q24: Do you agree with our proposal to allow all micro-enterprises to complain to the ombudsman service?

Responses to the consultation

10.3 The majority of respondents welcomed our proposal. Queries were raised about eligibility, which included the current definition of a micro-enterprise.

Our response

We will allow all micro-enterprises access to the ombudsman service.

The current definition of micro-enterprise that applies for the ombudsman service’s Compulsory Jurisdiction (CJ) will also apply for the purpose of activity currently covered by the Consumer Credit Jurisdiction (CCJ). This excludes enterprises with 10 or more employees or with a turnover or annual balance sheet over €2m, so these firms will not be eligible to complain.

42 Credit-related regulated activities are limited to activities carried on with individuals or partnerships of two or three individuals. It should be noted that the CJ applies not only to credit-related regulated activities, but also lending money more generally, which potentially captures lending to companies or partnerships consisting of four or more persons, if they are micro-enterprises.
Our proposal for not-for-profit debt advice bodies

10.4 We consulted on our proposal to include not-for-profit bodies providing debt advice within the CJ. We consider that these advice bodies provide a valuable service for some vulnerable consumers. Including not-for-profit bodies in the CJ would help to promote consumer confidence and enhance consumer protection while not overburdening them.

10.5 In the consultation we asked:

Q25: Do you agree with our proposal to include not-for-profit bodies providing debt advice in the Compulsory Jurisdiction?

Responses to the consultation

10.6 The majority of respondents welcomed our proposal to include not-for-profit bodies providing debt advice in the CJ, but there was concern over the cost implications. If they were subject to both the general levy and individual case fees, this would add unnecessary cost burdens for bodies that are already under significant financial constraint.

Our response

We will include these not-for-profit bodies in the CJ. We do not want to impose unnecessary burdens on them and the ombudsman service has received very few complaints to date relating to not-for-profit debt advice bodies that are already subject to the CCJ.

We issued a consultation in October 2013 (CP13/14) on fees, which proposed that not-for-profit bodies providing debt advice should be exempt from paying the general levy. We plan to publish a policy statement in response to this consultation in March. The ombudsman service consulted in January 2014 on a case fee of £0 for not-for-profit debt advice bodies with limited permission.

Other issues raised by respondents

10.7 We received some queries about other issues, such as the eligibility of consumers to complain about business conducted before the transfer of regulation to the FCA. There were also questions about loans that are exempt from regulation under the CCA and so would not be regulated by the FCA.

10.8 Queries were raised about whether individuals that were being chased for unpaid debts because of mistaken identity could complain to the ombudsman service.

Our response

Complaints relating to the behaviour of consumer credit firms before 1 April 2014, while the firm was licensed by the OFT but not authorised by the FSA/FCA, will continue to be covered by the ombudsman service.

The CJ currently covers not only regulated consumer credit activities but also certain unregulated consumer credit activities. Consumers can complain to the ombudsman service if the activity is covered by the CJ and we will continue this approach.

Rules in the Dispute Resolution: Complaints sourcebook (DISP) set out who is eligible to complain to the ombudsman service. Under these rules, a person who is not a customer of a firm, but from whom a firm has mistakenly sought to recover payment under a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement, can already complain to the ombudsman service. We will continue this approach.

Changes to recording, reporting and publishing complaints

10.9 We consulted on our proposal for extending the complaints recording, reporting and publishing requirements to consumer credit firms who are not currently FSMA-authorised. We will specifically require firms to record each complaint they receive, including the way in which it is resolved, and to retain these records for three years.

10.10 We proposed that, once firms are fully authorised, they should report, and where appropriate publish, a relatively small amount of complaints information. We proposed to make minor changes to the existing reporting form and to add a new section, ‘Part B’, to cover the new consumer credit activities.

10.11 In the consultation we asked:

Q26: Do you agree with our proposals on recording, reporting and publishing complaints?

Responses to the consultation

10.12 Most of the respondents to this question supported our proposals, but there were some specific areas of concern.

10.13 There were various concerns about the additional costs that firms would incur, especially smaller firms with limited financial and non-financial resources. The requirement to record all complaints was seen as a significant administrative burden that appeared to be unnecessarily complex.

10.14 The definition of a ‘complaint’ was queried by a number of respondents as they felt the current definition in our Handbook was relatively broad and could skew the figures as it would include complaints whether or not they were justified.

10.15 A number of respondents had views on the requirements for recording and reporting complaints and the possibility of them being imposed on a proportionate basis depending on the size of the firm and the number of complaints they receive.

10.16 Queries were raised about the timing for implementing the reporting requirements for firms, including whether these were to be imposed from 1 April 2014, from the date the firm was fully authorised or had a full variation of permission, or six months after full authorisation or variation of permission.

10.17 There were also a number of questions relating to the content of the complaints form, focusing on the categorisation of complaints about debt collection and the first reporting period for consumer credit complaints.

Our response

We consider that our proposals are proportionate, for the reasons explained in CP13/10.

Our rules do not require complaints to be in writing, and firms cannot impose this on consumers. The recording, reporting and publishing requirements do not apply to complaints resolved by the end of the business day following the day the complaint was received.

A complaint is defined in the Glossary to our Handbook and the definition is deliberately broad. Firms must report complaints against themselves, not against other parties, a point of concern for some respondents. We do not consider that additional or reduced requirements are appropriate depending on the size of the firm and the number of complaints received.

From 1 April 2014, consumer credit firms that have not to date been FSMA-authorised will be required to record complaints. However, the new requirements to report and publish consumer credit complaints will not apply to:

- consumer credit firms with only an interim permission
- credit-related regulated activities of existing FSMA-authorised firms with only an interim variation of permission.

The requirements to report and, where appropriate, publish consumer credit complaints will not apply until firms have full authorisation or variation of permission, or until 1 October 2014 if later. This is in line with our approach for other reporting requirements and we believe it should give firms sufficient time to introduce the necessary systems changes.

We have clarified how firms should report complaints about debt collection.

A firm’s first report after it receives full authorisation or variation of permission, or 1 October 2014 if later, will include consumer credit complaints received on or after that date. Firms\(^{46}\) will submit their data using our ‘GABRIEL’ electronic reporting system and this will include instructions on completing the return.

10.18 Although we did not ask a question about the FSCS, a number of respondents commented on the exclusion of consumer credit activities from the scheme.

Responses to consultation

10.19 Some respondents to CP13/10 suggested (in relation to our proposals on debt management firms and not-for-profit debt advice bodies that hold client money) the need to include debt management firm activity in FSCS cover as this was an area that poses a risk to consumers.

10.20 Respondents were not convinced that our proposed client asset requirements were sufficient to protect consumers and thought that the position regarding FSCS cover needed to be reviewed earlier than 2016, the date we had proposed. Other respondents suggested that FSCS cover would mean that the client asset rules could be lighter.

Our response

The FSCS is a scheme of last resort, funded by the industry, not an alternative to regulation. Firms are responsible for meeting their own liabilities to their customers, and should not rely on other firms to meet these liabilities via the FSCS. We seek to reinforce this by our regulatory approach and by our rules that govern the circumstances in which FSCS can pay compensation.

We do not propose to introduce FSCS cover on the transfer of consumer credit to the FCA, but we will keep the position under review, particularly for the debt management sector. There are a number of other protections that will apply to relevant consumers. We still plan to review FSCS cover in 2016.
11 Enforcing our rules and tackling financial crime

In CP13/10 we proposed to apply the same general enforcement approach to consumer credit activities as we apply to other regulated activities. We did not receive any comments on this, so have not made any changes to our proposal.

Enforcing our rules

11.1 Table 1.3 in Chapter 1 summarises when the new requirements come into effect.

11.2 From 1 April 2014, firms will be subject to our high-level rules, including PRIN, SYSC and GEN.

11.3 Most of the CONC rules will also come into effect from 1 April 2014, on the basis that we are carrying across existing CCA provisions and OFT guidance. In areas where we are introducing new rules (see next paragraph), we are providing specific transitional periods to enable firms to amend systems and procedures.

11.4 The transitional period for the additional requirements for HCSTC is until 1 July 2014 (apart from the risk warning in online and other electronic financial promotions which comes into force on 1 April). The position on transitionals for P2P platforms is set out in Table 6.1.

11.5 Non-compliance is not an option for firms at any time. We can and will enforce rule breaches from 1 April 2014 where appropriate. Where CCA provisions or OFT guidance have been carried across into CONC rules, we have said that, until 1 October 2014, a firm will not breach a rule in CONC to the extent that it can demonstrate that it is complying with a ‘corresponding rule’ – in other words, a specific provision in or under the CCA, or a provision in specified OFT guidance, that is substantially similar in purpose and effect to the CONC rule. This six-month transitional is only available if the firm is complying fully with the corresponding rule and can demonstrate this if challenged.

11.6 Firms are also expected to comply with the ‘spirit’ of our rules – in other words, the intention behind them, and not merely the ‘letter’ of the rules. Failure to do so may be a breach of our Principles for Businesses, and we can take action as part of our judgment-based approach to supervision and enforcement. The high-level rule in GEN 2.2.1R makes clear that every provision in the FCA Handbook must be interpreted in the light of its purpose.
Firms with interim permission

11.7 Some of the rules will not apply to consumer credit firms while they hold an interim permission (or interim variation of permission):

- The CASS rules will not apply to a debt management firm with interim permission, provided that the firm acts in accordance with relevant OFT guidance.47

- The prudential requirements for debt management firms (CONC 10) will also not apply while a firm has an interim permission. Transitional arrangements will apply from when a firm is authorised until 1 April 2017, when the full prudential requirements will apply.

11.8 The requirements relating to approved persons, controllers, periodic reporting and complaints reporting and publication will not apply to a firm until it is authorised (either full authorisation or limited permission).

Financial crime

11.9 Tackling financial crime is a key part of the FCA’s remit. To do this we look at measures that firms take to monitor, detect and prevent financial crime.

11.10 All consumer credit firms must comply with legal and regulatory obligations to deter and detect financial crime. This includes money laundering. Our rules will require firms to establish and maintain appropriate and risk-sensitive policies and procedures, and to identify, assess and mitigate the risk of money laundering in their business.

11.11 From 1 April 2014, we will be responsible for supervising consumer credit firms that are subject to the Money Laundering Regulations (MLRs), except those firms that are supervised by certain professional bodies and certain money service businesses supervised by HMRC. These firms will not have to register separately for this or pay an additional fee.

11.12 Consumer credit firms that are subject to the MLRs will have to appoint a money laundering reporting officer (MLRO), which is a controlled function under our approved persons regime.48

11.13 The Joint Money Laundering Steering Group issues guidance49 for the UK financial sector on the prevention of money laundering and combating terrorist financing. The Group is producing specialist sectoral guidance for consumer credit firms which complements its main guidance. It has just closed consultation on this guidance and the final version will be published on its website once complete.50

11.14 We have published Financial Crime: a guide for firms51, which brings together all our guidance on financial crime from our thematic reviews and other work, and sets out what regulated firms can do to reduce their financial crime risk. There is also further information on the fighting financial crime section of our website.52

12 Next steps

12.1 In this policy statement we have set out whether our rules have changed since we consulted on our proposals last year. Firms can use this, and our Handbook of rules and guidance, to see what our expectations are. We expect all consumer credit firms to comply with our rules from 1 April 2014 or the later dates set out in Table 1.3.

12.2 Over the next year we will be consulting on a number of related policy proposals that will have an impact on some parts of the consumer credit industry (including the new senior and certified persons regimes and implementation of the MCD, as well as engaging with firms and individuals affected by our new rules to help them in the transition to our regime.

What should you do now?

Becoming authorised

12.3 We will start authorising firms from 1 April 2014. It will take some time to process the significant number of applications we expect to receive so, as explained in Chapter 2, we will notify firms to let them know when they should apply – firms with interim permission will not be able to apply until we notify them.

12.4 In the meantime, if you have an OFT licence and want to continue carrying on the credit activity covered by your licence from 1 April you must, subject to limited exceptions, have interim permission to do so. If you do not have interim permission and you continue to carry on consumer credit business, you could be breaking the law and you may be subject to enforcement action by us.

12.5 For more information on applying for interim permission please see our website.

Getting help

12.6 We will be publishing useful information to help you prepare to be regulated by us and to clarify which parts of our Handbook of rules and guidance are relevant to you. Please see our website for more details.

12.7 In March we will be broadcasting two webinars, giving you the opportunity to ask us questions, and we will publish a video on our website to guide you through how to apply for authorisation on our online system, called Connect. We will also hold a regional event in Sheffield for firms and other stakeholders.

12.8 If you have any queries please call us on 0845 606 9966 or email us at fcc@fca.org.uk.
Upcoming publications

Crowdfunding consultation

12.9 Crowdfunding is a way in which people, organisations and businesses, including business start-ups, can raise money through online portals (crowdfunding platforms) to finance or refinance their activities and enterprises. Some crowdfunding activity is unregulated, some regulated and some is exempt from regulation.

12.10 We will be publishing a policy statement setting out our crowdfunding rules in March 2014. This follows our consultation last October on rules to protect investors on (P2P) lending platforms.

12.11 Firms running P2P platforms also need to consider our rules to protect borrowers who arrange consumer credit on these platforms. These rules and their effective dates are set out in Table 6.1 in Chapter 6.

Our annual fees and levies

12.12 We will set out our authorisation fees and consult on our periodic fee rates at the end of March 2014.

Risk outlook

12.13 Our annual risk outlook will present our view of the risks in the markets we regulate. This will include discussion of ongoing and emerging risks in consumer credit markets. We will publish the risk outlook in March 2014.

FCA business plan 2014/15

12.14 Our business plan 2014/15 will set out our priorities for the next year across all of our responsibilities and functions as a regulator, including our high-level plans for consumer credit. We will publish our plan on 31 March 2014.

Future publications

12.15 We will publish materials on various key issues and topics in consumer credit from April onwards. These publications will reflect evidence-gathering and analysis we have been carrying out to build an informed overview of consumer credit.

12.16 The aim of this has been to quickly build our knowledge of consumers, firms and competition across the consumer credit market, so that we are ready and in a strong position to take over regulation of consumer credit sectors from April.

12.17 As part of this evidence-gathering, we have commissioned consumer and firm-facing research on a range of issues in consumer credit. Drawing on this research, these publications will cover issues of particular importance to us and should help make clear to consumers and firms what our priorities are and what they can expect from us.

Price-capping consultation

12.18 In July this year we plan to consult on proposals for a cap on the cost of HCSTC.

Memoranda of understanding

12.19 As we stated in the consultation paper, we agree that liaison with LATSS and DETINI is important to the effectiveness of the consumer credit regime and we are agreeing a memorandum of understanding with them. It will help develop this new working relationship and will establish a framework to promote co-operation and information-sharing. We will work together to make the most of opportunities to share intelligence and information where potential conduct issues are identified, to help to identify and tackle financial crime in consumer credit businesses, and to liaise closely in relation to carrying out enforcement action.

12.20 As part of our preparations for the new regime, we are also updating the memoranda of understanding we have with other bodies.
13 Feedback on FCA QCP 13/18

This chapter summarises feedback on the Quarterly Consultation CP13/18 and our response. We have amended our proposal in relation to the new complaints reporting form for credit unions, so that it will come into force from 1 April 2016 for complaints received during the 12 months from 1 April 2015.

The quarterly consultation

13.1 Chapter 2 of the Quarterly Consultation CP13/18 set out further proposed amendments to our Handbook and non-Handbook guides in relation to the transfer of consumer credit regulation:

- Handbook text: SYSC, GEN, COBS, MCOB, SUP, CREDS and CONC plus the Glossary of definitions
- Non-Handbook guides: BSOG, EG, FC and PERG.

13.2 In relation to CONC, we proposed to extend the application of our requirements in relation to ‘agents’ to persons carrying on any credit-related regulated activity. The additional proposed amendments were mostly minor and technical, and there were no substantive changes to the policy underlying CP13/10.

Feedback on QCP

Q2.1: Do you have any comments on the proposed amendments?

13.3 We received two responses. One respondent agreed that a simplified approach to complaints reporting was preferable for credit unions.

13.4 The other questioned the proposed requirement in SUP 15.3 to notify a breach of any CCA requirement. In particular, it was pointed out that firms only have to notify a ‘significant’ breach of FCA rules.

Our response

We have amended the SUP 15 requirement accordingly.

53 CP13/18, Quarterly consultation No. 3 (December 2013).
We have also amended the transitional provision in relation to the new complaints reporting form for credit unions, so that it will come into force from 1 April 2016 for complaints received during the 12 months from 1 April 2015. This is intended to simplify the process for credit unions.

We have extended the application of our requirements in relation to agents (CONC 14) as proposed.

We have not made any other changes to what was proposed in the QCP.

Feedback (and our response) on Q27: Do you agree with the costs and benefits identified?

1. This chapter summarises the feedback on our cost benefit analysis (CBA) in CP13/10. It also sets out our response and changes we have made to the CBA.

2. We explained in CP13/10 that the CBA we are required to carry out in accordance with section 138I of FSMA is to determine only the additional costs over and above those incurred because of the consumer credit regime already in place under the CCA and the OFT’s guidance.

3. The CBA carried out by Europe Economics (EE) presented an estimate of the costs and benefits of the package of proposals consulted on in CP13/10. However, EE’s estimate of the benefits only covers reductions in ‘observed’ detriment (i.e. detriment consumers are aware of and attribute to some consumer credit activity). Many forms of detriment are ‘unobserved’, for example, where borrowers are unaware they are paying in excess of a competitive price, and these have not been estimated. Similarly, EE did not estimate the cost to firms and consumers of prevented transactions that would not have led to consumer detriment.

4. In its analysis, EE concluded it was not possible to estimate these benefits and costs because of limitations in the availability of data, limitations in the quality of data that was available, and in some cases inherent difficulties in analysing the complex market outcomes.

5. We summarised EE’s key conclusions in Annex 5 in CP13/10 and also published its report separately. We encouraged those interested in the CBA to read the EE report itself for completeness rather than simply relying on our summary of its findings.

6. In CP13/10 we asked:

   Q27: Do you agree with the costs and benefits identified?

7. This policy statement also includes a number of policy amendments. We have assessed each of the amendments in turn against our requirements for CBA and conducted further analysis where required. We provide in Table A3.1 those policy amendments that we believe result in costs of zero or minimal significance.

8. We have also set out those policy amendments which we believe would give rise to material changes and we have re-estimated our CBA on this basis. We summarise each of these changes in turn in paragraphs 20 to 33, highlighting relevant chapters and explaining how the analysis has been updated. There are three main areas:

   - proposed change to authorisation fee structures
   - change in the metric used to calculate prudential requirements for debt management firms
• additional debt management guidance.

Summary of feedback to the CBA in CP13/10 and our response
9 We received over 70 responses on the CBA in CP13/10. Some of these agreed with many of the main issues we identified in the CBA and provided no further comment.

10 There were a number of areas where respondents expressed some concern. For example, several respondents said that we should undertake more detailed analysis of sectors other than HCSTC. We explain this in more detail in paragraphs 14 and 15 below.

11 The main areas of feedback were on:
• the analysis of costs to firms
• market exit
• impacts on low income consumers.

12 We explain the feedback we received in these areas in paragraphs 15 to 18 below.

Data on HCSTC
13 A number of industry responses in the HCSTC sector questioned our evidence base for the CBA and the logic that underpinned our approach. In particular, they pointed to a number of reforms to the sector that came into effect after the evidence we used, in particular the OFT report and the Bristol report54 had used data from 2012. They suggested these reforms had changed industry behaviour. They also suggested that there was insufficient evidence that our proposals will deliver benefits to consumers.

Our response
While we welcome any reforms already in place to improve consumer outcomes, we do not believe this undermines our analysis of firms’ business models. In CP13/10 we cited a range of evidence, including from consumer groups, charities and the ombudsman service, which all indicated a sharp increase in problems in 2013, and we believe that firms’ business models played a role in this. The Department for Business, Innovation & Skills (BIS) review of firms’ compliance with the self-regulatory codes in late 2013 also suggested chronic problems. The updated analysis provided by the CC55 shows this market is growing quickly, and as such, the scale of the possible detriment has grown. Our proposals are intended to tackle this detriment and therefore deliver benefits to consumers.

It is worth re-stating our original view in CP13/10 that there are, and remain, limitations to the availability and quality of data, and in some cases inherent difficulties in analysing the complex market outcomes. We also stated that further estimation of costs and benefits would have required substantial data gathering and analysis, which would not have reduced the uncertainty of the costs and benefits sufficiently to affect our view that our proposals are beneficial. To the extent that industry behaviour has improved, it is anticipated that the rules will have less impact on firms than they otherwise would. But that does not detract from the reasons for placing appropriate controls on rollovers and CPAs, whose potentially harmful effects are acknowledged by both firms and consumer groups.

54 a Government commissioned report carried out by the University of Bristol concerning the potential effects of a total cost of credit cap.

More fundamentally, we see no meaningful challenge to the wider logic within the CBA that unaffordable lending is bad for consumers. Our policy proposals flow from that standpoint, informed by regulatory experience and academic and stakeholder research on indebted consumers both here and abroad.

Main areas of CBA feedback

Costs to firms

A number of respondents disagreed with our estimate of costs. Some stated that we had significantly understated both the one-off and ongoing costs to firms. In particular, respondents felt that we had underestimated costs relating to system updates and costs relating to changes in practice because of the introduction of the new rules.

Some of this feedback focused on smaller firms and stated that they would struggle to operate within the new regime. The ongoing compliance costs were thought to be unsustainable and would lead them to exit the market. The additional costs stem from a combination of the prudential rules, client asset and reporting requirements, as well as more stringent supervision of standards already put in place by the OFT.

Our response

Our estimate of costs to firms notes that many will face higher costs than under the existing regime and that this might lead to some market exit. However, we note that these costs will drive higher standards in the sector and result in reductions to identified detriment for consumers, such as unsuitable sales, unsuitable advice and loss of client money. We consider that our rules achieve the right balance between costs to firms and consumers and the benefits derived in terms of reductions in unaffordable borrowing, poor-value credit products, conflicts of interest and the risk of loss of client assets.

Despite this, we note some of the comments raised by respondents around the estimated costs imposed on firms in the form of ongoing compliance costs, and we understand their concerns.

Some of our policy amendments will reduce costs in general, and in some cases small firms will benefit. Many of the amendments made in how we carry across OFT guidance are to help clarify requirements for firms, and we expect this will make it easier for firms to comply with our expectations.

We note that authorisation fees are a significant cost for firms. The fees initially proposed for firms in CP13/10 and CP13/14 have been amended. As reported on our website, we have listened to the views of firms via the consultation process and from our roadshows and as a result we have reduced the proposed application fees for small firms. Further information can be found in the supplementary consultation. This takes into consideration the comments raised around the proportionality of fees in relation to the size and complexity of the firm.

16 A number of respondents said that the CBA has significantly underestimated the impact of the regime on the level of market exit. The feedback was that costs to firms, such as having to comply with rules, are disproportionately high, especially for some smaller firms. These increased costs and regulatory requirements would force smaller firms out of the market. Some of these respondents were concerned that this could have detrimental effects on consumers by limiting choice.

17 Others thought the CBA focused too heavily on the online HCSTC category, and did not account for high-street firms that would leave the market. A couple of respondents noted that the level of authorisation and annual fees imposed would be a contributing factor to the level of market exit. They felt that some of the smaller firms would not be able to afford the new fees. The anticipated fees were not proportional to firm size and would, therefore, cause firms to pull out of the market.

We accept that market exit will occur as a result of our policy. Our CBA said that this varies between sectors but could be between 5% and 35%, with the highest level of exit being in the HCSTC market. In the CBA we also considered the impact of the market exit on consumer outcomes. We accept that the new regime will drive market exit and, as for all markets, we will monitor consumer outcomes to ensure that the regime achieves its objectives. For all sectors, apart from HCSTC the level of market exit should not affect the availability of credit for consumers since high-quality firms will be able to expand their services and the minimum standards put in place will drive greater competition on quality and price. In all cases, our proposals should improve consumer protection and the quality of service provided to consumers.

The CBA and the compatibility statement also analysed the impact of our proposals on competition in the sector. The CBA noted that, although our proposals are likely to cause some firms to exit, these are mostly marginal businesses and the overall number of firms remains high enough to provide a competitive constraint, although we do expect a higher level of market exit in the HCSTC sector. In other sectors, such as bank lending, non-bank lending and consumer hire there is sufficient competition between providers to limit the impact of market exit on consumers.

As noted in the compatibility statement, the proposals are principally intended to advance our consumer protection objective, but we have taken care to design our proposals so that they target regulatory requirements where they... are needed to secure an appropriate degree of consumer protection while minimising any adverse effects on competition.

Low-income consumers

18 A few respondents felt that our proposals would risk increasing detriment for low-income consumers who, generally, do not have the safeguards and buffers that protect better-off consumers. They felt we did not consider that firms exiting the market could limit access to consumer credit for low-income consumers.

Our response

CP13/10 included an Equality Impact Assessment which looked at the impact of our proposals on different protected groups. The CBA in CP13/10 also provided additional analysis of the effects of our proposals on particular consumer groups including those with low income.

EE’s assessment noted that the package of proposals, particularly for HCSTC will reduce access to credit for up to 30 per cent of consumers initially. For some of these consumers, not having access to credit could be beneficial in the long-run through avoidance of debt spirals or unsustainable borrowing. However, the analysis also notes that the implications of having or not having access to credit are complicated.

In addition, the analysis shows positive impacts for consumers, including low-income consumers, as a result of the entire policy mix across all sectors. Consumers are protected from unaffordable borrowing, poor-value credit services, conflicts of interest and by reducing the risk of detriment from loss of client assets. These problems will also be addressed through the FCA’s enhanced supervision and enforcement powers.

Policy amendments

Zero costs or minimal significance

19 We believe that the following policy amendments, which in the FCA’s opinion differ from the draft rules in a significant way, result in costs of zero or minimal significance, so we do not provide further analysis. Table A3.1 summarises these changes and explains why we believe costs are of minimal significance.

Chapter 6: PERG guidance

Amendment: We have amended our guidance on the regulatory perimeter in response to CP responses and to reflect the changes made by the Government to the RAO.

Justification: The scope of the regulatory perimeter is set out in legislation. PERG provides only guidance on that legislation to persons who wish to find out whether they need to be authorised and on the regulated activities their permission needs to include. The amendments to the PERG guidance do not, therefore, have cost implications for firms and no CBA is required.

Information sheets for P2P

We are clarifying the precise wording and timing for providing information sheets; however, the fundamental costs and benefits of the proposal remain the same as in CP13/10.

Chapter 7: Prudential requirements

Amendment: The volume-based measure has been adjusted from a flat rate to a tiered approach.

Justification: This is a reduction of cost for firms and therefore does not require the FCA to re-estimate its impact, as detailed in FSMA s.138L(3). However, we believe the impact on firms will be significant and therefore we estimate the impact below.

Chapter 8: Debt management firms

Amendment: We are clarifying the rule requiring large debt management firms to consider the risks of holding all client money with one bank.

Justification: This will have minimal impact so no CBA is required.

P2P information sheets

We are clarifying the precise wording; however the fundamental costs and benefits of the proposal remain the same as in CP13/10.

Chapter Amendment Justification of minimal significance of any increase in costs

Chapter 10 Complaints reporting – we have only made some minor changes to the complaints reporting form in respect of fields to be completed by firms. The requirements to report and, where appropriate, publish consumer credit complaints will not apply until firms have full authorisation or variation of permission, or until 1 October 2014 if later.

Chapter 11 Enforcing our rules and tackling financial crime – there are no changes in this chapter to the requirements already consulted on in CP13/10.

Chapter 13 Quarterly CP – we are modifying one of the requirements consulted on in the QCP, but this reduces the burden on firms. Extend scope of ‘agents’ option to all credit activities. There will also be transitional arrangements further delaying the point at which credit unions will have to start using the new complaints reporting form.

Update to our CBA

20 Certain policy amendments will give rise to material costs and we have re-estimated our CBA on this basis. We summarise each of these changes in turn, highlighting relevant chapters and explaining how the analysis has been updated. We also provide an estimate of how the CBA has changed as a result of the policy amendments. There are three main areas:

- proposed change to authorisation fee structures
- change in the metric used to calculate prudential requirements for debt, management firms
- additional debt management guidance.

Change to authorisation fee structures

21 In CP13/10 we consulted on the application fee structure based on the complexity of firms’ business models. In response to early feedback and from listening to the industry at roadshows, we decided to amend the proposed structure to reflect the size of the firm. This change is both in response to fears that the costs to small firms are disproportionate and that this could lead to barriers to entry that discourage competition. In December 2013, we therefore proposed changes to the fee structure which can be found in CP13/14.57 In particular, Table 2.1a in that document is reprinted below:

| Up to £50k                      | £50k–£100k                      | £100k–£250k                     | £250k–£1m                       | Over £1m                        |
| Limited permission (no change)  | £100                           | £500                           | £500                            | £500                            |
| Straightforward                 | £600                           | £750                           | £1,000                          | £1,500                          | £5,000                          |

This means that, for example, under the revised proposals a firm in the ‘straightforward’ category, with over £1m in annual revenues, would pay an authorisation fee of £5,000. This would be more than a firm with less than £250,000 in turnover categorised as ‘complex’, which would pay £1,000 to £2,000. The maximum application fee payable within a given category has increased. So those firms paying more than before would be those with in excess of £1m in consumer credit turnover. Credit unions and community benefit societies will pay a concessionary rate of £200.

Where a firm is seeking a variation of permission (VoP), because it is already FCA-authorised, these fee levels are halved (unless the firm already has a ‘straightforward’ consumer credit permission in which case the VoP fee is £250). The fees for limited permission remain unchanged and there are no fees for VoPs for these.

Although we are not required to undertake a CBA for fee structures, we set out the likely cost implications of these changes for firms to illustrate the impact they might have on small firms. Our previous CBA estimated that about 90 per cent of pre-transfer firms had consumer credit turnover below £250,000 and that many of these would be eligible for limited permission. We believe this is still the case, and these firms would therefore not be affected by the revised proposal. However, many smaller firms in the home credit, non-bank lending (including high-street lenders such as pawnbrokers), debt management and debt collection firms will benefit from the new fee structure. Some of this saving to smaller firms will be passed on as higher costs to firms with consumer credit income over £1m per annum.

We re-estimate that the cost of fees for the industry overall will fall from £25.4m to £46.2m to £21.3m to £37.5m, saving the industry between £4.1m and £8.7m in initial up-front costs.

It is worth noting that we do not in practice recover the full cost of assessment from the applicants themselves through the authorisation fee. The costs are shared with existing firms through their periodic fees. This is partly to avoid the risk of application fees acting as a barrier to market entry, and partly because all firms benefit from operating in a market that has enhanced integrity because firms must meet our threshold conditions before they can enter it.

As noted in the CP13/14 supplementary consultation, we are mindful of the need to set fees at a level that should not unduly prevent firms from entering the market and we have adjusted the fee structure to encourage small firms to enter the market and increase the range of choices available to consumers and promote opportunities for entrepreneurial start-ups to challenge existing market participants.

Change in metric used to calculate prudential requirements

The requirements for prudential capital affect debt management firms. In CP13/10 we proposed that capital equal to a flat 0.25% of debts under management would be required (subject to a minimum of £5,000). The revised proposal moves away from a flat percentage to:

- 0.25% of debts under management up to £5m
- 0.15% of debts under management between £5m to £100m
- 0.05% of debts under management in excess of £100m
- The minimum prudential capital remains the same
This means that firms with debts under management over £5m will face a smaller requirement. For example, a firm with debts under management of £250m would see its minimum prudential requirement drop from £625,000 under the old proposal to £230,000 under the new one.

As well as updating our CBA to reflect this new metric, we also asked EE to update its analysis to reflect new financial reporting data that we had received since CP13/10 was published. This has enabled us to calculate the effect of our prudential proposals on the industry.

When looking across the entire industry, the new capital requirements are estimated at £5.5m to £7.8m (compared with £7m to £10.1m under the previous flat percentage policy). This reduction (£1.5m to £2.3m) benefits medium and larger firms who gain from the lower rates applied to debts under management over £5m. We assume that this does not alter the cost of capital as estimated in EE’s original report, and that firms may be able to raise this capital through retained profits (i.e. lower dividends) in advance of the prudential requirement coming into force. However, even under significantly higher cost of capital assumptions, we find the ongoing cost to firms would be small when compared to revenue and would not change our judgment on the need for prudential requirements in this sector. The main free-to-client charitable firms affected by the prudential rules will benefit from the revised proposals.

In CP13/10, we consulted on a rule that required debt management firms to ensure that the obligations placed on their customers in debt management plans, in relation to the amount and timing of their payment of the firms’ fees and charges, does not undermine their ability to make ‘significant repayments’ to their creditors from the first month of the plan. In response to feedback we have clarified our expectations about what would constitute a ‘significant repayment’ for these purposes.

The original CBA did not quantify the impact of the ‘significant repayment’ guidance in terms of the financial impact on firms that may result from them having to meet this repayment requirement. Taken at face value, where firms comply with the guidance, they will need to raise capital to meet any shortfall in cash flow as they transition to a higher percentage repayment. This requirement could cost firms £0.1m. This would be felt most by those providers not currently repaying a significant proportion of repayment plans to creditors. Firms having to meet this requirement is also a direct benefit to consumers in that the higher repayments being made to their creditors from the beginning of their repayment plans should result in their debts being repaid earlier.
Annex 4
Feedback (and our response) on Q28: Do you agree with our assessment of the impact of our proposals on the protected groups? Are there any others we should consider?

Impact on protected groups

1 We are required, under the Equality Act 2010, to consider whether our proposals could have a potentially discriminatory impact on groups with protected characteristics (such as age, disability, gender, race, pregnancy and maternity, religion and belief, sexual orientation and gender reassignment).

2 An equality impact assessment was set out in Annex 6 to CP13/10. It concluded that, overall, consumers – including the protected groups who are disproportionately vulnerable to consumer detriment – will benefit from our proposals. In particular, they will benefit from being able to borrow more affordably, and choose loans that better meet their needs and preferences, and better treatment when encountering payment difficulties.

Q28: Do you agree with our assessment of the impacts of our proposals on the protected groups? Are there any others we should consider?

3 Most respondents agreed with our assessment of the impact of our proposals on protected groups. There were, however, concerns raised around the limited availability of data in the consumer credit market, which in turn limited the impact analysis that could be carried out. There was also a concern that some protected groups might be disproportionately affected by firms leaving the market, in particular in relation to point-of-sale credit.

4 Some respondents highlighted specific areas which would merit further consideration during a post-implementation review. Others emphasised the importance of effective enforcement of the new rules.

Our response

The effect of firms leaving the market is considered further in Annex 3 as part of the cost benefit analysis, and this takes account of views expressed in response to Q28. We have also had regard to these in finalising our policies.

We intend to supervise proactively in areas of the credit market where there is the greatest risk of detriment to vulnerable consumers. Reporting requirements when firms are authorised will enhance our evidence base, but we can request data on an ad hoc basis before then, if it is appropriate. We can also undertake thematic reviews or market studies, or consumer research.

We intend to undertake a post-implementation review and will look at the impact on the protected groups, as well as on consumers generally.

The references in the first column to ‘CONC provision’ relate to the provisions in the draft sourcebook consulted on in CP13/10. Where these have changed in the final version, we have indicated the new reference in italics in the third column.

CONC provision | Feedback from respondents | Our response
1.3.1G(5) | This could be interpreted as applying to customers taking out a new credit card with a balance transfer. | We have amended to refer to a customer having to borrow further to repay existing debts. Now 1.3.1G(4).

2.2.2G(2) | Paragraph 2.3 of the OFT’s Irresponsible Lending Guidance (ILG) refers to ‘inappropriate coercion’. Action may be necessary to tackle a customer who ‘won’t pay’. | We have not amended. ‘Unfair’ is in line with other aspects of CONC and with Principle 6.

2.2.4G | More of the OFT’s Misleading Names Guidance should be included. In particular, names of firms providing high-risk products may cause consumers to be misled as to the risk nature of the product. | We have modified the list of matters about which a firm’s name may mislead, and these include the identity or nature of the firm, the nature of the products or services supplied, or their cost.

2.3.3R | It is unclear what is meant by ‘experiencing difficulty’ and whether this corresponds to ‘financial difficulties’. | We have downgraded this to guidance, with cross-reference to 6.7.2R which refers to taking appropriate action where there are signs of actual or possible repayment difficulties. Now 2.3.3G.

2.4.3G | This goes beyond ILG and the Lending Code, and would not be practicable to implement within the timescales. ILG 3.13 encourages the use of quotation searches but does not require these or stipulate when they may be appropriate or what information should be provided. An obligation to provide quotation searches would take time and resource to implement (at least 12 months), and would have ramifications for the way risk-based products are developed, marketed and sold. The FCA should work with the industry to consider how best to achieve the desired outcomes over a feasible timeframe. | We have amended to state that (i) a firm undertaking a credit reference search should not leave evidence of an application on a credit file where a customer is not yet ready to apply and (ii) where practicable, firms should facilitate customers shopping around for credit by offering a ‘quotation search’ facility. Quotation searches are a way of treating customers fairly, in particular in relation to products involving risk-pricing or where product details are not readily available, and we would encourage their greater use. We will monitor developments in this area.

2.5.8R(7) | There are references throughout CONC to different types of telephone call charge (e.g. premium rate). To avoid uncertainty, these should be clearly defined. | We do not agree. Such terms are generally understood, and it might be difficult to future-proof definitions. We expect firms to comply with the principles in our rules.

2.5.8R(15) | The reference to ‘ought reasonably to know’ is a higher test than in the OFT’s Credit Brokers and Intermediaries Guidance (CBG), given the subjectivity of the concept. | We have not amended. We consider the formulation is clearer than reference to something being ‘clearly not in the best interests of the borrower’. Now 2.5.8R(16).

2.5.8R(18) | Brokers should be precluded from taking payment before the firm has entered into a contract with the customer (cf 8.7.5R(3) for debt management). | We have not amended, as there is no equivalent in OFT guidance. However, it should be read in conjunction with 4.5.2R which transposes s160A CCA. Now 2.5.8R(20).

<td>We have clarified that (i) a firm should balance the risk of a customer taking on unsustainable borrowing against inappropriately or unnecessarily denying credit to the customer and (ii) where a firm understands or reasonably suspects that a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation, it should undertake an appropriate and effective affordability assessment, and in doing so it would be appropriate not to place over-reliance on information provided by the customer.</td>

ILG 5.2 makes it clear that advertising should not suggest that credit is available regardless of the borrower’s financial circumstances (i.e. irrespective of a creditworthiness check), and this applies generally. <td>3.5.1R(2)</td>
<td>This appears to apply CCD rules to loans, which are otherwise exempt.</td>
<td>We have amended so that, in relation to promotions about lending, the provisions apply only to regulated credit agreements. Firms should, however, take care when promoting exempt agreements. For example, the exemption for loans to high net worth (HNW) borrowers is subject to the customer satisfying the criteria relating to income or assets, and the customer may in the event elect to enter into a regulated agreement.</td>

<td>3.5.2</td>
<td>s45 CCA prohibits advertising where the goods/services are not available for cash, but does not require the cash price to be stated in the advertisement.</td>
<td>We have amended the provision (and its sub-heading) to bring it closer in line with s45.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.5.6G(2)</td>
<td>This goes beyond the CCARs, which allow for disclosure of either an effective annual rate (EAR) or a simple rate, and this is also permissible under CCD.</td>
<td>We have amended to make it clear that firms should generally use the effective annual rate, calculated using the same assumptions as for APR, but if not they should clearly explain this, so the customer is clear whether and to what extent the interest rate used is comparable with rates shown by other lenders.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.5.7R(1)</td>
<td>The proposal at (b) goes beyond CCD and constitutes gold-plating. Any description of incentives should be limited to guidance, or confined to HCSTC. Speed/efficiency can be a feature of a product, and should not be treated in the same way as e.g. a free gift. Firms should be free to promote such benefits of the service offered.</td>
<td>We do not agree that this contravenes CCD, given the carve-out in A4(1). We are merely seeking to clarify the scope of the current APR triggers. We have, however, added that whether or not a reference to speed or ease constitutes an ‘incentive’ would depend on the circumstances, including whether it is likely to persuade or influence a customer to take the steps in question or is merely a factual statement about the product/service.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.9.3R(6)</td>
<td>Firms carrying on debt adjusting or debt counselling should only be required to state in a financial promotion that they are commercial when this is the case. Also, they should be required to state that their services are provided for payment by the customer regardless of whether or not they are profit-seeking.</td>
<td>We have separated this out, with (6) requiring a statement that the firm’s service is profit-seeking (as opposed to commercial) where this is the case, and (7) a statement that the firm’s service is offered in return for payment where this is the case. This could include not-for-profit debt advice bodies.</td>

<td>This appears to be very broad, with the definition of 'interactive dialogue' being extremely wide. It appears to preclude a firm from promoting its services by phone (by way of an agreed script) or using another firm to do so, in relation to new customers.</td>
<td>We have added guidance making it clear that 3.11.2R does not prevent the communication by a firm (with a permission) of a financial promotion, but does prevent the firm from approving for communication a relevant promotion by an unauthorised person. Now 3.11.3G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1.2R</td>
<td>This does not relate to pre-contractual disclosure, and applies principally during the course of an agreement.</td>
<td>We have moved this to 2.3.5R (general practices).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.2R(1)</td>
<td>The agreements are excluded from CCD and s55A CCA so should not be subject to CONC requirements. In any event, it is confusing to refer to taking rules into account as guidance, and it is unclear what this means in practice and whether failure to comply could lead to enforcement action. It appears to apply the full force of the adequate explanations requirements, as an 'optional measure', but in a way that leaves firms little option but to comply. This is inappropriate and amounts to gold-plating of CCD.</td>
<td>We do not agree with the analysis. ILG 3.1 makes it clear that OFT expects all lenders to consider the extent to which the relevant principles may be applied to all aspects of their regulated credit business. We are seeking to reflect that in CONC, as guidance in relation to the Principles for Businesses. We have, however, amended the provisions to clarify their application, with changes to 4.3.2R(2) as below. Now 4.2.1R.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.2R(2)</td>
<td>As above. In addition, the Department for Business Innovation &amp; Skills (BIS) decided, as part of CCD transposition, not to extend s55A CCA to loans over £60,260 or secured on land, and the same arguments apply today. Overdrafts are expressly excluded from A5(6) CCD, and recital 11 prohibits Member States (MS) from over-riding this exclusion, so the FCA has no locus to require explanations for overdrafts.</td>
<td>We have downgraded this to guidance, stating that firms should consider whether it is necessary or appropriate to provide explanations of the matters in 4.2.5R(2) in relation to the excluded agreements. In particular, they should consider highlighting key risks to the customer, including the principal consequences of missing payments or under-paying. We may review in future whether the provisions should be applied as rules to all regulated credit agreements. Now 4.2.2G.</td>
<tr>
<td>4.3.4R</td>
<td>The CCA Disclosure Regulations permit information to be representative rather than personalised, and allow a lender not to disclose information according to the customer’s preferences if in principle the firm is not willing to lend according to the customer’s terms.</td>
<td>We have downgraded this to guidance, and amended to make clear that pre-contractual information and explanations should take into account any preferences expressed, or information provided, by the customer where the firm would in principle agree to offer credit on such terms. Now 4.2.4G.</td>

<td>In (d)(ii), it is not practicable to require lenders to provide an approximate level of charges or interest in the event of default, and this may not be useful to consumers anyway as it will be dependent on a number of factors. It also goes beyond CCD and is not a requirement of s55A CCA.</td>
<td>We have amended the preamble to (d) to make clear that this will depend on the type and amount of credit and the customer’s circumstances. In addition, we have amended (d)(ii) to delete reference to the approximate level of charges, as we accept it is sufficient for firms to signpost to the SECCI for details. Now 4.2.5R(2).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.5R(2)</td>
<td>In (d)(v), the reference to ‘implications of insolvency’ is too broad and uncertain, and would be impractical to implement given the range of possible scenarios. Unlike ILG, it removes firms’ discretion to decide what are the ‘principal consequences’ in each case. These should be limited to the main potential outcomes.</td>
<td>We have deleted this provision.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.6R</td>
<td>It is inappropriate to require firms to ensure that the customer can make a reasonable assessment of affordability and risks, and this amounts to gold-plating of CCD, which places the onus on the consumer to take an informed decision based on sufficient information. Any additions or clarification of expectations should be expressed as guidance not rules.</td>
<td>We have downgraded this to guidance on 4.2.5R. Now 4.2.6G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.7R</td>
<td>This changes the context of ILG 3.4, and removes lender discretion by requiring specific considerations in all circumstances. Making it a rule creates ambiguity. The current flexibility of ILG should be retained, by making it guidance on how to comply with 4.3.5R.</td>
<td>We have downgraded this to guidance, making it clear that a firm should consider, to the extent appropriate, relevant factors including those listed. We have added at (2) that the risk to the customer is likely to be greater, the higher the total cost of the credit relative to the customer’s financial situation. Now 4.2.7G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.15R</td>
<td>This is an example of where an OFT view – which is non-binding and advises how compliance with CCA might be achieved – is being re-interpreted as a prescriptive requirement with an assumption that all lenders should already subscribe to the OFT view. By making this binding rules, costs to firms could increase. It could also create information overload for consumers. As it goes beyond s55A, it should be merely guidance.</td>
<td>We do not agree. ILG 3.13 makes it clear that, in the OFT’s view, the features listed should be included, where applicable, in an explanation to a potential borrower. This is because they are features of the product which may have a significant adverse impact in a way the borrower is unlikely to foresee, and so must be disclosed under s55A(2)(c). It is also relevant that the BIS summary of responses to the consultation on CCD implementation noted that “OFT guidance will provide the necessary detail on (a) and (c) [of s55A(2)] where these explanations are applicable”. <tr>
<td>On (a), this has changed meaning from the OFT guidance, which merely suggests that lenders should explain that different rates or charges may apply (rather than requiring disclosure of the actual rates/charges).</td>
<td>We have amended to require an explanation, where applicable, that different rates of interest and/or different charges apply to different elements of the credit provided (for example, the higher cost of withdrawing cash). Now 4.2.15R(1).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.15R(1)</td>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.16G</td>
<td>Firms may not be confident to adopt such an approach where it may not be clear that the customer is receiving an appropriate explanation from a friend or relative. There should be no implication that the firm would be obliged to lend in such cases, and there may be other mechanisms to enhance a consumer’s understanding.</td>
<td>We have amended to state that the firm may need to consider alternative methods of providing information for the customer to make an informed decision, such as providing the information to a person with such understanding who can assist the customer, for example a friend or relative. Now 4.2.16G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.19G</td>
<td>This should be designated as a rule, as consumers are particularly likely to be sold unsuitable or unaffordable agreements or surprised by features of an agreement where these are marketed by distance or electronic means.</td>
<td>We do not agree, as there may be other ways of satisfying 4.2.5R. We have, however, amended to make clear that merely providing a link is unlikely to satisfy 4.2.5R where the agreement can be concluded without accessing the link. Now 4.2.19G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.3.20G</td>
<td>Lenders should be able to rely on a script, provided that they do not rely on it exclusively. Offering to answer any further questions plus the use of a script to convey the mandatory information should be sufficient.</td>
<td>We have amended to refer to relying solely on a written script, but adding that it should be made clear to the customer that he they ask questions or request further information or explanation. Now 4.2.20G.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.6.2G</td>
<td>This goes beyond ILG, and will take time to implement where firms already have fixed-term pricing contractual arrangements in place. There should be consultation with industry and an adequate lead-in time. In addition, references to ‘volume’ and ‘profitability’ are unclear.</td>
<td>We do not agree. ILG 5.5 makes clear that differential commission rates or volume over-riders should be offered only where they are justified in terms of the relative work involved. The current drafting is sufficiently clear in our view. Now 4.5.2G.</td>

5.2.1R(2) | This goes beyond s55B CCA. CONC rules should be limited to the CCD concept of creditworthiness, and adding affordability (from ILG) amounts to gold-plating. The affordability provisions should remain as guidance. The UK is prevented from going beyond A8 CCD – the OFT produced ‘best practice’ guidance but this was merely the OFT’s view and it is not legally possible to make this binding. The proposed rule would amount to a violation of A22 CCD (harmonisation). Also, combining creditworthiness and affordability ‘muddies the waters’, made worse by the omission of various ILG provisions which help put affordability in context. | We do not agree. The Commission has stated that MS have a margin of manoeuvre as to how to ensure the creditworthiness check and may adapt their requirements in order to promote responsible lending, and recital 26 CCD notes that MS authorities can give ‘appropriate instructions’ to creditors. In transposing CCD, BIS initially proposed a series of requirements related to affordability, but decided in the event that a requirement on the face of legislation would be inflexible and not easily amended or updated, and so it was better to “deal with the more complex issues of irresponsible lending and affordability in OFT guidance” which could be kept up to date in the light of developing practice. We consider that our proposed rules are both appropriate and consistent with CCD.

5.2.1R(2) | It is unclear whether this creates an entirely new standard of compliance for lenders when compared to the OFT regime. In particular, whether it is mandatory to request income and expenditure details and obtain supporting evidence, and whether firms could be held culpable if the borrower provided false information. A consumer body argued that there should be a positive obligation on firms to actively seek information necessary to make an assessment, and to make use of information of which they have constructive knowledge. | We have added that firms must consider sufficient information to enable them to make a reasonable assessment of creditworthiness or affordability. In addition, we have added guidance that where a firm requests information from a customer, and this is false, this does not contravene 5.2.2R provided that the firm has no reason to know this is the case. Now 5.2.2R(3) and 5.3.1G(11).

5.2.1R(2) | ILG 4.2 should be reflected in the rulebook. This underlines the role data sharing plays in facilitating the assessment of affordability and responsible lending. | We have added guidance making it clear that – subject to relevant legal constraints – the FCA encourages the sharing between lenders of accurate data about the performance of an account and the settlement of debts, as the process of assessing affordability is assisted by lenders registering such data with CRAs in a timely manner. Now 5.3.1G(12).

5.2.2R(1) | This goes beyond ILG, which merely states that the guidance as a whole applies to regulated agreements. The reference to overdrafts amounts to gold-plating in breach of CCD harmonisation. It should be categorised as guidance not a rule. | We do not agree. As above, we consider that the rules are both appropriate and consistent with CCD (and A8 applies to overdraft facilities repayable on demand or within three months). We have, however, clarified that the rule does not apply in relation to overrunning (ie unauthorised overdrafts).

<td>This should be guidance, not a rule. It derives from ILG, which makes it clear that a proportionate assessment may include some or all of the factors listed. The FCA should work with the industry to create additional regulatory guidance, using examples or case studies, to illustrate what proportionate credit assessments may look like for a selection of scenarios.</td>
<td>We have downgraded this to guidance, stating that the extent and scope of an assessment of creditworthiness or affordability should be dependent on and proportionate to relevant factors, which may include one or more of those listed. We may consider further guidance in future if appropriate. Now 5.2.3G(4).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2.3G(2)</td>
<td>This omits key elements of ILG 4.12 and 4.15, which deal with the process of assessing affordability. The overall effect could be to remove flexibility.</td>
<td>We have added guidance that firms should consider the types and sources of information to use in assessing creditworthiness or affordability, which may, depending on the circumstances, include some or all of the following: record of previous dealings, evidence of income or expenditure, a credit score, a CRA report and information provided by the customer. Now 5.2.4G(3).</td>

<td>5.3.1G(2)</td>
<td>There should be an exemption for lending to high net worth (HNW) borrowers, some of whom may be very wealthy but ‘asset rich cash poor’.</td>
<td>We do not agree. There is a CCA exemption for HNW lending where the customer satisfies certain conditions and agrees to forgo CCA rights and protections. Where this exemption does not apply, the affordability assessment should apply in the usual way.</td>

<td>We have added that it may be reasonable to take into account expected future income in the case of loans to fund the provision of further or higher education, provided an appropriate assessment of creditworthiness or affordability is carried out and there is appropriate exercise of forbearance in respect of the timing and amount of initial repayments (for example, deferring or limiting the obligation to repay until the customer’s income has reached a specified level). It is important that any assumptions made regarding future income are reasonable and capable of substantiation in the individual case and the products are designed in a way to minimise the risks to the customer. Now 5.3.1G(5).</td>
<tr>
<td>5.3.1G(4)</td>
<td>This omits crucial text in ILG, which states that the OFT would not necessarily consider repayments to be unsustainable simply because the borrower may miss an occasional payment as it falls due.</td>
<td>We do not consider this is necessary. Sustainability should be assessed by reference to the period of the credit, but we would not necessarily consider credit to be unsustainable merely because in the event the customer misses occasional repayments (and the firm shows appropriate forbearance). Now 5.3.1G(6).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.3.1G(4)</td>
<td>This omits ILG 4.8, which was a very helpful provision for consumers as it allowed a lender to offer a smaller loan if the affordability assessment suggested this was sustainable. This avoided consumers having to make multiple applications, potentially affecting their CRA file.</td>
<td>We do not consider this is necessary. It is up to lenders whether to require a further application, and the issue of sustainability applies in any event. Now 5.3.1G(6).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.3.1G(5)</td>
<td>This is inconsistent with 5.3.1G(6) – both would apply to e.g. a credit card. It is unreasonable to expect a firm to make assumptions about the likely duration of an open-end agreement. The FCA should revert to the wording in ILG, which refers to considering the likelihood of the consumer being able to pay off the maximum amount of credit available over a reasonable period of time.</td>
<td>We have amended to refer to making a reasonable assessment of whether the customer is able to meet repayments in a sustainable manner and made the assessment based on reasonable assumptions about the likely duration of the credit (see also 5.3.1G(6) below). Now 5.3.1G(7).</td>

<td>We have amended to refer to considering the customer’s ability to repay the maximum amount of credit available (ie the credit limit) within a reasonable period, and that in determining what is a reasonable period, a firm may (but is not required to) have regard to the typical duration of a fixed-sum unsecured loan for an equivalent amount of credit and should not use the assumption of the amount necessary to make only the minimum repayment each month. Now 5.3.1G(8).</td>

<td>5.3.1G(9)</td>
<td>This appears to require firms to assess income and expenditure, and to obtain documentary evidence, whereas ILG leaves this open and merely states that if lenders take income/expenditure into account, then they should consider the guidance at ILG 4.15.</td>

The requirements go beyond ILG and existing industry practice.</td>
<td>We have amended to make clear that the appropriate action referred to in 6.7.2R should generally include (i) notifying the customer of the risk of escalating debt, additional interest or charges and potential financial difficulties and (ii) providing contact details for not-for-profit debt advice bodies (cf ILG 6.2). <td>We have amended, in line with the Lending Code, to refer to a customer (i) being two or more payments in arrears, (ii) having agreed a repayment plan with the firm or (ii) being in serious discussion with a view to a debt management plan and the firm has been notified of this fact.</td>

<td>This is inconsistent with the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations UTCCRs, as the prohibition there (on unilaterally altering the terms of a contract without a valid reason for doing so) is subject to the caveat that this is without hindrance to terms under which a seller or supplier reserves the right to alter unilaterally the conditions of a contract of indeterminate duration, provided that he is required to inform the consumer with reasonable notice and the consumer is free to dissolve the contract. This is achieved for credit cards and store cards by 6.7.12R and 6.7.13R.</td>
<td>We do not agree. The UTCCRs implement the Unfair Contract Terms Directive but this is minimum harmonisation, enabling a Member State to go further. ILG 6.20 makes clear that, in all cases, it is an unfair practice to vary interest rates where there is no valid reason for doing so, and we are simply carrying this across into FCA rules. <td>This is disproportionate and goes beyond industry agreed principles, which require lenders to provide such an explanation only if the customer requests it. An explanation of the lender’s interpretation of risk in the individual case could potentially lead to gaming of the firm’s risk assessment processes and consumer fraud.</td>
<td>We have amended to require the firm to notify the customer, where applicable, that the rate of interest has been increased based on a change in the risk presented by the customer, and to provide a suitable explanation (which may be a generic explanation) upon request.</td>

<td>The proposed definition is likely to cause confusion as it does not reflect the generally understood meaning of the term. In particular, changing the payment date at the customer’s request (e.g. to align with the expected receipt of funds) should not be regarded as refinancing and is unlikely to indicate financial difficulties. The concept could also catch credit cards with flexible repayment dates, and unilateral variations under pre-existing powers. The provisions should be withdrawn pending detailed discussions with industry.</td>
<td>We have amended to state that in CONC 6.7.18R to 6.7.23R ‘refinance’ means to extend or purport to extend the period over which one or more repayment is to be made by a customer whether by (a) agreeing with the customer to replace, vary or supplement an existing regulated credit agreement; (b) exercising a contractual power contained in an existing regulated credit agreement; or (c) other means, for example, granting an indulgence or waiver to the customer. It does not, however, include where, under an agreement repayable in instalments, the customer requests a change in the regular payment date and as a result there is no charge or additional interest in connection with this change. Note that the definition applies solely in relation to the specified provisions and does not have wider application within CONC.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.7.17R(2)</td>
<td>The concept of ‘forbearance’ is much narrower than the commonly accepted legal meaning and conflicts with the examples in 7.3.5G.</td>
<td>We have clarified the meaning of exercise forbearance as follows: “to refinance a regulated credit agreement where the result is that no interest accrues from the date of the refinancing and either: (a) to there is no charge in connection with the refinancing; or (b) the only additional charge is a reasonable estimate of the actual and necessary cost of the additional administration required in connection with the refinancing”. If a firm temporarily freezes interest and charges and then begins to apply them again, this will not count as ‘exercising forbearance’. As above, the definition applies solely in relation to 6.7.18R to 6.7.23R, and ‘forbearance’ otherwise carries its natural meaning.</td>

Introduction
1 Section 138I of FSMA requires us to explain why we consider that our proposed rules help to ensure that relevant markets work well and advance one or more of our operational objectives. It also requires us to explain how we have had regard to our regulatory principles in discharging our rule-making function.

2 We set out a compatibility statement about the proposed consumer credit regime in Annex 7 of CP13/10. This is summarised below, together with our response to feedback we received on proportionality and competition issues.

Our objectives
3 The proposals primarily advance our operational objective of securing an appropriate degree of protection for consumers, and are compatible with our strategic objective of ensuring that relevant markets function well.

4 In addition to our high-level rules, we have designed specific rules that are intended to ensure that firms in the consumer credit market operate properly and customers are appropriately protected. In particular, this is achieved through:

- new conduct rules for HCSTC
- new client money rules and prudential requirements and conduct standards for debt management firms
- new rules to protect borrowers using P2P platforms
- conduct rules and guidance for all regulated consumer credit firms
- clear standards for assessing affordability
- new rules regarding financial promotions and communications
- enhanced supervision and reporting requirements.

5 In doing so, we have had regard to the regulatory principles in section 3B of FSMA, including the principle that regulatory burdens and restrictions should be proportionate to the expected benefits.

6 Some respondents to CP13/10 argued that aspects of our proposals would affect businesses disproportionately, either generally or in particular sectors. Specific concerns included the timescale for implementation (including the proposed transitional arrangements), the principle of converting OFT guidance into FCA rules (and the consequent risk of enforcement challenge or private action) and the regulatory reporting requirements to be imposed.

Our response

Timescale for implementation
The timetable is driven by the Government decision that responsibility for the regulation of consumer credit will transfer from the OFT to the FCA on 1 April 2014.

We have reviewed the proposed timescales for the implementation of the conduct standards in CONC in light of CP responses, but remain of the view that a six-month transitional is proportionate. In most cases, we are simply transposing existing CCA provisions and OFT guidance. Where firms are complying with these, they are unlikely to need to change their behaviour substantially, although they may need to review systems and procedures to ensure that they can demonstrate compliance. In assessing possible non-compliance, we will of course act reasonably and proportionately.

The policy statement accompanying CP13/10 included made rules for PRIN, SYSC and GEN, so firms have had notice of these since early October. In addition, a number of our general requirements only apply when a firm is fully authorised, so we consider there is sufficient lead-in time to amend processes and procedures.

Converting OFT guidance into rules
As noted in Chapter 4, we have converted OFT fitness guidance into rules where we consider it necessary or appropriate. In particular, where OFT guidance lay down minimum standards, with a presumption that failure to comply could lead to licensing action, or where the guidance supplemented CCA rules including those implementing the CCD. We have, however, reviewed the boundary between rules and guidance, and made a number of adjustments (see Annex 5).

Reporting requirements
We believe that our proposals for regulatory reporting that focus on key pieces of data are proportionate and should not cause undue burdens to firms. The amount of information we are requesting is low when compared to other FCA-authorised firms, and we have limited the burden on smaller firms by only requiring annual reporting. Most firms with a limited permission will be required to complete only one periodic return.

Promoting effective competition

In Annex 7 of CP13/10, we explained why we consider that the overall impact of our proposals should help promote effective competition. In particular, the expected improvement in firms’ levels of compliance with regulatory requirements (arising from the enhanced scrutiny at the authorisation stage, more proactive supervision and the deterrent effect of FSMA enforcement powers) should encourage firms to compete on the provision of affordable loans which meet consumers’ needs, and discourage practices liable to cause detriment.
Some respondents to CP13/10 made points regarding the potential impact on competition. In particular, it was argued that our proposals on HCSTC should also be applied to other credit products, such as credit cards and overdrafts, on the basis either that these are all in the same market or there are similar risks to consumers. There was also concern that price capping may increase market exit and so reduce competition. It was also argued that our proposals generally are likely to have a disproportionate impact on smaller firms and those involved only peripherally in the credit market.

We consider competition issues as part of our cost benefit analysis in Annex 3.

We have received no evidence which undermines the analysis in CP13/10. We do not propose to change the definition of HTSTC to extend the scope of our proposals to other products. We will take competition issues into consideration as we take forward our price capping analysis.

The impact on smaller firms is mitigated by our proportionate approach in a number of areas, including the ‘limited permission’ regime where credit activities are ancillary to the supply of goods or non-financial services, and the more limited requirements around regulatory reporting. In addition, the client money requirements will be different for smaller debt management firms.
Annex 7

Any impact of changes in our proposals on mutual societies

Introduction
1 Section 138K of FSMA requires us to prepare a statement about the impact of proposed rules on mutual societies. In particular, we are required to set out whether this will be significantly different from their impact on other authorised persons and if so, details of the difference.

The impact of our proposals on mutual societies
2 A statement of the impact of our proposals on mutual societies was set out in Annex 8 of CP13/10. This noted that mutual societies may be affected by our proposed rules on conduct standards, regulatory reporting and approved persons.

3 We analysed the potential impact in relation to building societies, credit unions, industrial and provident societies, friendly societies and EEA mutual societies.

4 We concluded in each case that the impact is likely to be similar to that on other comparable firms.

5 We received very little feedback on our impact assessment, and this was generally supportive. Where points were made, these were about the impact of our proposals generally, including on mutual societies, and did not argue that this would be significantly different than for other authorised persons. There were however concerns about the potential implications of the rules of HCSTC for social lenders, which are considered below.

6 We have not amended our assessment.

Community development finance institutions
7 Some respondents argued that credit providers with a social purpose should be excluded from our HCSTC proposals.

8 In particular, community development finance institutions (CDFIs) provide credit and financial education to consumers in deprived areas, with the objective of addressing issues of financial inclusion, access to affordable finance and community investment. In general, their APRs are well below 100%, but there could be some circumstances in which they exceed this threshold, and so would be caught by the HCSTC rules. This could have an impact on their sustainability.

Our response
We have amended the HCSTC definition to exclude loans by CDFIs.

As there is no statutory definition of a CDI, we have limited the exclusion to the corporate forms which are most commonly adopted by CDFIs:
• registered charities
• community interest companies limited by guarantee
• community benefit societies registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts.

In each case, these are enterprises that are subject to scrutiny of their social purpose by their respective registering authority or regulator, and are precluded from distributing profits to members.

We will also consider whether it may be appropriate to exclude such bodies from the proposed cap on the cost of credit.

Such bodies will, of course, be subject to the remainder of CONC, and our high-level rules, if they engage in regulated activities.

Credit union activities

Some respondents requested clarification regarding the scope of application of the CCA/CONC rules in relation to credit union agreements.

Our response

Credit unions are outside the HCSTC definition, as they are precluded by law from offering loans at rates higher than those specified. The Government has increased the maximum interest rate that may be charged by a credit union in Great Britain from 2% to 3% per month (APR 42.6%) from 1 April 2014.58

Credit unions in Northern Ireland are subject to a cap of 1% per month. Credit unions are exempt from regulation for borrower-lender agreements (ie cash loans) within the interest rate cap.

They are, however, subject to regulation for borrower-lender-supplier agreements, as defined in the RAO59.

The scope of the relevant provisions is unchanged from the current CCA regime. In particular, agreements financing a transaction between the borrower and a third party supplier are subject to regulation only where this is under pre-existing arrangements, or in contemplation of future arrangements, between the lender and the supplier.

59 See article 6 of The Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No.2) Order 2013, SI 2013/1881 – such lending by credit unions is also subject to the interest rate cap.

Annex

Consumer Credit sourcebook (CONC)

In this Annex, all the text is new and is not underlined, except in CONC 12, where additions are shown underlined.

1 Application and purpose and guidance on financial difficulties

1.1 Application and purpose

Application

1.1.1 G (1) The Consumer Credit sourcebook (CONC) is the specialist sourcebook for credit-related regulated activities.

(2) CONC applies as described in this chapter, unless the application of a chapter, section or a rule is described differently in the chapters, sections or rules in CONC.

Purpose

1.1.2 G The purpose of CONC is to set out the detailed obligations that are specific to credit-related regulated activities and activities connected to those activities carried on by firms. These build on and add to the high-level obligations, for example, in PRIN, GEN and SYSC, and the requirements in or under the CCA.

1.1.3 G Firms are reminded that other parts of the FCA Handbook and PRA Handbook also apply to credit-related regulated activities. For example, the arrangements for supervising firms, including applicable reporting obligations, are described in the Supervision manual (SUP) and the detailed requirements for handling complaints are set out in the Dispute Resolution: Complaints sourcebook (DISP). The Client Assets sourcebook (CASS) also contains rules about client money that apply in certain circumstances.

The Principles for Businesses: a reminder

1.1.4 G The Principles for Businesses (PRIN) apply as a whole to firms with respect to credit-related regulated activities and ancillary activities in relation to credit-related regulated activities (see PRIN 3). In carrying on their activities, firms should pay particular attention to their obligations under:

(1) Principle 1 (a firm must conduct its business with integrity);

(2) Principle 2 (a firm must conduct its business with due skill, care and diligence);
(3) Principle 3 (a firm must take reasonable care to organise and control its affairs responsibly and effectively, with adequate risk management systems);

(4) Principle 6 (a firm must pay due regard to the interests of its customers and treat them fairly);

(5) Principle 7 (a firm must pay due regard to the information needs of its clients, and communicate information to them in a way which is clear, fair and not misleading);

(6) Principle 9 (a firm must take reasonable care to ensure the suitability of its advice and discretionary decisions for any customer who is entitled to rely upon its judgment);

(7) Principle 10 (a firm must arrange adequate protection for clients' assets when it is responsible for them); and

(8) Principle 11 (a firm must deal with its regulators in an open and cooperative way, and must disclose to the appropriate regulator appropriately anything relating to the firm of which that regulator would reasonably expect notice).

1.2 Who? What? Where?

1.2.1 R CONC applies:

(1) unless otherwise stated in, or in relation to, a rule, to a firm:

(a) except where (b) applies, with respect to carrying on credit-related regulated activities;

(b) with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower or prospective borrower under a P2P agreement; and

(2) with respect to activities connected to the activities in (a) and (b).

1.2.2 R A firm must:

(1) ensure that its employees and agents comply with CONC; and

(2) take reasonable steps to ensure that other persons acting on its behalf comply with CONC.

Guidance on appointed representatives

1.2.3 G (1) Although CONC does not apply directly to a firm's appointed representatives, a firm will always be responsible for the acts and omissions of its appointed representatives in carrying on business for which the firm has accepted responsibility (section 39(3) of the Act). In determining whether a firm has complied with any provision of CONC, anything done or omitted by a firm’s appointed representative (when acting as such) will be treated as having been done or omitted by the firm (section 39(4) of the Act).

(2) Firms should refer to SUP 12 (Appointed representatives), which sets out requirements which apply to firms using appointed representatives.

1.2.4 G The credit-related regulated activities comprise consumer credit lending, credit broking, debt counselling, debt adjusting, debt administration, debt collecting, providing credit information services, providing credit references, operating an electronic system in relation to lending and consumer hiring.

Where?

1.2.5 R CONC, except in relation to CONC 3, applies with respect to activities carried on by a firm:

(1) with a customer whose habitual residence is in the UK from an establishment maintained by the firm (or its appointed representative) in the UK; or

(2) with a customer whose habitual residence is in the UK from an establishment of the firm (or its appointed representative) outside the UK.

EEA territorial scope rule: compatibility with European law

1.2.6 R (1) CONC does not apply to an incoming ECA provider where, in providing a service, the provider is acting as such.

(2) CONC applies to an outgoing ECA provider where, in providing a service, the provider is acting as such.

(3) The territorial scope of CONC is otherwise modified to the extent necessary to be compatible with European law.

(4) This rule overrides every other rule in this sourcebook.

[Note: article 3(3) of, and the Annex to, the E-Commerce Directive]

1.3 Guidance on financial difficulties

1.3.1 G In CONC (unless otherwise stated in or in relation to a rule), the following matters, among others, of which a firm is aware or ought reasonably to be aware, may indicate that a customer is in financial difficulties:
(1) consecutively failing to meet minimum repayments in relation to a credit card or store card;

(2) adverse accurate entries on a credit file, which are not in dispute;

(3) outstanding county court judgments for non-payment of debt;

(4) inability to meet repayments out of disposable income or at all, for example, where there is evidence of non-payment of essential bills (such as, utility bills), the customer having to borrow further to repay existing debts, or the customer only being able to meet repayments of debts by the disposal of assets or security;

(5) consecutively failing to meet repayments when due;

(6) agreement to a debt management plan or other debt solution;

(7) evidence of discussions with a firm (including a not-for-profit debt advice body) with a view to entering into a debt management plan or other debt solution or to seeking debt counselling.

2 Conduct of business standards: general

2.1 Application

2.1.1 G This chapter applies as stated in the sections which follow.

2.2 General principles for credit-related regulated activities

2.2.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to credit-related regulated activities.

General principles

2.2.2 G Principle 6 requires a firm to pay due regard to the interests of its customers and treat them fairly. Examples of behaviour by or on behalf of a firm which is likely to contravene Principle 6 include:

(1) targeting customers with regulated credit agreements which are unsuitable for them, by virtue of their indebtedness, poor credit history, age, health, disability or any other reason;

(2) subjecting customers to high-pressure selling, aggressive or oppressive behaviour, or unfair coercion;

(3) not allowing customers who are unable to make payments a reasonable time and opportunity to meet repayments;
(4) taking steps to repossess a customer’s home, other than as a last resort.

[Note paragraph 7.14 of ILG and 6.3 of SCLG]

[Note: paragraphs 2.3 of ILG, 2.2 of CBG and 2.3 of DMG]

Duty not to use misleading names

2.2.3 R A firm must not carry on a credit-related regulated activity under a name which is likely to mislead customers about the status of the firm or the nature of its business, or in any other way.

[Note: section 25(1AD) of CCA]

2.2.4 G (1) In relation to CONC 2.2.3R, an example of where a name may mislead is if the average customer of the firm is likely to be misled by the name of the firm.

(2) Examples of the matters concerning a firm’s status or the nature of its business about which its name may mislead customers include:

(a) the identity or nature of the firm;

(b) its commercial or profit-seeking status;

(c) its role, including any relationship with any other person;

(d) the extent of its authority;

(e) stating or implying that the firm is a public body or that it is related or connected in some way to a charitable, not-for-profit or governmental or local governmental organisation or to the courts;

(f) the nature of the products or services supplied;

(g) the cost of those products or services; and

(h) the scale of the business including its geographical scope.

Effect on other rules and legislation

2.2.5 R Any specific rule or piece of guidance in CONC is without prejudice to the application of PRIN, any other rules in the Handbooks, the CCA and secondary legislation made and things done under it, the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008, the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999, Part 8 of the Enterprise Act 2002 and any other applicable consumer protection legislation.

2.3 Conduct of business: lenders and restrictions on provision of credit card cheques

Application

2.3.1  R  This section applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

General conduct

2.3.2  R  A firm must explain the key features of a regulated credit agreement to enable the customer to make an informed choice as required by CONC 4.2.5R (adequate explanations).

[Note: paragraph 2.2 of ILG]

2.3.3  G  CONC 6.7.2R requires a firm to monitor a customer’s repayment record and take appropriate action where there are signs of actual or possible repayment difficulties.

2.3.4  R  A firm must take reasonable steps to satisfy itself that any credit brokers with whom the firm deals are authorised persons or appointed representatives.

[Note: paragraph 1.27 of CBG]

Provision of credit card cheques

2.3.5  R  (1)  A firm may provide credit card cheques only to a customer who has asked for them.

[Note: section 51A(2) of CCA]

(2)  A firm may provide credit card cheques only on a single occasion in respect of each request that is made.

[Note: section 51A(3) of CCA]

(3)  The number of credit card cheques provided in respect of a request must not exceed three (or, if less, the number requested).

[Note: section 51A(4) of CCA]

(4)  Where a single request is made for the provision of credit card cheques in connection with more than one credit-token agreement, (2) and (3) apply as if a separate request had been made for each agreement.

[Note: section 51A(5) of CCA]

(5)  Where more than one request for the provision of credit card cheques is made in the same document or at the same time:

(a)  they may be provided in respect of only one of the requests, but

(b)  if the requests relate to more than one credit-token agreement, in relation to each agreement they may be provided only in respect of one of the requests made in relation to that agreement.

[Note: section 51A(6) of CCA]

(6) This rule does not apply to credit card cheques provided in connection with a credit-token agreement that is entered into by the customer wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the customer.

[Note: section 51B(1) of CCA]

(7) If a credit-token agreement includes a declaration made by the customer to the effect that the agreement is entered into as mentioned in (6), the agreement is treated for the purposes of (6) as having been so entered into.

[Note: section 51B(2) of CCA]

(8) The declaration in (7) must be in the form and content set out in CONC Appendix 1 for the exemption relating to business.

(9) Paragraph (7) does not apply if, when the agreement is entered into:

(a) the lender; or

(b) any person who has acted on behalf of the lender in connection with the entering into of the agreement; knows, or has reasonable cause to suspect, that the agreement is not entered into as mentioned in (6).

[Note: section 51B(3) of CCA]

(10) Where an agreement has two or more lenders, references in (9) to the lender are to any one or more of them.

[Note: section 51B(5) of CCA]

2.4 Credit references: conduct of business: lenders and owners

Application

2.4.1 R This section applies:

(1) to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending; or

(2) to a firm with respect to consumer hiring.

Disclosure of name and address of credit reference agencies consulted

2.4.2 R (1) Not later than the lender (“L”) informs a credit broker that L is not willing to make a regulated credit agreement, L must, unless L informs the customer directly that L is not willing to make the agreement, inform the credit broker of the name and address (including an appropriate e-mail address) of any credit reference agency from which L has, during the negotiations relating to the proposed agreement, applied for information about the financial standing of the customer.

[Note: regulation 2 of SI 1977/330]

(2) Not later than the owner ("O") informs a credit broker that O is not willing to make a regulated consumer hire agreement, O must, unless O informs the customer directly that O is not willing to make the agreement, inform the credit broker of the name and address (including an appropriate e-mail address) of any credit reference agency from which O has, during the negotiations relating to the proposed agreement, applied for information about the financial standing of the customer.

[Note: regulation 2 of SI 1977/330]

Searching credit files

2.4.3 G A firm undertaking a credit reference search should not leave evidence of an application on a credit file where a customer is not yet ready to apply. Where practicable, firms should facilitate customers shopping around for credit by offering a ‘quotation search’ facility.

[Note: paragraph 3.13 (box 2) of ILG]

2.5 Conduct of business: credit broking

Application

2.5.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to credit broking.

2.5.2 G The scope of credit broking for the introducing activities (article 36A(a) to (c) of the Regulated Activities Order) covers regulated credit agreements and regulated consumer hire agreements. But additionally in relation to credit agreements it covers introductions concerning exempt agreements under articles 60C to 60H of that Order (other than agreements under article 60F of that Order (exempt agreements: exemptions relating to the number of repayments to be made)). Additionally in relation to consumer hire agreements, it covers exempt agreements under articles 60O and 60Q of that Order.

Conduct of business

2.5.3 R A firm must:

   (1) where it has responsibility for doing so, explain the key features of a regulated credit agreement to enable the customer to make an informed choice as required by CONC 4.2.5R;

[Note: paragraphs 4.27 to 4.30 of CBG and 2.2 of ILG]

(2) take reasonable steps to satisfy itself that a product it wishes to recommend to a customer is not unsuitable for the customer’s needs and circumstances;

[Note: paragraph 4.22 of CBG]

(3) advise a customer to read, and allow the customer sufficient opportunity to consider, the terms and conditions of a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement before entering into it;

[Note: paragraph 3.91 of CBG]

(4) before referring the customer to a third party which carries on regulated activities or to a claims management service (within the meaning of section 4 of the Compensation Act 2006) or other services, obtain the customer’s consent, after having explained why the customer’s details are to be disclosed to that third party;

[Note: paragraph 3.9r of CBG]

(5) before effecting an introduction of a customer to a lender or owner in relation to a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement, or before entering into such an agreement on behalf of the lender or owner, disclose (where applicable) the fact that the lender or owner is linked to the firm by being a member of the same group as the firm;

[Note: paragraph 3.9y of CBG]

(6) bring to the attention of a customer how the firm uses the customer’s personal data it collects, in a manner appropriate to the means of communication used;

[Note: paragraph 3.9q of CBG]

(7) provide customers with a clear and simple method to cancel their consent for the processing of their personal data;

[Note: paragraph 3.9u of CBG]

(8) at the request of a customer, disclose from where the customer’s personal data was obtained;

[Note: paragraph 3.9w of CBG]

(9) take reasonable steps not to pass a customer’s personal data to a business which carries on a credit-related regulated activity which has no permission for that activity.

[Note: paragraph 3.9x of CBG]

2.5.4 G A firm may comply with CONC 2.5.3R(6) by presenting to the customer a privacy notice. The Information Commissioner’s Office has prepared the Privacy Notices Code of Practice.

Conduct of business: credit references

2.5.5  R Where a credit broker (“B”) is a negotiator (within the meaning of section 56(1) of the CCA), B must, at the same time as B gives notice to a customer, under section 157(1) of the CCA (which relates to the duty to disclose on request the name and address of any credit reference agency consulted by B) also give the customer notice of the name and address of any credit reference agency of which B has been informed under CONC 2.4.2R.

[Note: regulation 3 of SI 1977/ 330]

2.5.6  R Where a credit broker (“B”) is not a negotiator (within the meaning of section 56(1) of the CCA), B must, within seven working days after receiving a request in writing for any such information, which is made by a customer within 28 days after the termination of any negotiations relating to a regulated credit agreement or a regulated consumer hire agreement whether on the making of the agreement or otherwise, give to the customer notice of:

(1) the name and address of any credit reference agency from which B has during those negotiations applied for information about the financial standing of the customer; and

(2) the name and address of any credit reference agency of which B has been informed under CONC 2.4.2R.

[Note: regulation 4 of SI 1977/ 330]

Searching credit files

2.5.7  G A firm undertaking a credit reference search should not leave evidence of an application on a credit file where a customer is not yet ready to apply. Where practicable, firms should facilitate customers shopping around for credit by offering a ‘quotation search’ facility”.

[Note: paragraph 3.13 (box 2) of ILG]

Unfair business practices: credit brokers

2.5.8  R A firm must not:

(1) make or cause to be made unsolicited calls to numbers entered on the register kept under regulation 25 or 26 of the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003 or to a customer who has notified the firm not to call the number being used to call;

[Note: paragraph 3.9a of CBG]

(2) other than where:

(a) the firm has obtained the contact details of a customer (C) in the course of the sale or negotiations for the sale of a product or service to C;

(b) the direct marketing is in respect of the firm’s similar products and services only;

(c) C has been given a simple means of refusing (free of charge, except for the cost of the transmission of the refusal) the use of the contact details for the purposes of such direct marketing, at the time that the details were initially collected and, where C did not initially refuse the use of the details, at the time of each subsequent communication; and

(d) the firm has previously explained that the following calls or electronic communications would be sent or made or caused to be sent or made by the firm and following that explanation C consented for the time being to such calls or communications;

send or cause to be sent an electronic communication, for the purposes of marketing, to C, or make or cause to be made by means of an automated calling system (which is capable of automatically initiating a sequence of calls to more than one destination in accordance with instructions stored in that system, and transmitting sounds which are not live speech for reception by persons at some or all of the destinations so called) a call to C, for the purposes of marketing;

[Note paragraph 3.9b of CBG]

(3) make or cause to be made by means of an automated calling system (see paragraph (2)) a call to a customer, for the purposes of marketing, after the firm has received a request from the customer to stop doing so;

[Note: paragraph 3.9c of CBG]

(4) send, or cause to be sent, an electronic communication to a customer, for the purposes of marketing, after the firm has received a request from the customer to stop doing so;

[Note: paragraph 3.9c of CBG]

(5) visit a customer at a time that is known to be, or reasonably likely to be, inconvenient or particularly undesirable to the customer;

[Note: paragraph 3.9f of CBG]

(6) refuse to end a visit to a customer or to leave the customer’s home, when requested to do so;

[Note: paragraph 3.9g of CBG]

(7) unfairly request, suggest or direct a customer to make contact on a premium rate telephone number;
(8) conduct a telephone call with a customer who has called on a premium rate number for an unreasonable period;

[Note: paragraph 3.9h of CBG]

(9) inappropriately offer a financial or other incentive or inducement to a customer to enter, immediately or quickly, into a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement to which this section applies;

[Note: paragraph 3.9j of CBG]

(10) effect an introduction to a lender or an owner or to another credit broker, where the firm has considered whether the customer might meet the relevant lending or hiring criteria and it is or should be apparent to the firm that the customer does not meet those criteria;

[Note: paragraph 3.9aa and 4.41i of CBG]

(11) suggest to a customer that an application for credit will be met in full when a lower amount may be offered;

[Note: paragraph 4.26d of CBG]

(12) secure more credit for a customer than was requested where the object of doing so is for, or can reasonably be concluded as having been for, the personal gain of the firm or of a person acting on its behalf, rather than in the best interests of the customer;

[Note: paragraph 4.26e of CBG]

(13) give preference to the credit products of a particular lender where the object of doing so is for, or can reasonably be concluded as having been for, the personal gain of the firm or of a person acting on its behalf, rather than in the best interests of the customer;

[Note: paragraph 4.41k of CBG]

(14) in relation to a payment protection product (the meaning of which is set out in CONC 2.5.10R) to the credit agreement or consumer hire agreement (whether the product is optional or required as a condition of the credit agreement or consumer hire agreement):

(a) pressurise the customer to buy the product; or

[Note: paragraph 2.62, 2nd bullet of JGPPI]

(b) offer undue incentives to the customer to buy the product;

[Note: paragraph 2.62, 2nd bullet of JGPPI]

(15) in relation to an insurance product or service or other linked product or service to the credit agreement or consumer hire agreement (whether the service or product is optional or required as a condition of the credit agreement or consumer hire agreement) discourage or prevent the customer from seeking or obtaining the product or service from another source;

[Note: paragraph 4.26f of CBG]

(16) encourage a customer to enter into a credit agreement which is secured in any way, to which this section applies, to replace an unsecured credit agreement or to consolidate other debts where the firm knows, or ought reasonably to know, that it is not in the best interests of the customer;

[Note: paragraph 4.26g of CBG]

(17) unfairly encourage a customer to increase, consolidate or refinance (which expression has the same meaning as in CONC 6.7.17R) an existing debt to the extent that repayments under an agreement would be unsustainable for the customer;

[Note: paragraph 4.26h of CBG]

(18) encourage a customer to take out additional credit or to extend the term of an existing credit agreement where to do so is, or is reasonably likely be, to the detriment of a customer;

[Note: paragraph 4.41h of CBG]

(19) charge a fee to a customer for effecting an introduction (directly or indirectly) to a lender or owner that provides a type of credit or hire of a different type to that:

(a) promised to the customer; or

(b) promoted by the firm to the customer; or

(c) which the firm is aware the customer is seeking;

unless the customer, after the firm has explained the reason for the fee, consents to such an introduction;

[Note: paragraph 4.17f of CBG]

(20) take a fee from a customer’s bank account without the customer’s express authorisation to do so;

[Note: paragraph 4.17c of CBG]

(21) unfairly pass a customer’s personal data to a third party without obtaining the customer’s consent to do so after having explained the reason for disclosing the data;

[Note: paragraph 3.9s of CBG]

(22) unfairly pass a customer’s personal data to a third party for a purpose other than that for which consent was sought and given.

[Note: paragraph 3.9t of CBG]
Guidance on unfair business practices

2.5.9  G

(1) It is likely to be an inappropriate offer of an inducement or incentive to enter into a regulated credit agreement or a regulated consumer hire agreement to state that the offer in relation to the agreement will be withdrawn or the terms and conditions of the offer will worsen if the agreement is not signed immediately or within a stated period after the communication, unless the firm’s offer on those terms and conditions will in fact be withdrawn or worsen in the period indicated to the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.9j (box) of CBG]

(2) An example of unfairly requesting, suggesting or directing a customer to a premium rate telephone number is likely to be to do so in relation to a customer wishing to complain about the firm’s service or to request a refund, including, for example, under section 155 of the CCA.

[Note: paragraph 6.19f of CBG]

(3) It is unlikely to be reasonable for it to be necessary for a customer to make more than one telephone call exceeding 15 minutes to a firm to apply for credit. Where a longer call is required, the firm should ensure the call is not made on a premium rate telephone number.

[Note: paragraph 3.9i (box) of CBG]

(4) It is unlikely to be reasonable to request, suggest or direct a customer to call the firm repeatedly to check on the status of an application. A call to check on the status of an application should not last more than five minutes.

[Note: paragraph 3.9i (box) of CBG]

(5) A firm should disclose to a customer the amount, or likely amount, of any fee payable for its services as early as practicable in the firm’s dealings with the customer. CONC 4.4.2R requires a credit broker to disclose any such fee agreed with the customer in writing or in another durable medium.

[Note: paragraphs 2.2, 7th bullet, 3.7l and 4.9 of CBG]

(6) Where a firm makes an introduction of the type referred to in CONC 2.5.8R(19) the firm should ensure that the customer’s consent is preceded by a full explanation of the key features and key risks of the product to which the introduction applies.

[Note: paragraph 4.17f of CBG]

(7) A customer’s personal data must be processed fairly and lawfully and only for specified purposes. While it may be possible to pass sensitive personal data in specified and limited circumstances to certain third parties without the customer’s consent where a condition of the Data Protection Act 1998 is satisfied, a firm (other than where it is under a statutory obligation to pass personal data to a third party) should generally seek the customer’s consent before passing such personal data to a third party.

[Note: paragraph 3.9t (box) of CBG]

(8) An example of where it is likely to be unfair for a credit broker in receipt of a customer’s personal data to pass it to a third party, is where the personal data is passed on in return for a fee to a claims management firm, without the customer’s consent.

2.5.10 R In CONC 2.5.8R(14):

(1) payment protection product means a product or feature of a product designed to offer customers short-term protection against potential loss of income, by providing the means for them to meet (or temporarily suspend) their financial obligations including repayments under a credit agreement. Payment protection products include, in particular, short term income protection, debt freeze or debt waiver;

(2) short-term income protection means a contract of insurance which provides a pre-agreed amount paid directly to the policyholder or the policyholder's nominee in the event that the policyholder experiences involuntary unemployment or incapacity as a result of accident or sickness and may be combined with other forms of insurance cover or include other benefits and which:

(a) has a maximum time-limited benefit duration;

(b) is written for a term which is less than 5 years and not predetermined by the term of any credit agreement; and

(c) can be terminated by the insurer.

2.5.11 G In CONC 2.5.8R(14) and 2.5.10R(1), the protection offered by a payment protection product will typically be triggered by life events such as accident, sickness and/or unemployment, although other events may be covered where they impact on the consumer’s ability to meet certain financial commitments. The triggering events will usually be specified in the agreement but may be subject to some discretion (by the provider) at the time of claim.

2.6 Conduct of business: debt counselling, debt adjusting and providing credit information services

Application

2.6.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to:

(1) debt counselling; or
(2)  debt adjusting; or

(3)  providing credit information services.

Conduct of business

2.6.2  R  A firm must bring to the attention of a customer how the firm uses the customer’s personal data it collects in a manner appropriate to the means of communication used.

[Note: paragraph 2.5e of DMG]

Unfair business practices

2.6.3  R  A firm must not:

(1)  by any means, including during a visit to a customer, coerce or use pressure to sell its services;

[Note: paragraph 3.12o of DMG]

(2)  take advantage of a customer’s lack of knowledge or understanding of the law relating to consumer credit or to insolvency or to otherwise dealing with debts in order to sell its services;

[Note: paragraph 3.12o of DMG]

(3)  in relation to a visit to a customer:

(a)  make an appointment to visit or visit at a time which is unreasonable or inconvenient from the customer’s point of view, unless the consumer expressly consents;

[Note: paragraph 3.15a of DMG]

(b)  refuse to end the visit, refuse to leave the customer’s home or ignore the customer’s request not to return there;

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DMG]

(c)  make a visit which is unreasonably or unnecessarily long;

[Note: paragraph 3.15c of DMG]

(4)  conduct a telephone call with a customer who has called on a premium rate number for an unreasonable period.

[Note: paragraph 3.18x of DMG]

Guidance on unfair business practices

2.6.4  G  (1)  It is an offence for a person carrying on the business of debt counselling, debt adjusting or providing credit information services to canvass its services off trade premises under section 154 of the CCA. The definition of canvassing in section 153 of the CCA would include an unsolicited personal visit to a customer’s home.

[Note: paragraph 3.13 of DMG]

(2) Where a long telephone call is required, the firm should ensure the call is not made on a premium rate number.

(3) It is unlikely to be reasonable for it to be necessary for a customer to make a call exceeding one hour to a firm in relation to debt counselling or debt adjusting. Where a call longer than 15 minutes is required for the firm to provide its service to the customer, the firm should ensure the call is not made on a premium rate phone number.

(4) It is unlikely to be reasonable for a call by the customer to check on the status of the customer’s case to last more than five minutes.

2.7 Distance marketing

Application

2.7.1 R (1) Subject to (2) and (3), this section applies to a firm that carries on any distance marketing activity from an establishment in the UK, with or for a consumer in the UK or another EEA State.

(2) This section does not apply to an authorised professional firm with respect to its non-mainstream regulated activities.

(3) This section does not apply to an activity in relation to a consumer hire agreement.

The distance marketing disclosure rules

2.7.2 R (1) Subject to (2), (3) and (4), a firm must provide a consumer with the distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 1R) in good time before the consumer is bound by a distance contract or offer.

[Note: regulation 7(1) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: articles 3(1) and 4(5) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

(2) Where a distance contract is also a contract for payment services to which the Payment Services Regulations apply, a firm is required to provide to the consumer only the information specified in rows 7 to 12, 15, 16 and 20 of CONC 2 Annex 1R.

(3) Paragraph (1) and the requirement to provide the abbreviated distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 2R) in CONC 2.7.11R do not apply to a distance contract which is also a credit agreement (other than an authorised non-business overdraft agreement) in respect of which the firm has disclosed the pre-contract credit information required by regulations 3, 4 or 5, as the case may be, and 7, of the disclosure regulations (information to be disclosed to a debtor before a regulated consumer credit agreement is made) in accordance with the disclosure regulations.

[Note: regulation 7(6) of SI 2004/2095]

(4) Paragraph (1) and the requirement to provide the abbreviated distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 2R) in CONC 2.7.11R do not apply to a distance contract which is also an authorised non-business overdraft agreement in respect of which:

(a) the firm has disclosed the information required by regulation 10(2) of the disclosure regulations (authorised non-business overdraft agreements) by means of the European Consumer Credit Information form in accordance with the disclosure regulations and, unless CONC 2.7.12R would otherwise apply, a copy of the contractual terms and conditions;

(b) in the case of a voice telephony communication, the firm has:

(i) disclosed the information required by regulation 10(5) of the disclosure regulations in accordance with the disclosure regulations; and

(ii) provided a copy of the written agreement in accordance with section 61B(2)(b) of the CCA; or

(c) in the case of an agreement made using a means of distance communication, other than voice telephony communication, where a firm is unable to provide the information required by regulation 10(2) of the disclosure regulations, the firm has:

(i) provided a copy of the written agreement in accordance with section 61B(2)(c) of the CCA, and

(ii) unless CONC 2.7.12R would otherwise apply, in relation to the prospective distance contract, provided information which accurately reflects the contractual obligations which would arise under the law presumed to be applicable to that contract.

[Note: regulation 7(6) of SI 2004/2095]

2.7.3 R A firm must ensure that the distance marketing information, the commercial purpose of which must be made clear, is provided in a clear and comprehensible manner in a way appropriate to the means of distance communication used with due regard, in particular, to the principles of good faith in commercial transactions and the legal principles governing the protection of those who are unable to give their consent.

[Note: regulation 7(2) and (3) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: article 3(2) of the Distance Marketing Directive]
2.7.4 R When a firm makes a voice telephony communication to a consumer, it must make its identity and the purposes of its call explicitly clear at the beginning of the conversation.

[Note: regulation 7(4) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: article 3(3)(a) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

2.7.5 R A firm must ensure that information on contractual obligations to be communicated to a consumer during the pre-contractual phase accurately reflects the contractual obligations which would result from the law presumed to be applicable to the distance contract if that contract is concluded.

[Note: regulation 7(5) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: article 3(4) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

Terms and conditions, and form

2.7.6 R A firm must communicate to the consumer all the contractual terms and conditions and the information referred to in the distance marketing disclosure rules (CONC 2.7.2R to CONC 2.7.5R) in a durable medium. That information must be made available and accessible to the consumer in good time before the consumer is bound by any distance contract or offer.

[Note: regulation 8(1) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: articles 4(5) and 5(1) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

2.7.7 G (1) Activities in relation to a consumer hire agreement are not financial services within the meaning of the Distance Marketing Directive and do not fall within CONC 2.7. Instead such agreements fall within the Consumer Protection (Distance Selling) Regulations 2000 (SI 2000/2334).

(2) A firm will provide information, or communicate contractual terms and conditions, to a consumer if another person provides the information, or communicates the terms and conditions, to the consumer on its behalf.

Commencing performance of the distance contract

2.7.8 R The performance of the distance contract may only begin after the consumer has given approval.

[Note: article 7(1) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

Exception: successive operations

2.7.9 R In the case of a distance contract comprising an initial service agreement, followed by successive operations or a series of separate operations of the same nature performed over time, the rules in this chapter only apply to the initial agreement.

[Note: regulation 5(1) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: article 1(2) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

2.7.10 R (1) If there is no initial service agreement but the successive or separate operations of the same nature performed over time are performed between the same contractual parties, the distance marketing disclosure rules (CONC 2.7.2R to CONC 2.7.5R) will only apply:

(a) when the first operation is performed; and

(b) if no operation of the same nature is performed for more than a year, when the next operation is performed (the next operation being deemed the first in a new series of operations).

[Note: regulation 5(2) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: recital 16 and article 1(2) of the Distance Marketing Directive]

(2) In this section:

(a) "initial service agreement" includes the opening of a bank account or the making of a credit-token agreement;

(b) "operations" includes the deposit or withdrawal of funds to or from a bank account and payments by a credit card or a store card; and

(c) adding new elements to an initial service agreement, such as the ability to use an electronic payment instrument together with an existing retail banking service, does not constitute an "operation" but an additional contract to which the rules in this chapter apply.

[Note: regulation 5 of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: recital 17 of the Distance Marketing Directive]

Exception: voice telephony communications

2.7.11 R In the case of voice telephony communication, and subject to the explicit consent of the consumer, only the abbreviated distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 2R) needs to be provided during that communication. However, unless another exception applies (such as the exemption for means of distance communication not enabling disclosure), a firm must still provide the distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 1R) in a durable medium that is available and accessible to the consumer in good time before the consumer is bound by any distance contract or offer.
Note: regulation 7(4)(b) of SI 2004/2095

Note: articles 3(3)(b) and 5(1) of the Distance Marketing Directive

Exception: means of distance communication not enabling disclosure

2.7.12 R A firm may provide the distance marketing information (CONC 2 Annex 1R) and the contractual terms and conditions in a durable medium immediately after the conclusion of a distance contract, if the contract has been concluded at a consumer's request using a means of distance communication that does not enable the provision of that information in that form in good time before the consumer is bound by any distance contract or offer.

Note: article 5(2) of the Distance Marketing Directive

Exception: contracts for payment services

2.7.13 G Where a distance contract covers both payment services and non-payment services, the exception in CONC 2.7.2R(2) applies only to the payment services aspects of the contract. A firm taking advantage of this exception will need to comply with the information requirements in Part 5 of the Payment Services Regulations.

Consumer’s right to request paper copies and change the means of communication

2.7.14 R At any time during the contractual relationship, the consumer is entitled, at request, to receive the contractual terms and conditions on paper. The consumer is also entitled to change the means of distance communication used unless this is incompatible with the contract concluded or the nature of the service provided.

Note: regulation 8(2) and (4) of SI 2004/2095

Note: article 5(3) of the Distance Marketing Directive

Unsolicited services

2.7.15 R (1) A firm must not enforce, or seek to enforce, any obligations under a distance contract against a consumer in the event of an unsolicited supply of services. The absence of a reply does not constitute consent.

(2) This rule does not apply to the tacit renewal of a distance contract.

Note: regulation 15 of SI 2004/2095

Note: article 9 of the Distance Marketing Directive

Mandatory nature of consumer’s right

2.7.16 R If a consumer purports to waive any of the consumer's rights created or implied by the rules in this section, a firm must not accept that waiver, nor seek to rely on or enforce it against the consumer.
Contracts governed by law of a third party state

2.7.17 R If a firm proposes to enter into a distance contract with a consumer that will be governed by the law of a country outside the EEA, the firm must ensure that the consumer will not lose the protection created by the rules in this section if the distance contract has a close link with the territory of one or more EEA States.

[Note: regulation 16(3) of SI 2004/2095]

[Note: articles 12 and 16 of the Distance Marketing Directive]

2.8 E-commerce

Application

2.8.1 R This section applies to a firm carrying on an electronic commerce activity from an establishment in the UK with or for a person in the UK or another EEA State.

Information about the firm and its products or services

2.8.2 R A firm must make at least the following information easily, directly and permanently accessible to the recipients of the information society services it provides:

(1) its name;

(2) the geographic address at which it is established;

(3) the details of the firm, including its e-mail address, which allow it to be contacted rapidly and communicated with in a direct and effective manner;

(4) an appropriate statutory status disclosure statement (GEN 4 Annex 1R), together with a statement which explains that it is on the Financial Services Register and includes its firm reference number;

(5) if it is a professional firm, or a person regulated by the equivalent of a designated professional body in another EEA State:

(a) the name of the professional body (including any designated professional body) or similar institution with which it is registered;

(b) the professional title and the EEA State where it was granted;

(c) a reference to the applicable professional rules in the EEA
State of establishment and the means to access them; and

(d) where the firm undertakes an activity that is subject to VAT, its VAT number.

[Note: article 5(1) of the E-Commerce Directive]

2.8.3 R If a firm refers to price, it must do so clearly and unambiguously, indicating whether the price is inclusive of tax and delivery costs.

[Note: article 5(2) of the E-Commerce Directive]

2.8.4 R A firm must ensure that commercial communications which are part of, or constitute, an information society service, comply with the following conditions:

1. the commercial communication must be clearly identifiable as such;
2. the person on whose behalf the commercial communication is made must be clearly identifiable;
3. promotional offers must be clearly identifiable as such, and the conditions that must be met to qualify for them must be easily accessible and presented clearly and unambiguously; and
4. promotional competitions or games must be clearly identifiable as such, and the conditions for participation must be easily accessible and presented clearly and unambiguously.

[Note: article 6 of the E-Commerce Directive]

2.8.5 R An unsolicited commercial communication sent by e-mail by a firm established in the UK must be identifiable clearly and unambiguously as an unsolicited commercial communication as soon as it is received by the recipient.

[Note: article 7(1) of the E-Commerce Directive]

Requirements relating to the placing and receipt of orders

2.8.6 R A firm must (except when otherwise agreed by parties who are not consumers):

1. give an ECA recipient at least the following information, clearly, comprehensibly and unambiguously, and prior to the order being placed by the recipient of the service:
   a. the different technical steps to follow to conclude the contract;
   b. whether or not the concluded contract will be filled in by the firm and whether it will be accessible;
(c) the technical means for identifying and correcting input errors prior to the placing of the order; and

(d) the languages offered for the conclusion of the contract;

(2) indicate any relevant codes of conduct to which it subscribes and information on how those codes can be consulted electronically;

(3) (when an ECA recipient places an order through technological means) acknowledge the receipt of the recipient's order without undue delay and by electronic means; and

(4) make available to the ECA recipient appropriate, effective and accessible technical means allowing the recipient to identify and correct input errors prior to the placing of an order.

[Note: articles 10(1) and 11(1) and (2) of the E-Commerce Directive]

2.8.7 R For the purposes of CONC 2.8.6R(3), an order and an acknowledgement of receipt are deemed to be received when the parties to whom they are addressed are able to access them.

2.8.8 R Contractual terms and conditions provided by a firm to an ECA recipient must be made available in a way that allows the recipient to store and reproduce them.

[Note: article 10(3) of the E-Commerce Directive]

Exception: contract concluded by e-mail

2.8.9 R The requirements relating to the placing and receipt of orders (CONC 2.8.6R) do not apply to contracts concluded exclusively by exchange of e-mail or by equivalent individual communications.

[Note: articles 10(4) and 11(3) of the E-Commerce Directive]

2.9 Prohibition of unsolicited credit tokens

Application

2.9.1 R This section applies to any firm.

Prohibition

2.9.2 R (1) A firm must not give a person a credit token if he has not asked for it. [Note: section 51 of CCA]

(2) A request in (1) must be in a document signed by the person making the request, unless the credit-token agreement is a small borrower-lender-supplier agreement.

(3) Paragraph (1) does not apply to the giving of a credit token to a person:

(a) for use under a credit-token agreement already made; or

(b) in renewal or replacement of a credit token previously accepted by that person under a credit-token agreement which continues in force, whether or not not varied.

2.9.3 G Section 51 of the CCA was repealed by article 20(15) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities)(Amendment)(No 2) Order 2013 (SI 2013/1881). However, section 51 is saved for the purposes of regulation 52 of the Payment Services Regulations, the effect being that the section continues to apply in relation to a regulated credit agreement in place of regulation 58(1)(b) of the Payment Services Regulations.

2.10 Mental capacity guidance

Application

2.10.1 G This section applies:

(1) to a firm;

(2) in relation to the following decisions:

(a) granting credit under a regulated credit agreement;

(b) significantly increasing the amount of credit under a regulated credit agreement; and

(c) setting a credit limit for running account credit.

2.10.2 G (1) The Mental Capacity Act 2005 sets out the legal framework concerning mental capacity for England and Wales. The Ministry of Justice has issued the Mental Capacity Act Code of Practice which, among other things, includes information on indications of mental capacity limitations and on how to assist people with making decisions.

(2) The Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000 provides the framework in Scotland for safeguarding the welfare and managing the finances of adults who lack capacity due to mental disorder or inability to communicate.

(3) References in this section to a firm’s knowledge, understanding, observation, suspicion, assumption or belief includes that of the firm’s employees, appointed representatives, agents and any others... who act on behalf of the firm.

[Note: footnote 2 of MCG]

(4) In making a decision within CONC 2.10.1G, a firm should consider the customer’s individual circumstances.

[Note: paragraph 2.4 of MCG]

Mental capacity

2.10.3 G Mental capacity is a person's ability to make a decision. Whether or not a customer has the ability to understand, remember, and weigh up relevant information will determine whether the customer is able to make a responsible borrowing decision based on that information.

[Note: paragraph 2.1 of MCG]

2.10.4 G A firm should assume a customer has mental capacity at the time the decision has to be made, unless the firm knows, or is told by a person it reasonably believes should know, or reasonably suspects, that the customer lacks capacity.

[Note: paragraph 3.1 of MCG]

2.10.5 G Where a firm reasonably suspects a customer has, or may have, some form of mental capacity limitation which would constrain the customer’s ability to make a decision to borrow, the firm should not regard the customer as lacking capacity to make the decision unless the firm has taken reasonable steps without success to assist the customer to make a decision.

[Note: paragraph 3.2 of MCG]

2.10.6 G Amongst the most common potential causes of mental capacity limitations are the following examples, a mental health condition, dementia, a learning disability, a developmental disorder, a neurological disability or brain injury and alcohol or drug (including prescribed drugs) induced intoxication.

[Note: paragraph 2.9 of MCG]

2.10.7 G Where a firm understands or reasonably suspects a customer has a condition of a type in CONC 2.10.6G, this does not necessarily mean that the customer does not have the mental capacity to make an informed borrowing decision. See also CONC 2.10.15G.

[Note: paragraph 2.10 of MCG]

Indications that a person may have some form of mental capacity limitation

2.10.8 G A firm is likely to have reasonable grounds to suspect a customer may have some form of mental capacity limitation if the firm observes a specific indication (behavioural or otherwise) that could be indicative of some form of limitation of the customer’s mental capacity. Examples (amongst others) of indications might include:
(1) where a firm has an existing relationship with a customer, the customer making a decision that appears to the firm to be unexpected or out of character;

(2) a person who is likely to have an informed view of the matter, such as a relative, close friend, carer or clinician raising a concern with the firm as to the capacity of the customer to make a decision about borrowing;

(3) the firm understands or has reason to believe the customer has been diagnosed as having an impairment which led to the customer not having had mental capacity for similar decisions in the past;

(4) the firm understands or has reason to believe the customer does not understand what the customer is applying for;

(5) the firm understands or has reason to believe the customer is unable to understand the information and explanations provided by the firm, in particular concerning the key risks of entering into the agreement;

(6) the firm understands or has reason to believe the customer is unable to retain information and explanations provided by the firm to enable the customer to make the decision to borrow;

(7) the firm understands or has reason to believe the customer is unable to weigh up the information and explanations provided by the firm to enable the customer to make the decision to borrow;

(8) the customer is unable to communicate a decision to borrow by any reasonable means;

(9) the customer being confused about the personal information that the firm requires, such as date of birth or address.

[Note: paragraphs 3.14 and 3.15 of MCG]

Practices and procedures

2.10.9 G (1) A firm should not unfairly discriminate against a customer who it understands, or reasonably suspects, has a mental capacity limitation, in particular, by inappropriately denying the customer access to credit. [Note: paragraph 4.8 of MCG]

(2) It would not be inappropriate not to grant credit nor significantly increase the amount of credit under an agreement nor set a credit limit for running account credit where the firm reasonably believes the agreement or decision would be voidable at the instance of the customer or the agreement is void.

2.10.10 G (1) In accordance with Principle 6, firms should take reasonable steps to ensure they have suitable business practices and procedures in place. for the fair treatment of customers who they understand, or reasonably suspect, have or may have a mental capacity limitation.
[Note: paragraph 4.1 of MCG]

(2) \textit{CONC 7.2.1R} require firms to establish and implement arrears policies and procedures, which include policies and procedures for the fair and appropriate treatment of customers the firm understands or reasonably suspects of having mental capacity limitations.

2.10.11 G A firm should document practices and procedures to set out the steps that it takes when it receives applications for credit from such customers.
[Note: paragraph 4.2 of MCG]

2.10.12 G Where a firm understands, or reasonably suspects, a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation the firm should use its business practices and procedures to:

(1) assist the customer, where possible, to make an informed borrowing decision; and

(2) ensure its lending decision is informed and responsible in the circumstances and mitigates the potential risks to the customer.
[Note: paragraphs 4.3 and 4.5 of MCG]

2.10.13 G As stated in the Mental Capacity Act Code of Practice, it is important to balance a person's right to make a decision with that person’s right to safety and protection when they are unable to make decisions to protect themselves.
[Note: paragraph 4.5 (box) of MCG]

2.10.14 G Firms should present clear, jargon-free information in explaining credit agreements in a way that makes it as easy as possible for the customer to understand. Firms should consider ways to present information in alternative, more 'user-friendly' formats where it appears appropriate to do so, subject to compliance with the relevant statutory requirements.
[Note: paragraph 4.20 of MCG]

2.10.15 G Where a firm knows, or reasonably suspects, that a customer has or may have one of the conditions in \textit{CONC 2.10.6G} this could justifiably act as a trigger for the firm to consider the potential specific steps in giving effect to the firm’s practices and procedures for assessing:

(1) whether or not the customer appears able to understand, remember, and weigh up the information and explanations provided and, when having done so, make an informed borrowing decision;

(2) whether the customer appears able to afford to make repayments under the credit agreement in a sustainable manner without adverse consequences to the customer’s financial circumstances; and whether the credit the customer is seeking is clearly unsuitable (given the customer’s individual circumstances and, to the extent that the firm is aware, the customer’s intended use of the credit).

[Note: paragraphs 2.5 and 2.11 of MCG]

Firms’ practices and procedures should be designed to assist customers that firms understand have, or reasonably suspect of having, mental capacity limitations to overcome, to the extent possible, the effect of the limitations and place them, to the extent possible, on an equivalent basis to customers who do not have such limitations, to increase the likelihood of customers being able to make informed borrowing decisions.

[Note: paragraph 4.4 of MCG]

Allowing sufficient time for decisions

Where a firm understands, or reasonably suspects, a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation it should consider allowing the customer:

1. sufficient time in the circumstances to weigh up the information and explanations the firm has given;

2. sufficient time in the circumstances to make an informed borrowing decision;

3. to defer a decision to borrow to a later date.

[Note: paragraphs 4.26, 4.27 and 4.28 of MCG]

Sustainability of borrowing

Where a firm understands, or reasonably suspects, a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation it should apply a high level of scrutiny to the customer’s application for credit, in order to mitigate the risk of the customer entering into unsustainable borrowing (see CONC 5.2 and 5.3).

[Note: paragraphs 4.32 and 4.33 of MCG]

A firm should balance the risk of a customer taking on unsustainable borrowing against inappropriately or unnecessarily denying credit to a customer.

Where a firm understands or reasonably suspects a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation, it should undertake an appropriate and effective creditworthiness assessment or assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) and it would be appropriate not to place over-reliance on information provided by the customer for the assessment.

[Note: paragraph 4.34 of MCG]
Where a firm understands, or reasonably suspects, a customer has or may have a mental capacity limitation the firm should take particular care that the customer is not provided with credit which the firm knows, or reasonably believes, to be unsuitable to the customer’s needs, even where the credit would be affordable.

[Note: paragraph 4.43 of MCG]

3 Financial promotions and communications with customers

3.1 Application

Who? What?

3.1.1 R This chapter, unless a rule in CONC 3 specifies differently, applies to a firm.

3.1.2 G Under section 39(3) of the Act, a firm is responsible for financial promotions communicated by its appointed representatives when acting as such.

3.1.3 R This chapter, unless a rule in CONC 3 specifies differently, applies to:

(1) a communication with a customer in relation to a credit agreement;
(2) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion in relation to a credit agreement;

(3) a communication with a customer in relation to credit broking;

(4) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion in relation to credit broking;

(5) a communication with a borrower or a prospective borrower in relation to operating an electronic system in relation to lending; and

(6) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion to a borrower or a prospective borrower in relation to operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

3.1.4 The clear fair and not misleading rule in CONC 3.3.1R and the general requirements rule in CONC 3.3.2R and the guidance in CONC 3.3.5G to 3.3.11G also, unless a rule or guidance in those paragraphs specifies differently, apply to:

(1) a communication with a customer in relation to debt counselling or debt adjusting; and

(2) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion in relation to debt counselling or debt adjusting.

3.1.5 CONC 3.3.1R also applies to:

(1) a communication with a customer in relation to a consumer hire agreement;

(2) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion in relation to a consumer hire agreement; and

(3) a communication with a customer in relation to providing credit information services.

3.1.6 CONC 3 does not apply to:

(1) a financial promotion or a communication which expressly or by implication indicates clearly that it is solely promoting credit agreements or consumer hire agreements or P2P agreements for the purposes in each case of a customer’s business;

(2) a financial promotion or a communication to the extent that it relates to qualifying credit; or

(3) an excluded communication.

3.1.7 (1) CONC 3 does not apply (apart from the provisions in (2)) to a financial promotion or communication that consists of only one or more of the following:

(a) the name of the firm (or its appointed representative);
(b) a logo;
(c) a contact point (address (including e-mail address), telephone, facsimile number and website address);
(d) a brief, factual description of the type of product or service provided by the firm.

(2) The provisions in CONC 3 which apply to a financial promotion or communication which falls within (1) are:

(a) CONC 3.1, 3.5.1R and 3.6.1R (application);
(b) CONC 3.3.1R (clear, fair and not misleading);
(c) CONC 3.3.3R (credit regardless of status);
(d) CONC 3.5.3R, 3.5.5R, 3.6.6R (requirement for representative example or typical APR etc);
(e) CONC 3.5.7R (other financial promotions requiring a representative APR);
(f) CONC 3.5.12R (restricted expressions) and 3.6.8R (restricted expressions); and
(g) any other rules in CONC which are necessary or expedient to apply the rules in (a) to (f).

3.1.8  G CONC 3.1.7R(1) does not enable detailed information to be given about credit available from the firm. Firms should note that the image advertising exclusion in CONC 3.1.7R(1) is subject to compliance with the rules specified in (2), including the rules which require the inclusion of a representative APR in specified circumstances. A name or logo may trigger the requirement to include a representative APR. Firms should not include any information not referred to in CONC 3.1.7R(1) and should avoid the use of names, logos or addresses, for example, which attempt to convey additional product or cost-related information.

Where?

3.1.9  R This chapter applies to a firm in relation to:

(1) a communication with, or the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion to, a person in the UK;
(2) the communication of an unsolicited real time financial promotion, unless it is made from a place, and for the purposes of a business which is only carried on, outside the UK; and

(3) the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion that is an electronic commerce communication to a person in an EEA State other than in the UK; and for the purposes of the application of this chapter, it is immaterial whether the credit agreement or the consumer hire agreement to which the financial promotion or communication relates is subject to the law of a country outside the UK.

3.2 Financial promotion general guidance

3.2.1 The rules in this chapter adopt various concepts from the restriction on financial promotions by unauthorised persons in section 21(1) of the Act (Restrictions on financial promotion). Guidance on that restriction and the communications which are exempt from it is contained in PERG 8 (Financial promotion and related activities) and that guidance will be relevant to interpreting these rules. In particular, guidance on the meaning of:

(1) 'communicate' is in PERG 8.6 (Communicate); and

(2) 'invitation or inducement' and 'engage in investment activity' (two elements which, with 'communicate', make up the definition of 'financial promotion') is in PERG 8.4 (Invitation or inducement).

3.2.2 The Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003 apply to unsolicited telephone calls, fax messages and electronic mail messages for direct marketing purposes. The Information Commissioner’s Office has produced guidance on the Regulations.

3.3 The clear fair and not misleading rule and general requirements

3.3.1 A firm must ensure that a communication or a financial promotion is clear, fair, and not misleading.

[Note: paragraphs 2.2 of ILG, 3.16 of DMG and 3.1 of CBG]

(2) If, for a particular communication or financial promotion, a firm takes reasonable steps to ensure it complies with (1), a contravention does not give rise to a right of action under section 138D of the Act.

General requirements

3.3.2 A firm must ensure that a communication or a financial promotion:

(1) uses plain and intelligible language;
is easily legible (or, in the case of any information given orally, clearly audible);

(3) specifies the name of the person making the communication or communicating the financial promotion or the person on whose behalf the financial promotion is made; and

(4) in the case of a communication or financial promotion in relation to credit broking, indicates to the customer the identity of the lender (where it is known).

[Note: regulation 3 of CCAR 2004 and regulation 3 of CCAR 2010]

3.3.3 R A firm must not in a financial promotion or a communication to a customer suggest or state, expressly or by implication, that credit is available regardless of the customer’s financial circumstances or status.

[Note: paragraphs 3.7o of CBG and 5.2 of ILG]

3.3.4 G (1) A firm’s trading name, internet address or logo, in particular, could fall within CONC 3.3.3R.

[Note: paragraph 5.2 (box) of ILG]

(2) If credit is described as pre-approved, in accordance with CONC 3.5.12R the provision of the credit should be free of any conditions regarding the customer’s credit status, and the lender or, in relation to a P2P agreement the operator of an electronic system in relation to lending, should have carried out the required assessment under CONC 5.

Guidance on clear, fair and not misleading

3.3.5 G A firm should ensure that each communication and each financial promotion:

(1) is accurate and, in particular, should not emphasise any potential benefits of a product or service without also giving a fair and prominent indication of any relevant risks;

(2) is sufficient for, and presented in a way that is likely to be understood by, the average member of the group to whom it is directed, or by whom it is likely to be received;

(3) does not disguise, diminish or obscure important information, statements or warnings; and

(4) is clearly identifiable as such.

[Note: in relation to identifying marketing material as such, paragraphs 3.7p of CBG and 3.18q of DMG]
3.3.6 G If a communication or a financial promotion names the FCA, PRA or both as the regulator of a firm and refers to matters not regulated by the FCA, PRA or both, the firm should ensure that the communication or financial promotion makes clear that those matters are not regulated by the FCA, PRA or both.

3.3.7 G When communicating information, a firm should consider whether omission of any relevant fact will result in information given to the customer being insufficient, unclear, unfair or misleading.

3.3.8 G If a communication or a financial promotion compares a product or service with one or more other products (whether or not provided by the firm), the firm should ensure that the comparison is meaningful and presented in a fair and balanced way.

3.3.9 G A firm should in a financial promotion or other communication which includes a premium rate telephone number indicate in a prominent way the likely total cost of a premium rate call including the price per minute of a call, the likely duration of calls and the total cost a customer would incur if the customer calls for the full estimated duration.

[Note: paragraphs 3.9h of CBG and 3.18x (box) of DMG]

Unfair business practices: financial promotions and communications

3.3.10 G Examples of practices that are likely to contravene the clear, fair and not misleading rule in CONC 3.3.1R include:

(1) stating or implying that a firm is a lender (where this is not the case);
[Note: paragraph 3.7e (box) of CBG]

(2) misleading a customer as to the availability of a particular credit product;
[Note: paragraph 3.9p of CBG]

(3) concealing or misrepresenting the identity or name of the firm;
[Note: paragraph 3.7g (box) of CBG]

(4) using false testimonials, endorsements or case studies;
[Note: paragraph 3.18s of DMG]

(5) using false or unsubstantiated claims as to the firm’s size or experience or pre-eminence;
[Note: paragraph 3.18t of DMG]

(6) in relation to debt solutions, claiming or implying that a customer will be free of debt in a specified period of time or making statements emphasising a debt-free life or that a debt solution is a stress free or immediate solution;
(7) providing online tools, which recommend a particular debt solution as suitable for a customer, such as, budget calculators or advice websites:

(a) which do not carry out a sufficiently full assessment of a customer’s financial position; or

(b) which fail to provide clear warnings to a customer that financial data entered into a tool has to be accurate;

(8) emphasising any savings available to a customer by proposing to reschedule a customer’s debts, without explaining that a lender is not obliged to accept less in settlement of the customer’s debts than it is entitled to, nor to freeze interest and charges and that the result may be to increase the total amount payable or the period over which it is to be paid and to impair the customer’s credit rating;

(9) suggesting that a customer’s repayments will be lower under a proposed agreement without also mentioning (where applicable) that the duration of the agreement will be longer or that the total amount payable will be higher.

Guidance on misleading introductions

3.3.11 G Misleading a customer as to the availability of a particular credit product is likely to include stating or implying that the firm will introduce the customer to a provider of a standard personal loan based on repayment by instalments or of an overdraft facility on a current account (for example, a bank or building society) or of a credit card, but instead introducing the customer to a provider of high-cost short-term credit.

[Note: paragraph 3.9p (box) of CBG]

3.4 Risk warning for high-cost short-term credit

Risk warnings

3.4.1 R (1) A firm must not communicate or approve for communication a financial promotion in relation to high-cost short-term credit, unless it contains the following risk warning:

“Warning: Late repayment can cause you serious money problems. For help, go to moneyadviceservice.org.uk”.
(2) The risk warning in (1) must be included in a financial promotion contained in an electronic communication unless by reason of the limited space available on the medium in question it is not reasonably practicable to include the warning.

(3) Instead of the website address in paragraph (1), a firm may include the Money Advice Service’s logo registered community trade mark number EU009695909.

(4) The risk warning must be included in a financial promotion in a prominent way.

3.5 Financial promotions about credit agreements not secured on land

Application

3.5.1 R This section applies:

(1) to a financial promotion in relation to consumer credit lending;

(2) to a financial promotion in relation to credit broking in relation to regulated credit agreements;

(3) to a financial promotion in relation to activities specified in article 36A(1)(a) or (c) of the Regulated Activities Order in relation to what would be regulated credit agreements but for a relevant provision, but only where the firm also carries on such activities in relation to regulated credit agreements; and in each case, other than to financial promotions to the extent that they relate to agreements secured on land.

Prohibition on financial promotion where goods etc. not sold for cash

3.5.2 R A financial promotion must not be communicated where it indicates a firm is willing to provide credit under a regulated restricted-use credit agreement relating to goods or services to be supplied by any person, when at the time the financial promotion is communicated, the firm or any supplier under such an agreement does not hold itself out as prepared to sell the goods or provide the services (as the case may be) for cash.

[Note: section 45 of CCA]

Content of financial promotions

3.5.3 R (1) Where a financial promotion includes a rate of interest or an amount relating to the cost of credit whether expressed as a sum of money or a proportion of a specified amount, the financial promotion must also:

(a) include a representative example in accordance with CONC 3.5.5R, and

(b) specify a postal address at which the person making the financial promotion may be contacted.

[Note: regulation 4(1) of CCAR 2010]

(2) Paragraph (1)(a) does not apply where the financial promotion:

(a) falls within CONC 3.5.7R; and

(b) does not indicate a rate of interest or an amount relating to the cost of credit other than the representative APR.

[Note: regulation 4(2) of CCAR 2010]

(3) Paragraph (1)(b) does not apply to financial promotions:

(a) communicated by means of television or radio broadcast; or

(b) in any form on the premises of a dealer or lender, other than financial promotions in writing which customers are intended to take away; or

(c) which include the name and address of a dealer; or

(d) which include the name and postal address of a credit broker.

[Note: regulation 4(1)b of CCAR 2010]

Guidance on showing interest rates and cost of credit

3.5.4 G A rate of interest for the purpose of CONC 3.5.3R(1) is not limited to an annual rate of interest but would include a monthly or daily rate or an APR. It would also include reference to 0% credit. An amount relating to the cost of credit would include the amount of any fee or charge, or any repayment of credit (where it includes interest or other charges).

[Note: paragraph 6.7 of BIS Guidance on regulations implementing the Consumer Credit Directive]

Representative example

3.5.5 R (1) The representative example in CONC 3.5.3R(1) must comprise the following items of information:

(a) the rate of interest, and whether it is fixed or variable or both, expressed as a fixed or variable percentage applied on an annual basis to the amount of credit drawn down;

(b) the nature and amount of any other charge included in the total charge for credit;

(c) the total amount of credit;

(d) the representative APR;

(e) in the case of credit in the form of a deferred payment for specific goods, services, land or other things, the cash price and the amount of any advance payment;

(f) the duration of the agreement;

(g) the total amount payable; and

(h) the amount of each repayment of credit.

[Note: regulation 5(1) of CCAR 2010]

[Note: article 4 of the Consumer Credit Directive]

(2) The items of information required by (1)(a), (b), (c), (e), (f) and (g) must be those which the firm communicating or approving the financial promotion reasonably expects at the date on which the financial promotion is made to be representative of credit agreements to which the representative APR applies and which are expected to be entered into as a result of the promotion.

[Note: regulation 5(2) of CCAR 2010]

(3) For (1)(e), the reference in (2) to “credit agreements to which the representative APR applies” is to agreements providing credit for the purchase of specific goods, services, land or other things, to which the representative APR applies.

[Note: regulation 5(3) of CCAR 2010]

(4) For the purposes of (1)(a), where the credit agreement provides for different ways of drawdown with different rates of interest, the rate of interest shall be assumed to be the highest rate applied to the most common drawdown mechanism for the product to which the agreement relates.

[Note: regulation 5(4) of CCAR 2010]

(5) The information required by (1) must be:

(a) specified in a clear and concise way;

(b) accompanied by the words “representative example”;

(c) presented together with each item of information being given equal prominence; and

(d) given greater prominence than:

(i) any other information relating to the cost of credit in the financial promotion, except for any statement relating to an obligation to enter into a contract for an ancillary service referred to in CONC 3.5.10R; and

(ii) any indication or incentive of a kind referred to in CONC 3.5.7R.

[Note: regulation 5(6) of CCAR 2010]

(6) A financial promotion for a credit agreement with no fixed duration is not required to include the duration of the agreement or the total amount payable or the amount of each repayment of credit.

[Note: regulation 5(1)f of CCAR 2010]

(7) A financial promotion for an authorised non-business overdraft agreement is not required to include a representative APR.

[Note: regulation 5(5) of CCAR 2010]

Guidance on the representative example

3.5.6 G (1) The representative example in CONC 3.5.5R should not be limited to being representative of agreements featured in the financial promotion if the firm communicating or approving the financial promotion expects other agreements to be entered into as a result of the financial promotion, whether with the firm or with a third party.

[Note: paragraph 6.8 of BIS Guidance on regulations implementing the Consumer Credit Directive]

(2) Where the agreement provides for compounding, the rate of interest in CONC 3.5.5R(1) should generally be the effective annual interest rate and lenders should use the same assumptions to calculate this interest rate as they do for the APR; the assumptions set out in CONC App 1.2. If a firm uses a different rate to calculate the rate of interest in CONC 3.5.5R(1) it must clearly explain this to the customer, so that the customer is clear whether and to what extent the rate used is comparable with rates shown by other lenders.

[Note: paragraph 6.13 of BIS Guidance on regulations implementing the Consumer Credit Directive]

(3) If a rate of interest or a charge applies for only a limited period, the duration of the period and the rate or amount following that period, if known or ascertainable, should be shown.

[Note: paragraph 6.13 of BIS Guidance on regulations implementing the Consumer Credit Directive]
(4) For charges other than interest which are included in the total charge for credit, the financial promotion should in each case make clear the nature of the charge and the amount of the charge if ascertainable or a reasonable estimate of the charge, making clear in that case it is an estimate.

[Note: paragraph 6.13 of BIS Guidance on regulations implementing the Consumer Credit Directive]

(5) The total amount of credit equates to the sum available to the customer to use and does not include charges which are financed by the credit agreement; those are part of the total charge for credit.

(6) For showing the cash price, the total cash price of all items should be shown, together with the price of each item individually.

Other financial promotions requiring a representative APR

3.5.7 R (1) A financial promotion must include the representative APR if it:

(a) indicates in any way, including by means of the name given to the business or the product or of an address used by a business for the purposes of electronic communication, that:

(i) credit is available to persons who might otherwise consider their access to credit restricted; or

(ii) any of the terms on which credit is available is more favourable (either for a limited period or generally) than corresponding terms applied in any other case or by any other lenders; or

(iii) the way in which the credit is offered is more favourable (either for a limited period or generally) than corresponding ways used in any other case or by any other lenders; or

[Note: regulation 6 of CCAR 2010]

(b) includes an incentive (including but not limited to gifts, special offers, discounts and rewards) to apply for credit or to enter into an agreement under which credit is provided;

(c) includes an incentive (in the form of a statement about the speed or ease of processing, considering or granting an application, or of making funds available) to apply for credit or to enter into an agreement under which credit is provided.

(2) The representative APR must be given greater prominence than any indication or incentive in (1).
(3) This rule does not apply to a financial promotion for an authorised non-business overdraft agreement.

3.5.8 G Whether or not a reference to speed or ease in CONC 3.5.7R(1)(c) constitutes an incentive to apply for credit or enter into an agreement under which credit is provided would depend upon the circumstances, including whether it is likely to persuade or influence a customer to take those steps or is merely a factual statement about the product or service.

Annual percentage rate of charge

3.5.9 R In a financial promotion:

(1) an APR must be shown as “%APR”;

(2) where an APR is subject to change it must be accompanied by the word “variable”, and

(3) the representative APR must be accompanied by the word “representative”.

[Note: regulation 7 of CCAR 2010]

Ancillary services

3.5.10 R (1) A financial promotion must include a clear and concise statement in respect of any obligation to enter into a contract for an ancillary service where:

(a) the conclusion of that contract is compulsory in order to obtain the credit or to obtain it on the terms and conditions promoted; and

(b) the cost of that ancillary service cannot be determined in advance.

[Note: regulation 8 of CCAR 2010]

(2) The statement in (1) must:

(a) be no less prominent than any information in CONC 3.5.5R(1) included in the financial promotion; and

(b) be presented together with any representative APR included in the financial promotion.

(3) This rule does not apply to a financial promotion for an authorised non-business overdraft agreement.

Security

3.5.11 R Where a financial promotion concerns a facility for which security is or may be required, the promotion must:

(1) state that security is or may be required; and
(2) specify the nature of the security.

[Note: regulation 9 of CCAR 2010]

Restricted expressions

3.5.12 R (1) A financial promotion must not include:

(a) the word “overdraft” or any similar expression as describing any agreement for running-account credit, except where an agreement enables a customer to overdraw on a current account;

(b) the expression “interest free” or any similar expression indicating that a customer is liable to pay no greater amount in respect of a transaction financed by credit than he would be liable to pay as a cash purchaser for the like transaction, except where the total amount payable does not exceed the cash price;

(c) the expression “no deposit” or any similar expression, except where no advance payments are to be made;

(d) the expression “loan guaranteed”, “pre-approved” or “no credit checks” or any similar expression, except where the agreement is free of any conditions regarding the credit status of the customer; or

(e) the expression “gift”, “present” or any similar expression, except where there are no conditions which would require the customer to repay the credit or to return the item that is the subject of the claim.

[Note: regulation 10 of CCAR 2010]

(2) A financial promotion must not include for a repayment of credit the expression “weekly equivalent” or any expression to like effect or any expression of any other periodical equivalent, unless weekly repayments or the other periodical payments are provided for under the agreement.

(3) In this rule, “cash purchaser” means a person who, for money consideration, acquires goods, land or other things or is provided with services under a transaction which is not financed by credit.

Total charge for credit and APR

3.5.13 R (1) Where a financial promotion is about running-account credit and the credit limit applicable is not yet known on the date the financial promotion is made, but it is known that it will be less than £1,200, the credit limit must be assumed to be an amount equal to that maximum limit.

[Note: paragraph 1 of schedule to CCAR 2010]

(2) The assumption in (1) applies in place of the assumption in CONC App 1.2.5R for the purpose of calculating the total charge for credit.

Total charge for credit and APR: tolerances for APR

(3) For a financial promotion, it is sufficient to show an APR if there is included in the promotion:

(a) a rate which exceeds the APR by not more than one; or

(b) a rate which falls short of the APR by not more than 0.1; or

(c) where applicable, a rate determined in accordance with (4) or (5).

[Note: paragraph 2 of schedule to CCAR 2010]

Total charge for credit and APR: tolerance where repayments are nearly equal

(4) Where an agreement under which all repayments but one are equal and that one repayment does not differ from any other repayment by more whole pence than there are repayments of credit, there may be included in a financial promotion about the agreement a rate found under CONC App 1.2.4R as if that one repayment were equal to the other repayments to be made under the agreement.

[Note: paragraph 3 of schedule to CCAR 2010]

Total charge for credit and APR: tolerance regarding interval between relevant date and first repayment

(5) Where a credit agreement provides that:

(a) three or more repayments are to be made at equal intervals; and

(b) the interval between the relevant date and the first repayment is greater than the interval between the repayments;

a financial promotion about the agreement may include a rate found under CONC App 1.2.4R as if the interval between the relevant date and the first repayment were shortened so as to be equal to the interval between the repayments.

[Note: paragraph 4 of schedule to CCAR 2010]
(6) The relevant date in (5) is:

(a) where a date on which the customer is entitled to require provision of the subject of a credit agreement is specified in or can be determined from the agreement, the earliest such date;

(b) in any other case, the date of making the agreement.

3.6 Financial promotions about credit agreements secured on land

Application

3.6.1 R This section applies:

(1) to a financial promotion in relation to consumer credit lending in relation to regulated credit agreements secured on land; and

(2) to a financial promotion in relation to credit broking in relation to regulated credit agreements secured on land; and in both cases other than financial promotions to the extent that they relate to qualifying credit.

Definitions

3.6.2 R In this section, for a financial promotion relating to credit to be provided under a credit agreement “relevant date” means:

(1) in a case where a date is specified in or determinable under the agreement at the date of its making as that on which the customer is entitled to require provision of anything the subject of the agreement, the earliest such date; and

(2) in any other case, the date of the making of the agreement.

Prohibition on financial promotion where goods etc not sold for cash

3.6.3 R A financial promotion must not be communicated where it indicates a firm is willing to provide credit under a regulated restricted-use credit agreement secured on land relating to goods or services to be supplied by any person, when at the time the financial promotion is communicated, the firm or any supplier under such an agreement does not hold itself out as prepared to sell the goods or provide the services (as the case may be) for cash.

[Note: section 45 of CCA4]

Content of financial promotions

3.6.4 R (1) Where a financial promotion includes any of the amounts referred to in (5) to (7) of CONC 3.6.10R the promotion must:

(a) include all the other items of information (other than any item inapplicable to the particular case) listed in CONC 3.6.10R; and

(b) specify a postal address at which the person making the promotion may be contacted, except in the case of a financial promotion:

(i) communicated by means of television or radio broadcast;

(ii) in any form on the premises of a lender or dealer (other than a financial promotion in writing which customers are intended to take away);

(iii) which includes the name and address of a dealer; or

(iv) which includes the name and a postal address of a credit broker.

[Note: regulation 4(1) of CCAR 2004]

(2) The items of information listed in CONC 3.6.10R must be given equal prominence and must be shown together as a whole.

[Note: regulation 4(2) of CCAR 2004]

(3) Any information in any book, catalogue, leaflet or other document which is likely to vary from time to time must be taken for the purpose of (2) to be shown together as a whole if:

(a) it is set out together as a whole in a separate document issued with the book, catalogue, leaflet or other document;

(b) the other information in the financial promotion is shown together as a whole in the book, catalogue, leaflet or other document; and

(c) the book, catalogue, leaflet or other document identifies the separate document in which the information likely to vary is set out.

[Note: regulation 4(3) of CCAR 2004]

Statements in relation to security

3.6.5 R (1) Where a financial promotion concerns a facility for which security is or may be required, the promotion must:

(a) state that security is or may be required; and
(b) specify the nature of the security.

[Note: regulation 7(1) of CCAR 2004]

(2) Where, in the case of a financial promotion, the security comprises or may comprise a mortgage or charge on the customer’s home:

(a) except where (c) applies, the financial promotion must contain a warning in the form:
   “YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR ANY OTHER DEBT SECURED ON IT”;

(b) where the financial promotion indicates that credit is available for the payment of debts due to other lenders, the warning in (a) must be preceded by the words:
   “THINK CAREFULLY BEFORE SECURING OTHER DEBTS AGAINST YOUR HOME.”

(c) where the credit agreement is or would be an agreement of a kind described in (3), the financial promotion must contain a warning in the form:
   “CHECK THAT THIS MORTGAGE WILL MEET YOUR NEEDS IF YOU WANT TO MOVE OR SELL YOUR HOME OR YOU WANT YOUR FAMILY TO INHERIT IT. IF YOU ARE IN ANY DOUBT, SEEK INDEPENDENT ADVICE”.

[Note: regulation 7(2) of CCAR 2004]

(3) The kinds of agreement in (2)(c) are:

(a) any credit agreement under which no instalment repayments secured by the mortgage on the customer’s home, and no payment of interest on the credit (other than interest charged when all or part of the credit is repaid voluntarily by the customer), are due or capable of becoming due while the customer continues to occupy the mortgaged land as the customer’s main residence; and

(b) any credit agreement:

   (i) which is secured by a mortgage which the lender cannot enforce by taking possession of or selling (or concurring with any other person in selling) the mortgaged land or any part of it while the customer continues to occupy it as the customer’s main residence; and

   (ii) under which, although interest payments may become due, no full or partial repayment of the credit secured by the mortgage is due or capable of becoming due while the customer continues to occupy the mortgaged land as the customer’s main residence.

[Note: regulation 7(3) of CCAR 2004]

(4) Where a financial promotion is for a mortgage or other loan secured on property and repayments are to be made in a currency other than sterling, the financial promotion must contain a warning in the form: “CHANGES IN THE EXCHANGE RATE MAY INCREASE THE STERLING EQUIVALENT OF YOUR DEBT”.

[Note: regulation 7(4) of CCAR 2004]

(5) The warnings provided for in (2) and (4):

(a) must be given greater prominence in a financial promotion than is given to:

(i) any rate of charge other than the typical APR; and

(ii) any indication or incentive of a kind referred to in CONC 3.6.6R(1); and

(b) must be given no less prominence in a financial promotion than is given to any of the items listed in CONC 3.6.10R that appear in the financial promotion.

[Note: regulation 7(6) of CCAR 2004]

(6) Paragraphs (2), (3), (4) and (5) do not apply in the case of a financial promotion which:

(a) is communicated by means of television or radio broadcast in the course of programming the primary purpose of which is not financial promotion; or

(b) is communicated by exhibition of a film (other than exhibition by television broadcast); or

(c) contains only the name of the firm communicating the financial promotion.

[Note: regulation 7(8) of CCAR 2004]

Annual percentage rate of charge

3.6.6 R (1) A financial promotion must specify the typical APR if the promotion:

(a) specifies any other rate of charge;

(b) includes any of the items of information listed in CONC 3.6.10R(5) to (7);
(c) indicates in any way, including by means of the name given to a business or of an address used by a business for the purposes of electronic communication, that:

(i) credit is available to persons who might otherwise consider their access to credit restricted; or

(ii) any of the terms on which credit is available is more favourable (either for a limited period or generally) than corresponding terms applied in any other case or by any other lenders; or

(iii) the way in which the credit is offered is more favourable (either for a limited period or generally) than corresponding ways used in any other case or by any other lenders; or

(d) includes any incentive (including but not limited to, gifts, special offers, discounts and rewards) to apply for credit or to enter into an agreement under which credit is provided;

[Note: regulation 8(1) of CCAR 2004]

(e) includes an incentive (in the form of a statement about the speed or ease of, processing, considering or granting an application or of making funds available) to apply for credit or to enter into an agreement under which credit is provided.

[Note: regulation 8(2) of CCAR 2004]

(2) A financial promotion may not indicate the range of APRs charged where credit is provided otherwise than by specifying, with equal prominence, both:

(a) the APR which the firm communicating or approving the financial promotion reasonably expects, at the date on which the promotion is communicated or approved, would be the lowest APR at which credit would be provided under not less than 10% of the agreements which will be entered into as a result of that promotion; and

(b) the APR which the firm communicating or approving the financial promotion reasonably expects, at that date, would be the highest APR at which credit would be provided under any of the agreements which will be entered into as a result of that promotion.

[Note: regulation 8(2) of CCAR 2004]

(3) An APR must be shown as “%APR”.

[Note: regulation 8(3) of CCAR 2004]

(4) Where an APR is subject to change it must be accompanied by the
The typical APR in a financial promotion must be:

(a) accompanied by the word “typical”;

(b) presented together with any of the items listed in CONC 3.6.10R that are included in the promotion;

(c) given greater prominence in the promotion than:

(i) any other rate of charge;

(ii) any items listed in CONC 3.6.10R; and

(iii) any indication or incentive of a kind referred to in (1); and

(d) in the case of a promotion in printed or electronic form which includes any of the items listed in CONC 3.6.10R, shown in characters at least one and a half times the size of the characters in which those items appear.

In the case of a financial promotion relating to a borrower-lender agreement enabling the customer to overdraw on a current account under which the lender is the Bank of England or an authorised person with permission to accept deposits, there may be substituted for the typical APR a reference to the statement of:

(a) a rate, expressed to be a rate of interest, being a rate determined as the rate of the total charge for credit calculated on the assumption that only interest is included in the total charge for credit, and

(b) the nature and amount of any other charge included in the total charge for credit.

Whether or not a reference to speed or ease in CONC 3.6.6R(1)(e) constitutes an incentive to apply for credit or enter into an agreement under which credit is provided would depend upon the circumstances, including whether it is likely to persuade or influence a customer to take those steps or is merely a factual statement about the product or service.
(a) the word “overdraft” or any similar expression as describing any agreement for running-account credit, except where the agreement enables a customer to overdraw on a current account;

(b) the expression “interest free” or any similar expression indicating that a customer is liable to pay no greater amount in respect of a transaction financed by credit than he would be liable to pay as a cash purchaser for the like transaction, except where the total amount payable by the customer does not exceed the cash price;

(c) the expression “no deposit” or any similar expression, except where no advance payments are to be made;

(d) the expression “loan guaranteed” or “pre-approved” or “no credit checks” or any similar expression, except where the agreement is free of any conditions regarding the credit status of the customer;

(e) the expression “gift”, “present” or any similar expression, except where there are no conditions which would require the customer to repay the credit or return the item that is the subject of the claim.

[Note: regulation 9 of CCAR 2004]

(2) A financial promotion must not include for a repayment of credit the expression “weekly equivalent” or any expression to like effect or any expression of any other periodical equivalent, unless weekly repayments or the other periodical payments are provided for under the agreement.

(3) In this rule “cash purchaser” means a person who for money consideration acquires goods, land or other things or is provided with services, under a transaction which is not financed by credit.

Total charge for credit and any APR: assumptions about running account credit

3.6.9 R (1) In the case of a financial promotion about running-account credit, the following assumptions have effect for the purpose of calculating the total charge for credit and any APR, notwithstanding the terms of the transaction advertised and in place of any assumptions in CONC App 1.1.11R to 1.1.18R that might otherwise apply:

(a) the amount of the credit to be provided must be taken to be £1,500 or, in a case where credit is to be provided subject to a credit limit of less than £1,500, an amount equal to that limit;

(b) it must be assumed that the credit is provided for a period of one year beginning with the relevant date;
(c) it must be assumed that the credit is provided in full on the relevant date;

(d) where the rate of interest will change at a time provided in the transaction within a period of three years beginning with the relevant date, the rate must be taken to be the highest rate at any time obtaining under the transaction in that period;

(e) where the agreement provides credit to finance the purchase of goods, services, land or other things and also provides one or more of:

(i) cash loans;

(ii) credit to refinance existing indebtedness of the customer, whether to the lender or another person; and

(iii) credit for any other purpose;

and either or both different rates of interest and different charges are payable for the credit provided for all or some of these purposes, it must be assumed that the rate of interest and charges payable for the whole of the credit are those applicable to the provision of credit for the purchase of goods, services, land or other things; and

(f) it must be assumed that the credit is repaid:

(i) in twelve equal instalments; and

(ii) at monthly intervals, beginning one month after the relevant date.

[Note: paragraph 1 of schedule 1 to CCAR 2004]

Total charge for credit and any APR: tolerances in disclosure of an APR

(2) For the purposes of CONC 3.6, it is sufficient compliance with the requirement to show an APR if there is included in the financial promotion:

(a) a rate which exceeds the APR by not more than one; or

(b) a rate which falls short of the APR by not more than 0.1; or in a case to which (3) or (4) applies, a rate determined in accordance with those sub-paragraphs or whichever of them applies to that case.

[Note: paragraph 2 of schedule 1 to CCAR 2004]

Total charge for credit and any APR: tolerance where repayments are nearly equal

(3) In the case of an agreement under which all repayments but one are equal and that one repayment does not differ from any other repayment by more whole pence than there are repayments of credit, there may be included in a financial promotion about the agreement a rate found under CONC App 1.1.9R as if that one repayment were equal to the other repayments to be made under the agreement.

[Note: paragraph 3 of schedule 1 to CCAR 2004]

Total charge for credit and any APR: tolerance of interval between relevant date and first repayment

(4) In the case of an agreement under which:

(a) three or more repayments are to be made at equal intervals; and

(b) the interval between the relevant date and the first repayment is greater than the interval between the repayments;

a financial promotion about the agreement may include a rate found under CONC App 1.1.9R as if the interval between the relevant date and the first repayment were shortened so as to be equal to the interval between repayments.

[Note: paragraph 4 of schedule 1 to CCAR 2004]

Information required in a financial promotion

3.6.10 R (1) The amount of credit which may be provided under a credit agreement or an indication of one or both of the maximum amount and the minimum amount of credit which may be provided.

[Note: paragraph 1 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

Deposit of money in an account

(2) A statement of any requirement to place on deposit any sum of money in any account with any person.

[Note: paragraph 2 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

Cash price

(3) In the case of a financial promotion about credit to be provided under a borrower-lender-supplier agreement, where the financial promotion specifies goods, services, land or other things having a particular cash price, the acquisition of which from an identified dealer may be financed by the credit, the cash price of such goods, services, land or other things.

[Note: paragraph 3 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]
Advance payment

(4) A statement as to whether an advance payment is required and, if so, the amount or minimum amount of the payment expressed as a sum of money or a percentage.

[Note: paragraph 4 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

Frequency, number and amount of repayments of credit

(5) (a) In the case of a financial promotion about running-account credit, a statement of the frequency of the repayments of credit under the transaction and of the amount of each repayment stating whether it is a fixed or minimum amount, or a statement indicating the manner in which the amount will be determined.

(b) In the case of other financial promotions, a statement of the frequency, number and amounts of repayments of credit.

(c) The amount of any repayment under this sub-paragraph may be expressed as a sum of money or as a specified proportion of a specified amount (including the amount outstanding from time to time).

[Note: paragraph 5 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

Other payments and charges

(6) (a) Subject to (b) and (c), a statement indicating the description and amount of any other payments and charges which may be payable under the agreement promoted in the financial promotion.

(b) Where the liability of the customer to make any payment cannot be ascertained at the date the financial promotion is communicated, a statement indicating the description of the payment in question and the circumstances in which the liability to make it will arise.

(c) Paragraphs (a) and (b) do not apply to any charge payable under the transaction to the lender or any other person on behalf of the lender upon failure by the customer or a relative of the customer to do or refrain from doing anything which the customer is required to do or refrain from doing, as the case may be.

[Note: paragraph 6 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

Total amount payable by the customer

(7) In the case of a financial promotion about fixed-sum credit to be provided under a credit agreement which is repayable at specified intervals or in specified amounts and other than cases under which the sum of the payments within (a) to (c) is not greater than the cash price referred to in (3), the total amount payable, being the total of:

(a) advance payments;
(b) the amount of credit repayable by the customer, and
(c) the amount of the total charge for credit.

[Note: paragraph 7 of schedule 2 to CCAR 2004]

3.7 Financial promotions and communications: credit brokers

Application

3.7.1 R This section applies to a financial promotion or a communication with a customer in relation to credit broking in relation to a regulated credit agreement.

3.7.2 R CONC 3.7.4G also applies to a financial promotion or a communication with a customer in relation to the activities specified in article 36A(1)(a) or (c) of the Regulated Activities Order in relation to a credit agreement that would be a regulated credit agreement but for the relevant provisions.

Credit brokers’ status

3.7.3 R A firm must, in a financial promotion or a document which is intended for individuals which relates to its credit broking, indicate the extent of its powers and in particular whether it works exclusively with one or more lenders or works independently.

[Note: section 160A(3) of CCA]

[Note: article 21(a) of the Consumer Credit Directive]

3.7.4 G A firm should in a financial promotion or in a communication with a customer:

(1) make clear, to the extent an average customer of the firm would understand, the nature of the service that the firm provides;

[Note: paragraphs 3.7e and 4.8b of CBG]

(2) indicate to the customer in a prominent way the existence of any financial arrangements with a lender that might impact upon the firm’s impartiality in promoting a credit product to a customer;

[Note: paragraphs 2.2, 6th bullet and 4.6 of CBG]

(3) only describe itself as independent if it is able to provide access to a representative range of credit products from the relevant product market on competitive terms and is not constrained in providing such access, for example, because of one or more agreements with lenders; and

[Note: paragraph 4.5 of CBG]

(4) ensure that any disclosure about the extent of its independence is prominent and in accordance with the clear, fair not misleading rule in CONC 3.3.1R, clear and easily comprehensible.

[Note: paragraph 4.6 of CBG]

3.8 Financial promotions and communications: lenders

Application

3.8.1 R This section applies to a financial promotion or a communication with a customer in relation to consumer credit lending.

Unfair business practices

3.8.2 R A firm must not in a financial promotion or a communication with a customer:

1. provide an application for credit with a pre-completed amount of credit which is not based on having carried out a creditworthiness assessment or an assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1); or

   [Note: paragraph 5.3 of ILG]

2. suggest or state, expressly or by implication, that providing credit is dependent solely upon the value of the equity in property on which the agreement is to be secured; or

   [Note: paragraph 5.4 of ILG]

3. promote credit where the firm knows, or has reason to believe, that the agreement would be unsuitable for that customer in the light of the customer’s financial circumstances or, if known, intended use of the credit.

   [Note: paragraph 5.5 of ILG]

3.8.3 G An agreement is likely to be unsuitable for the purposes of CONC 3.8.2R(3) including in the following situations where a firm:

1. promotes, suggests or advises taking out a secured loan or to take out a secured loan to replace or convert an unsecured loan when it is clearly not in that person’s best interests to do so at that time; or

2. promotes, suggests or advises taking out high-cost short-term credit which would be expensive as a means of longer term borrowing, as being suitable for sustained borrowing over a longer period.

[Note: paragraph 5.5 (box) of ILG]

3.8.4 G For the purposes of CONC 3.8.2R(3) the unsuitability of an agreement does not apply to the question of whether a customer should enter into a regulated credit agreement at all.

[Note: paragraph 5.5 (box) of ILG]

3.9 Financial promotions and communications: debt counsellors and debt adjusters

Application

3.9.1 R This section applies to a financial promotion or a communication with a customer in relation to debt counselling and to debt adjusting.

Financial promotions and communications

3.9.2 G (1) The clear, fair and not misleading rule in CONC 3.3.1R applies to a communication with a customer or the communication or approval for communication of a financial promotion in relation to debt counselling or debt adjusting and in relation to a communication with a customer in relation to providing credit information services.

(2) In the light of the complexity of debt counselling, it is unlikely that media which provide restricted space for messages would be a suitable means of making financial promotions about debt solutions.

Contents of financial promotions and communications

3.9.3 R A firm must ensure that a financial promotion or a communication with a customer (to the extent a previous communication to the same customer has not included the following information) includes:

(1) a statement of the services the firm offers;

(2) a statement of any relationship with a business associate which is relevant to the services offered in the promotion;

[Note: paragraph 2.5a of DMG]

(3) a statement setting out the level of fees charged for the firm’s services, how they are calculated, what service they cover and where it is not possible to state an exact amount, a reasonable estimate of the anticipated fees, or the average level of its fees, for the service in question;

[Note: paragraphs 2.5c and 3.18f of DMG]

(4) a statement of whether any aspect of the services is provided by a third party or at extra cost;

[Note: paragraphs 2.5a and 3.18f of DMG]

(5) a statement that a customer may be eligible under the Financial Ombudsman Scheme and referring by a link or otherwise to the information the firm is required to publish under DISP 1.2.1R(1);

[Note: paragraph 2.5b of DMG]

(6) where this is the case, a statement that the firm’s service is profit-seeking;

[Note: paragraphs 2.5c and 3.18a of DMG]

(7) where this is the case, a statement that the firm’s service is offered in return for payment from the customer;

[Note: paragraphs 2.5c and 3.18a of DMG]

(8) other than for a not-for-profit debt advice body, a reference to impartial information and to sources of assistance from not-for-profit debt advice bodies;

[Note: paragraph 2.5d of DMG]

(9) where the financial promotion or communication sets out detail of how a customer might resolve debt problems by explaining options, the most important actual or potential advantages, disadvantages and risk of each option, including those of the debt solution offered by the firm;

[Note: paragraphs 2.5d and 3.18h of DMG]

(10) a statement setting out the likely adverse effect of entering into the debt solution in question on the customer’s credit rating;

[Note: paragraph 3.18g of DMG]

(11) a statement setting out that evidence of entering into an individual voluntary arrangement, a debt relief order or a protected trust deed will be entered on a public register;

[Note: paragraph 3.18g of DMG]

(12) where applicable, a statement setting out that a debt solution is only available in a particular country of the UK;

[Note: paragraph 3.18i of DMG]

(13) where entry into a debt solution with the firm will lead to a period when payments to a customer’s lenders (in whole or in part) are not made or are retained by the firm, a warning of the likelihood of falling into arrears or increasing arrears and an explanation of when distributions would be made to lenders;
[Note: paragraph 3.18n of DMG]

(14) a statement of the risks of entering into an individual voluntary arrangement or a protected trust deed, as the case may be, including of the following risks:

(a) if the arrangement or deed fails, the risk of bankruptcy;

(b) homeowners may need to release equity from the value of their homes to pay off debts, and that a remortgage may attract higher interest rates or, if no remortgage is available, an individual voluntary arrangement may be extended for 12 months;

(c) there are restrictions on the expenditure of a person who enters into an individual voluntary arrangement or a protected trust deed;

(d) the customer’s lenders may not approve the individual voluntary arrangement or the protected trust deed; and

(e) only unsecured debts included within the individual voluntary arrangement or protected trust deed may be discharged at the end of the period and unsecured debts not included remain outstanding; and

[Note: paragraph 3.18o of DMG]

(15) a statement that where another option for dealing with a customer’s debts is available, that another option is available and may be suitable for the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.18r of DMG]

3.9.4 G In CONC 3.9.3R(8) making reference to impartial sources of information should include making customers aware of publications concerning dealing with creditors published by the Insolvency Service (England and Wales), the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (Northern Ireland) or debt advice published by the Scottish Government.

3.9.5 R A financial promotion or a communication with a customer by a firm must not:

(1) falsely claim or imply that the help and debt advice is provided on a free, impartial or independent basis, where the firm has a profit-seeking motive;

[Note: paragraph 3.18b of DMG]

(2) falsely claim in any way that the firm is, or represents, a charitable or not-for-profit body or government or local government organisation;
(3) promote a claims management service (within the meaning of section 4 of the Compensation Act 2006) as a way of managing a customer’s debts;

[Note: paragraph 3.18c of DMG]

(4) claim or imply that the firm can guarantee a favourable outcome in negotiations with a lender concerning the customer’s debts;

[Note: paragraph 3.18k of DMG]

(5) unfairly request, suggest or direct a customer to call the firm using a premium rate telephone number.

[Note: paragraph 3.18m of DMG]

3.9.6 G An example of unfairly directing a customer to a premium rate telephone number may be to direct a person wishing to complain to such a number.

3.9.7 R A firm must not:

(1) unless it is a not-for-profit debt advice body or a person who will provide such services, operate a look-alike website designed to attract customers seeking free, charitable, not-for-profit or governmental or local governmental debt advice; or

[Note: paragraph 3.20a of DMG]

(2) seek to use internet search tools or search engines so as to mislead a customer into visiting its website when the customer is seeking free, charitable, not-for-profit or governmental or local governmental debt advice.

[Note: paragraph 3.20b of DMG]

3.10 Financial promotions not in writing

Application

3.10.1 R This section applies:

(1) to a financial promotion in relation to consumer credit lending, credit broking, debt counselling, debt adjusting, operating an electronic systems in relation to lending in relation to prospective borrowers under P2P agreements;

(2) in relation to the communication of a financial promotion that is not in writing.

Promotions that are not in writing

3.10.2 R A firm must not communicate a solicited or unsolicited financial promotion that is not in writing, to a customer outside the firm's premises, unless the person communicating it:

(1) only does so at an appropriate time of the day; and

(2) identifies that person and the firm represented at the outset and makes clear the purpose of the communication.

[Note: paragraphs 3.9d of CBG and 3.12b of DMG]

3.11 Not approving certain financial promotions

3.11.1 R This section applies to a financial promotion in relation to a credit agreement, credit broking, debt counselling, debt adjusting and operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to prospective borrowers or borrowers under P2P agreements.

Requirement not to approve certain financial promotions

3.11.2 R A firm must not approve a financial promotion to be made in the course of a personal visit, telephone conversation or other interactive dialogue.

3.11.3 G CONC 3.11.2R does not prevent the communication by a firm itself (i.e. a firm with a permission) of a financial promotion. A firm’s approval of a financial promotion concerns approval for the communication of the promotion by an unauthorised person which is prevented by CONC 3.11.2R.

4 Pre-contractual requirements

Interpretation: quotations

4.1.5 R (1) Paragraphs (2) to (5) apply to CONC 4.1.3R and CONC 4.1.4R (rules on content of quotations).

(2) “Quotation” means any document by which a person gives a customer information about the terms on which the person or a lender or owner is prepared to do business, but it does not include:
(a) a communication which is also a financial promotion;
(b) any document given to a customer under section 58 of the CCA (opportunity for withdrawal from prospective land mortgage);
(c) any document sent to a customer for signature which embodies the terms or such of them as it is intended to reduce to writing of a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement; or
(d) any copy of an unexecuted agreement delivered or sent to a customer under section 62 of the CCA (duty to supply copy of unexecuted agreement).

(3) Where the words of a statement which must be included in a quotation are specified, the statement must be:

(a) in capital letters;
(b) clear and legible; and
(c) prominent.

(4) Providing a quotation includes making a quotation available temporarily.

(5) In these rules as they apply to Scotland:

(a) any reference to bailment is a reference to hiring; and
(b) any reference to a mortgage or a charge on land is a reference to a standard security over land within the meaning of the Conveyancing and Feudal Reform (Scotland) Act 1970.

4.2 Pre-contract disclosure and adequate explanations

Application

4.2.1 R This section, unless otherwise stated in or in relation to a rule:

(1) applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending;
(2) applies to a firm with respect to credit broking where the firm has or takes on responsibility for providing the disclosures and explanations to customers required by this section;
(3) does not apply to an agreement under which the lender provides the customer with credit which exceeds £60,260;
(4) does not apply to an agreement secured on land; and
(5) does not apply to a borrower-lender agreement enabling the customer to overdraw on a current account other than such an agreement which would be an authorised non-business overdraft agreement, but for the fact that the credit is not repayable on demand or within three months.

[Note: section 74(1D) of CCA]

4.2.2 G For the agreements referred to in CONC 4.2.1R(3), (4) and (5), a firm within CONC 4.2.1R(1) or (2) should consider whether it is necessary or appropriate to provide explanations of the matters in CONC 4.2.5R(2); in particular, a firm should consider highlighting the principal consequences to the customer including the consequences of missing payments or under-paying, including, where applicable, the risk of repossession of the customer’s property.

[Note: section 55A(6) of CCA and paragraphs 3.1(box) of ILG and 3.5 of SCLG]

Other disclosure requirements

4.2.3 G (1) The disclosure regulations made under section 55 of the CCA which require information to be disclosed before a regulated credit agreement is made remain in force.

(2) Failure to comply with the disclosure regulations has the effect that agreements are enforceable against a borrower or hirer (as defined in the CCA) only with an order of court and enforcement for that purpose includes a retaking of goods or land to which the agreement relates.

(3) Other relevant disclosure requirements are found in CONC 2.7 (distance marketing) and CONC 2.8 (electronic commerce), the Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004 (SI 2004/2095), the Electronic Commerce (EC Directive) Regulations 2002 (SI 2002/2013) and the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 (SI 2008/1277) and the Cancellation of Contracts made in the Consumer’s home etc Regulations 2008 (SI 2008/1816).

4.2.4 G The pre-contractual information disclosed under the disclosure regulations and the pre-contractual explanations required under CONC 4.2.5R should take into account any preferences expressed, or information provided by, the customer where the firm would in principle agree to offer credit on such terms.

[Note: paragraph 3.13 (box) of ILG]

Pre-contractual adequate explanations

4.2.5 R (1) Before making a regulated credit agreement the firm must:

(a) provide the customer with an adequate explanation of the matters referred to in (2) in order to place the customer in a position to assess whether the agreement is adapted to the customer’s needs and financial situation;

(b) advise the customer:

(i) to consider the information which is required to be disclosed under section 55 of the CCA; and

(ii) where the information is disclosed in person, that the customer is able to take it away;

(c) provide the customer with an opportunity to ask questions about the agreement; and

(d) advise the customer how to ask the firm for further information and explanation.

[Note: section 55A(1) of CCA]

(2) The matters referred to in (1)(a) are:

(a) the features of the agreement which may make the credit to be provided under the agreement unsuitable for particular types of use;

(b) how much the customer will have to pay periodically and, where the amount can be determined, in total under the agreement;

(c) the features of the agreement which may operate in a manner which would have a significant adverse effect on the customer in a way which the customer is unlikely to foresee;

(d) the principal consequences for the customer arising from a failure to make payments under the agreement at the times required by the agreement including, where applicable and depending upon the type and amount of credit and the circumstances of the customer:

(i) the total cost of the debt growing;

(ii) incurring any default charges or interest for late or missed payment or under-payment;

(iii) impaired credit rating and its effect on future access to or cost of credit;

(iv) legal proceedings, including reference to charging orders (or, in Scotland, inhibitions), and to the associated costs of such proceedings;

(v) repossession of the customer’s home or other property; and
(vi) where an article is taken in pawn, that the article might be sold, if not redeemed; and

(e) the effect of the exercise of any right to withdraw from the agreement and how and when this right may be exercised.

[Note: section 55A(2) of CCA and paragraph 3.13 of ILG]

(3) The adequate explanation and advice in (1) may be given orally or in writing, except where (4) applies.

[Note: section 55A(3) of CCA]

(4) Where the matters in (2)(a), (b) or (e) are given orally or to the customer in person, the explanation of the matters in (2)(c) and (d) and the advice required in (1)(b) must be given orally to the customer.

[Note: section 55A(4) of CCA]

(5) Paragraphs (1) to (4) do not apply to a lender if a credit broker has complied with those sub-paragraphs in respect of the agreement.

[Note: section 55A(5) of CCA]

(6) Where the regulated credit agreement is an agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn:

(a) the requirement in (1)(a) only relates to the matters in (2)(d) and (e); and

(b) the requirements in (1)(b) and (d) do not apply.

[Note: section 55A(7) of CCA]

(7) This rule does not apply to:

(a) a non-commercial agreement;

(b) a small borrower-lender-supplier agreement for restricted-use credit.

[Note: section 74(1) of CCA]

(8) Where this rule applies to a borrower-lender agreement to finance the making of payments arising on or connected with the death of a person, the payments in question are set out in (9).

[Note: section 74(1F) of CCA]

(9) The payments referred to in (8) are:

(a) inheritance tax chargeable in the UK on the death of any person;

(b) fees payable to a court:
(i) in England, Wales or Northern Ireland on an application for a grant of probate or of letters of administration;

(ii) in Scotland, in connection with a grant of confirmation; and

(iii) in the UK, on an application for resealing of a Commonwealth or colonial grant of probate or of letters of administration; and

(c) payments in England, Wales or Northern Ireland to a surety in connection with a guarantee required as a condition of a grant of letters of administration or payments in Scotland to a cautioner in connection with a bond of caution required as a condition of issuing a grant of confirmation.

[Note: regulation 2 of SI 1983/1554]

[Note: article 5(6) of the Consumer Credit Directive]

4.2.6 G The explanation provided by a lender or a credit broker under CONC 4.2.5R should enable the customer to make a reasonable assessment as to whether the customer can afford the credit and to understand the key associated risks.

[Note: paragraph 3.3 (box) of ILG]

4.2.7 G In deciding on the level and extent of explanation required by CONC 4.2.5R, the lender or credit broker should consider (and each of them should ensure that anyone acting on its behalf should consider), to the extent appropriate to do so, factors including:

(1) the type of credit being sought;

(2) the amount of credit to be provided and the associated cost and risk to the customer (the risk to the customer is likely to be greater the higher the total cost of the credit relative to the customer’s financial situation);

(3) to the extent it is evident and discernible, the customer’s level of understanding of the explanation provided; and

(4) the channel or medium through which the credit transaction takes place.

[Note: paragraph 3.4 of ILG]

4.2.8 R Where the regulated credit agreement is high-cost short-term credit, the lender or a credit broker must explain under CONC 4.2.5R(1)(a) that entering into that agreement would be unsuitable to support sustained borrowing over long periods and would be expensive as a means of longer term borrowing.

[Note: paragraph 3.13 (box) of ILG]
4.2.9 R Even where a customer states or implies that there is no need for an explanation of the regulated credit agreement, the lender or credit broker must continue to comply with CONC 4.2.5R.

[Note: paragraph 3.10 of ILG]

4.2.10 R A lender or a credit broker must not encourage or induce a customer to waive the rights in CONC 4.2.5R.

[Note: paragraph 3.10 of ILG]

4.2.11 R Before a lender concludes that CONC 4.2.5R(1) to (4) do not apply to it in relation to a regulated credit agreement by virtue of CONC 4.2.5R(5), the lender must take reasonable steps to satisfy itself that an explanation of that agreement complying with CONC 4.2.5R has been provided to the customer by the credit broker.

[Note: paragraph 3.11 (box) of ILG]

4.2.12 R The lender or the credit broker must enable a customer to request and obtain further information and explanation about a regulated credit agreement without incurring undue cost or delay.

[Note: paragraph 3.16 (box) of ILG]

4.2.13 R Neither a lender nor a credit broker may require a customer to acknowledge that the information and explanations it has provided are adequate to satisfy the requirements of CONC 4.2.5R.

[Note: paragraph 3.30 (box) of ILG]

4.2.14 G A lender or credit broker may require an acknowledgement that it has provided an explanation, and of receipt of any written information that forms a part of the explanation, but not an acknowledgement as to its adequacy. CONC 4.2.13R does not prevent the lender or credit broker asking if the customer has understood an explanation given.

[Note: paragraph 3.30 (box) of ILG]

Adequate explanations in relation to particular regulated credit agreements

4.2.15 R The following information must be provided by the lender or a credit broker as part of, and in addition to that provided under, the adequate explanation required by CONC 4.2.5R, where applicable, in the specified cases:

1. for credit token agreements:
   (a) different rates of interest and different charges apply to different elements of the credit provided (for example, a higher cost of withdrawing cash);
   (b) the implications of only making minimum repayments;
   (c) interest rates may be increased;
(d) where applicable, the interest rates may be increased based on the risks presented by the individual customer;

(e) the limitations on any zero percentage or low interest or other introductory offer; and

(f) conditions on any balance transfers, including any fees and charges which may apply;

(2) for credit card cheques, the higher associated costs relative to payment by credit card;

(3) for home credit loan agreements and high-cost short-term credit, the effect of refinancing (within the meaning in CONC 6.7.17R) or otherwise extending the duration of the credit or of the credit agreement;

(4) for bill of sale loan agreements:

(a) the risk of losing the asset which is the subject of the bill of sale and the loss this could entail;

(b) that repossession can take place without a court order;

(c) that repossession may not clear the debt owed; and

(d) unlike in the case of hire-purchase agreements and conditional sale agreements, the customer is not protected under this arrangement from repossession of the asset where one third or more of the total amount payable has been paid off;

(5) for hire purchase agreements and conditional sale agreements:

(a) the customer does not own the goods until the sums required under the agreement have been paid, including any option to purchase fee and any other conditions have been satisfied;

(b) goods can be repossessed without a court order in the event of default, unless in relation to a regulated credit agreement the customer has paid a third or more of the total amount payable;

(6) for a credit agreement which is used to consolidate existing debts of the customer (whether to the same lender or to another person) and where applicable in each case:

(a) the effect of consolidating the debts will involve payment of a higher rate of interest or charges or both (if the relevant information about existing debts is known to the lender or credit broker);

(b) the effect of consolidating the debts will involve increasing the period required for repayment (if the relevant information about existing debts is known to the lender or credit broker; and

(c) the credit agreement would be secured on the customer’s property;

(7) for a credit agreement which includes a condition requiring a guarantor, the requirement for the customer to provide security in the form of a guarantee.

[Note: paragraph 4.26c of CBG]

[Note: paragraph 3.13 of ILG]

4.2.16 G Where a customer does not have a good understanding of the English language, the lender or credit broker may need to consider alternative methods of providing relevant information concerning the explanation required by CONC 4.2.5R in order for the customer to make an informed decision, such as, providing the information to a person with such understanding who can assist the customer, for example, a friend or relative.

[Note: paragraph 3.4 (box) of ILG]

Guidance for adequate explanations where agreements are marketed by distance or electronic means

4.2.17 G Since the use of distance means of communication (such as the internet) by their nature limit the lender’s or credit broker’s ability to ascertain the customer’s level of understanding of explanations provided, a lender or credit broker using those means may, for example, wish to provide local rate telephone number for customers who wish to seek further explanation.

[Note: paragraph 3.6 (box) of ILG]

4.2.18 G Interaction is an important part of compliance with the requirement in CONC 4.2.5R(1), for example, where the agreement is marketed and concluded by electronic means. For an online application, the requirement in CONC 4.2.5R(1)(c) (the right to ask questions) may be complied with by the customer being able to access an appropriately comprehensive set of answers to frequently asked questions about the agreement or by being able to speak to a representative of the online provider.

[Note: paragraph 3.8 (box) of ILG]

4.2.19 G For a regulated credit agreement marketed and concluded by electronic means to comply with CONC 4.2.5R the customer should pass through screens containing the required information and explanations, giving the customer the opportunity to see and read the explanations provided. Merely providing a link to where such information can be found is unlikely to satisfy the requirements in CONC 4.2.5R, where the agreement can be concluded without accessing the link.

[Note: paragraph 3.15 (box) of ILG]

4.2.20 G For telephone or face-to-face transactions, interaction between the customer and the firm’s representative is also important. It should be made clear to the customer that the customer can ask questions or request further information or explanation and, for example, the representative solely providing the customer with a written explanation of an agreement, or relying solely on a written script in relation to an agreement, is unlikely to comply with the requirement in CONC 4.2.5R.

[Note: paragraph 3.9 (box) of ILG]

4.2.21 G Where a regulated credit agreement is a modifying agreement under section 82(2) of the CCA, the requirements in CONC 4.2 apply before the agreement is made.

[Note: paragraph 3.12 of ILG]

4.3 Adequate explanations: P2P agreements

Application

4.3.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower or prospective borrower under a P2P agreement.

4.3.2 R This section (apart from CONC 4.3.6R) does not apply to:

(1) an agreement under which the lender provides the prospective borrower with credit which exceeds £60,260; or

(2) an agreement secured on land.

4.3.3 G For the agreements referred to in CONC 4.3.2R, a firm should consider whether it is necessary or appropriate to provide explanations of the matters in CONC 4.5.3R(2), in particular, a firm should consider highlighting key risks to the borrower including the consequences of missing payments or underpaying, including, where applicable, the risk of repossession of the borrower’s property.

[Note: section 55A(6) of CCA and paragraph 3.1 of ILG]

Adequate explanations

4.3.4 R (1) Before a P2P agreement is made, the firm must:

(a) provide the prospective borrower with an adequate explanation of the matters referred to in (2) in order to place the borrower in a position to assess whether the agreement is adapted to the borrower’s needs and financial situation;

(b) where the P2P agreement is not a non-commercial agreement, advise the prospective borrower:
(i) to consider the information which is required to be disclosed under section 55(1) of the CCA; and

(ii) where the information is disclosed in person, that the borrower is able to take it away;

(c) provide the prospective borrower with an opportunity to ask questions about the agreement; and

(d) advise the prospective borrower how to ask the firm for further information and explanation.

(2) The matters referred to in (1)(a) are:

(a) the features of the agreement which may make the credit to be provided under the agreement unsuitable for particular types of use;

(b) how much the borrower will have to pay periodically and, where the amount can be determined, in total under the agreement;

(c) the features of the agreement which may operate in a manner which would have a significant adverse effect on the borrower in a way which the prospective borrower is unlikely to foresee;

(d) the principal consequences for the borrower arising from a failure to make payments under the agreement at the times required by the agreement, including legal proceedings and, where this is a possibility, repossession of the borrower’s home; and

(e) the effect of the exercise of any right to withdraw from the agreement and how and when this right may be exercised.

(3) Except where (4) applies, the adequate explanation and advice in (1) may be given orally or in writing.

(4) Where the matters in (2)(a), (b) or (e) are given orally or to the prospective borrower in person, the explanation of the matters in (2)(c) and (d) and the advice required in (1)(b) must be given orally to the borrower.

(5) Where this rule applies to a borrower-lender agreement to finance the making of payments arising on or connected with the death of a person, this rule applies to the agreement to the extent the payments are:

(a) inheritance tax chargeable in the UK on the death of any person;
(b) fees payable to a court:

(i) in England, Wales or Northern Ireland on an application for a grant of probate or of letters of administration;

(ii) in Scotland, in connection with a grant of confirmation; and

(iii) in the UK, on an application for resealing of a Commonwealth or colonial grant of probate or of letters of administration; and

(c) payments in England, Wales or Northern Ireland to a surety in connection with a guarantee required as a condition of a grant of letters of administration or payments in Scotland to a cautioner in connection with a bond of caution required as a condition of issuing a grant of confirmation.

[Note: section 74(1F) of CCA and SI 1983/1554]

4.3.5 R Where CONC 4.3.4R applies to a firm, the firm must comply with the rules, and observe the guidance, in CONC 4.2 to the same extent as if it were the lender under an agreement to which those rules apply.

4.3.6 R Before a P2P agreement which is secured on the borrower’s home is made, a firm must in a prominent way give the following warning:

“YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON A MORTGAGE OR ANY OTHER DEBT SECURED ON IT”

4.4 Pre-contractual requirements: credit brokers

Application

4.4.1 R This section applies to a firm carrying on credit broking in relation to a regulated credit agreement.

Pre-contractual requirements

4.4.2 R (1) A firm must disclose to the customer the fee, if any, payable by a customer to the firm for its services.

[Note: section 160A(4) of CCA]

(2) Any fee to be paid by the customer to the firm must be agreed between the customer and the firm, and that agreement must be recorded in writing or other durable medium before a regulated credit agreement is entered into.

[Note: section 160A(4) of CCA]
(3) A firm must disclose to the lender the fee, if any, for its activity payable by the customer for the purpose of enabling the lender to calculate the annual percentage rate of charge for the credit agreement.

[Note: section 160A(5) of CCA]

(4) A firm must disclose to the customer how and when any fee for its service is payable and in what circumstances a refund may be payable, including how and when a refund is available under section 155 of the CCA.

[Note: paragraphs 2.2 and 4.17b of CBG]

[Note: article 21(b) and (c) of the Consumer Credit Directive]

4.5 Commissions

Application

4.5.1 R (1) CONC 4.5.2G applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

(2) CONC 4.5.3R and 4.5.4R apply to a firm with respect to credit broking in relation to:

(a) regulated credit agreements; and

(b) regulated consumer hire agreements.

(3) CONC 4.5.3R and 4.5.4R also apply to a firm carrying on the activities specified in article 36A(1)(a) or (c) of the Regulated Activities Order in relation to:

(a) credit agreements that would be regulated credit agreements but for the relevant provisions; and

(b) consumer hire agreements that would be regulated consumer hire agreements but for articles 60O and 60Q of the Regulated Activities Order.

Commissions: lenders to credit brokers

4.5.2 G A lender should only offer to or enter into with a firm a commission agreement providing for differential commission rates or providing for payments based on the volume and profitability of business where such payments are justified based on the extra work of the firm involved in that business.

[Note: paragraph 5.5 (box) of ILG]
Commissions: credit brokers

4.5.3 R A credit broker must disclose to a customer in good time before a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement is entered into, the existence of any commission or fee or other remuneration payable to the credit broker by the lender or owner or a third party in relation to a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement, where knowledge of the existence or amount of the commission could actually or potentially:

(1) affect the impartiality of the credit broker in recommending a particular product; or

(2) have a material impact on the customer’s transactional decision.

[Note: paragraphs 3.7i (box) and 3.7j of CBG and 5.5 (box) of ILG]

4.5.4 R At the request of the customer, a credit broker must disclose to the customer, in good time before a regulated credit agreement or a regulated consumer hire agreement is entered into, the amount (or if the precise amount is not known, the likely amount) of any commission or fee or other remuneration payable to the credit broker by the lender or owner or a third party.

[Note: paragraph 3.7i (box) of CBG]

4.6 Pre-contract disclosure: continuous payment authorities

Application

4.6.1 R (1) This section applies to:

(a) a firm with respect to consumer credit lending; or

(b) a firm with respect to consumer hiring; or

(c) a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a prospective borrower under a P2P agreement.

Disclosure of continuous payment authorities

4.6.2 R (1) Before entering into a regulated credit agreement or regulated consumer hire agreement, or before a P2P agreement is entered into, under which the customer may grant a continuous payment authority, the firm must provide the customer with an adequate explanation of the matters in (2).

(2) The matters referred to in (1) are:

(a) what a continuous payment authority is and how it works;
(b) how the continuous payment authority will be applied by the firm, including where the firm provides high-cost short-term credit that it may only be used twice to collect the whole sum due in relation to the agreement or where the agreement provides for repayment in instalments, in relation to an instalment;

(c) how the customer can cancel the continuous payment authority;

(d) whether alternative repayment options are available;

(e) the choice of an appropriate due date for payment;

(f) the choice of an alternative payment date (if applicable);

(g) the consequences if sufficient funds are not available on the due date (or an alternative payment date if agreed);

(h) whether further attempts may be made to collect payment and, if so, the basis on which further attempts would be made, the days or period over which the further attempts would be made and the frequency of the further attempts;

(i) other than in relation to high-cost short-term credit, whether part payment (a sum due which is less than the full sum due at the time the firm’s payment request is made) may be sought and, if so, the basis on which and frequency with which payment would be sought and whether part payments would be subject to a minimum amount or percentage;

(j) in relation to high cost short term credit, the firm will not seek part payment (a sum due which is less than the full sum due at the time the firm’s payment request is made) unless the firm is willing to accept such less sum and, after being notified of that sum and when a payment request would be made, the customer has given express consent to the firm to make such a payment request; and

(k) whether default fees and other charges may be added and, if so, the circumstances in which these may be incurred and the amount of such fees and charges or the basis on which they will be calculated.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

4.6.3 R A firm must include the terms of the continuous payment authority as part of the credit agreement or consumer hire agreement presented to the customer or P2P agreement presented to the borrower.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

4.6.4 R A firm must set out, in plain and intelligible language, the scope of the agreed continuous payment authority and how it will operate.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

4.7 Information to be provided on entering a current account agreement

Application

4.7.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

Information on entering into current account

4.7.2 R (1) When a firm enters into a current account agreement where:

(a) there is a possibility that the account-holder may be allowed to overdraw on the current account without a pre-arranged overdraft or exceed a pre-arranged overdraft limit; and the current account agreement must contain the information in (2) and (3).

(b) if the account-holder did so, this would be a regulated credit agreement;

[Note: section 74A(1) of CCA]

(2) The information required by (1) is:

(a) the rate of interest charged on the amount by which the account-holder overdraws on the current account or exceeds the pre-arranged overdraft limit;

(b) any conditions applicable to that rate;

(c) any reference rate on which that rate is based;

(d) information on any changes to that rate of interest (including the periods that the rate applies to and any conditions or procedure applicable to changing that rate); and

(e) any other charges payable by the account holder under the agreement (and the conditions under which those charges may be varied).

[Note: section 74A(2) of CCA]

(3) Where different rates of interest are charged in different circumstances, the firm must provide the information in (2)(a) to (d) in respect of each rate.

[Note: section 74A(4) of CCA]
4.8 Pre-contract: unfair business practices: consumer credit lending

Application

4.8.1 R This section applies to a firm carrying on consumer credit lending.

Unfair business practices

4.8.2 R A firm must not unfairly encourage, incentivise or induce a customer to enter into a regulated credit agreement quickly without allowing the customer time to consider the pre-contract information under section 55 of the CCA and the explanations provided under CONC 4.2.5R.

[Note: paragraph 5.10 of ILG]

4.8.3 G Stating an end date for a promotion would not amount to the behaviour in CONC 4.8.2R.

[Note: paragraph 5.10(box) of ILG]

4.8.4 R A firm must not unfairly encourage, incentivise or induce a customer to enter into a regulated credit agreement for an amount higher than the customer requests.

[Note: paragraph 5.11 of ILG]

4.8.5 G Merely offering a customer more credit than the customer requested would not amount to the behaviour in CONC 4.8.4R where:

(1) the offer of the higher amount was based on a proper creditworthiness assessment or assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1); or

(2) the firm offers more advantageous terms, conditions or prices to customers for larger loans, provided that such offers are sufficiently transparent and a proper creditworthiness assessment or assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) has been carried out; and the customer was not pressurised or unfairly coerced into accepting the higher amount of credit.

[Note: paragraph 5.11 (box) of ILG]

4.8.6 R A firm must not lead a customer to believe that the customer’s current debt repayments can be reduced under a regulated credit agreement over the same term when this is not the case.

[Note: paragraph 5.13 of ILG]
Responsible lending

Application

5.1.1 R This chapter applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending, unless otherwise stated in, or in relation to, a rule.

Creditworthiness assessment: before agreement

5.2.1 R (1) Before making a regulated credit agreement the firm must undertake an assessment of the creditworthiness of the customer.

[Note: section 55B(1) of CCA]

(2) A firm carrying out the assessment required in (1) must consider:

(a) the potential for the commitments under the regulated credit agreement to adversely impact the customer’s financial situation, taking into account the information of which the firm is aware at the time the regulated credit agreement is to be made; and

[Note: paragraph 4.1 of ILG]

(b) the ability of the customer to make repayments as they fall due over the life of the regulated credit agreement, or for such an agreement which is an open-end agreement, to make repayments within a reasonable period.

[Note: paragraph 4.3 of ILG]

(3) A creditworthiness assessment must be based on sufficient information obtained from:

(a) the customer, where appropriate; and

(b) a credit reference agency, where necessary.

[Note: section 55B(3) of CCA]

(4) This rule does not apply to:

(a) an agreement secured on land; or

(b) an agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn.

[Note: section 55B(4) of CCA]

(5) This rule does not apply, except to the agreements in (6), to:

(a) a non-commercial agreement; or
(b) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account; or

(c) a small borrower-lender-supplier agreement for restricted-use credit.

[Note: section 74 of CCA]

(6) The agreements referred to in (5) and therefore to which this rule does apply are:

(a) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account which is an authorised business overdraft agreement or an authorised non-business overdraft agreement; and

[Note: section 74(1B) and (1C) of CCA]

(b) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account which would be an authorised non-business overdraft agreement but for the fact that the credit is not repayable on demand or within three months.

[Note: section 74(1D) of CCA]

(7) Where the borrower-lender agreement in question is to finance the making of payments arising on or connected with the death of a person, this rule applies to the agreement to the extent the payments are:

(a) inheritance tax chargeable in the UK on the death of any person;

(b) fees payable to a court:

(i) in England, Wales or Northern Ireland on an application for a grant of probate or of letters of administration;

(ii) in Scotland, in connection with a grant of confirmation; and

(iii) in the UK, on an application for resealing of a Commonwealth or colonial grant of probate or of letters of administration; and

(c) payments in England, Wales or Northern Ireland to a surety in connection with a guarantee required as a condition of a grant of letters of administration or payments in Scotland to a cautioner in connection with a bond of caution required as a condition of issuing a grant of confirmation.

[Note: section 74(1F) of CCA and SI 1983/1554]
5.2.2  R

(1) Before entering into a regulated credit agreement which is excluded from CONC 5.2.1R (see (4), (5) and (6)), a firm must carry out an assessment of the potential for the commitments under the agreement to adversely impact the customer’s financial situation, taking into account the information of which the firm is aware at the time the agreement is to be made.

[Note: paragraphs 1.14 and 4.1 of ILG]

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to an agreement to which CONC 4.7.2R(1) applies (overrunning).

(3) A firm must consider sufficient information to enable it to make a reasonable creditworthiness assessment or a reasonable assessment required by (1).

[Note: paragraph 4.21 of ILG]

5.2.3  G

The extent and scope of the creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1), in a given case, should be dependent upon and proportionate to factors which may include one or more of the following:

(1) the type of credit;

(2) the amount of the credit;

(3) the cost of the credit;

(4) the financial position of the customer at the time of seeking the credit;

(5) the customer’s credit history, including any indications that the customer is experiencing or has experienced financial difficulties;

(6) the customer’s existing financial commitments including any repayments due in respect of other credit agreements, consumer hire agreements, regulated mortgage contracts, payments for rent, council tax, electricity, gas, telecommunications, water and other major outgoings known to the firm;

(7) any future financial commitments of the customer;

(8) any future changes in circumstances which could be reasonably expected to have a significant financial adverse impact on the customer;

(9) the vulnerability of the customer, in particular where the firm understands the customer has some form of mental capacity.
limitation or reasonably suspects this to be so because the customer displays indications of some form of mental capacity limitation (see CONC 2.10).

[Note: paragraph 4.10 of ILG]

Proportionality of assessments

5.2.4 G (1) To consider all of the factors set out in CONC 5.2.3G in all cases is likely to be disproportionate.

[Note: paragraph 4.11 of ILG]

(2) A firm should consider what is appropriate in any particular circumstances dependent on, for example, the type and amount of the credit being sought and the potential risks to the customer. The risk of credit not being sustainable directly relates to the amount of credit granted and the total charge for credit relative to the customer’s financial situation.

[Note: paragraph 4.11 and part of 4.16 of ILG]

(3) A firm should consider the types and sources of information to use in its creditworthiness assessment and assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1), which may, depending on the circumstances, include some or all of the following:

   (a) its record of previous dealings;
   (b) evidence of income;
   (c) evidence of expenditure;
   (d) a credit score;
   (e) a credit reference agency report; and
   (f) information provided by the customer.

[Note: paragraph 4.12 of ILG]

(4) A high level of scrutiny in the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) would normally be expected before the lender enters into a regulated credit agreement secured by a second or subsequent charge on the customer’s home.

[Note: paragraph 4.17 of ILG]

5.3 Conduct of business in relation to creditworthiness and affordability

Creditworthiness and sustainability
5.3.1 G (1) In making the creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1), a firm should take into account more than assessing the customer’s ability to repay the credit.

[Note: paragraph 4.2 of ILG]

(2) The creditworthiness assessment and the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) should include the firm taking reasonable steps to assess the customer’s ability to meet repayments under a regulated credit agreement in a sustainable manner without the customer incurring financial difficulties or experiencing significant adverse consequences.

[Note: paragraphs 4.1 (box) and 4.2 of ILG]

(3) A firm in making its creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) may take into account future increases in income or future decreases in expenditure, where there is appropriate evidence of the change and the repayments are expected to be sustainable in the light of the change.

[Note: paragraph 4.9 of ILG]

(4) If a firm takes income or expenditure into account in its creditworthiness assessment or its assessment required under CONC 5.2.2R(1):

(a) the firm should take account of actual current income or expenditure and reasonably expected future income or expenditure (to the extent it is proportionate to do so) where it is reasonably foreseeable that it will differ from actual current income or expenditure over the anticipated repayment period of the agreement;

(b) it is not generally sufficient for a firm to rely solely for its assessment of the customer’s income and expenditure, on a statement of those matters made by the customer;

(c) its assessment should be based on what the firm knows at the time of the assessment.

[Note: paragraph 4.13, 4.14 and 4.15 of ILG]

(5) An example of where it may be reasonable to take into account expected future income would be, in the case of loans to fund the provision of further or higher education, provided that an appropriate assessment required by this chapter is carried out and there is an appropriate exercise of forbearance in respect of initial repayments, for example, deferring or limiting the obligation to repay until the customer’s income has reached a specified level. Any assumptions regarding future income should be reasonable and capable of substantiation in the individual case and the products should be designed in a way to minimise the risks to the customer.

[Note: footnote 21 to paragraph 4.9 (box) of ILG]

(6) For the purposes of CONC “sustainable” means the repayments under the regulated credit agreement can be made by the customer:

(a) without undue difficulties, in particular:

(i) the customer should be able to make repayments on time, while meeting other reasonable commitments; and

(ii) without having to borrow to meet the repayments;

(b) over the life of the agreement, or for such an agreement which is an open-end agreement, within a reasonable period; and

(c) out of income and savings without having to realise security or assets; and “unsustainable” has the opposite meaning.

[Note: paragraphs 4.3 and 4.4 of ILG]

(7) For a regulated credit agreement which is an open-end agreement the firm, in making its creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1), should:

(a) make a reasonable assessment of whether the customer is able to meet the repayments in a sustainable manner; and

(b) make the assessment based on reasonable assumptions about the likely duration of the credit.

[Note: paragraph 4.5 of ILG]

(8) For a regulated credit agreement for running account credit the firm, in making its creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1):

(a) should consider the customer’s ability to repay the maximum amount of credit available (equivalent to the credit limit) under the agreement within a reasonable period;

(b) may, in considering what is a reasonable period in which to repay the maximum amount of credit available, have regard to the typical time required for repayment that would apply to a fixed-sum unsecured personal loan for an amount equal to the credit limit; and

(c) should not use the assumption of the amount necessary to make only the minimum repayment each month.

[Note: paragraph 4.6 of ILG]

(9) For a regulated credit agreement for running account credit the firm should set the credit limit based on the creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) and taking into account the matters in CONC 5.2.3G, and, in particular, the information it has on the customer’s current disposable income taking into account any reasonably foreseeable future changes.

[Note: paragraph 4.6 (box) of ILG]

(10) An example of a reasonably foreseeable future change in disposable income which a firm should take into account in setting a credit limit may include where a customer is known to be, or it is reasonably foreseeable that a customer is, close to retirement and faces a significant fall in disposable income.

[Note: paragraph 4.6 (box) of ILG]

(11) Where a firm requests information from a customer for its creditworthiness assessment or its assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) and the information provided by the customer is false and the firm has no reason to know this is the case, the firm should not contravene CONC 5.2.1R or 5.2.2R.

[Note: paragraph 4.10 of ILG]

(12) Subject to the relevant legal constraints, FCA encourages the sharing between lenders of accurate data about the performance of a customer’s account and the settlement of outstanding debts, as the process of making the assessments in this chapter is assisted by lenders registering such data with credit reference agencies, in a timely manner.

5.3.2 R A firm must establish and implement clear and effective policies and procedures to make a reasonable creditworthiness assessment or a reasonable assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1).

[Note: paragraph 4.19 of ILG]

5.3.3 G Under the procedures required by CONC 5.3.2R a firm should take adequate steps, insofar as it is reasonable and practicable to do so, to ensure that information (including information supplied by the customer) on an application for credit relevant to a creditworthiness assessment or an assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) is complete and correct.

[Note: paragraph 4.29 of ILG]

Unfair business practices: lenders

5.3.4 R A firm must not base its creditworthiness assessment, or its assessment required under CONC 5.2.2R(1), primarily or solely on the value of any security provided by the customer, but this rule does not apply in relation to a regulated credit agreement under which the firm takes an article in pawn and the customer’s liability is limited to the value of the article plus interest on the credit and there are no additional charges.

5.3.5 R A firm must not advise or encourage a customer to enter into a regulated credit agreement for an amount of credit higher than the customer initially requested if the creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1) indicates that repayment of the higher amount would not be sustainable or the firm ought reasonably to suspect that that is the case.

[Note: paragraph 4.28 of ILG]

5.3.6 R A firm must not complete some or all of those parts of an application for credit under a regulated credit agreement intended to be completed by the customer, without the consent of the customer, unless the customer is permitted to check the application before signing the agreement.

[Note: paragraph 4.30 of ILG]

5.3.7 R A firm must not accept an application for credit under a regulated credit agreement where the firm knows or ought reasonably to suspect that the customer has not been truthful in completing the application in relation to information supplied by the customer relevant to the creditworthiness assessment or the assessment required by CONC 5.2.2R(1).

[Note: paragraph 4.31 of ILG]

5.3.8 G An example of where a firm ought reasonably to suspect that the customer has not been truthful may be that the information supplied by the customer concerning income or employment status is clearly inconsistent with other available information.

5.4 Conduct of business: credit brokers

Application

5.4.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to credit broking.

Conduct of business

5.4.2 R (1) In giving explanations or advice, or in making recommendations, a firm must pay due regard to the customer’s needs and circumstances.

(2) In complying with (1) a firm must pay due regard to whether the credit product is affordable and whether there are any factors that the firm knows, or reasonably ought to know, that may make the product unsuitable for that customer.

[Note: paragraphs 4.32 to 4.36 of CBG]

5.4.3 R A firm which undertakes to search the product market or a part of it before effecting an introduction must, before doing so, search the product market
5.5 Creditworthiness assessment: P2P agreements

Application

5.5.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a prospective borrower under a P2P agreement.

5.5.2 G (1) This section contains rules that apply to the person operating the electronic system that facilitates persons becoming lenders and borrowers under P2P agreements, in contrast to CONC 5.2 which applies to the lender.

(2) A P2P agreement may also be a credit agreement or a regulated credit agreement in which case applicable provisions of the CCA or CONC will apply to such agreements. The extent to which CCA provisions apply to a lender will depend largely on whether the lender makes the credit agreement in the course of carrying on a business.

Creditworthiness assessment

5.5.3 R (1) Before a P2P agreement is made, a firm must undertake an assessment of the creditworthiness of the prospective borrower.

(2) A firm carrying out the assessment in (1) must consider:

(a) the potential for the commitments under the P2P agreement to adversely impact the prospective borrower’s financial situation, taking into account the information of which the firm is aware at the time the P2P agreement is to be made; and

(b) the ability of the prospective borrower to make repayments as they fall due over the life of the P2P agreement, or for such an agreement which is an open-end agreement, to make repayments within a reasonable period.

(3) A creditworthiness assessment must be based on sufficient information obtained from

(a) a prospective borrower, where appropriate; and

(b) a credit reference agency, where necessary.

(4) This rule does not apply to an agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn.

5.5.4 R Where CONC 5.5.3R applies to a firm, the firm must comply with CONC 5.3.2R, 5.3.4R, 5.3.5R, 5.3.6R and 5.3.7R to the same extent as if it were the lender under an agreement to which those rules apply and should take into account the guidance in CONC 5.3 to the same extent, and should also take into account CONC 5.2.3G and 5.2.4G treating them as guidance on CONC 5.5.3R.

5.5.5 R A firm must consider sufficient information to enable it to make a reasonable assessment required by CONC 5.5.3R.

[Note: paragraph 4.21 of ILG]

5.5.6 R Before a P2P agreement is entered into under which a person takes an article in pawn, the firm must:

1. undertake the assessment referred to in CONC 5.2.2R(1) of the prospective borrower; and

2. comply with CONC 5.3.2R, 5.3.4R, 5.3.5R, 5.3.6R and 5.3.7R to the same extent as if it were the lender under an agreement to which those rules apply, and should also take into account the guidance in CONC 5.2.3G and 5.2.4G and CONC 5.3 to the same extent.

6 Post contractual requirements

6.1 Application

6.1.1 R This chapter applies, unless otherwise stated in a rule, or in relation to a rule, to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

6.1.2 G (1) CONC 6.2, 6.5 and 6.7 apply to firms with respect to consumer credit lending.

(2) CONC 6.3 applies to current account agreements that would be regulated credit agreements if the customer overdraws on the account.

(3) CONC 6.4 and CONC 6.6 apply to firms which carry on consumer credit lending in relation to regulated credit agreements and firms which carry on consumer hiring in relation to regulated consumer hire agreements.

(4) CONC 6.7.17R to CONC 6.7.26R also apply to firms with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower in relation to a P2P agreement.

(5) CONC 6.8 applies to credit broking.
6.2 Assessment of creditworthiness: during agreement

6.2.1 R (1) Before significantly increasing:

(a) the amount of credit to be provided under a regulated credit agreement; or

(b) a credit limit for running-account credit under a regulated credit agreement; the lender must undertake an assessment of the customer’s creditworthiness.

[Note: section 55B(2) of CCA]

(2) A firm carrying out the assessment in (1) must consider:

(a) the potential for the commitments under the regulated credit agreement to adversely impact the customer’s financial situation, taking into account the information of which the firm is aware at the time that the increase in (1) is to be granted; and

(b) the ability of the customer to make repayments as they fall due over the life of the regulated credit agreement, or for such an agreement which is an open-end agreement, to make repayments within a reasonable period.

[Note: paragraphs 4.1 and 4.3 of ILG]

(3) A creditworthiness assessment must be based on sufficient information obtained from:

(a) the customer, where appropriate, and

(b) a credit reference agency, where necessary.

(4) This rule does not apply to:

(a) an agreement secured on land; or

(b) an agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn.

(5) This rule does not apply, except to the agreements in (6), to:

(a) a non-commercial agreement;

(b) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account;

(c) a small borrower-lender-supplier agreement for restricted-use credit.

(6) The agreements referred to in (5) and therefore to which this rule does apply are:

(a) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account which is an authorised business overdraft agreement or an authorised non-business overdraft agreement; or
[Note: section 74(1B)/(1C) of CCA]

(b) a borrower-lender agreement enabling the borrower to overdraw on a current account which would be an authorised non-business overdraft agreement but for the fact that the credit is not repayable on demand within three months.
[Note: section 74(1D) of CCA].

6.2.2 R Where CONC 6.2.1R applies to a firm:
[Note: paragraph 4.2 of ILG]

(1) the firm must comply with CONC 5.3.2R, 5.3.4R, 5.3.5R, 5.3.6R and 5.3.7R

(2) the rules in CONC 5.3 referred to in (1) apply with the modifications necessary to take into account that CONC 6.2.1R concerns increases in the amount of credit and in credit limits and when the increase is to take place; and

(3) the guidance in CONC 5.3 applies accordingly and CONC 5.2.3G and 5.3.4G apply treating them as guidance on CONC 6.2.1R.

6.2.3 R A firm must consider sufficient information available to it at the time of the increase referred to in CONC 6.2.1R to enable it to make a reasonable assessment required by that rule.
[Note: paragraph 4.21 of ILG]

6.3 Information to be provided on a current account agreement and on significant overdrawning

Application

6.3.1 R This section applies:

(1) to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending; and

(2) where a firm has entered into a current account agreement where:

(a) there is a possibility that the account-holder may be allowed to overdraw on the current account without a pre-arranged overdraft or exceed a pre-arranged overdraft limit; and

(b) if the account-holder did so, this would be a regulated credit agreement.

6.3.2 R CONC 6.3.3R does not apply where the overdraft or excess would be secured on land.

Current account information

6.3.3 R A firm must provide to the account-holder, in writing, the information in CONC 4.7.2R(2) at least annually.

[Note: section 74A of CCA (partial implementation of article 18 of the Consumer Credit Directive)]

Information to be provided on significant overdrawing without prior arrangement

6.3.4 R (1) A firm must inform the account-holder in writing of the matters in (2) without delay where:

(a) the account-holder overdraws on the current account without a pre-arranged overdraft, or exceeds a pre-arranged overdraft limit, for a period exceeding one month;

(b) the amount of that overdraft or excess is significant throughout that period;

(c) the overdraft or excess is a regulated credit agreement; and

(d) the account-holder has not been informed in writing of the matters in (2) within that period.

(2) The matters in (1) are:

(a) the fact that the account is overdrawn or the overdraft limit has been exceeded;

(b) the amount of that overdraft or excess;

(c) the rate of interest charged on it; and

(d) any other charges payable by the customer in relation to it (including any penalties and any interest on those charges).

(3) For the purposes of (1)(b) the amount of the overdraft or excess is significant if:

(a) the account-holder is liable to pay a charge for which he would not otherwise be liable; or

(b) the overdraft or excess is likely to have an adverse effect on the customer’s ability to receive further credit (including any effect on the information about the customer held by a credit reference agency); or

(c) it otherwise appears significant, having regard to all the circumstances.

(4) Where the overdraft or excess is secured on land, (1)(a) is to be read as if the reference to one month were a reference to three months.

[Note: section 74B of CCA]

[Note: article 18 of the Consumer Credit Directive]

6.4 Appropriation of payments

Application

6.4.1 R This section applies to:

(1) a firm with respect to consumer credit lending;

(2) a firm with respect to consumer hiring.

Appropriation

6.4.2 R (1) Where a firm is entitled to payments from the same customer in respect of two or more regulated agreements, the firm must allow the customer, on making any payment in respect of those agreements which is not sufficient to discharge the total amount then due under all the agreements, to appropriate the sum paid by him:

(a) in or towards the satisfaction of the sum due under any one of the agreements; or

(b) in or towards the satisfaction of the sums due under any two or more of the agreements in such proportions as the customer thinks fit.

[Note: section 81(1) of CCA]

(2) If the customer fails to make any such appropriation where one or more of the agreements is:

(a) a hire-purchase agreement or conditional sale agreement; or

(b) a consumer hire agreement; or

(c) an agreement in relation to which any security is provided; the firm must appropriate the payment towards satisfaction of the sums due under the agreements in the proportions which those sums bear to one another.

[Note: section 81(2) of CCA]

6.5 Assignment of rights

Application

6.5.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

Notice of assignment

6.5.2 R (1) Where rights of a lender under a regulated credit agreement are assigned to a firm, that firm must arrange for notice of the assignment to be given to the customer:

(a) as soon as reasonably possible; or

(b) if, after the assignment, the arrangements for servicing the credit under the agreement do not change as far as the customer is concerned, on or before the first occasion they do.

[Note: section 82A of CCA]

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply to an agreement secured on land.

(3) A firm may assign the rights of a lender under a regulated credit agreement to a third party only if:

(a) the third party is a firm; or

(b) where the third party does not require authorisation, the firm has an agreement with the third party which requires the third party to arrange for a notice of assignment in accordance with (1).

[Note: article 17 of the Consumer Credit Directive]

6.6 Pawn broking: conduct of business

Application

6.6.1 R This section applies to:

(1) a firm with respect to consumer credit lending;

(2) a firm with respect to consumer hiring.

Failure to supply copies of pledge agreement etc
6.6.2 G Sections 62 to 64 and 114(1) of the CCA continue to apply to a regulated agreement under which a person takes any article in pawn. A firm which fails to observe its obligations under those provisions may be subject to disciplinary action by the FCA.

[Note: section 115 of CCA]

Pawn records: relating to articles under a regulated credit agreement

6.6.3 R A firm which takes any article in pawn under a regulated credit agreement must keep such books or other records as are sufficient to show and explain readily at any time all dealings with the article, including:

(1) the taking of the article in pawn;

(2) any redemption of the article; and

(3) where the article has become realisable by the firm, any sale of the article under section 121(1) of the CCA.

[Note: regulation 2(1) of SI 1983/1565]

6.6.4 R Without prejudice to the generality of CONC 6.6.3R, the entries in the books or other records in respect of the dealings mentioned in CONC 6.6.3R(1) to (3) must contain the information in CONC 6.6.7R to CONC 6.6.9R.

[Note: regulation 2(2) of SI 1983/1565]

6.6.5 R Where the entries in relation to any article taken in pawn in CONC 6.6.4R are not shown together as a whole but are shown in separate places, then in each place where entries are made the record must show:

(1) the date and the number or other reference of the agreement under which the article was taken in pawn and, where separate from any document embodying the agreement, the number or other reference of the pawn-receipt;

(2) the date on which the article was taken in pawn; and

(3) the name of the customer.

[Note: regulation 2(3) of SI 1983/1565]

6.6.6 R A firm must retain the books or other records required by CONC 6.6.3R at least until the expiration of whichever is the longer of the following periods:

(1) five years from the date on which the article was taken in pawn; or

(2) where an article has become realisable by the firm, three years from the date of sale under section 121(1) of the CCA or the redemption of the article, as the case may be.

[Note: regulation 2(4) of SI 1983/1565]
Information to be kept by a person who takes any article in pawn

6.6.7 R The entries in the books or other records, in relation to the taking of the article in pawn, must contain the following information:

(1) the date and the number or other reference of the agreement under which the article was taken in pawn, and of the pawn-receipt if separate, sufficient to identify it or them;

(2) the date on which the article was taken in pawn;

(3) the name and a postal address and, where appropriate, other address of the customer;

(4) the description that appears in the pawn-receipt of the article taken in pawn;

(5) the amount of the credit secured by the pledge;

(6) the date of the end of the redemption period; and

(7) the rate of interest, and the amount or rate of any other charges for credit, as provided for in the agreement under which the article was taken in pawn.

[Note: paragraph 1 of Schedule to SI 1983/1565]

6.6.8 R The entries in the books or other records in relation to any redemption of the article must contain the date of the redemption.

[Note: paragraph 2 of Schedule to SI 1983/1565]

6.6.9 R The entries in the books or other records, where the article has become realisable by the firm, in relation to any sale of the article under section 121(1) of the CCA, must contain the following information:

(1) the date of the sale;

(2) where the article was sold by auction, the name and a postal address of the auctioneer;

(3) where the article was not sold by auction, the postal address of the premises at which the sale took place;

(4) the gross amount realised;

(5) the itemised expenses, if any, of the sale;

(6) where (5) applies, the net proceeds of sale, being the difference between the gross amount in (4) and the total amount of the expenses in (5);

(7) the amount which would have been payable under the agreement.
under which the article was taken in pawn if the article had been redeemed on the date of the sale;

(8) where the net proceeds of sale are not less than the sum which, if the article taken in pawn had been redeemed on the date of the sale, would have been payable for its redemption, the amount of any surplus payable to the customer;

(9) where (8) does not apply, the amount by which the net proceeds of sale fall short of the sum which would have been payable for the redemption of the article taken in pawn on the date of the sale, being the amount for which the customer remains liable under section 121(4) of the CCA;

(10) the date on which any surplus in (8) was paid to the customer;

(11) the date on which any amount in (9) for which the customer remained liable under section 121(4) of the CCA was received from the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3 of Schedule to SI 1983/1565]

6.7 Post contract: business practices

Application

6.7.1 R (1) This section applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

(2) *CONC 6.7.17R to CONC 6.7.26R also apply to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement and references in those provisions to a firm refinancing an agreement refer to any action taken by an operator of an electronic system in relation to lending which has the result that a P2P agreement is refinanced.

Business practices

6.7.2 R A firm must monitor a customer’s repayment record and take appropriate action where there are signs of actual or possible repayment difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 6.2 of ILG]

6.7.3 G The action referred to in CONC 6.7.2R should generally include:

(1) notifying the customer of the risk of escalating debt, additional interest or charges and of potential financial difficulties; and

[Note: paragraph 6.16 of ILG]

(2) providing contact details for not-for-profit debt advice bodies.

Page 102 of 204
Credit card and store card requirements

6.7.4 R A firm must first allocate a repayment to the debt subject to the highest rate of interest for:

(1) the outstanding balance on a credit card; or
(2) the outstanding balance on a store card; or
(3) a credit card or a store card, in relation to which there is a fixed-sum credit element, to repayments beyond those required to satisfy the fixed instalments.

[Note: paragraph 6.3 of ILG]

6.7.5 R (1) A firm must set the minimum required repayment under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or a store card at an amount equal to at least that amount which repays the interest, fees and charges that have been applied to the customer’s account, plus one percentage of the amount outstanding.

[Note: paragraph 6.4 of ILG]

(2) Where (1) applies and a firm applies interest to a period of more than one month, for the purpose of calculating the amount of the interest part of the minimum required repayment the firm may disregard any interest applied in respect of a period prior to the period of the statement in question.

[Note: paragraph 6.4 (box) of ILG]

(3) Paragraph (1) applies to agreements made on or after 1 April 2011.

6.7.6 R A firm under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or a store card must provide a customer with the option to pay any amount they choose (equal to or more than the minimum required repayment but less than the full outstanding balance) on a regular basis, when making automated repayments.

[Note: paragraph 6.5 of ILG]

6.7.7 R A firm must not increase, nor offer to increase, the customer’s credit limit on a credit card or store card where:

(1) the firm has been advised that the customer does not wish to have any credit limit increases; or
(2) a customer is at risk of financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraphs 6.6 and 6.7 of ILG]

6.7.8 R A firm under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or a store card must:

(1) permit a customer at any time to reduce or decline offers to increase the credit limit; and

(2) permit a customer to decline to receive offers of credit limit increases.

[Note: paragraphs 6.8 and 6.9 of ILG]

6.7.9 R (1) A firm under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or store card must notify the customer at least 30 days before a credit limit increase under the agreement comes into effect. [Note: paragraph 6.17 of ILG]

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply where a customer requests a temporary credit limit increase to deal with an emergency situation and, where CONC 6.2.1R applies, the firm carries out the required creditworthiness assessment in relation to any such increase.

6.7.10 R Where a customer is at risk of financial difficulties, a firm under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or a store card must, other than where a promotional rate of interest ends, not increase the rate of interest under the agreement. [Note: paragraph 6.10 of ILG]

6.7.11 G For the purposes of CONC 6.7.7R and 6.7.10R a customer is at risk of financial difficulties if the customer:

(1) is two or more payments in arrears; or

(2) has agreed a repayment plan with the firm in question; or

(3) is in serious discussion with a firm which carries on debt counselling with a view to entering into a debt management plan and the firm has been notified of this fact.

[Note: paragraph 6.10 (box) of ILG]

6.7.12 R (1) A firm under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or store card must notify a customer at least 30 days before an increase in the rate of interest under the agreement comes into effect. [Note: paragraph 6.18 of ILG]

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply in the following cases where in relation to an agreement:

(a) the interest rate is set to directly track the movement in an external index (such as a base rate), which was adequately explained under CONC 4.2.15R and was clearly stated in the agreement; or
6.7.13 R Where a firm proposes to exercise a power under a regulated credit agreement for a credit card or store card to increase the interest rate, the firm must:

1. permit the customer sixty days, from the date of the firm’s notice of the proposed increase during which period the customer may give notice to the firm requiring it to close the account;

2. permit the customer to pay off the outstanding balance at the rate of interest before the proposed increase and over a reasonable period; and

3. give notice to the customer of the rights in (1) and (2).

[Note: paragraphs 6.11 and 6.19 of ILG]

Interest rate variations

6.7.14 R Where a firm has a right to increase the interest rate under a regulated credit agreement, the firm must not increase the interest rate unless there is a valid reason for doing so.

[Note: paragraph 6.20 of ILG]

6.7.15 G Examples of valid reasons for increasing the rate of interest in CONC 6.7.14R include:

1. recovering the genuine increased costs of funding the provision of credit under the agreement; and

2. a change in the risk presented by the customer which justifies the change in the interest rate, which would not generally include missing a single repayment or failing to repay in full on one or two occasions

[Note: paragraph 6.20 (box) of ILG]

6.7.16 R Where a firm increases a rate of interest based on a change in the risk presented by the customer, the firm must:

1. notify the customer that the rate of interest has been increased based on a change in risk presented by the customer; and

2. if requested by the customer provide a suitable explanation which may be a generic explanation for such increases.

[Note: paragraph 6.20 (box) of ILG]

Rules on refinancing: general

6.7.17 R (1) In CONC 6.7.18R to CONC 6.7.23R “refinance” means to extend, or purport to extend, the period over which one or more repayment is to be made by a customer whether by:

(a) agreeing with the customer to replace, vary or supplement an existing regulated credit agreement;

(b) exercising a contractual power contained in an existing regulated credit agreement; or

(c) other means, for example, granting an indulgence or waiver to the customer.

(2) “Exercise forbearance” means to refinance a regulated credit agreement where the result is that no interest accrues at any time in relation to that agreement or any which replaces, varies or supplements it from the date of the refinancing and either:

(a) there is no charge in connection with the refinancing; or

(b) the only additional charge is a reasonable estimate of the actual and necessary cost of the additional administration required in connection with the refinancing.

(3) The term “refinance” within paragraph (1) does not include where, under a regulated credit agreement repayable in instalments, a customer requests a change in the regular payment date and as a result there is no charge or additional interest in connection with the change.

6.7.18 R A firm must not encourage a customer to refinance a regulated credit agreement if the result would be the customer’s commitments are not sustainable.

[Note: paragraph 4.27 of ILG]

6.7.19 R A firm must not refinance a customer’s existing credit with the firm (other than by exercising forbearance), unless:

(1) the firm does so at the customer’s request or with the customer’s consent; and

(2) the firm reasonably believes that it is not against the customer’s best interests to do so.

[Note: paragraph 6.24 of ILG]

Rules on refinancing: high-cost short-term credit

6.7.20 R Before a firm agrees to refinance high-cost short-term credit, it must:

(1) give or send an information sheet to the customer; and

(2) where reasonably practicable to do so, bring the sheet to the attention of the customer before the refinance; in the form of the arrears information sheet issued by the FCA referred to in section 86A of the CCA with the following modifications:

(3) for the title and first sentence of the information sheet substitute:

“High-cost short-term loans
Failing to repay on time
Think carefully – rolling over or extending your loan may not be the best option and may make things worse.”; and

(4) for the bullet points substitute: “

- Think carefully before borrowing more. Borrowing more money is likely to worsen your situation.
- Work out how much you owe. To do this, you will need to make a list of all the organisations you owe money to. A debt adviser can help you.
- Put priority debts first. Some debts are more urgent than others because the consequences of not paying them can be more serious than for other debts, for example, mortgage, rent, council tax/rates, or gas or electricity arrears. A debt adviser can help you to budget to keep your finances under control.

Discuss options with your lender

- If you are having trouble paying back on time talk to your lender who can suggest ways to repay and make sure it is affordable for you.
- If you don’t, you may quickly face increased costs from interest or charges. Missed payments could affect your credit rating and make it more difficult to get credit in future.

Get free help and advice

- People that access advice resolve their issues more quickly than those that don’t and hundreds of thousands get free debt advice every year.
- Contact one of these organisations for free debt advice.”

(5) in relation to an arrears sheet to be used by an operator of an electronic system in relation to lending:

(a) for the bullet point headed “Work out how much money you owe” substitute:

“Work out how much money you owe. To do this, you will need to make a list of all those you owe money to. A debt adviser can help you.”;

(b) for the title “Discuss options with your lender” substitute
“Discuss options with your peer to peer lending platform (P2P platform)”;

(c) for the bullet point which begins “If you are having trouble …” substitute:

“If you are having trouble paying back on time talk to your P2P platform who can suggest ways to repay and make sure it is affordable for you.”.

6.7.21 G A firm should not refinance high-cost short-term credit where to do so is unsustainable or otherwise harmful.

[Note: paragraph 6.25 of ILG]

6.7.22 G A firm should not allow a customer to enter into consecutive agreements with the firm for high-cost short-term credit if the cumulative effect of the agreements would be that the total amount payable by the customer is unsustainable.

[Note: paragraph 6.25 (box) of ILG]

6.7.23 R A firm must not refinance high-cost short-term credit (other than by exercising forbearance) on more than two occasions.

Continuous payments authority: post agreement obligations

6.7.24 R A firm must not amend the terms of a continuous payment authority without first obtaining the customer’s consent, after having fully explained to the customer the reason for the amendment.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

6.7.25 R CONC 6.7.24R does not preclude the firm from:

(1) making amendments pursuant to a variation clause to which the customer has previously given consent, after it was fully explained to the customer the reason for the amendment; or

(2) reducing or waiving payments unilaterally, for example, under a repayment plan, provided that this is explained to the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

6.7.26 R A firm must use the correct category code and identifier when presenting a payment request to the payment service provider.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miii of DCG]

6.8 Post contract business practices credit brokers

Application
6.8.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to credit broking.

Business practices

6.8.2 G Where a firm takes on responsibility for giving information to a customer or receiving information from a customer in accordance with provisions of the CCA (for example, supplying a copy of an executed regulated credit agreement under section 61A of the CCA) the firm should ensure it is familiar with the relevant statutory requirements and has adequate system and procedures in place to comply with the provision in question.

Refunds of brokers’ fees

6.8.3 G (1) Under section 155 of the CCA an individual has a right to a refund of the firm’s fee (less £5) (or for that fee not to be payable) where, following an introduction to a source of credit or of bailment (or in Scotland of hire), the individual has not entered into an agreement to which section 155 applies within six months of an introduction.

[Note: paragraph 6.1 of CBG]

(2) It is immaterial for the purposes of section 155 of the CCA why no agreement has been entered into (for example, an individual should be entitled to a refund where the individual decides for any reason not to enter into an agreement within the relevant time period).

[Note: paragraph 6.2 of CBG]

(3) Section 155 does not apply where the introduction is for a regulated mortgage contract or a home purchase plan and the person charging the fee is an authorised person or an appointed representative. Arranging and advising in relation to regulated mortgages contracts and regulated home purchase plans are regulated activities under the Regulated Activities Order and carrying on those activities would require permissions covering those activities.

[Note: paragraph 6.4 of CBG]

(4) In relation to a credit agreement the refund would apply to any sum which is an amount that is or would enter in to the total charge for credit paid or payable to or via the credit broker whether or not the firm describes it as a fee or commission.

[Note: paragraphs 6.11 and 6.13 of CBG]

(5) Where an individual withdraws from a regulated credit agreement under section 66A of the CCA or cancels a cancellable agreement (see section 67 of the CCA) under section 69 of the CCA the agreement is treated as never have been entered into and hence the period referred to in section 155 continues to apply in these circumstances.

[Note: paragraph 6.10 of CBG]
6.8.4 R Where section 155 of the CCA applies, a firm must respond to a request for a refund.

[Note: paragraph 6.17 of CBG]

6.8.5 G (1) An individual does not need to refer to the right under section 155 of the CCA in order to be entitled to a refund.

(2) A firm should respond promptly to a request for a refund.

(3) In circumstances where individuals request refunds and the firm knows, or ought to know, that agreements to which section 155 applies would not be entered into within six months, the firm should not make the individuals wait for the six-month period to elapse before making the refund.

[Note: paragraphs 6.17 and 6.18 of CBG]

7 Arrears, default and recovery (including repossessions)

7.1 Application

Who? What?

7.1.1 R This chapter applies, unless otherwise stated in or in relation to a rule, to:

(1) a firm with respect to consumer credit lending;

(2) a firm with respect to consumer hiring;

(3) a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending, in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement;

(4) a firm with respect to debt collecting.

7.1.2 G The following sections provide otherwise for application:

(1) CONC 7.12 (lenders’ responsibilities in relation to debt) applies only to firms in respect of consumer credit lending;

(2) CONC 7.17 to CONC 7.19 apply only to firms operating electronic systems in relation to lending in relation to borrowers under P2P agreements as set out in those sections.

7.1.3 G (1) In accordance with CONC 1.2.2R firms must ensure that their employees and agents comply with CONC and must take reasonable steps to ensure that other persons acting on the firm’s behalf act in accordance with CONC.

(2) The rule in CONC 1.2.2R is particularly important in relation to the requirements in CONC 7, for example, in dealing with an individual from whom the person referred to in the rule is seeking to collect a debt.

(3) In this chapter the expression “arrears” includes any shortfall in one or more payment due from a customer under an agreement to which the chapter applies.

7.2 Clear effective and appropriate arrears policies and procedures

Arrears policies

7.2.1 R A firm must establish and implement clear, effective and appropriate policies and procedures for:

(1) dealing with customers whose accounts fall into arrears;
[Note: paragraph 7.2 of ILG]

(2) the fair and appropriate treatment of customers, who the firm understands or reasonably suspects to be particularly vulnerable.
[Note: paragraphs 7.2 and 7.2(box) of ILG and 2.2 (box) of DCG]

7.2.2 G Customers who have mental health difficulties or mental capacity limitations may fall into the category of particularly vulnerable customers.
[Note: paragraph 2.2 (box) of DCG]

7.2.3 G In developing procedures and policies for dealing with customers who may not have the mental capacity to make financial decisions, firms may wish to have regard to the principles outlined in the Money Advice Liaison Group (MALG) Guidelines “Good Practice Awareness Guidelines for Consumers with Mental Health Problems and Debt”.
[Note: paragraph 3.7r (box) of DCG]

7.3 Treatment of customers in default or arrears (including repossessions): lenders, owners and debt collectors

7.3.1 G (1) In relation to debt collecting and debt administration, the definition of customer refers to an individual from whom the payment of a debt is sought; this would include where a firm mistakenly treats an individual as the borrower under an agreement and mistakenly or wrongly pursues the individual for a debt.
[Note: paragraph 1.12 of DCG]

(2) In relation to debt collecting and debt administration, the definitions of customer and borrower are given extended meanings to include, as well as those other people they generally include, a person providing a guarantee or indemnity under a credit agreement and also a person to whom rights and duties are under the agreement passed by assignment or operation of law. This reflects article 39M of the Regulated Activities Order.

Dealing fairly with customers in arrears or default

7.3.2 G When dealing with customers in default or in arrears difficulties a firm should pay due regard to its obligations under Principle 6 (Customers’ interests) to treat its customers fairly.

[Note: paragraphs 7.12 of ILG and 2.2 of DCG]

Forbearance and due consideration

7.3.3 G Where a customer under a regulated credit agreement fails to make an occasional payment when it becomes due, a firm should, in accordance with Principle 6, allow for such unmade payments to be made within the original term of the agreement unless:

(1) the firm reasonably believes that it is appropriate to allow a longer period for repayment and has no reason to believe that doing so will increase the total amount payable to be unsustainable or otherwise cause a customer to be in financial difficulties; or

[Note: paragraph 4.7 of ILG]

(2) the firm reasonably believes that terminating the agreement will mitigate such adverse consequences for the customer and before terminating the agreement it explains this to the customer.

7.3.4 R A firm must treat customers in default or in arrears difficulties with forbearance and due consideration.

[Note: paragraphs 7.3 and 7.4 of ILG and 2.2 of DCG]

7.3.5 G Examples of treating a customer with forbearance would include the firm doing one or more of the following, as may be relevant in the circumstances:

(1) considering suspending, reducing, waiving or cancelling any further interest or charges (for example, when a customer provides evidence of financial difficulties and is unable to meet repayments as they fall due or is only able to make token repayments, where in either case the level of debt would continue to rise if interest and charges continue to be applied);

[Note: paragraph 7.4 (box) of ILG]

(2) allowing deferment of payment of arrears:

(a) where immediate payment of arrears may increase the customer’s repayments to an unsustainable level; or

(b) provided that doing so does not make the term for the repayments unreasonably excessive;

(3) accepting token payments for a reasonable period of time in order to allow a customer to recover from an unexpected income shock, from a customer who demonstrates that meeting the customer’s existing debts would mean not being able to meet the customer’s priority debts or other essential living expenses (such as in relation to a mortgage, rent, council tax, food bills and utility bills).

7.3.6 G Where a customer is in default or in arrears difficulties, a firm should allow the customer reasonable time and opportunity to repay the debt.

[Note: paragraph 2.2 of DCG]

7.3.7 G Where appropriate, a firm should direct a customer in default or in arrears difficulties to sources of free and independent debt advice.

[Note: paragraph 2.2 of DCG]

7.3.8 G An example of where a firm is likely to contravene Principle 6 and CONC 7.3.4R is where the firm does not allow for alternative, affordable payment amounts to repay the debt due in full, where the customer is in default or arrears difficulties and the customer makes a reasonable proposal for repaying the debt or a debt counsellor or another person acting on the customer’s behalf makes such a proposal.

[Note: paragraphs 7.16 of ILG and 3.7j of DCG]

7.3.9 R A firm must not operate a policy of refusing to negotiate with a customer who is developing a repayment plan.

[Note: paragraph 3.9d (box) of DCG]

7.3.10 R A firm must not pressurise a customer:

(1) to pay a debt in one single or very few repayments or in unreasonably large amounts, when to do so would have an adverse impact on the customer’s financial circumstances;

[Note: paragraph 7.18 of ILG]

(2) to pay a debt within an unreasonably short period of time; or

[Note: paragraphs 3.7i of DCG and 7.18 of ILG]

(3) to raise funds to repay the debt by selling their property, borrowing money or increasing existing borrowing.

[Note: paragraph 3.7b of DCG]

7.3.11 R A firm must suspend the active pursuit of recovery of a debt from a customer for a reasonable period where the customer informs the firm that a debt counsellor or another person acting on the customer’s behalf or the customer is developing a repayment plan.
7.3.12 A "reasonable period" in CONC 7.3.11R should generally be for thirty days where there is evidence of a genuine intention to develop a plan and the firm should consider extending the period for a further thirty days where there is reasonable evidence demonstrating progress to agreeing a plan.

[Note: paragraphs 7.12 of ILG and 3.7m of DCG]

7.3.13 A firm seeking to recover debts should have regard, where appropriate, to the provisions in the Common Financial Statement or equivalent guidance.

[Note: paragraphs 7.16 (box) of ILG and 3.7k of DCG]

Proportionality

7.3.14 (1) A firm must not take disproportionate action against a customer in arrears or default.

[Note: paragraphs 7.14 (box) of ILG and 3.7t of DCG]

(2) In accordance with (1) a firm must not, in particular, apply to court for an order for sale or submit a bankruptcy petition, without first having fully explored any more proportionate options.

[Note: paragraph 7.14 (box) of ILG]

7.3.15 A firm should not make undue, excessive or otherwise unfair use of statutory demands (within the meaning of section 268 of the Insolvency Act 1986) when seeking to recover a debt from a customer.

[Note: paragraphs 7.10 of ILG and 3.7n of DCG]

Enforcement of debts

7.3.16 A firm should not take steps to enforce a debt if it is aware that the customer is subject to a bankruptcy order (or in Scotland where sequestration is awarded in relation to the customer), a debt relief order or an individual voluntary arrangement (or, in Scotland, a protected trust deed or a Debt Arrangement Scheme).

[Note: paragraph 3.9h of DCG]

7.3.17 A firm must not take steps to repossess a customer’s home other than as a last resort, having explored all other possible options.

[Note: paragraphs 7.14 of ILG, 3.7t of DCG and 6.3 of SCLG]

7.3.18 A firm must not threaten to commence court action, including an application for a charging order or (in Scotland) an inhibition or an order for sale, in order to pressurise a customer in default or arrears difficulties to pay more than they can reasonably afford.

[Note: paragraphs 7.14 of ILG and 3.7i (box) of DCG]

7.3.19 Firms seeking to recover debts under regulated credit agreements secured by second or subsequent charges in England and Wales should have regard to the requirements of the relevant pre-action protocol (PAP) issued by the Civil Justice Council. The aims of the PAP are to ensure that a firm and a customer act fairly and reasonably with each other in resolving any matter concerning arrears, and to encourage more pre-action contact in an effort to seek agreement between the parties on alternatives to repossession. The Pre-action Protocol on Possession Proceedings applies to all mortgage repossession cases in Northern Ireland. The Home Owner and Debtor Protection (Scotland) Act 2010 provides for pre-action requirements to be placed on secured lenders in Scotland.

[Note: paragraphs 7.14 of ILG and 3.7s of DCG]

7.4 Information on status of debts

7.4.1 R A firm must provide the customer or another person acting on behalf of the customer with information on the amount of any arrears and the balance owing.

[Note: paragraph 3.3f of DCG]

7.4.2 R Where:

(1) a customer offers a settlement payment lower than the total amount owing; or

(2) a lender under a regulated credit agreement or an owner under a regulated consumer hire agreement decides to stop pursuing a customer in respect of a debt arising under the agreement; and the debt (or part of it) continues to exist notwithstanding the acceptance of the customer’s offer or the decision to cease to pursue the debt, the lender or owner must ensure that the continuing existence of the debt and the possibility of the customer being pursued by another firm who purchases the debt is explained in clear terms to the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.3i of DCG]

7.5 Pursuing and recovering repayments

7.5.1 G (1) Failure to comply with CONC 6.5.2R, which sets out when a firm must give notice to a customer where a regulated credit agreement has been assigned to a third party, will be taken into account by the FCA in taking decisions about a firm’s permission or about taking other action.

[Note: paragraph 3.7g of DCG]

(2) CONC 6.5.2R makes it clear that where arrangements for servicing the credit change at the time of the assignment of a regulated credit agreement, notice must be given to the customer as soon as reasonably possible. A firm should give notice as required under that rule in order that any change should not adversely impact on a customer’s existing repayment arrangements. In addition, if arrangements for servicing the debt otherwise change so far as the customer is concerned, the firm should notify the customer on or before that change.

[Note: paragraph 3.7h of DCG]

7.5.2 R A firm must not pursue an individual whom the firm knows or believes might not be the borrower or hirer under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement.

[Note: paragraph 3.5f of DCG]

7.5.3 R A firm must not ignore or disregard a customer’s claim that a debt has been settled or is disputed and must not continue to make demands for payment without providing clear justification and/or evidence as to why the customer’s claim is not valid.

[Note: paragraph 3.7o of DCG]

7.5.4 R A firm acting on behalf of a lender or owner must, unless the firm has authority from the lender or owner to accept such an offer, refer a reasonable offer by the customer to pay by instalments to the lender or owner.

[Note: paragraph 3.9f of DCG]

7.5.5 R A firm acting on behalf of a lender or owner must pass on payments received from a customer and/or details of a customer’s outstanding balance to the lender or owner in a timely manner or, provided the effect of the agreement does not impact adversely on the customer, in accordance with an agreement between the firm and lender or owner in question

[Note: paragraph 3.9g of DCG]

7.5.6 G A timely manner in CONC 7.5.5R would normally be within five working days of receipt of payment by the firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.9g of DCG]

7.6 Exercise of continuous payment authority

Recovery and continuous payment authorities etc.

7.6.1 R (1) A firm must not exercise its rights under a continuous payment authority (or purport to do so):

(a) unless it has been explained to the customer that the continuous payment authority would be used in the way in question; and

(b) other than in accordance with the terms specified in the credit agreement or the P2P agreement.
(2) If a firm wishes a customer to change the terms of a continuous payment authority it must contact the customer and:

(a) provide the customer with an adequate explanation of the reason for and effect of the proposed change, including any effect it would have on the matters in CONC 4.6.2R(2); and

(b) once it has done so, obtain the consent of the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mi of DCG]

7.6.2 G A firm should not:

(1) request a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account unless:

(a) (i) the amount of the payment (or the basis on which payments may be taken) is specified in or permitted by the credit agreement or P2P agreement; and

(ii) the amount of the payment (or the basis on which payments may be taken) was referred to in the adequate explanation required by CONC 4.6.2R; or

(b) the firm has complied in relation to such a request with CONC 7.6.1R(2);

(2) request a payment service provider to make a payment to recover default fees or other sums unless:

(a) (i) the amount (or the basis on which default fees or other sums may be taken) is specified in the credit agreement or P2P agreement; and

(ii) the amount (or the basis on which default fees or other sums may be taken) was referred to in the adequate explanation required by CONC 4.6.2R; or

(b) the firm has complied in relation to such a request with CONC 7.6.1R(2);

(3) other than where CONC 7.6.14R(2) applies, request a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account of an amount that is less than the amount due at the time of the request, unless the firm:

(a) (i) is permitted to do so by the credit agreement or P2P agreement; and

(ii) the adequate explanation required by CONC 4.6.2R indicated that part payment (a sum due which is less than the full sum due at the time the firm’s payment request (is made) could be requested if the full amount was not available and specified the basis on which and the frequency with which such requests for payment could be made and any minimum amount or percentage that would be requested; or

(b) the firm has complied in relation to such a request with CONC 7.6.1R(2).

(4) request a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account before the due date of payment as specified in the credit agreement or P2P agreement, unless the firm has complied with CONC 7.6.1R(2);

(5) request a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account after the due date on a date, or within a period, or with a frequency other than as specified in the credit agreement or P2P agreement and referred to in the adequate explanation, unless the firm has complied with CONC 7.6.1R(2);

(6) request a payment service provider to make a payment from the payment account of a third party other than as specifically agreed with the third party or agreed with the customer following the third party’s confirmation to the firm that the third party consents to the arrangement.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mi of DCG]

7.6.3 R A firm must exercise its rights under a continuous payment authority in a manner which is reasonable, proportionate and not excessive and must exercise appropriate forbearance if it becomes aware that the customer is or may be experiencing financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii of DCG]

7.6.4 G Whether exercising rights under a continuous payment authority is reasonable, proportionate and not excessive (as regards the frequency or period of collection attempts), will depend on the circumstances, including:

(1) whether the firm is aware or has reason to believe that the customer is in actual or potential financial difficulties which the exercise of rights under a continuous payment authority may exacerbate; and

(2) whether the customer has been notified of the failure to collect the payment and has responded to contact from the firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii of DCG]

7.6.5 G A firm is likely to contravene CONC 7.6.3R if it:

(1) requests a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account before income or other funds may reasonably be expected to reach the account; for example, this is likely to be relevant where a firm is aware of the customer’s salary payment date; or

(2) requests a payment service provider to make a payment from the customer’s payment account where it has reason to believe that there are insufficient funds in the account or that taking the payment would leave insufficient funds for priority debts or other essential living expenses (such as in relation to a mortgage, rent, council tax, food bills or utility bills); or

(3) requests a payment service provider to make a part payment (a sum due which is less than the full sum due at the time the firm’s payment request is made) of the sum due from the customer’s payment account before it has made reasonable attempts to collect the full payment of the sum due on the due date; or

(4) continues to exercise its rights under the continuous payment authority for an unreasonable period after the payment due date without taking steps to establish the reason for the payment failure.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii of DCG]

7.6.6 G Where permissible, a firm should only make a reasonable number of payment requests to a payment service provider to collect a part payment (a sum due which is less than the full sum due at the time the firm’s payment request is made) from the customer’s payment account, having regard to the possibility that the customer may be in financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

7.6.7 R A firm must not exercise its rights under a continuous payment authority:

(1) if the customer provides reasonable evidence to the firm of being in financial difficulties and the customer cannot afford to repay the debt; or

(2) where the firm otherwise becomes aware of the customer being in financial difficulties and that the customer cannot afford to repay the debt.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

7.6.8 G (1) If a firm becomes aware that a customer is in financial difficulties, the firm should reassess the payment arrangement and should consider reasonable proposals to revise the payment schedule and alternative repayment arrangements.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

(2) Where a customer informs a firm of being in financial difficulties, pending receipt of evidence to that effect, a firm should consider suspending exercise of its rights under a continuous payment authority.
7.6.9 G In the FCA’s view, a firm’s inability to recover the whole of the amount due by the end of the next working day after the date on which it was due would indicate that the customer may be experiencing financial difficulties. In such a case, a firm should suspend exercising its rights under the continuous payment authority until it has made reasonable efforts to contact the customer to establish the reason why payment was unsuccessful and whether the customer is in financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

7.6.10 G If the firm and the customer have agreed an alternative payment date as a contingency option if payment is not available on the due date, the firm should suspend the exercise of its rights under the continuous payment authority after the due date, and again after the alternative payment date (if the firm is unable to recover the amount due at the end of that day) and make reasonable efforts (in accordance with CONC 7.6.9G) to contact the customer to establish the reason why payment was unsuccessful and whether the customer is in financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

7.6.11 G If reasonable efforts to contact the customer are unsuccessful or a customer refuses to engage with the firm and there is no further evidence of financial difficulties, any subsequent exercise of its rights under the continuous payment authority should be reasonable and not excessive, having regard to the possibility that an unresponsive customer may nevertheless be in financial difficulties and that a customer who was not in financial difficulties at the time of contact may subsequently be in financial difficulties.

[Note: paragraph 3.9mii (box) of DCG]

Continuous payment authorities and high-cost short-term credit

7.6.12 R (1) Subject to (3) to (5), a firm must not request a payment service provider to make a payment, under a continuous payment authority, to collect (in whole or in part) a sum due for high-cost short-term credit if it has done so in connection with the same agreement for high-cost short-term credit on two previous occasions and those previous payment requests have been refused.

(2) For the purposes of (1) and (3):

(a) if high-cost short-term credit has been refinanced, except in exercise of forbearance, the agreement is to be regarded as the same agreement; and

(b) “refinance” and “exercise forbearance” have the same meaning as in CONC 6.7.17R.

(3) Where a firm exercises forbearance:

(a) paragraph (1) applies or continues to apply to the agreement;
but

(a) any refusal of a payment request that took place before the time at which the forbearance was granted is to be disregarded for the purposes of (1).

(4) Paragraph (5) applies following the refusal of two payment requests a firm has made to a payment service provider under a continuous payment authority to collect a sum due for high-cost short-term credit, where the firm proposes to refinance the high-cost short term credit in question in accordance with CONC 6.7.17R to 6.7.23R.

(5) If the firm contacts the customer and, in the course of an dialogue between the firm and the customer:

(a) the firm notifies the customer of the refusal of the payment requests;

(b) the firm reminds the customer of the matters in CONC 4.6.2R(2), taking account of any proposed changes to the terms of the continuous payment authority that will apply following the refinance if the customer consents; and

(c) the customer gives express consent to the firm further exercising its rights under the continuous payment authority following the refinance;

the firm may then make further payment requests under the continuous payment authority following the refinance in accordance with CONC 7.6, and paragraph (1) applies as if the firm had not made a payment request under the continuous payment authority before the refinance.

(6) This rule does not apply to an agreement which provides for repayment in instalments.

Continuous payment authorities and high-cost short-term credit: instalment payments

7.6.13 R (1) Where:

(a) high-cost short-term credit provides for repayment in instalments; and

(b) a firm has on two previous occasions made a payment request, under a continuous payment authority, to collect (in whole or in part) the same instalment due under the agreement, which have been refused; subject to (3) and (4), the firm must not make a further payment request under the continuous payment authority to collect that instalment.

(2) The firm must not make a further payment request under the continuous payment authority to collect any other instalment that is or becomes due under the agreement, unless any request is in accordance with CONC 7.6 and in the course of a dialogue between the firm and the customer:

(a) the firm notifies the customer of the refusal of the payment requests;

(b) repayment of the instalment referred to in (1)(b) has been made using a method other than a continuous payment authority and the customer is not in arrears; and

(c) where (a) and (b) apply, the firm has reminded the customer of the date and amount of the next instalment.

(3) If, where the prohibition in (1) applies, a firm exercises forbearance within the meaning of CONC 6.7.17R the firm must not make a further payment request under the continuous payment authority to collect the instalment referred to in (1) or a payment request for any other instalment that is or becomes due under the agreement, unless:

(a) a payment request is in accordance with CONC 7.6;

(b) the firm notifies the customer of the refusal of the payment requests; and

(c) in the course of a dialogue between the firm and the customer, the firm reminds the customer of the date and amount of the next instalment and following which the customer gives express consent to further payment requests being made under the continuous payment authority.

(4) If, where the prohibition in (1) applies, a firm adds no charge or additional interest in connection with missing a payment on the due date, the firm must not make a further payment request under the continuous payment authority to collect the instalment referred to in (1) or a payment request for any other instalment that is or becomes due under the agreement, unless:

(a) a payment request is in accordance with CONC 7.6;

(b) the customer has missed making a payment on the due date; and

(c) in the course of a dialogue between the firm and the customer, the firm reminds the customer of the date and amount of the next instalment and following which the customer gives express consent to further payment requests being made under the continuous payment authority.
7.6.14 R  (1) Subject to (2), a firm must not request a payment service provider to make a payment under a continuous payment authority to collect a sum due for high-cost short-term credit if that sum is less than the full sum due at the time the request is made.

(2) Where a firm:

(a) following contact with a customer, refines the agreement in accordance with CONC 6.7.17R to 6.7.23R by granting an indulgence which allows for one or more repayment of a reduced amount under a repayment plan;

(b) notifies the customer of the number and frequency of repayments and their amount under the repayment plan; and

(c) the customer gives express consent to the firm to make payment requests to collect the repayments notified under the plan;

paragraph (1) does not prevent the firm from making a payment request in accordance with CONC 7.6 under a continuous payment authority to collect repayments of those amounts in accordance with the plan.

7.6.15 G  (1) CONC 7.6.12R, 7.6.13R and 7.6.14R do not prevent a firm accepting payment (including a part payment) from a customer using a means of payment other than under a continuous payment authority. If, for example, a customer consents separately that a single payment of a specified amount may be taken on the same day or on another specified day using his or her debit card details, this is excluded from the definition of continuous payment authority.

(2) CONC 7.6.14R does not prevent a firm from making a payment request concerning a sum due where the firm has varied an agreement so that the sum due is less than it was before the variation.

(3) Firms are reminded of their record-keeping obligations under SYSC 9.1.1R (general rules on record-keeping) which in particular require sufficient records to be kept to ascertain that the firm has complied with all obligations with respect to customers. These should include, for example, arranging to keep records of payment requests (including refusals of payment requests) made under continuous payment authorities and to keep suitable written or other records of the consents referred to in CONC 7.6.1R, 7.6.12R, 7.6.13R and 7.6.14R.

Cancelling a continuous payment authority

7.6.16 R A firm must not by any means improperly or unfairly inhibit or discourage a customer from cancelling a continuous payment authority including by:

(1) misleading the customer, expressly or by omission, regarding the right to cancel and how it may be exercised; or
(2) failing to respond promptly to requests by or on behalf of the customer to amend or cancel the continuous payment authority; or

(3) intimidating a customer who wishes to cancel the continuous payment authority; or

(4) requiring customers who wish to cancel the continuous payment authority to go through an unduly complicated process.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miv of DCG]

7.6.17 R A firm must cease to exercise its rights under the continuous payment authority once it is notified that the continuous payment authority has been cancelled.

[Note: paragraph 3.9miv of DCG]

7.7 Application of interest and charges

7.7.1 G When levying charges for debt recovery on customers in default or arrears difficulties firms should consider their obligation under Principle 6 to pay due regard to the interests of customers and treat them fairly.

[Note: paragraphs 3.1 and 3.10 of DCG]

7.7.2 R A firm must not claim the costs of recovering a debt from a customer if it has no contractual right to claim such costs.

[Note: paragraph 3.11b of DCG]

7.7.3 R A firm must not cause a customer to believe that the customer is legally liable to pay the costs of recovery where no such obligation exists.

[Note: paragraph 3.11a of DCG]

7.7.4 G Where a firm has a contractual right to levy default charges, a regulated credit agreement must state the charges and the conditions for making the charge under, as the case may be, the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 2010 (SI 2010/1014) or the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 1983 (SI 1983/1553).

[Note: paragraphs 3.11c of DCG and 7.15 of ILG]

7.7.5 R A firm must not impose charges on customers in default or arrears difficulties unless the charges are no higher than necessary to cover the reasonable costs of the firm.

[Note: paragraphs 3.11 of DCG and 7.15 of ILG]

7.8 Jurisdictional requirements
7.8.1 R A firm dealing with a customer who is resident in a different jurisdiction to the jurisdiction of the firm’s place of business must ensure that it takes appropriate account of any differences in law and court procedure that may have a significant impact on the customer’s rights.

[Note: paragraph 2.3 of DCG]

7.8.2 G CONC 7.8.1R will apply, for example, where a firm’s place of business is in England and the customer resides in Scotland.

[Note: paragraph 2.3 of DCG]

7.8.3 R A firm must not commence proceedings or threaten to commence proceedings in the wrong jurisdiction.

[Note: paragraph 3.5g of DCG]

7.9 Contact with customers

Contacting customers

7.9.1 R A firm must ensure that a person contacting a customer on its behalf explains to the customer the following matters:

1. who the person contacting the customer works for;
2. the person’s role in or relationship with the firm; and
3. the purpose of the contact.

[Note: paragraph 3.3c of DCG]

7.9.2 R A firm must not in a communication with the customer make a statement which may induce the customer to contact the firm misunderstanding the reason for making contact.

[Note: paragraph 3.3d of DCG]

7.9.3 G (1) An example of a misleading communication in CONC 7.9.2R is a calling card left at the customer’s address which states or implies that the customer has missed a delivery and encourages the customer to make contact.

[Note: paragraph 3.3d (box) of DCG]

(2) The clear fair and not misleading rule in CONC 3.3.1R also applies to a firm in relation to a communication with a customer in relation to credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement.

7.9.4 R A firm must not contact customers at unreasonable times and must pay due regard to the reasonable requests of customers (for example, customers who work in a shift pattern) in respect of when, where and how they may be contacted.

[Note: paragraphs 3.3j and k of DCG]

7.9.5  R  A firm must not require a customer to make contact on a premium rate or other special rate telephone number the charge for which is higher than to a standard geographic telephone number.

[Note: paragraph 3.3l of DCG]

Communication with third parties

7.9.6  R  A firm must not unfairly disclose or threaten to disclose information relating to the customer’s debt to a third party.

[Note: paragraph 3.7p of DCG]

7.9.7  R  When contacting a customer:

(1) a firm must ensure that it does not act in a way likely to be publicly embarrassing to the customer; and

(2) a firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that third parties do not become aware that the customer is being pursued in respect of a debt [Note: paragraph 3.7q of DCG].

7.9.8  G  The reasonable steps required by CONC 7.9.7R may, for example, require a firm to ensure that:

(1) post sent by the firm is properly addressed to the customer and marked “private and confidential” or an expression to the same effect;

(2) where the firm has a name which indicates its debt collection activities, its name is not shown so that third parties may see the name on the firm’s communications.

7.9.9  G  CONC 7.9.7R would not preclude a firm sending a statutory notice to a customer’s last known address, where it takes reasonable steps including those referred to in CONC 7.9.8G.

7.9.10  R  A firm must not disclose details of a debt to an individual without first establishing, by suitably appropriate means, that the individual is (or acts on behalf of) the borrower or hirer under the relevant agreement.

[Note: paragraph 3.9b of DCG]

7.9.11  G  A firm which:

(1) threatens debt recovery action against the “occupier” of particular premises; or

(2) sends a payment demand to all persons sharing the same name and date of birth or address as the customer; is likely to contravene CONC 7.9.10R.

[Note: paragraphs 3.9a (box) and 3.9b (box) of DCG]

Debt collection visits

7.9.12 R A firm must ensure that a person visiting a customer on its behalf:

(1) clearly explains to the customer the purpose and intended outcome of the proposed visit; and

[Note: paragraph 3.12 of DCG]

(2) gives the customer adequate notice of the date and likely time (at a reasonable time of day) of the visit.

[Note: paragraph 3.13g of DCG]

7.9.13 G Failure to give adequate notice prior to an initial visit to the customer may not contravene CONC 7.9.12R if the customer is happy to speak to the person pursuing recovery of the debt at that time. However, where, at the initial visit the customer indicates a preference to use the first visit to agree a more convenient time for a future visit, the person pursuing recovery of the debt should respect the customer’s wishes. It is important that the customer is given reasonable time to prepare for a visit and should not be coerced or pressurised into immediate discussions or decisions.

[Note: paragraph 3.13g (box) of DCG]

7.9.14 R A firm must ensure that all persons visiting a customer’s property on its behalf act at all times in accordance with the requirements of CONC 7 and do not:

(1) act in a threatening manner towards a customer;

(2) visit a customer at a time when they know or suspect that the customer is, or may be, particularly vulnerable;

(3) visit at an inappropriate location unless the customer has expressly consented to the visit;

(4) enter a customer’s property without the customer’s consent or an appropriate court order;

(5) refuse to leave a customer’s property when it becomes apparent that the customer is unduly distressed or might not have the mental capacity to make an informed repayment decision or to engage in the debt recovery process;

(6) refuse to leave a customer’s property when reasonably asked to do so;

(7) visit or threaten to visit a customer without the customer’s prior agreement when a debt is deadlocked or reasonably queried or disputed (see CONC 7.14 (Settlements, disputed and deadlocked debt)).

[Note: paragraphs 3.12 and 3.13 of DCG]

7.9.15 G It would normally be inappropriate to visit a customer at the customer’s place of work or at a hospital where the customer is a patient.

7.10 Treatment of customers with mental capacity limitations

7.10.1 R A firm must suspend the pursuit of recovery of a debt from a customer when:

(1) the firm has been notified that the customer might not have the mental capacity to make relevant financial decisions about the management of the customer’s debt and/or to engage in the debt recovery process at the time; or

(2) the firm understands or ought reasonably to be aware that the customer lacks mental capacity to make relevant financial decisions about the management of the customer’s debt and/or to engage in the debt recovery process at the time.

[Note: paragraphs 3.7r of DCG and 7.13 of ILG]

7.10.2 G A firm should allow a customer or a person acting on behalf of the customer a reasonable period of time to provide evidence as to the likely impact of any mental capacity limitation on the customer’s ability to engage with the firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.7r (box) of DCG]

7.10.3 G CONC 7.10.1R does not prevent a firm from pursuing the debt through a responsible third party acting on behalf of the customer, where the customer has given prior consent, for example, pursuant to a registered lasting power of attorney.

[Note: paragraph 3.7r (box) of DCG]

7.10.4 G Firms should note CONC 7.2.1R (and its accompanying guidance) which requires firms to establish and implement policies and procedures for the fair and appropriate treatment of particularly vulnerable customers.

7.11 Disclosures relating to “authority” or “status”

7.11.1 R When contacting customers, a firm must not misrepresent its authority or its legal position with regards to the debt or debt recovery process.

[Note: paragraph 3.4 of DCG ]

7.11.2 G For example, a person misrepresents authority or the legal position if they claim to work on instructions from the courts as bailiffs or, in Scotland, sheriff officers or messengers-at-arms, or in Northern Ireland, to work on instructions from the Enforcement of Judgements Office when this is untrue.

[Note: paragraph 3.5a of DCG]

7.11.3 R A firm must not use official looking documents which are designed to, or are likely to, mislead a customer as to the status of the firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.3a of DCG]

7.11.4 R A firm must not falsely suggest or state that it is a member of a trade body or is accredited by a trade body.

[Note: paragraph 3.5c (box) of DCG]

7.11.5 G It is an offence under section 17 of the Legal Services Act 2007 to falsely imply that a person is entitled to carry on a reserved legal activity, for example, to conduct litigation or to appear before and address a court, or to take or use any relevant name, title or description, for example, “solicitor”.

[Note: paragraph 3.5c (box) of DCG]

7.11.6 R A firm must not suggest or state that action can or will be taken when legally it cannot be taken.

[Note: paragraph 3.5b of DCG]

7.11.7 G Examples of where a firm is likely to contravene CONC 7.11.6R include where a firm or a person acting on its behalf:

1. states or implies that bankruptcy or sequestration proceedings may be initiated when the balance of the outstanding debt is too low to qualify for such proceedings;

2. states or implies that steps will be taken to enforce a debt where the customer is making payments under a Debt Payment Programme Arrangement agreed under the Debt Arrangement and Attachment (Scotland) Act 2002;

3. claims a right of entry will be exercised when no court order to this effect has been granted; or

4. states that goods will be repossessed when they are “protected goods” (as defined under section 90(7) of the CCA) and no specific authorisation to repossess the goods has been granted by a court.

[Note: paragraph 3.5b (box) of DCG]

7.11.8 R A firm must not suggest or state that it will commence proceedings for a warrant of execution or an attachment of earnings order when a court judgment has not been obtained, or that it will take any other enforcement action before it is possible to know whether such action will be permissible.

[Note: paragraph 3.5c of DCG]

7.11.9 R A firm must not suggest or state that an action has been taken when no such action has been taken.

[Note: paragraph 3.5d (box) of DCG]

7.12 Lenders’ responsibilities in relation to debt

Application

7.12.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending.

Unfair business practices

7.12.2 R A firm must not:

(1) refuse to deal with a not-for-profit debt advice body, debt counsellor, debt adjuster or with another person acting on behalf of a customer, unless there is an objectively justifiable reason for doing so;

[Note: paragraphs 3.9c of DCG and 3.48 of DMG]

(2) unless the credit agreement requires payments to be made to a third party, refuse to accept a payment tendered to the firm by the customer or by a person acting on behalf of the customer;

[Note: paragraphs 3.8 of DCG and 3.49a of DMG]

(3) refuse to deal with a customer who is developing a repayment plan, a third party who is assisting a customer to develop a repayment plan or a third party who is developing a debt management plan for the customer’s debts, unless there is an objectively justifiable reason for doing so;

[Note: paragraphs 3.9c of DCG and 3.49b of DMG]

(4) where a person is acting on behalf of a customer, directly contact the customer without the customer’s consent, unless there is an objectively justifiable reason for doing so;

[Note: paragraph 3.9d of DCG]

(5) operate a policy:

(a) of only negotiating the freezing of interest and charges on a customer’s debts where the lender has an existing arrangement with a person acting on behalf of the customer; or

[Note: paragraph 3.49e of DMG]

(b) of refusing to negotiate with certain third parties or with a customer developing their own repayment plan; or

[Note: paragraph 3.49c (box) of DMG]
(6) return or refuse a repayment or refuse to credit a repayment to a customer’s account merely because the repayment is tendered by a debt management firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.49a of DCG]

7.12.3 G (1) CONC 1.2.2R requires a firm to ensure its employees and agents comply with CONC and that it takes reasonable steps to ensure other persons who act on its behalf do so. This rule would apply where a debt collector acts as agent or on behalf of a lender.

(2) Situations where it may be justified for a firm to refuse to deal with a person acting on behalf of a customer may include, for example, refusing to deal with that person where the firm is able to show that the person has failed to comply with consumer protection legislation or with FCA rules.

[Note: paragraph 3.48 of DMG]

(3) It may be justified for a firm to contact a customer directly where:

(a) repeated unsuccessful efforts have been made to contact a person acting on behalf of the customer; or

[Note: paragraphs 3.9d of DCG and 3.49c (box) of DMG]

(b) the firm reasonably believes the person acting on behalf of the customer is acting against the best interests of the customer.

(4) Situations where it would be justified for a firm to contact a customer directly include, for example:

(a) sending a statutory notice, taking the reasonable steps required by CONC 7.9.7R; or

(b) where the sole purpose of the contact is to signpost the customer to not-for-profit debt advice bodies.

(5) Where a firm is in dispute with a person acting on behalf of the customer it should make its position known to that person and to the customer as soon as practicable.

[Note: paragraph 3.49d of DMG]

(6) The FCA does not believe it is justified to bypass contacting a person acting on behalf of a customer merely because that person has not agreed to comply with the Insolvency Service’s Debt Management Protocol.

7.13 Data accuracy and outsourced activities
Data accuracy

7.13.1 G The obtaining, recording, holding and passing on of information about individuals for the purposes of tracing a customer and/or recovering a debt due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement or a P2P agreement will involve the processing of personal data. Accordingly, firms processing such data are data controllers or data processors and are obliged to comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 and, in particular, to adhere to the eight data protection principles.

[Note: paragraph 3.16 of DCG]

7.13.2 R A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that it maintains accurate and adequate data (including in respect of debt and repayment history) so as to avoid the risk that:

(1) an individual who is not the true borrower or hirer is pursued for the repayment of a debt; and

(2) the borrower or hirer is pursued for an incorrect amount.

[Note: paragraphs 3.19 of DCG and 7.11 (box) of ILG]

7.13.3 R A firm must endeavour to ensure that the information it passes on to its agent or to a debt collector or to a tracing agent (a person that carries on the activity in article 54 of the Exemption Order), whether for the firm’s or another person’s business, or to any other person involved in recovering the debt or, where appropriate, to a credit reference agency is accurate and adequate so as to facilitate the tracing and identification of the true borrower or hirer.

[Note: paragraphs 3.20 of DCG and 7.11 (box) of ILG]

7.13.4 R Before pursuing a customer for the repayment of a debt, a firm must take reasonable steps to verify the accuracy and adequacy of the available data so as to ensure that the true customer is pursued for the debt and that they are pursued for the correct amount.

[Note: paragraphs 3.7e and 3.23a of DCG]

7.13.5 G A firm should ensure (subject to any legal requirements) that adequate and accurate information it holds about a customer in relation to a debt is made available to persons involved on its behalf in the debt recovery process. Information relating to the customer which should be made available to agents or employees includes, for example:

(1) being in financial difficulties;

(2) being particularly vulnerable;

(3) disputing the debt;

(4) a repayment plan or forbearance being in place;
(5) having a representative acting on the customer’s behalf.

[Note: paragraph 3.23b (box) of DCG]

7.13.6 G  A firm should not impose limitations on the number or the extent of reasonable applications that can be made to it for documents or other relevant information pertaining to a customer in respect of which it is, or has been, the lender or owner, by a firm seeking such information to facilitate its pursuance of the relevant debt.

[Note: paragraph 3.23i of DCG]

7.13.7 R  Where a firm has established that an individual being pursued for a debt is not the true borrower or hirer under the credit agreement, regulated credit agreement, consumer hire agreement or regulated consumer hire agreement or that the debt has been paid, the firm must update its records and the data supplied to the credit reference agencies (where applicable).

[Note: paragraph 3.23f of DCG]

Outsourcing

7.13.8 G  SYSC 8.1 includes rules and guidance on outsourcing with which firms must or should comply as appropriate.

7.13.9 G  A firm seeking to instruct a third party to pursue the recovery of debts or to trace customers on its behalf should exercise due care in selecting the third party.

[Note: paragraph 2.5 of DCG]

7.13.10 G  A firm should take reasonable steps to seek to ensure that, where it has engaged a third party to recover debts on its behalf, the customer is not subject to multiple approaches by different persons, resulting in repetitive or frequent contact with the customer by different parties.

[Note: paragraph 3.7c of DCG]

7.13.11 G  Where a firm has engaged a third party to recover debts or to trace customers on its behalf, it should properly investigate complaints about the third party.

[Note: paragraph 2.5 of DCG]

7.13.12 G  CONC 1.2.2R requires a firm to ensure its employees and agents comply with CONC and that it takes reasonable steps to ensure other persons who act on its behalf do so.

7.13.13 R  A firm must ensure that a third party engaged by it, where required, has the appropriate Part 4A permission to engage in the regulated activities undertaken in the course of the third party’s business.

[Note: paragraph 2.6 of DCG]
Settlements, disputed and deadlocked debt

Disputed debt

7.14.1 R (1) A firm must suspend any steps it takes or its agent takes in the recovery of a debt from a customer where the customer disputes the debt on valid grounds or what may be valid grounds.
[Note: paragraph 3.9k of DCG]

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply where a customer under a green deal consumer credit agreement (within the meaning of section 189B of the CCA) alleges that the disclosure and acknowledgement provisions in Part 7 of the Green Deal Framework (Disclosure, Acknowledgment, Redress etc) Regulations 2012 (SI 2012/2079) have been breached, but the lender reasonably believes this not to be the case.

7.14.2 G Valid grounds for disputing a debt include that:

(1) the individual being pursued for the debt is not the true borrower or hirer under the agreement in question; or

(2) the debt does not exist; or

(3) the amount of the debt being pursued is incorrect.

[Note: annex A3 of DCG]

7.14.3 R Where a customer disputes a debt on valid grounds or what may be valid grounds, the firm must investigate the dispute and provide details of the debt to the customer in a timely manner.

[Note: paragraph 3.9i of DCG]

7.14.4 R Where there is a dispute as to the identity of the borrower or hirer or as to the amount of the debt, it is for the firm (and not the customer) to establish, as the case may be, that the customer is the correct person in relation to the debt or that the amount is the correct amount owed under the agreement.

[Note: paragraphs 3.9j of DCG and 7.11 (box) of ILG]

7.14.5 R A firm must provide a customer with information on the outcome of its investigations into a debt which the customer disputed on valid grounds.

[Note: paragraph 3.3g of DCG]

7.14.6 R Where a customer disputes a debt and the firm seeking to recover the debt is not the lender or the owner, the firm must:

(1) pass the information provided by the customer to the lender or the owner; or

[Note: paragraph 3.23h of DCG]
(2) if the firm has authority from the lender or owner to investigate a dispute, it must notify the lender or owner of the outcome of the investigation.

Settlements and deadlocked debt etc

7.14.7 G A debt repayment is deadlocked where the customer (or the customer’s representative) has acknowledged the customer’s liability for a debt and has proposed a repayment plan, but the proposed repayment plan is not acceptable to the firm seeking to recover the debt.

[Note: annex A4 of DCG]

7.14.8 R A firm must give due consideration to a reasonable offer of repayment made by the customer or the customer’s representative.

[Note: annex A5 of DCG]

7.14.9 R Where a firm rejects a proposal for repayment from a customer in default or in arrears difficulties or from the customer’s representative, the firm’s response must include a clear explanation of the reason for the rejection.

[Note: paragraph 7.16 (box) of ILG]

7.14.10 R If a firm rejects a repayment offer because it is unacceptable, the firm must not engage in any conduct intended to, or likely to, have the effect of intimidating the customer into increasing the offer.

[Note: annex A5 of DCG]

7.14.11 G Examples of conduct that may contravene CONC 7.14.10R would, depending on the circumstances, include where following an unacceptable offer a firm immediately:

(1) sends field agents to visit the customer or communicates to the customer that it will do so;

[Note: annex A5 (box) to DCG]

(2) substantially increases the rate of interest or imposes a substantial charge or communicates that will do either of those things.

7.14.12 G In considering the customer’s repayment offer, a firm should have regard, where appropriate, to the provisions in the Common Financial Statement or equivalent guidance.

[Note: annex A6 of DCG]

7.14.13 G (1) Merely making a counter-offer to a customer’s repayment offer or merely taking steps to enforce an agreement would not contravene CONC 7.14.10R.

(2) A firm which makes a counter offer to a proposal made by or on behalf of the customer, should allow the customer or the customer’s representative, a reasonable period of time to consider and respond to the counter offer.

[Note: paragraph 7.16 of ILG]

7.14.14 R If a firm accepts a customer’s offer to settle a debt, it must communicate formally and unequivocally that the offer accompanied by the relevant payment has been accepted as settlement of the customer’s liability.

[Note: paragraph 3.3h of DCG]

7.15 Statute barred debts

7.15.1 G A debt is statute barred where the prescribed period within which a claim in relation to the debt may be brought expires. In England, Wales and Northern Ireland, the limitation period is generally six years in relation to debt. In Scotland, the prescriptive period is five years in relation to debt.

[Note: annex B1 of DCG]

7.15.2 G In England, Wales and Northern Ireland, a statute barred debt still exists and is recoverable.

[Note: paragraph 3.15a and annex B3 of DCG]

7.15.3 G In Scotland, a statute barred debt ceases to exist and is no longer recoverable if:

(1) a relevant claim on behalf of the lender or owner has not been made during the relevant limitation period; and

(2) the debt has not been acknowledged by, or on behalf of, the customer during the relevant limitation period.

[Note: annex B3 of DCG]

7.15.4 R Notwithstanding that a debt may be recoverable, a firm must not attempt to recover a statute barred debt in England, Wales or Northern Ireland if the lender or owner has not been in contact with the customer during the limitation period.

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DCG]

7.15.5 G If the lender or owner has been in regular contact with the customer during the limitation period, the firm may continue to attempt to recover the debt.

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DCG]

7.15.6 R A firm must endeavour to ensure that it does not mislead a customer as to the customer’s rights and obligations.

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DCG]
7.15.7 G It is misleading for a firm to suggest or state that a customer may be the subject of court action for the sum of the statute barred debt when the firm knows, or reasonably ought to know, that the relevant limitation period has expired.

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DCG]

7.15.8 R A firm must not continue to demand payment from a customer after the customer has stated that he will not be paying the debt because it is statute barred.

[Note: paragraph 3.15b of DCG]

7.15.9 R A firm must identify for prospective purchasers of debts arising under credit agreements or consumer hire agreements or P2P agreements those debts which it knows or ought reasonably to know are statute barred, so as to avoid a firm taking inappropriate action against customers in relation to such debts.

[Note: paragraph 3.23c of DCG]

Complaints to the Financial Ombudsman Service and initiating legal proceedings

7.15.10 R A lender must not initiate legal proceedings in relation to a regulated credit agreement where the lender is aware that the customer has submitted a valid complaint or what appears to the firm may be a valid complaint relating to the agreement in question that is being considered by the Financial Ombudsman Service.

[Note: paragraph 7.9 (box) of ILG]

7.16 Passing data to lead generators etc.

7.16.1 R A firm must not pass on a customer’s details to third parties, including lead generators, debt management firms, lenders, owners, debt collectors or credit brokers, unless it is appropriate to do so.

[Note: paragraph 3.9e of DCG]

7.16.2 G A firm which is lawfully entitled to pass on a customer’s details to a third party pursuant to the Data Protection Act 1998 should nonetheless, as a matter of good practice, obtain the customer’s consent before passing on the information to the third party.

[Note: paragraph 3.9e of DCG]

7.17.4 R (1) The firm must, within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the conditions in CONC 7.17.3R are satisfied, give the borrower a notice including the information set out in CONC 7.17.7R and 7.17.8R.

(2) After giving that notice, the firm must give the borrower further notices including the information in CONC 7.17.7R and 7.17.8R at intervals of not more than six months.

7.17.5 R (1) The duty of the firm to give the borrower notices under CONC 7.17.4R will cease when either of the conditions mentioned in (2) is satisfied but, if either of those conditions is satisfied before the notice required by CONC 7.17.4R(1) is given, the duty will not cease until that notice
(2) The conditions referred to in (1) are:

(a) that the borrower ceases to be in arrears;

(b) that a judgment is given in relation to the agreement under which a sum is required to be paid by the borrower.

(3) For the purposes of (2)(a) the borrower ceases to be in arrears when:

(b) no default sum, which has ever become payable under the agreement in connection with the borrower’s failure to pay any sum under the agreement when required, is still owing;

(c) no sum of interest, which has ever become payable under the agreement in connection with such a default sum, is still owing; and

(d) no other sum of interest, which has ever become payable under the agreement in connection with the borrower’s failure to pay any sum under the agreement when required, is still owing.

(4) A firm must accompany the notice required by CONC 7.17.4R with a copy of the current arrears information sheet under section 86A of the CCA with the following modifications:

(a) for the bullet point headed “Work out how much money you owe” substitute:
   “Work out how much money you owe. To do this, you will need to make a list of all those you owe money to. A debt adviser can help you.”;

(b) for the bullet point headed “Contact the organisations you owe money to” substitute:
   “Contact the peer-to-peer (P2P) platform which arranged your loan. Let them know you are having problems. They may be able to discuss options for paying back what you owe.”;

(c) For the paragraph headed “Doing nothing could make things worse.” substitute:
   “Doing nothing could make things worse.

You could end up paying more in interest and charges. Missed payments could affect your credit rating and make it more difficult to get credit in future. If you continue not to make payment this could lead to legal action against you for repayment or the return of goods on hire purchase.”.

(5) The firm must not charge the borrower a fee in connection with preparation of or the giving of the notice required by CONC 7.18.4R.

7.17.6 R In this section “payments” means payments to be made at predetermined intervals provided for under the terms of the agreement.

Content of arrears notices: fixed-sum credit

7.17.7 R The notice required by CONC 7.17.4R must contain the following information:

(1) a form of wording to the effect that the notice is given in compliance with the rules because the borrower is behind with the sums payable under the agreement;

(2) a form of wording encouraging the borrower to discuss the state of his account with the firm;

(3) the date of the notice;

(4) (a) the name, telephone number or numbers, the postal address, and, where appropriate, any other address of the firm; or

(b) where the firm and the borrower have entered into an arrangement under which the borrower has been given details of a particular employee or category of employee of the firm whom the borrower is entitled to contact for all the borrower’s dealings with the firm, the firm may, instead of including the telephone number or numbers in (a), refer to that arrangement;

(5) a description sufficient to identify any agreements and the opening balance under any agreements at the date on which the duty to give the notice arose;

(6) (a) where default sums or interest (other than any set out in the notice) may be payable in connection with the amounts set out in the notice, a statement in the following form:

(b) in any other case, a statement in the following form:

"Default sums and interest
You will not incur any default sums or extra interest in relation to the missed or partly made payments referred to in this notice.
This notice does not take account of any payments received after the date of the notice.

(7) a statement in the following form:
"Notices
For so long as you continue to be behind with your payments by any amount, you will be sent notices about this at least every six months. We are not required to send you notices more frequently than this, even if you get further behind with your payments in between notices."; and

(8) a statement in the following form:
"Financial Conduct Authority Information Sheet
This notice should include a copy of the current arrears information sheet prepared by the Financial Conduct Authority. This contains important information about your rights and where to go for support and advice, for example to think carefully before borrowing money to repay debts as well as our right to charge you interest. If it is not included you should contact us to get one. Please refer to the Financial Conduct Authority information sheet for more information about how to get advice on dealing with your debt.".

Content of first required arrears notices

7.17.8 R Where the notice is given under CONC 7.17.4R(1) the notice must also state the amount of the shortfall under the agreement which gave rise to the duty to give the notice and the firm must:

(1) within 15 working days of receiving the borrower's request for further information about the shortfall which gave rise to the duty to give the notice, give the borrower in relation to each of the sums which comprise the shortfall, notice of:

(a) the amount of the sums due which comprise the shortfall;

(b) the date on which the sums became due; and

(c) the amounts the borrower has paid in respect of the sums due and the dates of those payments;

(2) except where the original notice contained all the information specified in (1), include a statement in the following form:
"If you want more information about which payments you failed to make please get in touch with us. We are required to give you this information within fifteen working days of receiving your request for it."; and

(3) where the firm and the borrower have entered into an agreement to aggregate, the references to sums due and to amounts paid in (1) may be construed as a reference to the aggregated sums due to the firm (on behalf of the lender) and the aggregated amounts paid by the borrower in accordance with the terms of that agreement.

Content of required arrears notices except first required notices

7.17.9 R Where the notice is given under CONC 7.17.4R(2) the notice must also contain the following information:

1. that part of the opening balance referred to in CONC 7.17.7R(5) which comprises any sum which the borrower has failed to pay in full when it became due under the agreement, whether or not such sums have been included in a previous notice;

2. the amount and date of any sums paid into the account by, or to the credit of, the borrower during the period to which the notice relates;

3. the amount and date of any interest or other charges payable by the borrower which became due during the period to which the notice relates, whether or not the interest or other charges relate only to that period. But where the rate or rates of interest provided for under the agreement are not applicable on a per annum basis, this sub-paragraph does not require amounts and dates of interest which became due during the period to which the notice relates to be set out separately in the notice;

4. the amount and date of any movement in the account during the period to which the notice relates which is not required to be included in the notice under (2) and (3);

5. the balance under the agreement at the end of the period to which the notice relates;

6. that part of the balance referred to in (5) which comprises any sum which the borrower has failed to pay in full when it became due under the agreement and which remains unpaid at the end of the period to which the notice relates, whether or not such a sum has been included in a previous notice; and

7. add the following words to the end of the first sentence of the statement in CONC 7.17.7R(6)(a): "(in addition to any default sums and interest included in this notice)."

7.17.10 R Where the notice includes a form of wording to the effect that it is not a demand for immediate payment, the firm must include wording explaining why it is not such a demand.

7.17.11 R The reference to the account in CONC 7.17.9R(2) and (4) are to be construed as a reference to all accounts maintained by the firm (on behalf of a lender) which relate to the agreement with the borrower.
7.18 Notice of sums in arrears under P2P agreements for running-account credit

Application

7.18.1 R This section applies to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement for running account credit.

Notice of sums in arrears for running account credit

7.18.2 R A firm must comply with this section where the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) a borrower is required to have made at least two repayments under the agreement;

(2) the last two repayments which the borrower is required to have made before that time have not been made;

(3) the firm has not already been required to give a notice under CONC 7.18.3R in relation to the agreement;

(4) the lender is not already under a duty to give the borrower notice under section 86C of the CCA; and

(5) if a judgment has been given in relation to the agreement before that time, that there is no sum still to be paid under the judgment by the borrower.

7.18.3 R (1) The firm must, when the firm next sends a statement to the borrower, give or send the borrower a notice including the information set out in CONC 7.18.5R.

(2) A firm must accompany the notice required by (1) with a copy of the current arrears information sheet under section 86A of the CCA with the following modifications:

(a) for the bullet point headed “Work out how much money you owe” substitute:

“Work out how much money you owe. To do this, you will need to make a list of all those you owe money to. A debt adviser can help you.”;

(b) for the bullet point headed “Contact the organisations you owe money to” substitute:

“Contact the peer-to-peer (P2P) platform which arranged your loan. Let them know you are having problems. They may be able to discuss options for paying back what you owe.”;

(c) For the paragraph headed “Doing nothing could make things worse.” substitute:
“Doing nothing could make things worse.
You could end up paying more in interest and charges. Missed payments could affect your credit rating and make it more difficult to get credit in future. If you continue not to make payment this could lead to legal action against you for repayment or the return of goods on hire purchase.”.

(3) The firm must not charge the borrower a fee in connection with the preparation of or the giving of the notice required by (1).

(4) The notice required by (1) may be incorporated in a statement or other notice which the firm gives to the borrower in relation to the agreement by virtue of FCA rules or the CCA.

7.18.4 R In this section “payments” means payments to be made at predetermined intervals provided for under the terms of the agreement.

Content of arrears notices: running account credit

7.18.5 R The notice referred to in CONC 7.18.3R must contain the following information:

(1) a form of wording to the effect that it is given in compliance with the rules because the borrower is behind with his payments under the agreement;

(2) a form of wording encouraging the borrower to discuss the state of his account with the firm;

(3) the date of the notice;

(4) a description of the agreement sufficient to identify it;

(5) (a) the name, telephone number, postal address and, where appropriate, any other address of the firm; or

(b) where the firm and the borrower have entered into an arrangement under which the firm has given the borrower details of a particular employee or category of employee of the firm whom the borrower is entitled to contact for all his dealings with the firm, the firm may, instead of including the telephone number or numbers referred to in (a), refer to that arrangement;

(6) in relation to each of the last two payments which the borrower is required under the agreement to have made and which have not been paid or not fully paid:

(a) the amount payable;

(b) the date on which that amount became due;
(c) in the event that the borrower has paid part of that amount, the amount the borrower has paid and the date on which that payment was made;

(d) the nature of the amount due; and

(e) the aggregate of the amounts payable as shown under (a), less the aggregate of the amounts paid as shown under (c);

(7) a statement in the following form:
"Missed and partly made payments
This notice does not give details of missed or partly made payments previously notified whether or not they remain unpaid.";

(8) (a) where default sums or interest (other than any set out in the notice) may be payable in connection with the amounts set out in the notice, a statement in the following form:
"Default sums and Interest
You may have to pay default sums and interest in relation to the missed or partly made payments indicated above in addition to any default sums and interest already included in this notice. Please contact us if you would like further details. This notice does not take account of any payments received after the date of the notice."; or

(b) in any other case, a statement in the following form:
"Default sums and Interest
You will not incur any default sums or extra interest in relation to the missed or partly made payments indicated above. This notice does not take account of any payments received after the date of the notice."; and

(9) a statement in the following form:
"Financial Conduct Authority Information Sheet
This notice should include a copy of the current arrears information sheet issued by the Financial Conduct Authority. This contains important information about your rights and where to go for support and advice, for example, to think carefully before borrowing money to repay debts, as well as our right to charge you interest. If it is not included you should contact us to get one. Please refer to the Financial Conduct Authority information sheet for more information about how to get advice on dealing with your debt.".

7.18.6 R Where the notice includes a form of wording to the effect that it is not a demand for immediate payment, the firm must include wording explaining why it is not such a demand.
7.18.7  R  (1)  Subject to (2), where the total amount which the borrower has failed to pay in relation to the last two payments due under the agreement prior to the date on which the firm came under a duty to give the borrower a notice under CONC 7.18.3R is not more than £2, the notice:

(a) need not include any of the information or statements referred to in CONC 7.18.4R;

(b) but, in that event, shall contain a statement in the following form:

"You have failed to make two minimum payments Failing to make minimum payments can mean that you have broken the terms of this credit agreement. This could result in your having to pay additional costs. A copy of the Financial Conduct Authority Arrears information sheet is enclosed, which contains more information about what to do when you get behind with your payments."

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply where at the date on which the duty to give notice arose a default sum or other charge has become payable as a result of the borrower’s failure to pay sums as set out in (1).

7.19  Notice of default sums under P2P agreements

Application

7.19.1  R  This section applies to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement.

7.19.2  R  (1)  Subject to (2), this section does not apply where the P2P agreement provides for credit of less than £50.

(2)  Paragraph (1) does not apply where two or more P2P agreements in relation to the same borrower (but whether or not with the same lender) are entered into at or about the same time.

(3)  Where (2) applies, the firm’s obligation in CONC 7.19.4R applies as if all of the P2P agreements made with a borrower at or about the same time were a single agreement.

7.19.3  R  (1)  In this section “default sum” means in relation to the borrower under a P2P agreement, a sum (other than a sum of interest) which is payable by the borrower under the agreement in connection with a breach of the agreement by the borrower.

(2)  But a sum is not a default sum in relation to the borrower simply because as a consequence of the breach of the agreement the borrower is required to pay the sum earlier than would otherwise have been the case.
Notice of default sums

7.19.4 R Where a default sum becomes payable under a P2P agreement by the borrower, the firm must give notice to the borrower within 35 days of a default sum becoming payable by the borrower.

7.19.5 R The notice required by CONC 7.19.4R must contain:

(1) a form of wording to the effect that it relates to default sums and is given in compliance with FCA rules;

(2) the date of the notice;

(3) a description of the agreement sufficient to identify it;

(4) the firm’s name, telephone number, postal address and, where appropriate, any other address;

(5) the amount and nature of each default sum payable under the agreement which has not been the subject of a previous notice of default sums;

(6) the date upon which each default sum referred to in the notice became payable under the agreement;

(7) the following statement:
"This notice does not take account of default sums which we have already told you about in another default sum notice, whether or not those sums remain unpaid."; and

(8) the total amount of all the default sums included in the notice.

8 Debt advice

8.1 Application

8.1.1 R This chapter applies, unless otherwise stated in or in relation to a rule to every firm with respect to:

(1) debt counselling;

(2) debt adjusting; and

(3) to the extent of giving the advice referred to in article 89A(2) of the Regulated Activities Order, providing credit information services.

8.1.2 G CONC 8.10 (Conduct of business: providing credit information services) sets out that that section applies to every firm with respect to providing credit information services and with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

8.1.3 G CONC 8 covers all firms with respect to debt counselling, debt adjusting and providing credit information services, which includes profit-seeking as well as not-for-profit bodies which hold such permissions and in that case include those bodies with permission by virtue of article 62 of the Regulated Activities Order.

[Note: paragraph 1.10 of DMG]

8.1.4 G The activities of debt counselling and debt adjusting apply to credit agreements and consumer hire agreements whether they are regulated or not.

8.2 Conduct standards: debt advice

Overarching principles

8.2.1 G The Principles for Businesses (PRIN) apply as a whole to firms with respect to debt counselling, debt adjusting and providing credit information services.

8.2.2 G (1) One aspect of conducting a firm’s business with due skill, care and diligence under Principle 2 is that a firm should ensure that it gives appropriate advice to customers residing in the different countries of the UK. Failure to pay proper regard to the differences in options for debt solutions available to those customers and to the differences in enforcement actions and procedures is likely to contravene Principle 2 and may contravene other Principles.

[Note: paragraph 3.23d of DMG]

(2) Recommending a debt solution which a firm knows, believes or ought to suspect is unaffordable for the customer is likely to contravene Principle 2, Principle 6 and Principle 9 and may contravene other Principles.

[Note: paragraph 3.26j of DMG]

(3) An example of behaviour that is likely to contravene Principle 6 and may contravene other Principles in this field is for a firm to actively discourage a customer from considering alternative sources of debt counselling.

[Note: paragraph 3.23m of DMG]

8.2.3 G A firm covered by CONC 8 has obligations under the FCA’s Dispute Resolution: Complaints sourcebook (DISP) to treat complainants fairly; these are set out in DISP 1.

Signposting to sources of free debt counselling, etc
8.2.4 R A debt management firm must prominently include:

(1) in its first written or oral communication with the customer a statement that free debt counselling, debt adjusting and providing of credit information services is available to customers and that the customer can find out more by contacting the Money Advice Service; and

(2) on its web-site the following link to the Money Advice Service website (https://www.moneyadviceservice.org.uk/en/articles/where-to-go-to-get-free-debt-advice).

[Note: paragraph 1.7 of Debt Management Protocol]

Dealing with lenders of customers

8.2.5 R A firm’s communications to lenders (or to lenders’ representatives) on behalf of its customers must be transparent so as to ensure a firm’s customer’s interests are not adversely affected.

[Note: paragraph 2.5 of DMG]

8.2.6 R Where entry into a debt solution will lead to a period when payments to lenders (in part or in whole) are not made or are retained by the firm, the firm must, as soon as possible after the customer enters into the debt solution, notify the customer’s lenders of the reason payments are not to be made to the lender and the period during which that will be the case.

[Note: paragraph 3.18niv of DMG]

Vulnerable customers

8.2.7 R A firm must establish and implement clear and effective policies and procedures to identify particularly vulnerable customers and to deal with such customers appropriately.

[Note: paragraph 2.4 of DMG]

8.2.8 G Most customers seeking advice on their debts under credit agreements or consumer hire agreements may be regarded as vulnerable to some degree by virtue of their financial circumstances. Of these customers some may be particularly vulnerable because they are less able to deal with lenders or debt collectors pursuing them for debts owed. Customers with mental health and mental capacity issues may fall into this category.

[Note: paragraph 2.4 of DMG]

8.3 Pre contract information and advice requirements

8.3.1 R A firm must (except where the contract is a credit agreement to which the disclosure regulations apply) provide sufficient information, on a durable medium, when the customer first enquires about the firm’s services, about the following matters to enable the customer to make a reasonable decision:

(1) the nature of the firm’s service offered in the contract to the customer;
[Note: paragraph 3.38b of DMG]

(2) the duration of the contract;
[Note: paragraph 3.38c of DMG]

(3) the total cost of the firm’s service or, where it is not possible to state the total cost, the formula the firm uses for calculating its fees or charges or an estimate of the anticipated likely total cost may be given;
[Note: paragraph 3.40c of DMG]

(4) any fee or deposit, such as an arrangement fee, a periodic fee, a management fee, or an administrative fee;
[Note: paragraph 3.38c of DMG]

(5) any fee or charge which can be imposed on the customer in relation to cancellation of the contract;
[Note: paragraph 3.38c of DMG]

(6) any other costs likely to be incurred under the contract and the circumstances in which these would be payable;
[Note: paragraph 3.38c of DMG]

(7) where the firm bases its fees or charges on some percentage or an hourly rate or some other formula, an explanation of how the fees or charges are calculated;
[Note: paragraph 3.9c of DMG]

(8) the elements of the service that the fees cover;
[Note: paragraph 3.38c of DMG]

(9) the circumstances in which a customer may terminate the contract and receive a refund in accordance with relevant law and any fees or charges the customer may be required to pay in that case;
[Note: paragraph 3.40d of DMG]

(10) the consequences on the customer’s credit rating, including how long the matter will show on the customer’s credit file and that the customer may not be able to obtain credit or other financial services in the future;
[Note: paragraph 3.38e of DMG]

(11) whether a right to cancel applies and, if so, the period and any conditions for exercising the right to cancel the contract and any amount the customer may be required to pay; how payments will be allocated to lenders and when payments will be made; and

[Note: paragraph 3.38k of DMG]

(13) the period of time between payments being received from the customer and payments being made to lenders, including the date when the first payment will be made to lenders.

[Note: paragraph 3.38l of DMG]

[Note: paragraphs 3.33, 3.35 and 3.38 of DMG]

8.3.2 R A firm must ensure that:

(1) all advice given and action taken by the firm or its agent or its appointed representative:

(a) has regard to the best interests of the customer;

(b) is appropriate to the individual circumstances of the customer; and

(c) is based on a sufficiently full assessment of the financial circumstances of the customer;

[Note: paragraph 2.6a of DMG]

(2) customers receive sufficient information about the available options identified as suitable for the customers’ needs; and

[Note: paragraph 2.6b of DMG]

(3) it explains the reasons why the firm considers the available options suitable and other options unsuitable.

[Note: paragraph 2.6b of DMG].

8.3.3 G The individual circumstances of the customer include, for example, the customer’s financial position, the country in the UK to whose laws and procedures the customer and the lender in question are subject, and the level of understanding of the customer.

[Note: paragraph 2.6c of DMG]

8.3.4 R A firm must ensure that advice provided to a customer, whether before the firm has entered into contract with the customer or after, is provided in a durable medium and:

(1) makes clear which debts will be included in any debt solution and which debts will be excluded from any debt solution;

[Note: paragraph 3.38j of DMG]
(2) makes clear the actual or potential advantages, disadvantages, costs and risks of each option available to the customer, with any conditions that apply for entry into each option and which debts may be covered by each option;

[Note: paragraphs 3.23a and 3.38b of DMG]

(3) warns the customer:

(a) of the actual or potential consequences of failing to continue to pay taxes, fines, child support payments and debts which could result in loss of access to essential goods or services or repossession of, or eviction from, the customer's home;

[Note: paragraph 3.38m of DMG]

(b) of the actual or potential consequences of not continuing to make repayments under credit agreements or consumer hire agreements;

[Note: paragraph 3.26k of DMG]

(c) of the actual or potential consequences of ignoring correspondence or other contact from lenders and those acting on behalf of lenders;

[Note: paragraph 3.38n of DMG]

(d) that action to recover debts may be commenced, which may involve further cost to the customer; and

[Note: paragraph 3.38q of DMG]

(e) that by entering into a debt management plan or another non-statutory repayment plan there is no guarantee that any current recovery or legal action will be suspended or withdrawn;

[Note: paragraph 3.38r of DMG]

(4) where relevant to the debt solution, makes clear the risks, including the following risks:

(a) if the arrangement or deed fails, the risk of bankruptcy;

(b) homeowners may need to release equity from the value of their homes to pay off debts; and that a remortgage may attract higher interest rates or that if no remortgage is available, an individual voluntary arrangement may be extended for 12 months;

(c) there are restrictions on the expenditure of a person who enters into an individual voluntary arrangement or protected trust deed;

(d) the customer's lenders may not approve the individual voluntary arrangement or protected trust deed; and
(c) only unsecured debts included within the individual voluntary arrangement or protected trust deed may be discharged at the end of the period and unsecured debts not included remain outstanding;

[Note: paragraph 3.38s of DMG]

(5) takes proper account of the individual needs of, and any requests made by, a customer; and

[Note: paragraph 3.23f of DMG]

(6) where relevant, explains the nature of an insolvency procedure and the role of the firm.

[Note: paragraph 3.23o of DMG]

[Note: paragraphs 3.23 and 3.38 of DMG]

8.3.5 G The information required by CONC 8.3.4R should be provided leaving sufficient time for the customer (taking into account the complexity of the information and the customer’s financial position) to consider it before having to make a decision on the appropriate course of action.

8.3.6 G A firm should not unfairly incentivise debt advisers (whether employees, agents or appointed representatives of the firm) to the extent that an incentive might lead the firm not to comply with CONC 8.3.2R.

[Note: paragraph 3.22 (box) of DMG]

8.3.7 R A firm must:

(1) provide the customer with a source of impartial information on the range of debt solutions available to the customer in the relevant country of the UK;

[Note: paragraph 3.23b of DMG]

(2) before giving any advice or any recommendation on a particular course of action in relation to the customer’s debts, carry out a reasonable and reliable assessment of:

(a) the customer’s financial position (including the customer’s income, capital and expenditure);

(b) the customer’s personal circumstances (including the reasons for the financial difficulty, whether it is temporary or longer term and whether the customer has entered into a debt solution previously and, if it failed, the reason for its failure); and

(c) any other relevant factors (including any known or reasonably foreseeable changes in the customer’s circumstances such as a change in employment status);
(3) refer a customer to an appropriate not-for-profit debt advice body in circumstances where the customer:

(a) has problems related to debt requiring immediate attention with which the firm is unable or unwilling to assist the customer; or

[Note: paragraph 3.23gi of DMG]

(b) does not have enough disposable income to pay the firm’s fees;

[Note: paragraph 3.23gii of DMG]

(4) refer a customer to, or provide contact details for, another debt advice provider in circumstances where the firm is unable to provide appropriate advice or provide an appropriate debt solution for the customer; and

[Note: paragraph 3.23h of DMG]

(5) seek to ensure that a customer understands the options available and the implications and consequences for the customer of the firm’s recommended course of action.

[Note: paragraph 3.23i of DMG]

8.3.8 G

(1) The information and advice referred to in CONC 8.3 should be provided in a manner which is clear fair and not misleading to comply with Principle 7 and CONC 3.3.1R, and should be in plain and intelligible language in accordance with CONC 3.3.2R. A firm should encourage a customer to read the information and allow sufficient time between providing the information and entering into the contract to enable the customer to seek independent advice if so desired.

[Note: paragraphs 3.21, 3.35 and 3.36 of DMG]

(2) The firm’s services referred to in CONC 8.3 include any debt solution the firm offers to a customer. Therefore, in setting out fees or charges for a firm’s services, the fees and charges the firm charges in relation to a debt solution should be included.

(3) The serious problems related to debt in CONC 8.3.7R are likely to include, where non-payment of a debt may result in the loss of a customer’s home or loss of access to essential goods or services and, in particular, where legal action is threatened or legal action is taken in relation to debts which may have that effect.

[Note: paragraph 3.23gi of DMG]

(4) A not-for-profit debt advice body should refer a customer to another not-for-profit debt advice body under CONC 8.3.7R(3) where, for example, it is unable to assist a customer.
An appropriate not-for-profit debt advice body would be one that provides the most appropriate debt solution given the customer’s financial circumstances.

8.4 Debt solution contracts

8.4.1 A firm must provide a customer with a written contract setting out its terms and conditions for the provision of its services.

[Note: paragraph 3.40a of DMG]

8.4.2 A firm must include in its written contract (other than a credit agreement to which the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 2010 apply) the following matters:

(1) the nature of the service to be provided by the firm, including the specific debt solution to be offered to the customer;

[Note: paragraph 3.40b of DMG]

(2) the duration of the contract;

[Note: paragraph 3.40c of DMG]

(3) the total cost of the firm’s service or, where it is not possible to state the total cost, the formula the firm uses for calculating its fees or charges or an estimate of the anticipated likely total cost may be given;

[Note: paragraph 3.40c of DMG]

(4) the circumstances in which a customer may terminate the contract and receive a refund in accordance with relevant law and any fees or charges the customer may be required to pay in that case; and

[Note: paragraph 3.40d of DMG]

(5) set out the duration and conditions for exercise of any right to cancel that may apply and any fees or charges the customer may be required to pay.

[Note: paragraph 3.40e of DMG]

8.4.3 A firm must not include the following terms in a contract with a customer:

(1) a term requiring the customer to sign a declaration stating in any way that the customer understands the requirements of the contract;

[Note: paragraph 3.41a of DMG]

(2) a term restricting or prohibiting the customer from corresponding with or responding to a lender or with any person acting on behalf of a lender;
(3) a term which states or implies the firm has no liability to the customer; or

[Note: paragraph 3.41c of DMG]

(4) a term which states or implies that there are no circumstances in which a customer is entitled to a refund.

[Note: paragraph 3.41d of DMG]

8.4.4 G A firm may be required to make a refund of its fees and charges, in whole or in part, if a firm fails to deliver its service in whole or in part or it has carried out the service without reasonable care and skill.

8.5 Financial statements and debt repayment offers

8.5.1 R A firm must ensure that a financial statement sent to a lender on behalf of a customer:

(1) is accurate and realistic and must present a sufficiently clear and complete account of the customer’s income and expenditure, debts and the availability of surplus income;

[Note: paragraph 3.24 of DMG]

(2) state any fees or charges being made by the firm;

(3) is sent only after having obtained the customer’s consent to send the statement and the customer’s confirmation as to the accuracy of the statement;

[Note: paragraph 3.26f and g of DMG]

(4) is provided to the customer’s lenders as soon as practicable after the customer has confirmed its accuracy; and

[Note: paragraph 3.26e of DMG]

(5) is also sent to the customer, together with any accompanying correspondence.

[Note: paragraph 3.26h of DMG]

8.5.2 G The format of the financial statement sent to lenders on behalf of the customer should be uniform and logically structured in a way that encourages consistent responses from lenders and reduces queries and delays. Firms may wish to use the Common Financial Statement facilitated by the Money Advice Trust or an equivalent or similar statement.

[Note: paragraph 3.24 of DMG]
8.5.3 G (1) Where a firm makes an offer to a lender to repay a customer’s debts on behalf of a customer, the offer should be realistic, sustainable and in accordance with CONC 8.3.2R should, in particular, have regard to the best interests of the customer.

(2) A sustainable offer should enable the customer to meet repayments in full when they are due out of the customer’s disposable income for the whole duration of the repayment proposal.

(3) Setting the offer should take full account of a customer’s obligations to pay taxes, fines, child support payments and those debts which could result in loss of access to essential goods or services or repossession of, or eviction from, the customer’s home.

(4) In considering what are essential goods and services, the firm should consider the customer’s personal circumstances, for example, for disabled persons debts for telecommunications services are likely to be essential.

[Note: paragraphs 3.25, 3.26c and 3.28d of DMG]

8.5.4 R A firm must:

(1) take reasonable steps to verify the customer’s identity, income and outgoings;

[Note: paragraph 3.26a of DMG]

(2) seek explanations if a customer indicates expenditure which is particularly high or low; and

[Note: paragraph 3.26b of DMG]

(3) where applicable, notify a customer that a particular lender will not deal with the firm (for whatever reason), as soon as possible after the firm becomes aware that the customer owes a debt to that lender.

[Note: paragraph 3.26l of DMG]

8.5.5 G What are reasonable steps for verification of the identity, income and outgoings of a customer depends on the circumstances of the case and the type of service offered by the firm. Estimates of expenditure would be reasonable where precise figures are not readily available. The Common Financial Statement includes expenditure guidelines, but where a firm uses the Common Financial Statement or an equivalent or similar statement which includes such guidelines, the use of expenditure guidelines needs to take into account the individual circumstances of the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.26a (box) of DMG]

8.6 Changes to contractual payments
8.6.1 R (1) Where a firm gives advice to a customer not to make a contractual repayment or to cancel any means of making such a repayment before any debt solution is agreed or entered into, the firm must be able to demonstrate the advice is in the customer’s best interests.

(2) Where a firm gives advice of the type in (1), the firm must advise the customer (C) that if C adopts the advice C should notify C’s lenders without delay and explain that C is following the firm’s advice to this effect.

[Note: paragraph 3.27 of DMG]

8.6.2 R If the effect of advice the firm gives (if adopted by the customer) is that contractual repayments are not made or are not made in full (for one or more repayments), the firm must warn the customer of the actual or potential consequences of taking that course of action.

[Note: paragraph 3.28a of DMG]

8.6.3 R A firm must only advise a customer to make repayments at a rate lower than the rate necessary to meet interest and charges accruing where it is in the customer’s best interests.

[Note: paragraph 3.28b of DMG]

8.6.4 G (1) The FCA expects it will generally be in the customer’s best interests to maintain regular payments to lenders (even if the repayment is less than the full sum due).

(2) An example where it might be in the customer’s best interests not to repay at the rate necessary to meet interest and charges accruing is where there is insufficient disposable income to meet essential expenditure of the type referred to in CONC 8.5.3G. Where that is the case, the firm should explain clearly to the customer why this course of action is necessary and the consequences of the course of action.

8.6.5 R Where a firm has advised a customer not to make contractual repayments (in full or in part) or to cancel the means of making such payments or not to make repayments necessary to meet interest and charges accruing, the firm must advise the customer if it becomes clear that that course of action is not producing effects in the customer’s best interests to enable the customer to take action in the customer’s best interests.

[Note: paragraph 3.28c of DMG]

8.6.6 G (1) An example of an effect not in the customer’s best interests would be if a lender does not agree to stop applying interest and charges to the customer’s debt.

[Note: paragraph 3.28c of DMG]

(2) Where it becomes clear that the course of action in CONC 8.6.5R is not producing effects in the customer’s best interests the firm should, where withdrawing from the debt management plan may be in the customer’s best interests, advise the customer of the possibility of withdrawing from the plan.

8.7 Charging for debt counselling, debt advice and related services

8.7.1 G (1) The distance marketing rules in CONC 2.6, including the right to cancel in CONC 11, apply to firms with respect to distance contracts which are credit agreements, consumer hire agreements and agreements the subject matter of which comprises, or relates to, debt counselling, debt adjusting, providing credit information services and providing credit references. CONC 11 excludes various credit agreements from the right to cancel.

(2) Where a consumer uses the right to cancel under CONC 11 or under the Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004 to cancel an agreement with a firm to set up or administer a debt solution, the firm should refund any sum paid, less a charge that the firm is entitled to make under CONC 11.1.1R or regulation 13(6) to (9) of those Regulations.

[Note: paragraphs 3.29 and 3.31 of DMG]

(3) The firm may be entitled to impose a charge in (2) if the customer requested the firm to begin to carry out its service within the cancellation period (see CONC 11.1.1R or regulation 10 of the Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004,

8.7.2 R A firm must ensure that the obligations of the customer in relation to the amount, or the timing of payment, of its fees or charges:

(1) do not have the effect that the customer pays all, or substantially all, of those fees in priority to making repayments to lenders in accordance with the debt management plan; and

(2) do not undermine the customer’s ability to make (through the firm acting on the customer’s behalf) significant repayments to the customer’s lenders throughout the duration of the debt management plan, starting with the first month of the plan; but

(3) paragraphs (1) and (2) do not prevent, to the extent the firm complies with all applicable rules, a firm operating a full and final settlement model, in which the firm holds money on behalf of the customer and does not distribute that money promptly, pending negotiating a settlement with the customer’s lenders.

[Note: paragraphs 5.3 and 5.4 of the Debt Management Protocol]

8.7.3 G (1) For the purposes of CONC 8.7.2R(2), an obligation is likely to be viewed as undermining the customer’s ability to make significant repayments to the customer’s lenders if it has the effect that the firm may allocate more than half of the sums received from the customer in any one-month period from the start of the debt management plan to the discharge (in whole or in part) of its fees or charges.

(2) Once the customer has paid any initial fee for the arrangement and preparation of the debt management plan, or, if earlier, once six months from the start of the plan have elapsed, the FCA would expect there usually to be a reduction in the proportion of the sums received from the customer that the firm allocates to the discharge of its fees and charges.

(3) A firm should spread any charges or fees payable by the customer for the administration or operation of the debt management plan following its making evenly over the duration of the plan.

(4) The proportion of the sums received from a customer in order to discharge the firm’s fees or charges should take account of the level of repayments the customer in question makes.

8.7.4 R A firm must:

(1) in good time before entering into a contract with the customer, disclose the existence of any commission or incentive payments relevant to the service provided to the customer between the firm and any third party and at any time, if the customer requests, disclose the amount of any such commission or incentive payment;

[Note: paragraph 3.34b and c of DMG]

(2) send a revised financial statement in the same format as that required under CONC 8.5.1R to the customer’s lenders where the firm’s fees or charges alter during an arrangement and would affect the amount available for distribution to lenders;

[Note: paragraph 3.34f (box) of DMG]

(3) at the earlier of, where the firm identifies or it is established that advice provided by the firm to the customer was incorrect or was not appropriate to the customer, refund or credit to the customer’s account fees or charges imposed for that advice;

[Note: paragraph 3.34m of DMG]

(4) make an appropriate refund of fees or charges paid where the whole or any part of the service as agreed with the customer has not been provided or not provided with a reasonable standard of skill and care.

[Note: paragraph 3.34o of DMG]

8.7.5 G A firm, in presenting its fees, costs and charges, should distinguish the fees payable for the firm’s services from any charges payable for court proceedings or other insolvency proceedings.

8.7.6 R A firm must not:
(1) without a reasonable justification, switch a customer from one debt solution to another while making a further charge for setting up or administering the new debt solution to the extent that some or all of that work has already been carried out by the firm;

[Note: paragraphs 3.32 and 34k of DMG]

(2) switch a customer to a different debt solution, without obtaining the customer’s consent after having fully explained to the customer the reason for the change;

[Note: paragraph 3.34l of DMG]

(3) require or take any payment from a customer before the firm has entered into contract with the customer concerning a debt solution;

[Note: paragraph 3.34d of DMG]

(4) request any payment from a customer’s payment account, unless the customer has specifically authorised the firm to do so and has not cancelled that authorisation;

[Note: paragraph 3.34d (box) of DMG]

(5) accept payment for fees or charges by credit card or another form of credit (excluding a payment where the firm does not know and cannot be expected to know that the customer’s current account is in debit or would be taken into debit by the payment);

[Note: paragraph 3.34e of DMG]

(6) impose cancellation charges that are unreasonable or disproportionate when compared to the actual costs necessarily incurred by the firm in reasonably providing its service;

[Note: paragraph 3.34h of DMG]

(7) claim a fee or charge from a customer or take payment from a customer’s account which is not provided for in the agreement with the customer, or where it is provided for but is, or is likely to be, unfair under the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999;

[Note: paragraph 3.34i of DMG]

(8) where the firm identifies that advice provided by the firm to the customer was incorrect or was not appropriate to the customer, charge an additional fee for further or revised advice; or

[Note: paragraph 3.34m of DMG]

(9) request, suggest or instruct customers seeking to recover refunds of fees from the firm to make contact with the firm on a premium rate telephone number.

[Note: paragraph 3.34n of DMG]
8.8 Debt management plans

8.8.1 R A firm in relation to a customer with whom it has entered into a debt management plan must:

(1) maintain contact with the customer;
[Note: paragraph 3.44 of DMG]

(2) regularly monitor and review the financial position and circumstances of the customer;
[Note: paragraph 3.44 of DMG]

(3) adapt the debt management plan to take into account relevant changes in the financial position and circumstances of the customer;
[Note: paragraph 3.44 of DMG]

(4) inform the customer without delay of the outcome of negotiations with lenders, in particular, where the lender has:
   (a) refused to deal with the firm; or
   (b) returned payments to the firm; or
   (c) refused the debt repayment offer; or
   (d) refused to freeze interest or charges accruing;
[Note: paragraph 3.45a of DMG]

(5) inform the customer of any material developments about the relationship between the customer and the customer’s lenders;
[Note: paragraph 3.45b of DMG]

(6) provide the customer with copies of correspondence or documentation relating to material developments relevant to the relationship between the customer and the customer’s lenders;
[Note: paragraph 3.45b of DMG]

(7) where the firm makes repayments on behalf of the customer:
   (a) monitor the customer’s repayments for evidence which suggests a change in the customer’s financial circumstances;
   (b) review, and amend or terminate, where appropriate, the customer’s debt management plan at the earlier of:
      (i) each anniversary of entering into the plan; or
(ii) as soon as the firm becomes aware of a material change in the customer’s circumstances; and

c) inform the customer of the outcome of any reassessment;

[Note: paragraph 3.45c of DMG]

(8) provide a statement to the customer at the start of the debt management plan, and at least annually or at the customer’s reasonable request, setting out:

(a) a balance showing the amount owed by the customer, including any interest charges at the beginning of the statement period;

(b) fees, charges and other costs applied over the period of the statement, including any upfront fee or deposit, such as an initial arrangement fee, an arrangement fee, any periodic or management or administrative fee, any cancellation fee and any other costs incurred under the contract;

(c) a narrative explaining the type of fee applied, how the fee is calculated and to what it applies;

(d) the duration or estimated duration of the contract;

(e) the total cost of the firm’s service over the duration or estimated duration of the contract; and

(f) monthly or other periodic payments made to lenders;

[Note: paragraphs 3.45cde of DMG]

(9) maintain adequate records relating to each debt management plan which the firm has administered for the customer until the contract between the customer and the firm is completed or terminated;

[Note: paragraph 3.45i of DMG]

(10) check the accuracy of the details of the customer’s accounts; and

[Note: paragraph 3.45j of DMG]

(11) use reasonable endeavours not to send inaccurate information to lenders.

[Note: paragraph 3.45j of DMG]

8.8.2 G (1) Evidence that there may have been a material change in a customer’s financial circumstances is likely to include where a customer who has not previously missed payments under a debt management plan misses such payments.

[Note: paragraph 3.45ci of DMG]
(2) Where the firm informs a customer of the outcome of a review of a debt management plan, it should seek to discuss with the customer any changes to the plan or to the firm’s service at the earliest reasonably opportunity.

[Note: paragraph 3.45ciii of DMG]

(3) In CONC 8.8.1R(6) correspondence or documentation relating to material developments would include, for example, the issue or threat of issue of default notices or legal proceedings.

[Note: paragraph 3.45b of DMG.]

8.9 Lead generators: including firm responsibility in dealing with lead generators

8.9.1 G The Principles (in particular Principle 6 and Principle 7) apply to actions of a firm dealing with a customer who has been referred to it through a lead generator. For example, where a firm acts on a sales lead and knows or ought to know that the lead generator is using misleading information, advice or actions to obtain a customer’s personal data is likely to amount to a breach by the firm of Principle 6 and Principle 7.

8.9.2 R A firm must take reasonable steps before entering into an agreement to accept sales leads from a lead generator for debt counselling or debt adjusting or providing credit information services to ensure:

(1) that any of the lead generator’s advice, any content of its website and advertising and any of its commercial practices comply with applicable legal requirements, including the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008;

(2) that the lead generator is registered with the Information Commission’s Office under the Data Protection Act 1998; and

(3) that the lead generator has processes in place to ensure it complies with that Act and with the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003.

[Note: paragraph 3.9 of DMG]

8.9.3 G The steps required to satisfy the requirement in CONC 8.9.2R should depend upon the regularity with which the firm intends to accept sales leads from the lead generator. If sales leads provided by a lead generator are likely to be on a single or occasional basis, less rigorous checks should be required than for a specialist sales lead generator.

[Note: paragraph 3.9 (box) of DMG]

8.9.4 R A firm must take reasonable steps, where it has agreed to accept sales leads from a lead generator for debt counselling or debt adjusting or providing credit information services, to ensure that the lead generator:

(1) where it does not have a Part 4A permission for debt counselling and is not an appointed representative of a firm with such permission, does not carry on debt counselling in obtaining or passing on sales leads to the firm;

(2) where it carries on debt counselling, has and continues to have a Part 4A permission for debt counselling or is an appointed representative of a firm with such permission;

(3) where it does not have a Part 4A permission covering the relevant activity, does not claim to or imply that it provides debt counselling or debt adjusting or that it is providing credit information services;

[Note: paragraph 3.12 of DMG]

(4) complies with applicable legal requirements, including the Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations 2008 in relation to any of its advice, any content of its website, any of its advertising and any of its commercial practices;

[Note: paragraph 3.9a of DMG]

(5) makes the true nature of its services clear to customers, through any means of communication or promotion it uses;

[Note: paragraph 3.12 of DMG]

(6) where it seeks a customer’s personal data to pass on to a firm for a fee, it makes clear to the customer that the customer’s personal data will be passed on to the firm;

[Note: paragraph 3.12c of DMG]

(7) makes clear to a customer any financial interest it has in passing on a sales lead to the firm;

[Note: paragraph 3.12d of DMG]

(8) makes clear, if asked by a customer, the nature of its relationship with the firm;

[Note: paragraph 3.12e of DMG]

(9) does not falsely claim or imply in any way that it is or represents a charitable or not-for-profit body or government or local government organisation;

[Note: paragraph 3.12f of DMG]

(10) communicates with customers consistent with, and promotes, services the firm is able to provide;

[Note: paragraph 3.12h of DMG]
(11) complies with the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003 and the Data Protection Act 1998;

[Note: paragraph 3.11 of DMG]

(12) does not send, or cause to be sent, an electronic communication to a customer (C) unless C has previously notified the lead generator that C consents for the time being to such communications being sent or caused to be sent by the lead generator;

[Note: paragraph 3.12j of DMG]

(13) does not make or cause to be made by means of an automated calling system (which is capable of automatically initiating a sequence of calls to more than one destination in accordance with instructions stored in that system, and transmitting sounds which are not live speech for reception by persons at some or all of the destinations so called) a call to a customer (C), unless C has previously notified the caller that for the time being C consents to such communications being made by or caused to be made by the caller on the line in question; and

[Note: paragraph 3.12j of DMG]

(14) enables customers to cancel using a clear and easy method their consent to be called or sent any communication.

[Note: paragraphs 3.7 and 3.8 of DMG]

Guidance for firms

8.9.5 G The FCA would expect firms that agree with lead generators to accept sales leads in relation to debt counselling or debt adjusting to be able to identify, upon request, all the lead generators from which they have received leads (with the FCA authorisation number, where applicable).

8.9.6 G Claiming or implying a person is or represents, for example, a charitable organisation is likely to include operating a website which looks like, or is designed to look like, the website of such an organisation.

8.9.7 G In complying with CONC 8.9.4R a firm that agrees with a lead generator to accept sale leads should:

(1) check with the Information Commissioner’s Office that the lead generator is appropriately registered under the Data Protection Act 1998; and

(2) check the lead generator’s Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003 process documentation.
8.10  Conduct of business: providing credit information services

Application

8.10.1  R  This section applies to:

(1) a firm with respect to providing credit information services in relation to information relevant to the financial standing of an individual;

(2) a firm with respect to the activities set out in article 36H(3)(e) to (h) of the Regulated Activities Order (Operating an electronic system in relation to lending) in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement.

Conduct

8.10.2  G  The Principles apply to a firm with respect to providing credit information services. A firm providing such services should, for example, set out clearly in any communication to a customer the extent of the service it is able to offer.

[Note: paragraph 3.46 of DMG]

8.10.3  R  A firm must not:

(1) claim to be able to remove negative but accurate information from a customer’s credit file, including entries concerning adverse credit information and court judgments; or

[Note: paragraph 3.47ai of DMG]

(2) mislead a customer about the length of time that negative information is held on the customer’s credit file or any official register; or

[Note: paragraph 3.47aii of DMG]

(3) claim that a new credit file can be created, such as by the customer changing address.

[Note: paragraph 3.47aiii of DMG]

8.10.4  G  It is likely to be a contravention of the Principles, for example Principles 6 and Principle 7, where a firm:

(1) claims in a communication to a customer to be able to remove negative but accurate entries from a customer’s credit file, but where the customer enquires about this service the customer is offered instead the firm’s service as a lender or a credit broker; or

(2) fails to inform a customer that a credit reference agency will not respond to the firm taking steps in relation to the customer’s credit file and will only send the customer’s credit file to the customer.

[Note: paragraphs 3.47cd of DMG]
9 Credit reference agencies

9.1 Application

9.1.1 R This chapter applies to a firm with respect to providing credit references.

9.2 Conduct of business: correction of entries in credit reference agency files

9.2.1 R Within 10 working days after any of the following events:

(1) the credit reference agency giving notice under section 159(2) of the CCA that it has removed an entry from the file kept by it about an individual or has amended such an entry (including where it has amended an entry by removing information from it); or

(2) the credit reference agency giving notice under section 159(4) of the CCA that it has received a notice under section 159(3) requiring it to add a notice of correction to the file and intends to comply with the notice; or

(3) the expiry of the period specified in an order of the FCA or the Information Commissioner under section 159(5) of the CCA as the period within which the order is to be complied with;

the credit reference agency must give notice of the particulars specified in CONC 9.2.2R to each person to whom at any time since the relevant date it has furnished information relevant to the financial standing of the individual concerned.

[Note: regulation 5 of SI 1977/330]

9.2.2 R The particulars referred to in CONC 9.2.1R are:

(1) in relation to information included in any entry which has been removed or amended or which is referred to in a notice of correction:

(a) particulars of any entry which has been removed from the file and a statement that it has been removed;

(b) particulars of any entry which has been amended and of the amendment, or of the entry as amended; and

(c) particulars of the entry, together with a copy of the notice of correction; and

(2) where the information did not include the entry which has been removed or amended or which is referred to in a notice of correction, but which (whether in the form of a rating or opinion or otherwise) was based in whole or in part on any such entry and has been, or falls
9.2.3 R In this section, "the relevant date" means the date one month immediately preceding the receipt by the credit reference agency from the individual of the request, particulars and fee referred to in section 158(1) of the CCA, or the request and fee (if a fee is payable) referred to in section 7(2) of the Data Protection Act 1998 and, if applicable, the receipt of any further information requested by the credit reference agency referred to in section 7(3) of that Act.

10 Prudential rules for debt management firms

10.1 Application and purpose

Application

10.1.1 R This chapter applies to:

(1) a debt management firm; and

(2) a not-for-profit debt advice body that, at any point in the last 12 months, has held £1 million or more in client money or as the case may be, projects that it will hold £1 million or more in client money at any point in the next 12 months.

Application: professional firms

10.1.2 R (1) This chapter does not apply to an authorised professional firm:

(a) whose main business is the practice of its profession; and

(b) whose regulated activities covered by this chapter are incidental to its main business.

(2) A firm’s main business is the practice of its profession if the proportion of income it derives from professional fees is, during its annual accounting period, at least 50% of the firm’s total income (a temporary variation of not more than 5% may be disregarded for this purpose).

(3) Professional fees are fees, commissions and other receipts receivable in respect of legal, accountancy, conveyancing and surveying services provided to clients but excluding any items receivable in respect of regulated activities.
Purpose

10.1.3  G This chapter builds on the threshold condition referred to at COND 2.4 (Appropriate resources) by providing that a firm must meet, on a continuing basis, a basic solvency requirement. This chapter also builds on Principle 4 which requires a firm to maintain adequate financial resources by setting out prudential requirements for a firm according to what type of firm it is.

10.1.4  G Prudential standards have an important role in minimising the risk of harm to customers by ensuring that a firm behaves prudently in monitoring and managing business and financial risks.

10.1.5  G More generally, having adequate prudential resources gives the firm a degree of resilience and some indication to customers of creditworthiness, substance and the commitment of its owners. Prudential standards aim to ensure that a firm has prudential resources which can provide cover for operational and compliance failures and pay redress, as well as reducing the possibility of a shortfall in funds and providing a cushion against disruption if the firm ceases to trade.

10.1.6  R A contravention of the rules in this chapter does not give rise to a right of action by a private person under section 138D of the Act (and each of those rules is specified under section 138D(3) of the Act as a provision giving rise to no such right of action).

10.2  Prudential resources requirements

General solvency requirement

10.2.1  R A firm must, at all times, ensure that it is able to meet its liabilities as they fall due.

General prudential resource requirement

10.2.2  R A firm must ensure that, at all times, its prudential resources are not less than its prudential resources requirement.

Prudential resources: relevant accounting principles

10.2.3  R A firm must recognise an asset or liability, and measure its amount, in accordance with the relevant accounting principles applicable to it for the purpose of preparing its annual financial statements unless a rule requires otherwise.

Prudential resources requirement: firms carrying on other regulated activities

10.2.4  R The prudential resources requirement for a firm carrying on a regulated activity or activities in addition to those covered by this chapter, is the higher of:
the requirement which is applied by this chapter; and

(2) the prudential resources requirement which is applied by another rule or requirement to the firm.

Prudential resources requirement

10.2.5 R On its accounting reference date in each year, a firm must calculate:

(1) the total value of its relevant debts under management outstanding on that date; and

(2) the sum of:

(a) 0.25% of the first £5 million of that total value;
(b) 0.15% of the next £95 million of that total value; and
(c) 0.05% of any remaining total value.

10.2.6 R The total value of a firm’s relevant debts under management outstanding referred to in CONC 10.2.5R(1) is the sum of all the firm’s customers’ relevant debts under management.

10.2.7 G The definition of relevant debts under management refers to a debt due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement in relation to which the firm is carrying on debt adjusting or an activity connected to that activity. The reference to “debt due” covers not only amounts that are payable at the time the prudential resources requirement is calculated but also amounts the borrower is presently obliged to pay under the credit agreement in the future.

10.2.8 R The prudential resources requirement for a firm to which this chapter applies is the higher of:

(1) £5,000; or

(2) the sum calculated in accordance with CONC 10.2.5R (2); for the period until (subject to CONC 10.2.13R) its next accounting reference date.

10.2.9 R To determine a firm’s prudential resources requirement for the period beginning on the date on which it obtains Part 4A permission and ending on the day before its next accounting reference date, the firm must carry out the calculation in CONC 10.2.5R(2) on the basis of the total value of relevant debts under management the firm projects will be outstanding on the day before its next accounting reference date.

What is not included as relevant debts under management
Activities carried on by a person acting as an insolvency practitioner (within section 388 of the Insolvency Act 1986 or, as the case may be, article 3 of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989) or by a person acting in reasonable contemplation of that person’s appointment as an insolvency practitioner are excluded from the regulated activity of debt adjusting. A debt in relation to which a person is acting in such a capacity is, therefore, excluded from the calculation of its relevant debts under management (but a debt in relation to which the same person is not acting in such capacity and is carrying on debt-adjusting is included in the calculation).

Determining the prudential resources requirement

If a firm has 1000 relevant debts under management and each of those debts is £10,000, the total value of the firm’s relevant debts under management is £10,000,000. If the firm does not carry on any other regulated activity to which another higher prudential resources requirement applies, its prudential resources requirement is £20,000. This is calculated as follows:

(1) \(0.25\% \times £5,000,000 = £12,500\); and

(2) \(0.15\% \times £5,000,000 = £7,500\).

If during the following year 20% (£200) of each relevant debt under management is paid off by the borrower or hirer leaving an outstanding balance of £800 on each relevant debt under management, and during that year the firm does not carry on debt adjusting in relation to any further debts due under credit agreements or consumer hire agreements, the total value of the firm’s relevant debt under management is £8,000,000. If the firm does not carry on any other regulated activity to which another higher prudential resources requirement applies, its prudential resources requirement is £17,000. This is calculated as follows:

(1) \(0.25\% \times £5,000,000 = £12,500\); and

(2) \(0.15\% \times £3,000,000 = £4,500\).

Recalculating the prudential resources requirement

If a firm experiences a greater than 15% increase in the total value of its relevant debts under management compared to the value used in its last prudential resources requirement calculation, it must recalculate its prudential resources requirement using the new total value of its relevant debts under management.

A firm must notify the FCA of any change in its prudential resources requirement within 14 days of that change.

Calculation of prudential resources
(1) A firm must calculate its prudential resources only from the items which are eligible to contribute to a firm’s prudential resources (see CONC 10.3.2R).

(2) In arriving at its calculation of its prudential resources a firm must deduct certain items (see CONC 10.3.3R).

1. Investments in subsidiaries are the full balance sheet value.
2. Intangible assets are the full balance sheet value of goodwill, capitalised development costs, brand names, trademarks and similar rights and licences.
3. The interim net losses in row 4, and the excess of drawings in row 5, are in relation to the period following the date as at which the capital resources are being computed.

A subordinated loan/debt must not form part of the prudential resources of the firm unless it meets the following conditions:

1. it has an original maturity of:
   (a) at least five years; or
   (b) it is subject to five years’ notice of repayment;

2. the claims of the subordinated creditors must rank behind those of all unsubordinated creditors;

3. the only events of default must be non-payment of any interest or principal under the debt agreement or the winding up of the firm;

4. the remedies available to the subordinated creditor in the event of non-payment or other default in respect of the subordinated loan/debt must be limited to petitioning for the winding up of the firm or proving the debt and claiming in the liquidation of the firm;

(5) the subordinated loan/debt must not become due and payable before its stated final maturity date, except on an event of default complying with (3);

(6) the agreement and the debt are governed by the law of England and Wales, or of Scotland or of Northern Ireland;

(7) to the fullest extent permitted under the rules of the relevant jurisdiction, creditors must waive their right to set off amounts they owe the firm against subordinated amounts owed to them by the firm;

(8) the terms of the subordinated loan/debt must be set out in a written agreement that contains terms that provide for the conditions set out in this rule; and

(9) the loan/debt must be unsecured and fully paid up.

10.3.5 R When calculating its prudential resources, the firm must exclude any amount by which the aggregate amount of its subordinated loans/debts exceeds the amount calculated as follows:

a - b

where:

As subordinated loans/debts (£10,000) are less than the total of share capital + reserves – intangible assets (£40,000) the firm need not exclude any of its subordinated loans/debts pursuant to CONC 10.3.5R. Therefore total prudential resources will be £50,000.

As subordinated loans/debts (£60,000) exceed the total of share capital + reserves – intangible assets (£40,000) by £20,000, the firm should exclude £20,000 of its subordinated loans/debts when calculating its prudential resources. Therefore total prudential resources will be £80,000.

11 Cancellation

11.1 The right to cancel

11.1.1 R Except as provided for in CONC 11.1.2R or where PROF 5.4.1R(1) or (2) applies, a consumer has a right to cancel a distance contract without penalty and without giving any reason, within 14 calendar days where that contract is:

(1) a credit agreement;

(2) an agreement between a consumer and a firm the subject matter of which comprises or relates to debt counselling, debt adjusting, providing credit information services or providing credit references, other than an agreement that relates to any of those activities in relation to a consumer hire agreement.

[Note: article 6(1) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts that are consumer credit agreements]

11.1.2 R (1) For a credit agreement there is no right to cancel under CONC 11.1.1R, unless (2) or (3) applies, in respect of:

(a) a regulated consumer credit agreement (within the meaning of that section) to which section 66A (right to withdraw) of the CCA applies;

(b) a credit agreement under which a lender provides credit to a consumer and where the consumer’s obligation to repay is secured by a legal mortgage on land;

(c) a credit agreement cancelled under regulation 15(1) of the Consumer Protection (Distance Selling) Regulations 2000 (automatic cancellation of a related credit agreement);

(d) a credit agreement cancelled under regulation 23 of the Timeshare, Holiday Products, Resale and Exchange Contracts Regulations 2010 (automatic termination of credit agreement); and
(e) a restricted-use credit agreement to finance the purchase of land or an existing building, or an agreement for a bridging loan in connection with the purchase of land or an existing building.

(2) There is a right to cancel under CONC 11.1.1R where the lender has not complied with CONC 2.7.6R (requirement to communicate terms and conditions etc), unless the distance contract falls with the exception in CONC 2.7.12R and the firm has complied with the requirements of that rule.

(3) There is a right to cancel under CONC 11.1.1R where the circumstances in CONC 2.7.12R apply but the lender has not supplied all the contractual terms and conditions and information as required in CONC 2.7.12R.

11.1.3 G Section 66A of the CCA (right to withdraw) does not apply to an agreement for credit exceeding £60,260, an agreement secured on land, a restricted-use credit agreement to finance the purchase of land or an agreement for a bridging loan in connection with the purchase of land. Section 67 of the CCA (cancellable agreements) applies to regulated credit agreements (apart from agreements secured on land, restricted-use credit agreements to finance the purchase of land or agreements for a bridging loan in connection with the purchase of land and agreements covered by section 66A) and consumer hire agreements (to which this section does not apply) in the circumstances specified in the section. A customer with a right to cancel under section 67 of the CCA may choose to cancel the agreement under that section or under CONC 11.1.1R.

11.1.4 G A firm may provide longer or additional cancellation rights voluntarily but, if it does, these should be on terms at least as favourable to the customer as those in this chapter, unless the differences are clearly explained.

Beginning of cancellation period

11.1.5 R The cancellation period begins:

(1) either from the day the distance contract is made; or

(2) from the day on which the consumer receives the contractual terms and conditions of the service and any other pre-contractual information required, as the case may be, under CONC 2.7.6R or under CONC 2.7.12R, if that is later than the date referred to in (1) above.

[Note: article 6(1) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts]

Disclosing the right to cancel

11.1.6 R (1) The firm must disclose to a consumer in good time before or, if that is not possible, immediately after the consumer is bound by a contract to which the right to cancel applies under CONC 11.1.1R, and in a durable medium, the existence of the right to cancel, its duration and the conditions for exercising it including information on the amount which the consumer may be required to pay, the consequences of not exercising it and practical instructions for exercising it, indicating the address to which the notification of cancellation should be sent.

(2) This rule applies only where a consumer would not otherwise receive the information in (1) under a rule in this sourcebook from the firm (such as under CONC 2.7.2R to CONC 2.7.5R (the distance marketing disclosure rules)).

Exercising the right to cancel

11.1.7 R If a consumer exercises the right to cancel the consumer must, before the expiry of the cancellation period, notify this following the practical instructions given to him. The deadline shall be deemed to have been observed if the notification, if in a durable medium available and accessible to the recipient, is dispatched before the cancellation period expires.

[Note: article 6(6) of the Distance Marketing Directive for distance contracts]

11.1.8 G The firm should accept any indication that the consumer wishes to cancel as long as it satisfies the conditions for notification. In the event of any dispute, unless there is clear written evidence to the contrary, the firm should treat the date cited by the consumer as the date when the notification was dispatched.

Record keeping

11.1.9 R The firm must make adequate records concerning the exercise of a right to cancel and retain them for at least three years.

Effects of cancellation

11.1.10 R By exercising a right to cancel, a consumer withdraws from the contract and the contract is terminated.

11.1.11 R (1) When a consumer exercises the right to cancel the consumer may only be required to pay, without any undue delay, for the service actually provided by the firm in accordance with the contract. The amount payable must not:

(a) exceed an amount which is in proportion to the extent of the service already provided in comparison with the full coverage of the contract;

(b) in any case be such that it could be construed as a penalty.

[Note: article 7(1), (2) and (3) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts]

(2) The firm may not require a consumer to pay any amount on the basis of this rule unless it can prove that the consumer was duly informed about the amount payable and, in conformity with the distance marketing disclosure rules (CONC 2.7.2R to CONC 2.7.5R). However, in no case may the firm require such payment if it has commenced the performance of the contract before expiry of the cancellation period without the consumer’s prior request.

[Note: article 7(1), (2) and (3) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts]

Firm’s obligations on cancellation

11.1.12  R The firm must, without undue delay and within 30 calendar days, return to the consumer any sums it has received from the consumer except for any amount that the consumer may be required to pay under CONC 11.1.11R. This period begins from the day on which the firm receives the notification of cancellation.

[Note: article 7(1), (2) and (3) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts]

Consumer’s obligations on cancellation

11.1.13  R The firm is entitled to receive from the consumer any sums or property the consumer has received from the firm without any undue delay and no later than within 30 calendar days. This period begins from the day on which the consumer dispatches the notification of cancellation.

[Note: article 7(5) of the Distance Marketing Directive in relation to distance contracts]

11.1.14  R Any sums payable under this section on cancellation of a contract are owed as simple contract debts and may be set off against each other.

11.2  Right of withdrawal: P2P agreements

Application

11.2.1  R This section applies to a firm with respect to operating an electronic system in relation to lending in relation to a borrower under a P2P agreement.

11.2.2  R This section does not apply to a P2P agreement under which credit exceeding £60,260 is, was or would be provided.

Right to cancel

11.2.3  R A firm must ensure that a P2P agreement that the firm makes available to a borrower and a lender provides for the following contractual rights and obligations and procedure for and effect of the exercise of those rights and obligations:

(1) a right for the borrower:

(a) to withdraw from the agreement ("the right of withdrawal");

(b) without giving any reason; and

(c) by giving oral or written notice of the withdrawal to the firm (on behalf of the lender) before the end of the period of 14 days:

(i) beginning with the day after the P2P agreement is made; or

(ii) beginning with the day on which the borrower receives the contractual terms and conditions of the service and any other pre-contractual information required, as the case may be, under CONC 4.3, if that is later than the date in (1);

(2) where written notice is given of the right of withdrawal by electronic means:

(a) it may be sent to the number or electronic address specified for the purpose in the agreement; and

(b) where it is so sent, it is to be regarded as having been received by the firm (on behalf of the lender) at the time it is sent;

(3) where written notice is given of the right of withdrawal, other than by electronic means:

(a) it may be sent by post to, or left at, the postal address specified for the purpose in the agreement; and

(b) where it is sent by post to that address, it is to be regarded as having been received by the firm (on behalf of the lender) at the time of posting;

(4) where the borrower exercises the right of withdrawal from a P2P agreement:

(a) the borrower must repay to the firm (on behalf of the lender) or the lender any credit provided and the interest accrued on it (at the rate provided for under the agreement); but

(b) the borrower is not liable to pay to the firm (on behalf of the lender) or the lender any compensation, fees or charges, except any non-returnable charges paid by the lender or by the firm (on behalf of the lender) to a public administrative body;
(5) the effect of exercising the right to withdraw is that the obligations of the borrower under the agreement cease to have effect except for the obligation in (4); and

(6) where an amount is payable where (4) applies, the agreement may provide that the amount must be paid without undue delay and no later than the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the day after the day on which the notice of withdrawal was given (and if not paid by the end of that period the agreement may provide that the sum may be recovered from the borrower as a debt).

11.2.4 R A firm must ensure that a P2P agreement that it makes available to a lender and a borrower does not provide for any other obligations of the borrower in connection with the exercise of the rights in CONC 11.2.3R.

Amend the following as shown.

A firm is treated as having an interim permission on and after 1 April 2014 to carry on credit related regulated activity under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No. 2) Order 2013 if it met the conditions set out in Chapter 4 of Part 8 of that Order. Section 55B(3) of the Act (satisfaction of threshold conditions) does not require the FCA or PRA to ensure that the firm will satisfy, and continue to satisfy, in relation to the credit related regulated activities for which it has an interim permission, the threshold conditions for which that regulator is responsible. The FCA or PRA can, however, exercise its power under section 55J of the Act (variation or cancellation on initiative of regulator) or under section 55L of the Act (in the case of the FCA) or section 55M of the Act (in the case of the PRA) (imposition of requirements by the regulator) in relation to a firm if, among other things, it appears to the FCA or PRA that the firm is failing, or is likely to fail, to satisfy the threshold conditions in relation to the credit related regulated activities for which it has an interim permission for which the regulator is responsible. The guidance in COND should be read accordingly.

Client Assets (CASS)

CASS does not apply:

1. to a firm with only an interim permission; or
2. with respect to credit-related regulated activity for which a firm has an interim permission that is treated as a variation of permission; if the firm acts in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs 3.42 and 3.43 of the Debt management (and credit repair services) guidance (OFT366rev) previously issued by the Office of Fair Trading, as they were in effect immediately before 1 April 2014.

Supervision manual (SUP)

SUP 3 (Auditors), SUP 10A (FCA Approved persons) and SUP 12 (Appointed representatives) (see Note 2) do not apply:

1. to a firm with only an interim permission; or
2. with respect to a credit-related regulated activity for which a firm has an interim permission that is treated as a variation of permission.

Note 2

A firm may not be a principal in relation to a regulated activity for which it has interim permission. A firm with interim permission may, however, be an appointed representative in relation to a regulated activity which it does not have interim permission to carry on (article 59 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013).
SUP 6 (Applications to vary and cancel Part 4A permission and to impose, vary or cancel requirements) applies:

(1) with necessary modifications to reflect Chapter 4 of Part 8 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013 (see Note 3);

(2) with the modifications to SUP 6.3.15D and SUP 6.4.5D set out in paragraph 1.2 of this Schedule.

Note 3
If a firm with interim permission applies to the appropriate regulator under section 55A of the Act for Part 4A permission to carry on a regulated activity or under section 55H or 55I of the Act to vary a Part 4A permission that the firm has otherwise than by virtue of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013 by adding a regulated activity to those to which the permission relates, the application may be treated by the appropriate regulator as relating also to some or all of the regulated activities for which the firm has interim permission.

SUP 11 (Controllers and close links) does not apply to a firm with only an interim permission (see Note 4).

Note 4
A firm is not to be regarded as an authorised person for the purposes of Part 12 of the Act (control over authorised person) if it has only an interim permission (see article 59 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013).

For a firm with only an interim permission

(1) SUP 15.5.1R, SUP 15.5.2G, SUP 15.5.4R, SUP 15.5.5R are modified so that the words “reasonable advance”, “and the date on which the firm intends to implement the change of name” and “and the date of the change” are omitted; and

(2) SUP 15.7.1R, SUP 15.7.4R and SUP 15.7.5AR are modified so that a notification of a change in name, address or telephone number must be made using the online Consumer Credit Interim Permissions system available on the FCA’s website.

(3) If in a notification to the FCA the firm is required to enter its FRN number it must include it interim permission number.

SUP 16 (Reporting requirements) does not apply to a firm with only an interim permission.

SUP 16.11 and SUP 16.12 apply to a firm, which was an authorised person immediately before 1 April 2014, with an interim permission that is treated as a variation of permission with respect to credit-related regulated activity as if the changes to SUP 16.11 and SUP 16.12 effected by the Consumer Credit (Consequential and Supplementary Amendments) Instrument 2014 had not been made.

Disputes Resolution: Complaints sourcebook (DISP)

DISP 1.10 (Complaints reporting rules) and DISP 1.10A (Complaints data publication rules) do not apply to a person with only an interim permission.

DISP 1.10 (Complaints reporting rules) and DISP 1.10A (Complaints data publication rules) apply to a firm, which was an authorised person immediately before 1 April 2014, with an interim permission that is treated as a variation of permission with respect to credit-related regulated activity as if the changes to DISP 1.10 and DISP 1.10A effected by the Consumer Credit (Consequential and Supplementary Amendments) Instrument 2014 had not been made.

Consumer Credit sourcebook (CONC)

CONC 10 (Prudential requirements for debt management firms) does not apply:

(1) to a firm with only an interim permission; or

(2) with respect to credit-related regulated activity for which a firm has an interim permission that is treated as a variation of permission.

Perimeter Guidance manual (PERG)

For a firm only with an interim permission, PERG 5.11.13G is modified so that following the words “which does not otherwise consist of carrying on regulated activities” is added “(other than a regulated activity carried on by a firm only with an interim permission listed in article 59A of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities)(Amendment)(No.2) Order 2013 (SI 2013/1881) which is to be disregarded for this purpose)”.

Article 59A enables a firm with only an interim permission which would be able to benefit from article 72B of the Regulated Activities Order, but for carrying on the new consumer credit regulated activities to continue to do so.

12.1.5  D A firm with interim permission wishing to make an application to vary its interim permission by removing a regulated activity from those to which the interim permission relates or cancel its interim permission must apply using the online Consumer Credit Interim Permissions system available on the FCA’s website.

After CONC 12 insert the following new provisions. The text is not underlined.

13 Guidance on the duty to give information under sections 77, 78 and 79 of the Consumer Credit Act 1974

13.1 Application

13.1.1 G This chapter:

(1) applies to a firm with respect to consumer credit lending and a firm with respect to consumer hiring;

(2) does not apply to the obligation in or under section 78(4), (4A) or (5) of the CCA on a lender to give regular statements where running-account credit is provided under a regulated credit agreement.

Guidance

13.1.2 G (1) The FCA takes the view that sections 77, 78 and 79 of the CCA should be read in a way that allows the borrower or hirer to obtain the information needed in order to be properly informed without imposing unnecessary burden on firms.

(2) The statement referred to in the relevant section must be prepared according to the information to which it is ‘practicable’ for the firm to refer. In the FCA’s view, this means practicable at the time of the request and includes information which can reasonably be obtained from third parties.

(3) Firms should take steps to ensure that information is preserved and kept available to be used to give information to a borrower or hirer.

The request and the duty to give

13.1.3 G (1) A request must be from or on behalf of the borrower under sections 77 and 78 or from or on behalf of a hirer under section 79. This would include a friend or relative, a solicitor, a claims management company or other third party. Under the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Data Protection Principles, the lender or owner is not allowed to reveal such information to a third party without the authority of the borrower or hirer. It should therefore satisfy itself that the person making the request has proper authority to obtain the information. If a copy of such authority is not enclosed with the request, the lender or owner is entitled to reply by asking to see the authority.

(2) Where there are two or more borrowers or hirers and the request comes from one only, it must be nevertheless complied with, and the response must be given to both (or all) borrowers or hirers.

(3) If the recipient considers that another person is the lender or owner, the recipient should either inform the applicant of who it considers is the correct recipient or pass the request on to that person.

(4) In accordance with the sections referred to in (1) the firm must ‘give’ a copy of the executed agreement and any other document referred to in it and the required statement. In the FCA’s view, sending a copy of them by ordinary second class post will suffice. Guidance on what constitutes a copy is given below and found in the case of *Carey v

(5) The duty under the relevant section does not apply if no sum is, or will or may become, payable by the borrower or hirer under the agreement. This is irrespective of whether the agreement may have been terminated.

The copy agreement

13.1.4 G (1) The copy of the executed agreement should be a ‘true copy’ of the original. However, as confirmed in the case of Carey v HSBC Bank plc [2009] EWHC 3417 (QB), in this context the term 'true copy' does not necessarily mean a carbon, photocopy, microfiche copy or other exact copy of the signed agreement. There is no obligation to provide a copy which includes a copy of the signature.

(2) The firm can reconstitute a copy. It can do this by re-populating a template of the relevant agreement form with the details of the specific agreement taken from its records. If the firm does provide a reconstituted copy, it should explain that that is what it has done, to avoid misleading the customer that this is a contemporaneous copy.

(3) The terms and conditions should be those applicable at the time the agreement was executed. The name and address at the time of execution must be included.

(4) The reconstituted agreement should contain a heading prescribed by the CCA and any relevant cancellation notice.

(5) If the reason why no copy is given in response to a request under these sections is that there never was an executed agreement, the firm should acknowledge this in its response.

(6) If the agreement has been varied, the duty is to provide not only a copy of the agreement as originally executed but also either:

(a) a copy of the latest variation given in accordance with section 82(1) of the CCA relating to each discrete term of the agreement which has been varied; or,

(b) a clear statement of the terms of the agreement as varied.

(7) Further, section 180(1)(b) of the CCA and regulation 3(2) of the Consumer Credit (Cancellation Notices and Copies of Documents) Regulations 1983 expressly allow certain matters to be omitted from the copy. There may be excluded from the copy of the executed agreement to be provided under these sections:
(a) any information relating to the borrower, hirer or surety, or information included for the use of the lender or owner only, which is not required to be included by the or any regulations made under the CCA as to the form and content of the agreement;

(b) any signature box, signature or date of signature;

(c) in the case of pawn agreements, any description of the article taken in pawn.

The statement of account

13.1.5 G If the firm possesses insufficient information to enable it to ascertain the amount and date of any sum which is to become payable, it is sufficient to indicate the basis on which they would fall to be ascertained.

Failure to comply

13.1.6 G (1) Failure to comply with the provisions means that the agreement becomes unenforceable while the failure to comply persists, and the courts have no discretion to allow enforcement.

(2) In such cases, a firm should in no way, either by act or omission, mislead a customer as to the enforceability of the agreement.

(3) In particular, a firm should not in such cases either threaten court action or other enforcement of the debt or imply that the debt is enforceable when it is not.

(4) The firm should, in any communication or request for payment in such cases, make clear to the customer that although the debt remains outstanding it is unenforceable.

(5) In the judgment of McGuffick –v- The Royal Bank of Scotland plc [2009] EWHC 2386 (Comm) Flaux J held in a case under section 77 of the CCA that passing details of a debt to a credit reference agency and related activities do not constitute enforcement under the CCA. He also held that steps taken with a view to enforcement, including demanding payment from a claimant, issuing a default notice, threatening legal action and the actual bringing of proceedings, are not themselves 'enforcement' under the CCA. On the other hand he confirmed that the actions listed under sections 76(1) and 87(1) of the CCA did amount to enforcement notwithstanding that some of the actions 'less obviously' amounted to enforcement. These actions are demanding earlier payment, recovering possession of goods or land, treating any right conferred on the debtor by the agreement as terminated, restricted or deferred, enforcing any security and terminating the agreement.

(6) While Flaux J agreed with the decision of HHJ Simon Brown QC
(sitting as a Deputy High Court Judge) in Tesco Personal Finance v Rankine [2009] C.C.L.R. 3 that commencing proceedings was not enforcement, but a step taken with a view to enforcement, both he and HHJ Simon Brown appear to have been drawing a distinction between commencing proceedings and entering judgment in those proceedings.

(7) This guidance deals only with the question of whether an agreement is unenforceable in relation to sections 77, 78 and 79 of the CCA. A lender’s rights to enforce an agreement may be restricted for a variety of reasons, by the Act, by or under the CCA and by virtue of the general law.

(8) However, where a firm is aware that an agreement is unenforceable because of non-compliance with an information request under section 77, 78 or 79 of the CCA, a firm should make it clear when communicating to a customer about a debt that the debt is in fact unenforceable. Failure to do so, in that case, would in the FCA’s view unfairly mislead the customer by omission. Any communication that implies expressly or otherwise that a debt is enforceable when it is known that it is not, would be misleading. One way to avoid this would be for the firm to explain to the customer the full meaning of 'unenforceable'.

14 Requirement in relation to agents

14.1 Application

14.1.1 R This chapter applies to a firm with respect to a credit-related regulated activity.

Requirements

14.1.2 R A firm must not appoint an individual, who is not an authorised person or an exempt person, to act as an agent of the firm, in carrying on regulated activities of the firm unless all of the following conditions are met at the date of the individual’s appointment and while the individual continues to act as the firm’s agent:

(1) the firm appoints the individual as the firm’s agent;

(2) the individual works as agent only for the firm and not as agent for any other principal;

(3) the firm has a written contract with the individual which:

(a) sets out effective measures for the firm to control the individual’s activities when acting on its behalf in the course of its business; and
(b) requires the individual to make clear to customers that the individual is representing the firm as the individual’s principal and the name of the firm;

(4) (in the case of collecting debts) receipt of repayments by the individual is treated as receipt by the firm; and

(5) the firm accepts full responsibility for the conduct of the individual when the individual is acting on the firm’s behalf in the course of the firm’s business.

14.1.3 G A firm in CONC 14.1.2R would need to have a Part 4A permission for every activity the individual carries on as its agent for which the firm would need permission if it were carrying on the activity itself.

14.1.4 R Where a firm appoints an agent in accordance with CONC 14.1.2R to carry on the business of the firm:

(1) the firm must establish, implement and maintain adequate policies and procedures sufficient to ensure compliance of the agent with the firm’s obligations under the regulatory system; and

(2) the firm must take all reasonable steps to identify conflicts of interest between the agent and a client of the firm that arise or may arise in the course of the firm carrying on regulated activities or ancillary activities.

15 Second charge lending

15.1 Application

15.1.1 R This chapter applies to:

(1) a firm with respect to consumer credit lending in relation to regulated credit agreements secured on land; and

(2) a firm with respect to credit broking in relation to credit agreements secured on land.

15.1.2 G Firms which carry on consumer credit lending or credit broking should comply with all rules which apply to that regulated activity in CONC and other parts of the Handbooks. For example, CONC 7 applies to matters concerning arrears, default and recovery (including repossession) and applies generally to agreements to which this chapter applies. This chapter sets out specific requirements and guidance that apply in relation to agreements secured on land. Regulated mortgage contracts and regulated home purchase plans are not regulated credit agreements and are excluded, to the extent specified in article 36E of the Regulated Activities Order, from credit broking.
15.1.3  G The financial promotion rules in CONC 3 apply to firms’ financial promotions concerning credit agreements secured on land, apart from the extent to which a financial promotion or communication concerns qualifying credit. CONC 3.3.1R requires financial promotions to be clear fair and not misleading; firms should take particular care with respect to explaining the nature of the credit to be provided and the costs of borrowing.

[Note: paragraph 3.2 of SCLG]

15.1.4  R A firm must make clear in advance the purpose of any visit off trade premises (which has the same meaning as in section 48 of the CCA) at which the customer may enter into a regulated credit agreement.

[Note: paragraph 3.8 of SCLG]

15.1.5  R In good time before a credit agreement is made and, where section 58 applies, before an unexecuted agreement is sent to the customer for signature a firm must:

(1) disclose key contract terms and conditions of the prospective credit agreement;

[Note: paragraph 2.1 of SCLG]

(2) disclose any features of the prospective credit agreement which carry a particular risk to the customer;

[Note: paragraph 3.4 of SCLG]

(3) inform the customer of the consequences of missing payments or of making underpayments, including the imposition of default charges, the risk of repossession of the customer’s home, in relation to the customer’s credit record and of inability to obtain credit in the future;

[Note: paragraph 3.4 of SCLG]

(4) inform the customer about the circumstances in which the rates or charges may change, in particular, if they may be varied at the discretion of the firm or can vary subject to a reference rate of interest; and

[Note: paragraphs 3.6 and 4.4 of SCLG]

(5) if the rate of interest can vary subject to a reference rate of interest, other than that of the Bank of England’s base rate, inform the customer of the reference rate in question and the rate to be applied.

[Note: paragraph 3.6 of SCLG]

15.1.6  G Where appropriate, the disclosure required by CONC 15.1.4R should be explained orally to the customer.

[Note: paragraph 3.4 of SCLG]
15.1.7  R Where a firm has reasonable grounds to suspect that the customer does not understand material aspects of the obligations they will take on and the resulting risks, under a regulated credit agreement, the firm:

(1) must not enter into a regulated credit agreement; and

(2) must provide further explanation of any such obligations or risks.

[Note: paragraph 3.5 of SCLG]

15.1.8  R Before a customer enters into a regulated credit agreement, the firm must:

(1) encourage the customer to read all contractual documentation carefully;

[Note: paragraph 4.2 of SCLG]

(2) take reasonable steps to ensure the customer has understood the nature of the obligations the customer will take on and the resulting risks;

[Note: paragraph 3.5 of SCLG]

(3) encourage the customer to obtain independent advice; and

[Note: paragraphs 2.1 and 4.2 of SCLG]

(4) permit the customer an adequate opportunity to seek and obtain such advice.

[Note: paragraph 2.1 of SCLG]

15.1.9  G Before a regulated credit agreement secured on land is entered into:

(1) the firm should consider the adequate explanations it should give to the customer under CONC 4.2; and

[Note: paragraph 3.1 (box) of ILG]

(2) the firm is required under CONC 5.2.2R(1) to assess the potential for commitments under the agreement to adversely impact the customer’s financial situation.

[Note: paragraphs 1.14 and 4.1 of the ILG]

15.1.10 G In accordance with PRIN 9 (customer: relationships of trust):

(1) a firm must take reasonable steps to ensure the suitability of its advice, which would include acting in the best interests of a customer where the firm makes a recommendation;

(2) if it appears to the firm that entering into a regulated credit agreement secured on land is not in the best interests of the customer, that fact should be made clear to the customer; and

(3) the firm should encourage the customer to consider whether the credit can be afforded, including in the event the customer’s circumstances change, for example, through a change in employment or retirement.

[Note: paragraph 3.14 of SCLG]

15.1.11 R A firm must set out the nature and purpose of the fees and charges payable by the customer, including any fees or charges payable on the customer’s default:

(1) in the credit agreement; and

(2) in any booklet or leaflet relating to the agreement.

[Note: paragraph 4.3 of SCLG]

15.1.12 R Where rates and charges under a credit agreement are variable, a firm must:

(1) before entering into the agreement, explain to the customer the consequences of such variations on the amount of periodic instalments payable and on the total amount payable;

(2) only increase rates or charges to recover genuine increases in costs of the firm which have an effect on the credit provided under the agreement; and

(3) explain to the customer before changing any rate or charge under the agreement.

[Note: paragraph 4.4 of SCLG]

15.1.13 R Where a customer wishes to make repayments ahead of time:

(1) a firm’s charges for early repayment must be fair and reasonable and must reflect the firm’s necessary costs in relation to such repayment;

(2) the firm must fully explain the process and costs involved in early repayment; and

(3) the firm must allow the customer to make part early repayment of the capital.

[Note: paragraph 4.5 of SCLG]

15.1.14 G Where a firm considers taking action to repossess a customer’s home, it should, where permitted, establish contact with the holder of any charges in priority to the firm’s charge to minimise adverse impacts on the customer.

[Note: paragraph 6.2 of SCLG]

15.1.15 R If a shortfall remains following the sale of a property, the firm must notify the customer as soon as possible of the amount of the shortfall.

[Note: paragraph 6.5 of SCLG]
TP 1 Transitional provisions: introduction to TP2

Application

1.1 R These transitional provisions apply to:

(a) a firm which has a Part 4A permission for a credit-related regulated activity;

(b) a firm which is treated as having a Part 4A permission or a variation of permission for a credit-related regulated activity by virtue of article 56 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment)(No 2) Order 2013; and

(b) an incoming firm which carries on a credit-related regulated activity.

Purpose

1.2 G The FCA is aware that the introduction of CONC will impose an additional compliance burden on firms, even when there is an underlying continuity of policy. The FCA wishes to lighten that burden in a manner consistent with its regulatory objectives and the principles of good regulation under the Act. The following rules give firms additional time after 1 April 2014 to complete their preparations for the impact of certain provisions in CONC.

Definitions

1.3 R In these transitional provisions the following words are to have the meaning given to them below:

"corresponding rule" means a provision or guidance set out, as they stand on 31 March 2014, in:

- the guidance issued by the Office of Fair Trading entitled “Debt collection: OFT guidance for businesses engaged in the recovery of consumer credit debts” (OFT664rev2);
- the guidance issued by the Office of Fair Trading entitled “Irresponsible lending: OFT guidance for creditors” (OFT1107);

Firms are advised that should they wish to take advantage of the transitional provisions set out in this section, the onus is on the firm to be able to demonstrate that in any given case it has in fact complied with the corresponding rules.

Firms will have noted that they should treat the corresponding rules as modified to the extent necessary to ensure that the provision can operate effectively notwithstanding the enactment of the Order in TP 1.1R. Firms will need to adopt a common-sense approach in interpreting the corresponding rules and modify them accordingly. For example, references in such rules to the OFT should be read as if they referred to the FCA.

Sch 5.1 G The table below sets out the rules in CONC contravention of which by an authorised person may be actionable under section 138D of the Act (Actions for damages) by a person who suffers loss as a result of the contravention.

Sch 5.2 G If a "Yes" appears in the column headed "For private person?", the rule may be actionable by a private person under section 138D (or, in certain circumstances, his fiduciary or representative; see article 6(2) and (3)(c) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Rights of Action) Regulations 2001 (SI 2001/2256)). A "Yes" in the column headed "Removed" indicates that the FCA has removed the right of action under section 138D(2) of the Act. If so, a reference to the rule in which it is removed is also given.

Sch 5.3 G The column headed "For other person?" indicates whether the rule may be actionable by a person other than a private person (or his fiduciary or representative) under article 6(2) and (3) of those Regulations. If so, an indication of the type of person by whom the rule may be actionable is given.

Notes

(1) CONC 3.3.1R(2) provides that if, in relation to a particular communication or financial promotion, a firm takes reasonable steps to ensure it complies with the clear, fair and not misleading rule, a contravention of that rule does not give rise to a right of action under section 138D of the Act.

(2) The definition of private person includes a “relevant recipient of credit” which is defined on article 60L of the Regulated Activities Order as “a partnership consisting of two or three persons not all of whom are bodies corporate, or an unincorporated body of persons which does not consist entirely of bodies corporate and is not a partnership”.

(3) The definition of private person includes a person who is, by virtue of article 36J of that Order, to be regarded as a person who uses, may use, has or may have used or has or may have contemplated using, services provided by authorised persons in carrying on a regulated activity of the kind specified by article 36H of that Order or article 64 of that Order so far as relevant to that activity.

Sch 6 Rules that can be waived

6.1 As a result of section 138A of the Act (Modification or waiver of rules) the FCA has power to waive all its rules, other than rules made under section 137O (Threshold condition code), section 247 (Trust scheme rules) or section 248 (Scheme particulars rules) of the Act. However, if the rules incorporate requirements laid down in European directives, it will not be possible for the FCA to grant a waiver that would be incompatible with the UK's responsibilities under those directives.

Annex D

Amendments to Threshold Conditions (COND)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text.

1.1A Application

1.1A.5 G …

To what extent does COND apply to credit firms with limited permission?

1.1A.5A G (1) The FCA threshold conditions apply to a person that carries on, or seeks to carry on, only relevant credit activities (within paragraph 2G of Schedule 6 to the Act) and which therefore has, or is applying for, limited permission with a number of modifications (see article 10(19) of the Regulated Activities Amendment Order). Regulated activities a person carries on in relation to which sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply as a result of section 39(1D) of the Act are disregarded for this purpose.

(2) For a person within (1), the FCA threshold conditions are modified as follows:

(a) in relation to paragraph 2C of Schedule 6 to the Act (Effective supervision), paragraphs (a), (b) and (e) of sub-paragraph (1) do not apply (see COND 2.3);

(b) in relation to paragraph 2D of Schedule 6 to the Act (Appropriate resources), the person has adequate financial resources if it is capable of meeting its debts as they fall due (see COND 2.4);

(c) paragraph 2F of Schedule 6 to the Act (Business model) does not apply (see COND 2.7).

(3) Paragraph 2G of Schedule 6 to the Act defines relevant credit activity for the purposes of the FCA Threshold Conditions. The interpretation of some of the key expressions used in this specific context is as follows:

(a) “borrower” includes any person providing a guarantee or indemnity under an agreement, and a person to whom the rights and duties of the borrower have passed by assignment or operation of law.
(b) “supplier” means a person whose main business is to sell goods or supply services and not to carry on a regulated activity, other than entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner or exercising, or having the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement;

(c) “customer” means a person to whom a supplier sells goods or supplies services or agrees to do so;

(d) “domestic premises supplier” means a supplier who sells goods or supplies services to customers who are individuals while physically present in the dwelling of the customer or in consequence of an agreement concluded whilst the supplier was physically present in the dwelling of the customer (though a supplier who does so on an occasional basis is not to be treated as a “domestic premises supplier”).

(4) In summary, the following credit-related regulated activities are relevant credit activities for the purposes of the FCA Threshold Conditions:

(a) credit broking when carried on:

(i) by a supplier (other than a domestic premises supplier) for the purposes of or in connection with the sale of goods or supply of services by the supplier to a customer (who need not be the borrower under the credit agreement or the hirer under the consumer hire agreement); or

(ii) in relation to a green deal plan; or

(iii) in relation to a consumer hire agreement where the goods being hired is a vehicle;

although, other than where the credit broking is carried on by a not-for-profit body, the credit broking will not be a relevant credit activity where it relates to an agreement under which the obligation of the borrower to repay or the hirer to pay is secured, or is to be secured, by a legal mortgage on land;

(b) consumer credit lending if carried on by a local authority or if:

(i) it is carried on by a supplier;

(ii) no charge (by way of interest or otherwise) is payable by the borrower in connection with the provision of credit; and
(iii) the regulated credit agreement is not a hire purchase agreement or a conditional sale agreement;

although, other than where the consumer credit lending is carried on by a not-for-profit body, the consumer credit lending will not be a relevant credit activity if it relates to an agreement under which the obligation of the borrower to repay is secured, or is to be secured, by a legal mortgage on land;

(c) entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner or exercising, or having the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement although, other than where these activities are carried on by a not-for-profit body, entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner or exercising, or having the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement will not be a relevant credit activity if the obligation of the hirer to pay under the agreement is secured, or is to be secured, by a legal mortgage on land;

(d) debt adjusting or debt counselling when carried on:

(i) by a supplier who also carries on credit broking within (a)(i);

(ii) by a person in connection with an activity within (b) or (c) which the person also carries on;

(iii) by a not-for-profit body;

although, other than where the debt adjusting or debt counselling is carried on by a not-for-profit body, the debt adjusting or debt counselling will not be a relevant credit activity if it relates to an agreement under which the obligation of the borrower to repay or the hirer to pay is secured, or is to be secured, by a legal mortgage on land;

(e) providing credit information services where carried on by a person in connection with an activity within (a) to (d) which the person also carries on;

(f) agreeing to carry on an activity within (a) to (e),

Annex G

Amendments to the Mortgages and Home Finance: Conduct of Business sourcebook (MCOB)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text, unless otherwise stated.

1.6 Application to mortgages in relation to the Consumer Credit Act 1974
Distinguishing regulated mortgage contracts and regulated credit agreements

1.6.1 G MCOB applies to regulated mortgage contracts entered into on or after 31 October 2004. Variations made on or after that date to contracts entered into before that date are not subject to FCA regulation but may be subject to the Consumer Credit Act 1974. A contract that was entered into before 31 October 2004, and that is subsequently varied on or after that date, will not be a regulated mortgage contract but may be a regulated credit agreement to which the CCA and CONC apply. If, however, a new contract is entered into on or after 31 October 2004, replacing the previous contract, this may be a regulated mortgage contract. PERG 4.4.13G contains guidance on the variation of contracts entered into before 31 October 2004.

1.6.2 G Principle 2 requires a firm to conduct its business with due skill, care and diligence. The purpose of MCOB 1.6.3R is to reinforce this. The FCA would expect firms to take appropriate steps to determine whether any mortgage it proposes to enter into is subject to FCA regulation and, if so, whether it is a regulated mortgage contract or a regulated credit agreement.

1.6.4 R If, notwithstanding the steps taken by a firm to comply with MCOB 1.6.3R, it transpires that a mortgage which the firm has treated as unregulated or as a regulated credit agreement is in fact a regulated mortgage contract, the firm must as soon as practicable after the correct status of the mortgage has been established:

(1) contact the customer and provide him with the following information in a durable medium:

(a) a statement that the mortgage contract is a regulated mortgage contract subject to FCA regulation, stating in particular the position with regard to redress and compensation; and

(b) (where relevant) a statement that the Consumer Credit Act 1974 will not apply to the mortgage contract and that any Consumer Credit Act rights or requirements set out in previous communications will not apply.
(i) where the firm has treated the mortgage as unregulated, a statement that the mortgage contract is subject to FCA regulation, stating in particular the position with regard to redress and compensation; or

(ii) where the firm has treated the mortgage as a regulated credit agreement, a statement that:

   (A) neither the CCA nor CONC will apply to the mortgage contract;

   (B) any rights or requirements arising under the CCA or CONC set out in previous communications will not apply; and

   (C) MCOB will apply to the mortgage contract.

1.6.5 G …

(3) MCOB 1.6.3R and MCOB 1.6.4R do not override the application of MCOB to any regulated mortgage contract. MCOB applies notwithstanding a firm's genuine belief that a mortgage is unregulated or is a regulated credit agreement. In deciding whether to take disciplinary action as a result of a breach of MCOB, the FCA will take into account whether the action by the firm was reckless or deliberate (see DEPP 6.2.1G(1)(a)).

3.1.8 G As a result of articles 90 and 91 of the Regulated Activities Order this chapter and CONC 3:

   (1) a financial promotion of qualifying credit is not subject to the advertising provisions of the Consumer Credit Act 1974, unless it is an exempt generic promotion CONC 3 to the extent that it relates to qualifying credit; and

   (2) where a firm makes a communication, which consists of a financial promotion of qualifying credit and information relating to a financial promotion of a different form of lending that is not qualifying credit (for example an unsecured personal loan), the content of the latter will need to comply with the relevant advertising provisions of the Consumer Credit Act 1974 CONC 3.

5.6.102  R  Under the sub-heading ‘Credit card’, the illustration must:

...(2) if a credit card is offered and it is a mortgage credit card:

...(b) where the mortgage lender provides the customer with contractual rights in relation to a mortgage credit card equal to or greater than those provided the rights that the customer would have under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and CONC if the card were issued under a regulated credit agreement, include the following text: ‘This card will not give you a number of the statutory rights associated with traditional credit cards. However, [insert name of mortgage lender] will ensure that you will be treated no differently from the user of a traditional credit card. Your mortgage offer will tell you more about this.’

...

5.6.106  R  (1) Where additional features are included in accordance with MCOB 5.6.92R and these are credit facilities that do not meet the definition of a regulated mortgage contract or a regulated credit agreement, the relevant parts of Section 12 of the illustration must include the following text:

'This additional feature is not regulated by the FCA'.

(2) Where additional features are included in accordance with MCOB 5.6.92R and these are credit facilities that meet the definition of a regulated credit agreement regulated by the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and the Act, the relevant parts of Section 12 of the illustration must include the following text after the text in (1): 'This additional feature is regulated under the Consumer Credit Act 1974. You will receive a separate credit agreement with any offer document for this additional feature, describing the detailed terms on which this feature is available.'

11 Debt management client money chapter

11.1 Application

11.1.1 This chapter (the debt management client money chapter) applies to a CASS debt management firm that receives or holds client money as set out in this chapter.

11.1.2 The requirements imposed on a CASS debt management firm that holds client money vary depending on whether a firm is classified as a CASS small debt management firm or a CASS large debt management firm in CASS 11.2.3R (CASS debt management firm types). CASS 11.1.4R to CASS 11.1.6R indicate which rules in the debt management client money chapter apply to which category of firm.

11.1.3 G The debt management client money chapter applies (to the extent indicated by CASS 11.1.4R to CASS 11.1.6R) to a CASS debt management firm, even if at the date of the determination or, as the case may be, the notification, referred to in CASS 11.2.4R, the CASS debt management firm is not holding client money, provided that:

(1) it held client money in the previous calendar year; or

(2) it projects to hold client money in the current calendar year.

Application to CASS small debt management firms

11.1.4 R Subject to CASS 11.1.6R, only the rules and guidance in the debt management client money chapter listed in the table below apply to CASS small debt management firms.

Application to CASS large debt management firms

11.1.5  R Subject to CASS 11.1.6R, the rules and guidance in the debt management client money chapter apply to CASS large debt management firms, except where indicated otherwise in the relevant rule.

Solicitors

11.1.6  R (1) An authorised professional firm regulated by the Law Society of England and Wales, the Law Society of Scotland or the Law Society of Northern Ireland that, with respect to its regulated activities, is subject to the following rules of its designated professional body, must comply with those rules and, if it does so, it will be deemed to comply with the debt management client money chapter.

(2) The relevant rules are:

(a) if the firm is regulated by the Law Society of England and Wales, the SRA Accounts Rules 2011;

(b) if the firm is regulated by the Law Society of Scotland, the Law Society of Scotland Practice Rules 2011; and

(c) if the firm is regulated by the Law Society of Northern Ireland, the Solicitors’ Accounts Regulations 1998.

11.2  Firm classification

11.2.1  R (1) A CASS debt management firm must, once every year and by the time it is required to make a notification in accordance with CASS 11.2.4R, determine whether it is a CASS large debt management firm or a CASS small debt management firm according to the amount of client money which it held during the previous year or, if it did not hold client money during the previous year, according to the amount of client money it projects to hold in the following year, in each case using the limits set out in the table in CASS 11.2.3R.
For the purpose of determining its 'CASS debt management firm type' in accordance with CASS 11.2.3R, a CASS debt management firm must:

(a) if it currently holds client money, calculate the highest total amount of client money held during the previous calendar year ending on 31 December and use that figure to determine its 'CASS debt management firm type';

(b) if it did not hold client money in the previous calendar year but projects that it will do so in the current calendar year, calculate the highest total amount of client money that it projects that it will hold during that year and use that figure to determine its 'CASS debt management firm type'.

11.2.2 R For the purpose of calculating the value of the total amounts of client money that it holds on any given day during a calendar year (in complying with CASS 11.2.1R) a CASS debt management firm must base its calculation on accurate internal records of client money holdings. A CASS large debt management firm must do this using the internal reconciliations performed during the previous year that are prescribed in CASS 11.11.13R. A CASS small debt management firm must use the records used in carrying out checks required of it under CASS 11.11.7R.

11.2.3 R CASS debt management firm types

Notification

11.2.4 R Once every calendar year, a CASS debt management firm must notify the FCA, in writing, of the information in (1), (2) or (3), as applicable, and the information in (4), in each case no later than the day specified in (1) to (4):

(1) if it held client money in the previous calendar year, the highest total amount of client money held during the previous calendar year, notification of which must be made no later than the fifteenth business day of January; or

(2) if it did not hold client money in the previous calendar year but at any point up to the fifteenth business day of January the firm projects that it will do so in the current calendar year, the highest total amount of client money that the firm projects that it will hold during the current calendar year, notification of which must be made no later than the fifteenth business day of January; or

(3) in any other case, the highest total amount of client money that the firm projects that it will hold during the remainder of the current calendar year, notification of which must be made no later than the business day before the firm begins to hold client money; and

(4) in every case, of its 'CASS debt management firm type' classification, notification of which must be made at the same time the firm makes the notification under (1), (2) or (3).

11.2.5 R For the purpose of the annual notification in CASS 11.2.4R, a CASS debt management firm must apply the calculation rule in CASS 11.2.2R.

Option to be treated as a CASS large debt management firm

11.2.6 G CASS 11.2.7R provides a CASS debt management firm with the ability to opt in to a higher category of 'CASS debt management firm type'. This may be useful for a CASS debt management firm whose holding of client money is near the upper categorisation limit for a CASS small debt management firm.

11.2.7 R (1) Notwithstanding CASS 11.2.3R, provided that the conditions in (2) are satisfied, a CASS debt management firm that would otherwise be classified as a CASS small debt management firm under the limits provided for in CASS 11.2.3R may elect to be treated as a CASS large debt management firm.

(2) The conditions to which (1) refers are that in either case:

(a) the election is notified to the FCA in writing;

(b) the notification in accordance with (a) is made at least one week before the election is intended to take effect; and

(c) the FCA has not objected.

Effective date of firm type

11.2.8 R A firm's 'CASS debt management firm type' and any change to it takes effect:

(1) if the firm notifies the FCA in accordance with CASS 11.2.4R(1) or CASS 11.2.4R(2), on 1 February following the notification; or

(2) if the firm notifies the FCA in accordance with CASS 11.2.4R(3), on the day it begins to hold client money; or

(3) if the firm makes an election under CASS 11.2.7R and provided the conditions in CASS 11.2.7R(2) are satisfied, on the day the notification made under CASS 11.2.7R(2)(a) states that the election is intended to take effect.

11.2.9 G Any written notification made to the FCA under this chapter should be marked for the attention of: "Debt Management Client Assets Firm Classification".

11.3 Responsibility for CASS operational oversight

CASS small debt management firm other than a not-for-profit debt advice body

11.3.1 R A CASS small debt management firm, other than a not-for-profit debt advice body, must allocate to a director or senior manager performing a significant-influence function responsibility for:

(1) oversight of the firm's operational compliance with CASS 11;

(2) reporting to the firm's governing body in respect of that oversight; and

(3) completing and submitting a CCR005 return in accordance with SUP 16.12.29CR.

CASS small debt management firm that is a not-for-profit debt advice body

11.3.2 R A CASS small debt management firm that is a not-for-profit debt advice body must allocate to a director or senior manager:

(1) oversight of the firm's operational compliance with CASS 11;

(2) reporting to the firm's governing body in respect of that oversight; and

(3) completing and submitting a CCR005 return in accordance with SUP 16.12.29CR.

CASS large debt management firm: the CASS operational oversight function (CF10a)

11.3.3 G CASS 11.3.4R describes the FCA controlled function known as the CASS operational oversight function (CF10a) in relation to CASS large debt management firms, including not-for-profit debt advice bodies. As a consequence of CASS 11.3.4R (in conjunction with SUP 10A.4.1R and SUP 10A.7.9AR), in a CASS large debt management firm (including a not-for-profit debt advice body fitting into that category) the function described in CASS 11.3.4R is required to be discharged by a director or senior manager who is an approved person under the approved persons regime provided for in SUP.

11.3.4 R A CASS large debt management firm must allocate to a director or senior manager the function of:

(1) oversight of the operational effectiveness of that CASS debt management firm’s systems and controls that are designed to achieve compliance with CASS 11;

(2) reporting to the CASS debt management firm's governing body in respect of that oversight; and

(3) completing and submitting a CCR005 return to the FCA in accordance with SUP 16.12.29CR.

11.3.5 R If, at the time a CASS debt management firm becomes a CASS large debt management firm in accordance with CASS 11.2.8R, the firm is not able to comply with CASS 11.3.4R because it has no director or senior manager who is an approved person in respect of the CASS operational oversight function, the firm must:

(1) take the necessary steps to ensure that it complies with CASS 11.3.4R as soon as practicable, which must at least include submitting an application for a candidate in respect of the CASS operational oversight function within 30 business days of the firm becoming a CASS large debt management firm; and

(2) until such time as it is able to comply with CASS 11.3.4R, allocate to a director or senior manager performing a significant-influence function responsibility for:

(a) oversight of the firm's operational compliance with CASS 11;

(b) reporting to the firm's governing body in respect of that oversight; and

(c) completing and submitting a CCR005 return to the FCA in accordance with SUP 16.12.29CR.

Record of responsibility for CASS operational oversight

11.3.6 R (1) Subject to (2), a CASS debt management firm must make and retain an appropriate record of the person to whom responsibility is allocated in accordance with, as applicable, CASS 11.3.1R, CASS 11.3.2R, and CASS 11.3.4R.

(2) A CASS small debt management firm must make and retain such a record only where it allocates responsibility to a person other than the person in that firm who performs the compliance oversight function.

(3) A CASS debt management firm must ensure that a record made under this rule is retained for a period of five years after it is made.
11.4 Definition of client money and the discharge of fiduciary duty

11.4.1 G CASS 11 provides important safeguards for the protection of client money held by CASS debt management firms that sit alongside the fiduciary duty owed by firms in relation to client money. CASS 11.4.2R to CASS 11.4.4G provide guidance and rules for when money ceases to be client money for the purposes of both those rules and of the fiduciary duty which CASS debt management firms owe to clients in relation to client money.

11.4.2 R Money ceases to be client money if:

(1) it is paid to the client, or a duly authorised representative of the client; or

(2) it is:

   (a) paid to a third party on the instruction of the client, or with the specific consent of the client; or

   (b) paid to a third party further to an obligation on the firm under any applicable law; or

(3) it is paid into an account of the client (not being an account which is also in the name of the firm) on the instruction, or with the specific consent, of the client;

(4) it is due and payable to the firm for its own account;

(5) it is paid to the firm as an excess in the client bank account (see CASS 11.11.12R(2) and CASS 11.11.23R(3)).

11.4.3 R When a CASS debt management firm draws a cheque or other payable order to discharge its fiduciary duty to the client, it must continue to treat the sum concerned as client money until the cheque or order is presented and paid.

11.4.4 G Money is not client money when it is properly due and payable to the firm for its own account. The circumstances in which money may become due and payable to the firm could include when fees have become due and payable from the client to the firm under the agreement between the client and the firm.

11.5 Organisational requirements

11.5.1 R A CASS debt management firm must, when holding client money, make adequate arrangements to safeguard the client's rights and prevent the use of client money for its own account.
11.5.2 R A CASS debt management firm must introduce adequate organisational arrangements to minimise the risk of the loss or diminution of client money, or of rights in connection with client money, as a result of misuse of client money, fraud, poor administration, inadequate record-keeping or negligence.

11.6 Statutory trust

11.6.1 R A CASS debt management firm receives and holds client money as trustee on the following terms:

(1) for the purposes and on the terms of the debt management client money rules and the debt management client money distribution rules;

(2) subject to (3), for the clients for whom that money is held, according to their respective interests in it;

(3) on failure of the CASS debt management firm, for the payment of the costs properly attributable to the distribution of the client money in accordance with (2); and

(4) after all valid claims and costs under (2) and (3) have been met, for the CASS debt management firm itself.

11.6.2 G Section 137B(1) of the Act provides that rules may make provisions which result in client money being held by a firm on trust. CASS 11.6.1R creates such a rule in relation to client money held by a CASS debt management firm. The consequence of this rule is there is a fiduciary relationship between a CASS debt management firm and its client, under which client money is in the legal ownership of the firm but remains in the beneficial ownership of the client. In the event of failure of the CASS debt management firm, costs relating to the distribution of client money may have to be borne by the trust.

11.7 Selecting an approved bank at which to hold client money

11.7.1 G A CASS debt management firm owes a duty of care as a trustee to its clients in relation to client money and has to exercise that duty of care in deciding where to hold client money.

11.7.2 R Before a CASS large debt management firm opens a client bank account and as often as is appropriate on a continuing basis (such frequency being no less than once in each financial year) it must take reasonable steps to establish that it is appropriate for the firm to hold client money at the approved bank concerned.

11.7.3 R A CASS large debt management firm must consider the risks associated with holding all client money with one approved bank and should consider whether it would be appropriate to hold client money in client bank accounts at a number of different approved banks.

11.7.4 G In complying with CASS 11.7.3R a CASS large debt management firm should consider as appropriate, together with any other relevant matters:

(1) the amount of client money held by the firm;
(2) the amount of client money the firm anticipates holding at the approved bank; and
(3) the credit worthiness of the approved bank.

11.7.5 G A CASS small debt management firm can demonstrate compliance with CASS 11.7.1G by checking that the person it proposes to hold client money with is an approved bank and that nothing has come to the firm’s attention to cause it to believe that such person is not an appropriate place at which to hold client money.

11.7.6 R A CASS large debt management firm must make a record of the grounds upon which it satisfies itself as to the appropriateness of its selection of an approved bank. The firm must make the record on the date it makes the selection and must keep it from the date of such selection until five years after the firm ceases to use the approved bank to hold client money.

11.8 Client bank account acknowledgement letters

11.8.1 G The main purposes of a client bank account acknowledgement letter are:

(1) to put the approved bank on notice of a firm’s clients’ interests in client money that has been deposited with such person;
(2) to ensure that the client bank account has been opened in accordance with CASS 11.9.3R, and is distinguished from any account containing money that belongs to the firm; and
(3) to ensure that the approved bank understands and agrees that it will not have any recourse or right against money standing to the credit of the client bank account, in respect of any liability of the firm to such person (or person connected to such person).

11.8.2 R (1) For each client bank account, a CASS debt management firm must, in accordance with CASS 11.8.4R, complete and sign a client bank account acknowledgement letter clearly identifying the client bank account, and send it to the approved bank with whom the client bank account is, or will be, opened, requesting the bank to acknowledge and agree to the terms of the letter by countersigning it and returning it to the firm.
Subject to CASS 11.8.6R, a CASS debt management firm must not hold or receive any client money in or into a client bank account unless it has received a duly countersigned client bank account acknowledgement letter from the approved bank that has not been inappropriately redrafted and clearly identifies the client bank account.

11.8.3 R In drafting client bank account acknowledgement letters under CASS 11.8.2R a CASS debt management firm is required to use the relevant template in CASS 11 Annex 1R.

11.8.4 R When completing a client bank account acknowledgement letter under CASS 11.8.2R(1) a CASS debt management firm:

(1) must not amend any of the acknowledgement letter fixed text;

(2) subject to (3), must ensure the acknowledgement letter variable text is removed, included or amended as appropriate; and

(3) must not amend any of the acknowledgement letter variable text in a way that would alter or otherwise change the meaning of the acknowledgement letter fixed text.

11.8.5 G CASS 11 Annex 2G contains guidance on using the template client bank account acknowledgement letters, including on when and how firms should amend the acknowledgement letter variable text that is in square brackets.

11.8.6 R (1) If, on countersigning and returning the client bank account acknowledgement letter to a firm, the relevant approved bank has also:

(a) made amendments to any of the acknowledgement letter fixed text; or

(b) made amendments to any of the acknowledgement letter variable text in a way that would alter or otherwise change the meaning of the acknowledgement letter fixed text;

the client bank account acknowledgement letter will have been inappropriately redrafted for the purposes of CASS 11.8.2R(2).

(2) Amendments made to the acknowledgement letter variable text, in the client bank account acknowledgement letter returned to a firm by the relevant approved bank, will not have the result that the letter has been inappropriately redrafted if those amendments do not affect the meaning of the acknowledgement letter fixed text, have been specifically agreed with the firm and do not cause the client bank account acknowledgement letter to be inaccurate.

11.8.7 R A CASS debt management firm must use reasonable endeavours to ensure that any individual that has countersigned a client bank account acknowledgement letter that has been returned to the firm was authorised to countersign the letter on behalf of the relevant approved bank.

11.8.8 R A CASS debt management firm must retain each countersigned client bank account acknowledgement letter it receives from the date of receipt until the expiry of a period of five years starting on the date on which the last client bank account to which the acknowledgment letter relates is closed.

11.8.9 R A CASS debt management firm must also retain any other documentation or evidence it believes is necessary to demonstrate that it has complied with each of the applicable requirements in this section (such as any evidence it has obtained to ensure that the individual that has countersigned an acknowledgment letter that has been returned to the firm was authorised to countersign the letter on behalf of the relevant approved bank).

11.8.10 R A CASS debt management firm must, periodically (at least annually, and whenever it becomes aware that something referred to in a client bank account acknowledgement letter has changed) review each of its countersigned client bank account acknowledgement letters to ensure that they remain accurate.

11.8.11 R Whenever a CASS debt management firm finds a countersigned client bank account acknowledgement letter to contain an inaccuracy, the firm must promptly draw up a new replacement client bank account acknowledgement letter under CASS 11.8.2R and ensure that the new client bank account acknowledgement letter is duly countersigned and returned by the relevant approved bank.

11.8.12 G Under CASS 11.8.10R, a CASS debt management firm should obtain a replacement client bank account acknowledgement letter whenever:

(1) there has been a change in any of the parties’ names or addresses or a change in any of the details of the relevant account(s) as set out in the letter; or

(2) it becomes aware of an error or misspelling in the letter.

11.8.13 R If a CASS debt management firm’s client bank account is transferred to another approved bank, the firm must promptly draw up a new client bank account acknowledgement letter under CASS 11.8.2R and ensure that the new client bank account acknowledgement letter is duly countersigned and returned by the relevant approved bank within 20 business days of the firm sending it to that person.

11.9 Segregation and the operation of client money accounts

Requirement to segregate

11.9.1 R A CASS debt management firm must take all reasonable steps to ensure that all client money it receives is paid directly into a client bank account at an approved bank, rather than being first received into the firm’s own account and then segregated.

11.9.2 G A CASS debt management firm should arrange for clients and third parties to make transfers and payments of any money which will be client money directly into the firm’s client bank accounts.

11.9.3 R A CASS debt management firm must ensure that client money is held in a client bank account at one or more approved banks.

11.9.4 R Cheques received by a CASS debt management firm, made out to the firm, representing client money or a mixed remittance must be treated as client money from receipt by the firm.

11.9.5 R Where a CASS debt management firm receives client money in the form of cash, a cheque or other payable order, it must:

(1) pay the money into a client bank account in accordance with CASS 11.9.1R promptly and no later than on the business day after it receives the money;

(2) if the firm holds the money overnight, hold it in a secure location in line with Principle 10; and

(3) record the receipt of the money in the firm’s books and records under the applicable requirements of CASS 11.11 (Records, accounts and reconciliations).

Mixed remittance

11.9.6 R If a CASS debt management firm receives a mixed remittance it must:

(1) pay the full sum into a client bank account promptly and in accordance with CASS 11.9.1R to CASS 11.9.5R; and

(2) no later than one business day after the payment of the mixed remittance into the client bank account has cleared, pay the money that is not client money out of the client bank account.

Allocation of client money receipts

11.9.7 R (1) A CASS debt management firm must allocate in its books and records any client money it receives to an individual client promptly and, in any case, no later than five business days following the receipt.

(2) Pending a CASS debt management firm’s allocation of a client money receipt to an individual client under (1), it must record the received client money in its books and records as “unallocated client money”.

11.9.8 R If a CASS debt management firm receives money (either in a client bank account or an account of its own) which it is unable immediately to identify as client money or its own money, it must:

(1) take all necessary steps to identify the money as either client money or its own money;

(2) if it considers it reasonably prudent to do so, given the risk that client money may not be adequately protected if it is not treated as such, treat the entire balance of money as client money and record the money in its books and records as “unidentified client money” while it performs the necessary steps under (1).

11.9.9 G If a CASS debt management firm is unable to identify money that it has received as either client money or its own money under CASS 11.9.8R(1), it should consider whether it would be appropriate to return the money to the person who sent it (or, if that is not possible, to the source from where it was received, for example, the bank). A firm should have regard to its fiduciary duties when considering such matters.

Money received by appointed representatives, tied agents, field representatives and other agents

11.9.10 R A CASS debt management firm must ensure that client money received by its appointed representatives, field representatives or other agents is:

(1) received directly into a client bank account of the firm; or

(2) if it is received in the form of a cheque or other payable order:

(a) paid into a client bank account of the CASS debt management firm promptly and, in any event, no later than the next business day after receipt; or

(b) forwarded to the firm or, in the case of a field representative, forwarded to a specified business address of the CASS debt management firm, to ensure that the money arrives at the specified business address promptly and, in any event, no later than the close of the third business day following the receipt of the money from the client; or

(3) if it is received in the form of cash, paid into a client bank account of the CASS debt management firm promptly and, in any event, no later than the next business day after receipt.

Interest

11.9.11 R A CASS debt management firm must pay a client any interest earned on client money held for that client.

Returning money to clients
11.9.12 R A CASS debt management firm must, on receipt of a written request to withdraw from a debt management plan, promptly return to the client any client money held by it for the client.

11.9.13 G The FCA would expect compliance with the requirement in CASS 11.9.12R to return client money promptly to require client money to be returned to a client within five business days of the date on which a client’s withdrawal from a debt management plan takes effect.

11.10 Payments to creditors

11.10.1 R Where a CASS debt management firm receives client money from a client in relation to a debt management plan or for the purpose of distribution to the client’s creditors, the firm must pay that money to creditors as soon as reasonably practicable, save in the circumstances in CASS 11.10.3R.

11.10.2 G In the FCA’s view, the payment to creditors under CASS 11.10.1R should normally be within five business days of the receipt of cleared funds.

11.10.3 R The circumstances referred to in CASS 11.10.1R are:

(1) the contract between the client and the CASS debt management firm expressly provides that client money might be held for more than five business days without being distributed to creditors;

(2) the existence of such a term expressly providing that client money might be held for more than five business days without being distributed to creditors has been separately brought to the attention of the client prior to his entering into the contract; and

(3) the CASS debt management firm has explained to the client the risks and implications, if any, of payment to creditors being delayed prior to the entry into the contract.

11.10.4 R On each occasion that a CASS debt management firm receives client money from a client in relation to a debt management plan, or for the purpose of distribution to the client’s creditors, and it is proposed not to make a client’s payment to creditors within five business days of receipt of the client money in the circumstances described in CASS 11.10.3R(1), it must:

(1) as soon as reasonably practicable and within the five business day period, inform the client’s creditors of the fact that it has received client money from the client for the purpose of distribution to his or her creditors and that it will not distribute that client money to the creditors within the five business-day period; and

(2) perform daily reconciliations of the money held for the client concerned in accordance with the provisions of CASS 11.11.
11.10.5 R On each occasion a CASS debt management firm receives client money from a client in relation to a debt management plan, or for the purpose of distribution to the client’s creditors, and is unable for any reason other than in the circumstances described in CASS 11.10.3R(1) to make a payment to the client’s creditors within five business days of receipt, it must:

(1) inform the client of the delay and the reason for the delay;
(2) inform the client of the risks and implications of the late payments;
(3) inform the client’s creditors of this delay as soon as reasonably practicable and within the period of five business days of the receipt of the relevant client money; and
(4) perform daily checks of its records of the money held for the client concerned in accordance with the provisions of CASS 11.11.

11.10.6 R (1) Subject to (2), where a CASS debt management firm receives client money from a client in relation to a debt management plan or for the purpose of distribution to the client’s creditors, and it fails to pay that money to creditors as soon as reasonably practicable following its receipt (see CASS 11.10.1R and CASS 11.10.2G), it must put the client into the financial position he would have been in had the delay not occurred.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply in the circumstances described in CASS 11.10.3R or where the delay is due to circumstances beyond the firm’s control.

11.10.7 G Putting a client into the position he would have been in had the delay not occurred under CASS 11.10.6R should include paying to the client a sum equivalent to the amount of any additional interest which would not have accrued but for the delay and any default charges that have been applied to the account as a result of the delay.

11.11 Records, accounts and reconciliations

Records and accounts

11.11.1 R A CASS debt management firm must keep such records and accounts as are necessary to enable it, at any time and without delay, to distinguish client money held for one client from client money held for any other client, and from its own money.

11.11.2 G In accordance with CASS 11.11.1R, a CASS debt management firm must maintain internal records and accounts of the client money it holds (for example, a cash book). These internal records are separate to any external records it has obtained from approved banks with whom it has deposited client money (for example, bank statements).
11.11.3 R A CASS debt management firm must maintain its records and accounts in a way that ensures their accuracy and, in particular, their correspondence to the client money held for individual clients.

11.11.4 R A CASS debt management firm must maintain up-to-date records that detail all payments to, from, or made on behalf of, clients and written and oral contact with clients and their creditors.

Policies and procedures

11.11.5 G CASS debt management firms are reminded that they must, under SYSC 6.1.1R, establish, implement and maintain adequate policies and procedures sufficient to ensure compliance of the firm with the rules in this chapter.

Checks and reconciliations of internal records

11.11.6 G So that a CASS debt management firm may check that it has sufficient money segregated in its client bank accounts to meet its obligations to clients for whom it is undertaking debt management activity, it is required periodically to carry out reconciliations of its internal records and accounts to check that the total amount of client money that it should have segregated in client bank accounts is equal to the total amount of client money it actually has segregated in client bank accounts. CASS 11.11.7R to CASS 11.11.23R provide rules that the different types of CASS debt management firm are obliged to follow to meet this obligation.

Checks of internal records: CASS small debt management firm

11.11.7 G For a CASS small debt management firm to demonstrate it has maintained its records and accounts in a way envisaged by CASS 11.11.3R, it should carry out checks of its internal records and accounts that are reasonable and proportionate to its business. CASS 11.11.8R provides a rule that a CASS small debt management firm is obliged to follow to meet this obligation.

11.11.8 R A CASS small debt management firm must undertake periodic checks of its internal accounts and records to ensure that the amount of money it holds in its client bank accounts is equal to the amount of client money that should be segregated under CASS 11.9.

11.11.9 R In carrying out the checks required by CASS 11.11.8R a CASS small debt management firm must use the values contained in its internal records and ledgers (for example, its cash book or other internal accounting records), rather than the values contained in the records it has obtained from approved banks with whom it has deposited client money (for example, bank statements).

11.11.10 G The checks that a CASS small debt management firm is required to undertake under CASS 11.11.8R include checking that its internal records and accounts accurately record the balances of client money held in respect of individual clients, and that the aggregate of those individual client money balances are equal to the total client money segregated in its client bank accounts. In undertaking the comparison between the internal records of balances of client money and the client money segregated in client bank accounts, a firm should use the previous day’s closing client money balances and should compare those with other records relating to the same day. In determining an appropriate frequency for its record checks, a firm should consider the volume and frequency of transactions in its client bank accounts.

11.11.11 G In seeking to comply with its obligation to carry out checks on its internal records and accounts, a CASS small debt management firm may choose to follow the steps specifically required of CASS large debt management firms in undertaking a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation and CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation. A CASS small debt management firm which follows that procedure is likely to be regarded by the FCA as having fulfilled its obligation under CASS 11.11.8R.

CASS small debt management firms: remedying discrepancies

11.11.12 R Where the check of its internal records and accounts that a CASS small debt management firm is required to undertake under CASS 11.11.8R reveals a difference between the amount of money it holds in its client bank accounts and the amount of client money that should be held and segregated under CASS 11.9, a CASS small debt management firm must:

(1) ensure that any shortfall in the amount held in its client bank accounts as compared to the amount that should be held there is made up by a prompt payment into the firm’s client bank accounts;

(2) ensure that any excess in the amount held in its client bank accounts as compared to the amount that should be held there is promptly withdrawn from its client bank accounts; and

(3) ensure that any correction of a shortfall or excess of the kind referred to in (1) and (2) is carried out, at the latest, before the end of the business day following the day on which difference was discovered.

CASS large debt management firms internal client money reconciliation

11.11.13 R A CASS large debt management firm must, as regularly as is necessary, but no less often than every five business days, carry out a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation.

11.11.14 R A CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation requires a CASS large debt management firm to check whether its client money resource, as determined by CASS 11.11.16R, on the previous business day, was at least equal to the client money requirement, as determined by CASS 11.11.17R as at the close of business on that day.

11.11.15 R In carrying out a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation... reconciliation, a CASS large debt management firm must use the values contained in its internal records and ledgers (for example, its cash book or other internal accounting records), rather than the values contained in the records it has obtained from approved banks with whom it has deposited client money (for example, bank statements).

Calculating the client money resource

11.11.16 R The client money resource for client money held in accordance with CASS 11.11.14R is the aggregate of the balances on the firm’s client bank accounts, as at the close of business on the previous business day.

Calculating the client money requirement

11.11.17 R (1) The client money requirement is the sum of:

(a) the aggregate of all individual client balances calculated in accordance with CASS 11.11.21R and CASS 11.11.22R;

(b) the amount of any unallocated client money under CASS 11.9.7R;

(c) the amount of any unidentified client money under CASS 11.9.8R; and

(d) any other amounts of client money included in the calculation under (2).

(2) For the purposes of (1)(d), the CASS debt management firm must consider whether there are amounts of client money, other than those in (1)(a) to (c), to which the requirement to segregate applies and that it is appropriate to include in the calculation of its client money requirement and, if so, adjust the calculation accordingly.

11.11.18 G The client money requirement calculated in accordance with CASS 11.11.17R should represent the total amount of client money a CASS debt management firm is required to have segregated in client bank accounts under the debt management client money chapter.

11.11.19 G Firms are reminded that, under CASS 11.4.3R, if a firm has drawn any cheques, or other payable orders, to discharge its fiduciary duty to its clients (for example, to return client money to the client or distribute it to the client’s creditors), the sum concerned must be included in the firm’s calculation of its client money requirement until the cheque or order is presented and paid.

11.11.20 G The following guidance applies where a CASS debt management firm receives client money in the form of cash, a cheque or other payable order:

(1) In carrying out the calculation of the client money requirement, a CASS debt management firm may initially include the amount of client money received as cash, cheques or payment orders that has not yet been deposited in a client bank account in line with CASS 11.9.5R. If it does so, the firm should ensure, before finalising the calculation, that it deducts these amounts to avoid them giving rise to a difference between the firm’s client money requirement and client money resource.

(2) In carrying out the calculation of the client money requirement, a CASS debt management firm may alternatively exclude the amount of client money received as cash, cheques or payment orders that has not yet been deposited in a client bank account in line with CASS 11.9.5R. If it does so, the firm is reminded that it must separately record the receipt of the money in the firm’s books and records under CASS 11.9.5R(3).

(3) A CASS debt management firm that receives client money in the form of cash, a cheque or other payable order is reminded that it must pay that money into a client bank account promptly and no later than on the business day after it receives the money (see CASS 11.9.5R).

11.11.21 R The individual client balance for each client must be calculated as follows:

(1) the amount paid by the client to the CASS debt management firm; plus

(2) the amount of any interest, and any other sums, due to the client;

less:

(3) the aggregate of the amount of money:

(a) paid back to that client; and

(b) due and payable by the client to the CASS debt management firm; and

(c) paid out to a third party for, or on behalf of, that client.

11.11.22 R Where the individual client balance calculated in respect of an individual client under CASS 11.11.21R is a negative figure (because the amounts paid by or due to a client under CASS 11.11.21R(1) and (2) are less than the amounts paid out or due and payable by that client under CASS 11.11.21R(3)), that individual client balance should be treated as zero for the purposes of the calculation of the firm’s client money requirement in CASS 11.11.17R.

Large debt management firms: reconciliation differences and discrepancies

11.11.23 R When a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation reveals a difference between the client money resource and its client money requirement a CASS large debt management firm must:
(1) identify the reason for the difference;

(2) ensure that any shortfall in the amount of the client money resource as compared to the amount of the client money requirement is made up by a payment into the firm’s client bank accounts by the end of the business day following the day on which difference was discovered; and

(3) ensure that any excess in the amount of the client money resource as compared to the amount of the client money requirement is withdrawn from the firm’s client bank accounts by the end of the business day following the day on which the difference was discovered.

CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation

11.11.24 G The purpose of the reconciliation process required by CASS 11.11.25R is to ensure the accuracy of a firm’s internal accounts and records against those of any third parties by whom client money is held.

11.11.25 R A CASS large debt management firm should perform a CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation:

(1) as regularly as is necessary; and

(2) no less frequently than the CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliations; and

(3) as soon as reasonably practicable after the date to which the reconciliation relates;

to ensure the accuracy of its internal accounts and records against those of approved banks with whom client money is deposited.

11.11.26 R A CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation requires a CASS large debt management firm to conduct a reconciliation between its internal accounts and records and those of any approved banks by whom client money is held.

11.11.27 G The FCA expects a CASS large debt management firm which carries out transactions for its clients on a daily basis to carry out a CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation on a daily basis.

11.11.28 R When any discrepancy is revealed by a CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation, a CASS large debt management firm must identify the reason for the discrepancy and correct it as soon as possible, unless the discrepancy arises solely as a result of timing differences between the accounting systems of the party providing the statement or confirmation and that of the firm.

11.11.29 R While a CASS large debt management firm is unable to resolve a discrepancy arising from the CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation, and one record or a set of records examined by the firm during the reconciliation process indicates that there is a need to have greater amount of client money than is in fact the case, the firm must assume, until the matter is finally resolved, that the record or set of records is accurate and pay its own money into a relevant account.

Notification requirements

11.11.30 R A CASS debt management firm must inform the FCA in writing without delay if:

(1) its internal records and accounts of client money are materially out of date or materially inaccurate so that the firm is no longer able to comply with the requirements in CASS 11.11.1R to CASS 11.11.4R; or

(2) it becomes aware that, at any time in the preceding 12 months, the amount of client money segregated in its client bank accounts materially differed from the total aggregate amount of client money the firm was required to segregate in client bank accounts in accordance with the segregation requirements in CASS 11.9.

11.11.31 R A CASS large debt management firm must inform the FCA in writing without delay if:

(1) after having carried out a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation in accordance with CASS 11.11.13R it will be unable to, or materially fails to, pay any shortfall into (or withdraw any excess from) a client bank account so that the firm is unable to comply with CASS 11.23R;

(2) after having carried out a CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation in accordance with CASS 11.11.25R it will be unable to, or materially fails to, identify and correct any discrepancies in accordance with CASS 11.28R;

(3) it will be unable to or materially fails to conduct a CASS large debt management firm internal client money reconciliation in compliance with CASS 11.11.13R; or

(4) it will be unable to or materially fails to conduct a CASS large debt management firm external client money reconciliation in compliance with CASS 11.11.25R.

11.11.32 G CASS debt management firms are also reminded of their obligation to notify the appropriate regulator of a significant breach of a rule under SUP 15.3.11R.
11.12 CASS 11 resolution pack

11.12.1 G The purpose of the CASS 11 resolution pack is to ensure that a firm maintains and is able to retrieve information that would, in the event of its insolvency, assist an insolvency practitioner in dealing with client money in a timely manner.

11.12.2 R A CASS debt management firm which holds client money must maintain at all times and be able to retrieve, in the manner described in this section, a CASS 11 resolution pack.

11.12.3 R A CASS debt management firm must include within its CASS 11 resolution pack all those documents referred to in CASS 11.12.4.

11.12.4 R The documents in CASS 11.12.3 that a CASS debt management firm must include within its CASS 11 resolution pack are:

1. a master document containing information sufficient to retrieve each document in the firm’s CASS 11 resolution pack;

2. a document which identifies all the approved banks with whom client money may be deposited;

3. a document which identifies each appointed representative, field representative or other agent of the firm which may receive client money in its capacity as the firm’s agent;

4. a document which identifies each senior manager and director and any other individual and the nature of their responsibility within the firm who is critical or important to the performance of operational functions related to any of the obligations imposed on the firm under the debt management client money rules;

5. for all approved banks identified in (2) the written client bank account acknowledgement letters sent and received in accordance with CASS 11.8.2R; and

6. records relating to the internal and external client money checks it is required to carry out under CASS 11.11.

11.12.5 R In relation to each document in a CASS debt management firm’s CASS 11 resolution pack a firm must:

1. put in place adequate arrangements to ensure that an administrator, receiver, trustee, liquidator or analogous officer appointed in respect of it or any material part of its property is able to retrieve each document as soon as practicable and, in any event, within 48 hours of that officer’s appointment; and

2. ensure that it is able to retrieve each document as soon as practicable and, in any event, within 48 hours where it has taken a decision to do so or as a result of an FCA request.

11.12.6 R (1) A CASS debt management firm must ensure that it reviews the content of its CASS 11 resolution pack on an ongoing basis to ensure that it remains accurate.

(2) In relation to any change of circumstances that has the effect of rendering inaccurate, in any material respect, the content of a document specified in CASS 11.12.4R, a firm must ensure that any inaccuracy is corrected promptly and in any event no more than five business days after the change of circumstances arose.

11.12.7 R A CASS debt management firm must notify the FCA in writing immediately if it has not complied with, or is unable to comply with, CASS 11.12.2R and CASS 11.12.6R.

11.13 Client money distribution in the event of a failure of a firm or approved bank

Application

11.13.1 R This section (the debt management client money distribution rules) applies to a CASS debt management firm that holds client money which is subject to the debt management client money rules when a primary pooling event or a secondary pooling event occurs.

Purpose

11.13.2 G The debt management client money distribution rules seek, in the event of the failure of a CASS debt management firm or of an approved bank at which the CASS debt management firm holds client money, to protect client money and to facilitate the timely payment of sums to creditors or the timely return of client money to clients.

Failure of a CASS debt management firm: primary pooling event

11.13.3 R A primary pooling event occurs:

(1) on the failure of a CASS debt management firm;

(2) on the vesting of assets in a trustee in accordance with an 'assets requirement' imposed under section 55P(1)(b) or (c) (as the case may be) of the Act where such a requirement is imposed in respect of all client money held by the firm.

Pooling and distribution after a primary pooling event

11.13.4 R If a primary pooling event occurs:

(1) all client money:
(a) held in the CASS debt management firm’s client bank accounts; and

(b) received by the CASS debt management firm on behalf of a client but not yet paid into the firm’s client bank accounts; is treated as pooled together to form a notional pool;

(2) a CASS debt management firm must calculate the amount it should be holding on behalf of each individual client as at the time of the primary pooling event using the method of calculating individual client balance provided for by CASS 11.11.21R;

(3) a CASS debt management firm must decide whether it is in the best interests of its clients to transfer all its debt management activity business to another CASS debt management firm.

Distribution if client money not transferred to another firm

11.13.5 R Where a primary pooling event occurs and the client money is not transferred to another firm in accordance with CASS 11.13.4R, a CASS debt management firm must distribute client money comprising the notional pool so that each client receives a sum that is rateable to their entitlement to the notional pool calculated in CASS 11.13.4R(2).

Transfer of client money to another firm

11.13.6 G If in the event of a primary pooling event occurring the debt management activity business undertaken by a CASS debt management firm (“the transferor”) is to be transferred to another CASS debt management firm (“the transferee”), then the transferor may also move the client money associated with that business to the transferee.

11.13.7 R The remaining client money may be transferred under CASS 11.13.6G only if it will be held by the transferee in accordance with the debt management client money chapter, including the statutory trust in CASS 11.6.1R.

11.13.8 R If there is a shortfall in the client money transferred under CASS 11.13.6G then the client money must be allocated to each of the clients for whom the client money was held so that each client is allocated a sum which is rateable to that client’s client money entitlement in accordance with CASS 11.13.4R(2). This calculation may be done by either transferor or transferee in accordance with the terms of any transfer.

11.13.9 R The transferee must, within seven days after the transfer of client money under CASS 11.13.6G notify clients that:

(1) their money has been transferred to the transferee; and

(2) they have the option of having client money returned to them or to their order by the transferee, otherwise the transferee will hold the client money for the clients and conduct debt management activities for those clients.

Failure of an approved bank: secondary pooling event

11.13.10 R A secondary pooling event occurs on the failure of an approved bank at which a CASS debt management firm holds client money in a client bank account.

11.13.11 R (1) Subject to (2), if a secondary pooling event occurs as a result of the failure of an approved bank where one or more client bank accounts are held then in relation to every client bank account of the firm, the provisions of CASS 11.13.12R (1), (2), and (3) will apply.

(2) CASS 11.13.12R does not apply if, on the failure of the approved bank, the CASS debt management firm pays to its clients, or pays into a client bank account at an unaffected approved bank, an amount equal to the amount of client money that would have been held if a shortfall had not occurred as a result of the failure.

11.13.12 R Money held in each client bank account of the firm must be treated as pooled and:

(1) any shortfall in client money held, or which should have been held, in client bank accounts, that has arisen as a result of the failure of the approved bank, must be borne by all clients whose client money is held in a client bank account of the firm, rateably in accordance with their entitlements to the pool;

(2) a new client money entitlement must be calculated for each client by the firm, to reflect the requirements in (1), and the firm’s records must be amended to reflect the reduced client money entitlement;

(3) the CASS debt management firm must make and retain a record of each client’s share of the client money shortfall at the failed approved bank until the client is repaid; and

(4) the firm must use the new client entitlements, calculated in accordance with (2), when performing the client money calculation in CASS 11.11.17R.

11.13.13 R The term ‘which should have been held’ is a reference to the failed approved bank’s failure to hold the client money at the time of the pooling event.

11.13.14 R Any interest earned on client money following a primary or secondary pooling event will be due to clients in accordance with CASS 11.9.11R (Interest).

8A Directions and determinations by the FCA waiving, varying or disapplying CCA requirements

8A.1 Application, purpose and interpretation

8A.1.1 D This chapter applies to every firm which:

(1) is subject to the requirements as to the form and content of regulated agreements under the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 1983 (SI 1983/1553) and the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations (SI 2010/1014) made under section 60(1) of the CCA that wishes to apply for a direction from the FCA waiving or varying those requirements;

(2) is subject to the requirement under section 64(1)(b) of the CCA to send debtors or hirers a notice of their rights to cancel a cancellable agreement within the seven days following the making of that agreement that wishes to apply for a determination by the FCA that that requirement can be dispensed with; and

(3) wishes to apply for a direction from the FCA that the hirer’s rights to terminate a regulated consumer hire agreement under section 101 of the CCA do not apply to regulated consumer hire agreements made by that firm.

8A.1.2 G This chapter explains how the regime works for obtaining:

(1) a direction from the FCA waiving or varying the requirements as to the form and content of regulated agreements under the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 1983 (SI 1983/1553) and the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations (SI 2010/1014) made under section 60(1) of the CCA;

(2) a determination by the FCA that the requirement under section 64(1)(b) of the CCA to send debtors or hirers a notice of their rights to cancel a cancellable agreement within the seven days following the making of that agreement can be dispensed with; and

(3) a direction from the FCA that the hirer’s rights to terminate a regulated consumer hire agreement under section 101 of the CCA do not apply to regulated consumer hire agreements made by the relevant firm.

8A.1.3 G Unless italicised, and except where the contrary intention appears, expressions used in this chapter have the same respective meanings as in the CCA.
8A.2 Introduction and conditions

Directions under section 60(3) of the CCA

8A.2.1 Under section 60(3) of the CCA, if, on an application made to the FCA by a firm carrying on a consumer credit business or a consumer hire business, it appears to the FCA impracticable for the firm to comply with any requirement of the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 1983 (SI 1983/1553) or the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations (SI 2010/1014) in a particular case, it may direct that the requirement be waived or varied in relation to the regulated agreement and subject to such conditions (if any) as it may specify.

8A.2.2 Under section 60(4) of the CCA, the FCA will make the direction only if it is satisfied that to do so would not prejudice the interests of debtors or hirers.

8A.2.3 An application may be made under section 60(3) of the CCA only if it relates to:

1. a consumer credit agreement secured on land; or
2. a consumer credit agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn; or
3. a consumer credit agreement under which the creditor provides the debtor with a credit that exceeds £60,260; or
4. a consumer credit agreement entered into by the debtor wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by him; or
5. a consumer hire agreement.

Determinations under section 64(4) of the CCA

8A.2.4 The requirement under section 64(1)(b) of the CCA to send debtors or hirers a notice of their rights to cancel a cancellable agreement within the seven days following the making of that agreement does not apply in the case of the agreements described in SUP 8A.2.5G, if:

1. on application by a firm to the FCA, the FCA has determined, having regard to:

   a. the manner in which antecedent negotiations for the relevant agreements with the firm are conducted; and
   b. the information provided to debtors or hirers before those agreements are made;
the requirement can be dispensed with without prejudicing the interests of debtors or hirers; and

(2) any conditions imposed by the FCA in making the determination are complied with.

8A.2.5 G A determination under 64(4) of the CCA may only be made in respect of agreements specified in the Consumer Credit (Notice of Cancellation Rights) (Exemptions) Regulations 1983.

Directions under section 101(8) of the CCA

8A.2.6 G If on an application made to the FCA by a firm carrying on a consumer hire business, it appears to the FCA that it would be in the interests of hirers to do so, the FCA may direct that subject to such conditions (if any) as it may specify, section 101 of the CCA shall not apply to consumer hire agreements made by that firm.

Transitional provision

8A.2.7 G Under article 53 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013, any of the following given or made by the Office of Fair Trading which were in effect immediately before 1 April 2014 have effect as if they had been given or made by the FCA:

(1) a direction given under section 60(3) of the CCA (form and content of agreements);

(2) a determination made under section 64(4) of the CCA (duty to give notice of cancellation rights) and the Consumer Credit (Notice of Cancellation Rights) (Exemptions) Regulations 1983;

(3) a direction given under section 101(8) or (8A) of the CCA (right to terminate hire agreement).

8A.3 Applying for a direction or determination by the FCA waiving, varying or disapplying CCA requirements

Publication

8A.3.1 G The FCA intends to include any direction or determination made by the FCA waiving, varying or disapplying CCA requirements in the public register under section 347 of the Act.

Form and method of application

8A.3.2 D A firm wishing to apply for a direction under section 60(3) of the CCA, must complete the application form in SUP 8A Annex 1D and submit it to the FCA in the way set out in SUP 15.7.4R, SUP 15.7.5AR, SUP 15.7.
A firm wishing to apply for a determination under section 64(4) of the CCA must apply to the FCA in the way set out in SUP 15.7.4R, SUP 15.7.5AR, SUP 15.7.6AG and SUP 15.7.9G.

A firm wishing to apply for a direction under section 101(8) of the CCA must complete the application form in SUP 8A Annex 2D and the information form in SUP 8A Annex 3D, and submit them to the FCA in the way set out in SUP 15.7.4R, SUP 15.7.5AR, SUP 15.7.6AG and SUP 15.7.9G.

Procedure on receipt of an application

The FCA will acknowledge an application promptly and, if necessary, will seek further information from the firm. The time taken to determine an application will depend on the issues it raises. However, the FCA will aim to give decisions within 20 business days of receiving an application which includes sufficient information. If the FCA expects to take longer, it will tell the firm and give an estimated decision date. A firm should make it clear in the application if it needs a decision within a specific time.

The FCA will treat a firm’s application as withdrawn if it does not hear from the firm within 20 business days of sending a communication which requests or requires a response from the firm. The FCA will not do this if the firm has made it clear to the FCA in some other way that it intends to pursue the application.

If the FCA decides not to give a direction or a determination, it will give reasons for the decision.

A firm may withdraw its application at any time up to the giving of the direction or determination. In doing so, a firm should give the FCA its reasons for withdrawing the application.

Notification of altered circumstances relating to directions or waivers

A firm which has applied for or has been granted a direction or determination must notify the FCA immediately if it becomes aware of any matter which could affect the continuing relevance or appropriateness of the application or the direction or determination.

Firms are also referred to SUP 15.6 (Inaccurate, false or misleading information). This requires a firm to notify the FCA if false, misleading, incomplete or inaccurate information has been provided (see SUP 15.6.4R). This would apply in relation to information provided in an application for a direction or a determination.
8A.5 Revoking or varying directions and determinations

8A.5.1 The FCA may revoke or vary any of the directions or determinations referred to in this chapter.

8A Annex 1D Application form for a direction under section 60(3) of the CCA

CONSUMER CREDIT ACT 1974

Application for a direction under section 60(3)
A direction waiving or varying a requirement of regulations made under section 60(3)

What is a direction under section 60(3)?
Regulated agreements made by a consumer credit or consumer hire business must comply with the requirements of the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 1983 or the Consumer Credit (Agreements) Regulations 2010, as applicable. Where it is impracticable to comply with those requirements, it is possible to apply to the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) for a direction under section 60(3) of the Act to waive or vary the requirements for some types of agreement (see below). The FCA must be satisfied that it is impracticable (rather than merely difficult) to comply with the requirements. The test for granting a direction is that the FCA believes that to do so would not prejudice the interests of debtors or hirers. The nature of the waiver or variation will depend on individual circumstances. The FCA may make the direction subject to such conditions as it may specify.

Who can apply?
Any consumer hire business, and some consumer credit businesses, can apply for a direction. The business must hold a valid consumer credit licence permitting that business to enter into the types of agreements in question – we cannot process applications for directions before a licence has been granted.

Please seek independent legal advice if you are unsure about whether to apply or whether your agreements are eligible for being considered for a direction.

Which agreements are eligible for consideration for a direction?

Only certain agreements that are regulated by the Act may be considered for a direction.

An application may be made under section 60(3) only if it relates to:
- a consumer credit agreement secured on land
- a consumer credit agreement under which a person takes an article in pawn a consumer credit agreement under which the creditor provides the debtor with credit which exceeds £60,260

- a consumer credit agreement entered into by the debtor wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by him, or

- a consumer hire agreement.

Directions only apply to the agreements specified and cannot be used in connection with any other agreements. Directions do not apply retrospectively.

It is for you to satisfy yourself that your agreements comply with the Act and Regulations other than the parts for which you are applying to waive or vary. If agreements are not compliant with the Regulations other than as waived or varied, any directions issued will be of no effect.

Data protection

For the purposes of complying with the Data Protection Act, the personal information in this form will be used by the FCA to discharge its functions under the consumer Credit Act 1974, the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and other relevant legislation. It will not be disclosed for any other purposes without the permission of the applicant.

Can someone else fill in this form for me?

Yes, you can ask someone else to fill in this form and sign the declaration for you.

The individual who signs the form is responsible for making sure it is accurate and complete. Knowingly or recklessly giving the FCA information which is false or misleading in a material particular may be a criminal offence (section 398 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000).

Warning

Knowingly or recklessly giving the FCA information, which is false or misleading in a material particular, may be a criminal offence (section 398 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000). SUP 15.6.4R requires an authorised person to take reasonable steps to ensure the accuracy and completeness of information given to the FCA and to notify the FCA immediately if materially inaccurate information has been provided. Contravention of these requirements may lead to disciplinary sanctions or other enforcement action by the FCA. It should not be assumed that information is known to the FCA merely because it is in the public domain or has previously been disclosed to the FCA or another regulatory body. If you are not sure whether a piece of information is relevant, please include it anyway.

Declaration

By submitting this application form:

- I/we confirm that this information is accurate and complete to the best of my/our knowledge and belief and that I/we have taken all reasonable steps to ensure that this is the case.
- I am/we are aware that it is a criminal offence knowingly or recklessly to give the FCA information that is false or misleading in a material particular.

12 Appointed representatives

12.2 Introduction

12.2.2 G (1) A person (other than a firm with only a limited permission) must satisfy the conditions in section 39(1) of the Act to become an appointed representative. These are that:

...
Appointed representatives with limited permission to carry on certain credit activities

12.2.2A G (1) Under sections 20(1) and (1A) of the Act (Authorised persons acting without permission), if an authorised person carries on a regulated activity in the United Kingdom, or purports to do so, otherwise than in accordance with his permission, he is to be taken to have contravened a requirement imposed by the FCA (in the case of a FCA-authorised person) or the FCA and the PRA (in the case of a PRA-authorised person).

(2) In addition, under section 23(1A) of the Act (Contravention of the general prohibition or section 20(1) or (1A)), an authorised person is guilty of an offence if he carries on a credit-related regulated activity in the United Kingdom, or purports to do so, otherwise than in accordance with his permission. For these purposes, entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender, exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement and debt collecting are credit-related regulated activities, except in so far as the activity relates to an agreement under which the obligation of the borrower to repay is secured on land (see the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Consumer Credit) (Designated Activities) Order 2014).

(3) Section 39(1D) of the Act provides, however, that sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply:

(a) to an authorised person with only a limited permission;

(b) in relation to the carrying on by him of a regulated activity which is not one to which his limited permission relates;

if the conditions in section 39(1C) of the Act are met. Guidance on these conditions is given at SUP 12.2.2BG. A firm carrying on a regulated activity in circumstances where, as a result of section 39(1D) of the Act, sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply is also referred to as an appointed representative.

12.2.2B G (1) A firm must satisfy the conditions in section 39(1C) of the Act to become an appointed representative. These are that:

(a) the firm must have only a limited permission (section 39(1C)(a) of the Act);

(b) the firm must have entered into a contract with another authorised person, referred to in the Act as the 'principal', which:

(i) permits or requires him to carry on business of a description prescribed in the Appointed Representatives Regulations (section 39(1C)(b)(i) of the Act) (see SUP....
12.2.7G); and

(ii) complies with any requirements that may be prescribed in the Appointed Representatives Regulations (section 39(1C)(b)(ii) of the Act); and

(c) the principal must have accepted responsibility, in writing, for the authorised activities of the firm in carrying on the whole, or part, of the business specified in the contract.

(2) The appointed representative is not subject to sections 20(1) or (1A) or 23(1A) of the Act in relation to the carrying on of the regulated activity which is comprised in the business for which his principal has accepted responsibility and for which he does not have limited permission.

Who can be an appointed representative?

12.2.3 G As long as the conditions in section 39 of the Act are satisfied, any person, other than an authorised person (unless he has only a limited permission), may become an appointed representative, including a body corporate, a partnership or an individual in business on his own account. However, an appointed representative cannot be an authorised person under the Act unless he has only a limited permission; that is, a person cannot be exempt for some regulated activities and authorised for others. An appointed representative with a limited permission is not an exempt person, but he may carry on the regulated activity comprised in the business for which his principal has accepted responsibility without being taken to have contravened a requirement imposed on him by the FCA or PRA or committing an offence, even though the activity is not covered by his limited permission.

12.2.7 G (1) The Appointed Representatives Regulations are made by the Treasury under sections 39(1), (1C) and (1E) of the Act. These regulations describe, among other things, the business for which an appointed representative may be exempt or to which sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act may not apply, which is business which comprises any of:

(ea) credit broking (article 36A of the Regulated Activities Order);

(eb) operating an electronic system in relation to lending (article 36H of the Regulated Activities Order);

(f) …
(fa) debt adjusting (article 39D of the Regulated Activities Order);

(fd) debt administration (article 39G of the Regulated Activities Order);

(j) advising on a home finance transaction (articles 53A, 53B and 53C of the Regulated Activities Order); and

(ja) entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender or exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement (article 60B of the Regulated Activities Order) when carried on in relation to a credit agreement under which the credit is provided free of interest and without any other charges;

(jb) entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner or exercising, or having the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement (article 60N of the Regulated Activities Order);

(k) agreeing to carry on a regulated activity (article 64 of the Regulated Activities Order) where the regulated activity is one of those in (a) to (h) or (ja) or (jb); and

(l) providing credit information services (article 89A of the Regulated Activities Order).

12.3 What responsibility does a firm have for its appointed representatives or EEA tied agent?

---

12.3.4 SYSC 6.1.1R requires a MiFID investment firm and a credit firm to ensure the compliance of its appointed representative with obligations under the regulatory system. The concept of a relevant person in SYSC includes an officer or employee of a tied agent.
12.5 Contracts: required terms

12.5.2 G ...

(2) Under the Appointed Representative Regulations, an appointed representative is treated as representing other counterparties if, broadly, it:

...

(g) ...;

(h) effects introductions (within article 36A (Credit broking) of the Regulated Activities Order) of individuals to other counterparties;

(i) facilitates persons becoming the lender and borrower under an article 36H agreement (within the meaning of the Regulated Activities Order) on behalf of other counterparties;

(j) carries on any of the other activities specified in article 36H(3) of the Regulated Activities Order on behalf of other counterparties in the course of, or in connection with, facilitation mentioned in (i) by the appointed representative or its principal;

(k) takes steps (within article 39D (Debt adjusting) of the Regulated Activities Order) on behalf of other counterparties;

(l) gives advice to a borrower (within article 39E (Debt-counselling) of the Regulated Activities Order) on behalf of other counterparties;

(m) takes steps (within article 39F (Debt-collecting) of the Regulated Activities Order) to procure the payment of debts on behalf of other counterparties;

(n) performs duties (within article 39G (Debt administration) of the Regulated Activities Order) under, or exercises or enforces rights under, an agreement on behalf of other counterparties;

(o) enters into regulated credit agreements or exercises or has the right to exercise the lender’s rights and duties under such agreements (within article 60B (Regulated credit agreements) of the Regulated Activities Order) on behalf of other counterparties;
(p) enters into regulated consumer hire agreements or exercises, or has the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under such agreements (within article 60N (Regulated consumer hire agreements) of the Regulated Activities Order) on behalf of other counterparties;

(q) takes steps on behalf of, or gives advice to, an individual in relation to the taking of any steps (in circumstances constituting the carrying on of providing credit information services) on behalf of other counterparties.

12.6 Continuing obligations of firms with appointed representatives or EEA tied agents

12.6.6 R A firm must take reasonable steps to ensure that each of its appointed representatives:

(1) does not carry on regulated activities in breach of the general prohibition in section 19 of the Act or (if the appointed representative is a firm with a limited permission) in breach of section 20(1) or (1A) of the Act; and

(2) carries on the regulated activities for which the firm has accepted responsibility in a way which is, and is held out as being, clearly distinct from any of the appointed representative's other business:

(a) which is performed as an appointed representative of another firm or in accordance with a limited permission; or

...
do not extend to home finance mediation activity or insurance mediation activity or credit-related regulated activity; and

(ba) if an appointed representative also has a limited permission:

(i) the apportionment and oversight function applies to it in relation to the carrying on of the regulated activity for which it has limited permission, unless it is a not-for-profit debt advice body;

(ii) if it is a not-for-profit debt advice body and a CASS large debt management firm, the CASS operational oversight function applies in relation to the carrying on of debt management activity; and

(c) …

(2) The approved persons regime applies differently to an appointed representative whose scope of appointment includes insurance mediation activity in relation to non-investment insurance contracts or credit-related regulated activity but no other regulated activity and whose principal purpose is to carry on activities other than regulated activities. These appointed representatives need only one person performing one of the governing functions. This means that only one director (or equivalent) of these appointed representatives must be approved under section 59 of the Act for the performance of the director function, the chief executive function, the partner function or the director of unincorporated association function, whichever is the most appropriate (see SUP 10A.1.16R).

TOTAL 100%
NOTES FOR COMPLETION OF THE MORTGAGE LENDING ADMINISTRATION RETURN (‘MLAR’)

INTRODUCTION: GENERAL NOTES ON THE RETURN

4. Regulated mortgage contracts and the wider mortgage market

(ii) Residential loans to individuals

Examples of non-regulated mortgage contracts which fall under the wider category of residential loans to individuals include: buy-to-let loans and other types of loan where the property is not for use by the borrower (or qualifying dependants); and residential loans to individuals where the lender does not have a first charge. In the case where a lender takes a first and a second charge over the same residential property (for different purposes), we consider that generally the loan secured by the first charge will be a regulated mortgage contract, but that the loan secured by the second charge will invariably not and should be reported as non-regulated.

Pending the UK implementation of the Mortgage Credit Directive, even though loans secured by a second or subsequent charge on residential property may potentially be regulated credit agreements, firms completing the MLAR in the period after 1 April 2014 should continue to include second charge mortgage business as business falling within non-regulated mortgage contracts.
Products covered by the reporting requirement in SUP 16.11

In the case of mortgage transactions, the reporting requirement only applies to loans for house purchase and remortgages and not to further advances. A reportable mortgage transaction applies where the mortgage transaction has completed (i.e. funds have been transferred and have been applied for the purpose of the mortgage).

In the case of high-cost short-term credit and home credit loan agreements, a reportable transaction has taken place where the loan monies have been advanced to the borrower.

Part 1 – Products

The following tables provide guidance on the products for which sales data is to be reported. These tables are not intended to be a complete list of relevant products; firms should report sales data on all products which would fall within the scope of retail investments, pure protection contracts, regulated mortgage contracts, other home finance transactions, high-cost short-term credit and home credit loan agreements.

Table 5 – SHORT TERM LOANS

NOTES FOR COMPLETION OF THE DATA ITEMS RELATING TO CONSUMER CREDIT ACTIVITIES

Introduction  General notes on the data items
CCR001:  Financial data for credit firms
CCR002:  Volumes
CCR003:  Lenders
CCR004:  Debt management
CCR005:  Client Money and Assets
CCR006:  Debt Collecting
CCR007:  Key data for firms with limited permission
Introduction

1. These notes aim to assist firms in completing and submitting the data items relevant to credit-related regulated activities.

2. The purpose of these data items is to provide a framework for the collection of information by the FCA as a basis for its supervisory and other activities. They also have the purpose set out in paragraph 16.12.2G of the Supervision manual, i.e. to help the FCA to monitor firms’ financial soundness.

3. The data should not give a misleading impression of the firm. A data item is likely to give a misleading impression if a firm omits a material item, includes an immaterial item or presents items in a manner which is misleading.

Defined Terms

4. These notes are not intended to provide any new definitions. Some of the terms we use below will already be included in the Glossary of definitions in the FCA Handbook. Where we use an alternative word or phrase we expect firms to apply an ordinary meaning to those phrases.

Scope

5. Most firms with limited permission are only required to submit data item CCR007 (Key Data). A firm is not required to submit any data items if the only credit-related regulated activity it carries on is providing credit references. The reporting requirements also do not apply to a not-for-profit body unless it is a not-for-profit debt advice body (and most apply only if, at any point in the last 12 months it has held £1 million or more in client money or, as the case may be, projects that it will hold £1 million or more in client money in the next 12 months). An authorised professional firm does not need to submit the data items in SUP 16.12.29CR unless it is a CASS debt management firm.

6. All other firms undertaking credit-related regulated activities are required to complete the data items applicable to the activities they undertake as set out in SUP 16.12.29CR.

7. The credit-related regulated activities are:
   a. Entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender;
   b. Exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement
   c. Credit broking;
   d. Debt adjusting;
   e. Debt counselling;
   f. Debt collecting;
   g. Debt administration
   h. Operating an electronic system in relation to lending;
   i. Regulated consumer hire agreements;
   j. Providing credit information services;
   k. Providing credit references
Currency

8. Unless otherwise stated, you should report in the currency of your annual audited accounts, where this is Sterling, Euro, US dollars, Canadian dollars, Swedish Kroner, Swiss Francs or Yen. Where annual audited accounts are reported in a currency outside those specified above, please translate these values into an equivalent within the list using an appropriate rate of exchange at the reporting date or, where appropriate, at the rates of exchange fixed under the terms of any relevant currency hedging transaction, and that value used in the return.

Unless otherwise stated, figures should be reported in single units.

Data elements

9. These are referred to by row first, then by column, so data element 2B will be the element numbered 2 in column B.
CCR001 – Financial data for consumer credit firms

This data item provides the FCA with a snapshot of the assets, liabilities, income and expenditure of a firm, giving an idea of the on-going financial viability and whether this poses any potential risks to consumers.

CCR002 – Consumer Credit data: volumes

This data item provides the FCA with an overall picture of the size of the consumer credit market and how revenue is generated. On an individual firm level, it allows us to look at the relationship between customer numbers, transaction numbers and revenue.

In this data item, firms should complete each row relating to an activity they have permission to undertake.

Column A: Fee mechanism

In this column, firms should identify the predominant method used for applying fees to customers.

For the purposes of answering this question, an upfront fee is a single fee incurred once at the time of the transaction occurring. There are no further fees associated with the transaction. For example, a one-off broking fee.

An ongoing fee is where the fee is split into multiple payments across the lifetime of the product. For example, a percentage charge taken from monthly payments on a debt management plan.

Where a firm only uses upfront fees or only uses ongoing fees, the firm should select “upfront only” or “ongoing only”. “Mainly upfront” and “mainly ongoing” should be used when more than two-thirds of the relevant revenue from that activity is achieved using that method.

With respect to lending activities, “interest only” should be selected if revenue is generated solely from charging interest on loans. “Mainly interest” should be selected if interest accounts for more than two-thirds of the revenue generated. For example, an agreement for high-cost short-term credit may incur a fixed fee plus interest.

“Combination” should be used when no single revenue source (upfront fees, ongoing fees and interest) accounts for more than two-thirds of the relevant revenue from that activity.

Column B: Revenue

In this column, firms should enter the amount of revenue generated by each activity undertaken.

Column C: Total Customers:

In this column, firms should enter the total number of individual customers that have taken up a credit-related product during the period. This figure should be the number of customers, rather than the number of transactions. For example, if the same customer has taken out three loans, this counts as one towards the “total customers” figure.

A credit repair firm should count the number of individual customers who have engaged their services during the period.
Column D: Total Transactions:

In this column, firms should identify the total number of transactions that were made during the period. This figure should always be equal to or greater than the figure in column C. For example, if the same customer has taken out three loans, this counts as three towards the “total transactions” figure.

In the case of pawnbroking, each separate item held as security should be counted as a single transaction.

A debt management firm or a not-for-profit debt advice body to which this data item applies should record the number of debt management plans that they have entered into during the reporting period.

A credit repair firm does not need to complete this field.

Rows 1 to 8: Lending

The rows under the heading “Lending” relate to the different types of lending that are covered by consumer credit lending. For each type of lending that a firm undertakes, the row relating to that activity should be completed in full.

Firms undertaking logbook lending should report data relating to this activity in the row labelled “Bill of sale loan agreements.”

Row 9: Credit Broking

This row should be completed in full by all firms carrying on the activity of credit broking as defined in article 36A of the Regulated Activities Order.

Row 10: Debt Management Activity

This row should be completed in full by a debt management firm or a not-for-profit debt advice body to which this data item applies.

Row 11: All other credit-related regulated activity

Firms should include in this row data relating to all other credit-related regulated activities (defined in the Handbook Glossary) not covered in rows 1 to 10. The row should be completed in full and include the total of all other credit-related regulated activities that a firm undertakes.
CCR003 – Consumer Credit data: Lenders

The purpose of this data item is to give the FCA an understanding of the number and value of credit-related loans that exist, and the extent of arrears attached to those loans. This data item will also provide information on interest rates being charged on those loans.

In this data item, firms should complete each row relating to lending sub-category that they have permission to undertake.

Firms undertaking logbook lending should report data relating to this activity in the row labelled “Bill of sale loan agreements.”

Column A: Total Value (000s)

In this column, a firm should enter the total value of loans outstanding at the end of the reporting period.

Column B: Total # Loans

In this column, the firm should enter the total number of loans in its loan book at the end of the reporting period. In the case of pawnbroking, each item that has been used as security should be counted as a separate loan.

Column C: Total # Loans in Arrears

In this column, a firm should enter the number of loans that had overdue repayments at the end of the reporting period.

Column D: Total Value of Arrears (000s)

In this column, a firm should enter the total value of arrears that existed in its loan book at the end of the reporting period.

Column E: Total Value of New Advances in Period (000s)

In this column, a firm should enter the total value of loans made during the reporting period. In the case of Debt Purchasing, a firm should report the value of loans purchased during the period.

Column F: Ave. rate of interest (Total loan book)

The firm should calculate the average (mean) APR on all the current loans in its loan book at the period end. APR should be calculated in accordance with CONC App 1.2 in the Consumer Credit sourcebook.

The amount entered will be a percentage with no decimal places.

Worked example:
A firm has the following loans:

- 4 loans of £1000 with 300% APR
- 3 loans of £500 with 400% APR
- 2 loans of £200 with 500% APR
- 1 loan of £100 with 750% APR

Average rate of interest is calculated as follows:

\frac{ (4 \times 300) + (3 \times 400) + (2 \times 500) + (1 \times 750) }{10}

Column G: Highest rate of interest (in period)

Firms should enter the highest APR that has been applied during the reporting period to a single loan. APR should be calculated in accordance with CONC App 1.2 in the Consumer Credit sourcebook.

The amount entered will be a percentage with no decimal places.
CCR004 – Consumer Credit data: Debt Management Firms

This data item is intended to reflect the underlying prudential requirements contained in CONC 10 and allows monitoring against the requirements set out there.

This data item must be completed in sterling (000’s).

CCR005 – Consumer Credit data: Client Money and Assets

<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>What was the highest number of clients for whom client money was held during the reporting period?</td>
<td>A CASS debt management firm should enter the highest number of clients for whom client money was held in respect of debt management activity at a single point in time during the reporting period.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How much client money (if any) did you hold in excess of five days following receipt?</td>
<td>If a CASS large debt management firm, at any point during the reporting period, held client money for an individual client, relating to a single transaction, in excess of five days of receipt of cleared funds, it should report the aggregate balance of this client money (ie, the sum of all the amounts that were held longer than five days). A CASS large debt management firm should report ‘0’ if it did not hold client money in excess of five days at any point during the reporting period. In accordance with CASS 11, a CASS large debt management firm must pay any client money it receives to creditors as soon as reasonably practicable, save in the circumstances set out in in CASS 11. In the FCA’s view the payment to creditors should normally be within five business days of the receipt of cleared funds.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
CCR006 – Consumer Credit data: Debt collection

The purpose of this data item is to give the FCA an understanding of the activities of firms undertaking debt collection, the size of the market and identify potential areas where there is risk of consumer detriment.

1A Have you undertaken any debt collection business during the reporting period?

Firms that have the permission to operate an electronic system in relation to lending (peer-to-peer lending) are required to submit CCR006 because the scope of that permitted activity allows firms to undertake debt collection. If a peer-to-peer lender has not undertaken any debt collection business, they should answer “no” and do not have to complete the remainder of the data item.

Stage of debt placement

The firm should complete each column in which they have debts to collect. All debts at sixth stage or lower should be aggregated and reported in column F.

Debt placement is the placement of an overdue account, passed out for debt collection either through an internal collection strategy (also known as in-house) or outsourced to a specialist third party debt collection agency. Each time the debt is passed to a new agency for collection, the stage of debt placement increases.

| Total value of debts being pursued for collection | 2 | The firm should report the total value of all the debts that are being actively pursued for collection at the end of the reporting period. |
| Total value of debts under collection | 3 | The firm should report the total value of all the debts that it has on its books to collect at the end of the reporting period. |
| Total number of debts being pursued for collection | 4 | The firm should report the number of all the debts that are being actively pursued for collection at the end of the reporting period. |
| Total number of debts under collection | 5 | The firm should report the number of individual debts that it has on its books to collect at the end of the reporting period. |
| Number of debts under collection with missed repayments | 6 | The firm should identify the number of debts under collection on its books that have missed repayments. |
| Total income per placement (000s) | 7 | The firm should indicate the amount of income that has been attributed to debts collected under each stage of placement. |
CCR007 – Key data for credit firms with limited permission

Annex K

Amendments to the Dispute Resolution: Complaints sourcebook (DISP)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text.

INTRO 1 Introduction

This part of the FCA Handbook sets out how complaints are to be dealt with by respondents (firms, payment service providers, electronic money issuers, licensees and VJ participants) and the Financial Ombudsman Service.

It refers to relevant provisions in the Act and in transitional provisions made by the Treasury under the Act. It includes rules made by the FCA and rules made (and standard terms set) by FOS Ltd with the consent or approval of the FCA.

The powers to make rules (or set standard terms) relating to firms, payment service providers, electronic money issuers, licensees and VJ participants derive from various legislative provisions; but the rules (and standard terms) have been co-ordinated to ensure that they are identical, wherever possible.

Chapter 2 sets out the scope of the Financial Ombudsman Service’s jurisdictions:

• the Compulsory Jurisdiction;
• the Consumer Credit Jurisdiction; and
• the Voluntary Jurisdiction.

The scope of the jurisdictions is defined by…

1.1.2 Details of how this chapter applies to each type of respondent are set out below. For this purpose, respondents include:

(1) …; and

(2) persons covered by the Consumer Credit Jurisdiction (licensees); and [deleted]

(3) …
1.1.10 R In relation to a firm’s obligations under this chapter, references to a complaint also include an expression of dissatisfaction which is capable of becoming a relevant new complaint, or a relevant transitional complaint or a relevant new credit-related complaint.

Application to licensees and VJ participants

1.1.14 R This chapter (except the complaints record rule, the complaints reporting rules and the complaints data publication rules) applies to licensees for complaints from eligible complainants. [deleted]

1.1.16 G Although licensees and VJ participants are not required to comply with the complaints record rule, it is in their interest to retain records of complaints so that these can be used to assist the Financial Ombudsman Service should it be necessary.

1.1.17 R In relation to the Consumer Credit Jurisdiction only, FOS Ltd may dispense with, or modify, the application of the rules in this chapter to licensees where it considers it appropriate to do so and is satisfied that:

(1) compliance by the licensee with the rules would be unduly burdensome or would not achieve the purpose for which the rules were made; and

(2) it would not result in undue risk to the persons whose interests the rules were intended to protect. [deleted]

1.1.18 G This power is intended to deal with exceptional circumstances, for example, where it is not possible for a licensee to meet the specified time limits, and any dispensation or modification is likely to be rare. [deleted]

1.10.1 R (1) Twice Unless (2) applies, twice a year a firm must provide the FCA with a complete report concerning complaints received from eligible complainants. The report must be set out in the format in DISP 1 Annex 1R.

(2) If a firm has permission to carry on only credit-related regulated activities and has revenue arising from credit-related regulated activities that is less than or equal to £5,000,000 a year, the firm must provide the FCA with a complete report concerning complaints received from eligible complainants once a year.

(3) The report required by (1) and (2) must be set out in the format in DISP 1 Annex 1R.
Paragraphs (1) and (2) do not apply to a firm with only a limited permission unless that firm is a not-for-profit debt advice body that at any point in the last 12 months has held £1 million or more in client money or as the case may be, projects that it will hold £1 million or more in client money in the next 12 months.

A firm with only a limited permission to whom DISP 1.10.1R(1) and (2) do not apply is required to submit information to the FCA about the number of complaints it has received in relation to credit-related activities under the reporting requirements in SUP 16.12 (see, in particular, data item CCR007 in SUP 16.12.29CR). A firm with limited permission to whom DISP 1.10.1R(1) and (2) do not apply is also subject to the complaints data publication rules in DISP 1.10A.

Not all the firms in the group need to submit the report jointly. Firms should only consider submitting a joint report if it is logical to do so, for example, where the firms have a common central complaints handling team, and the same accounting reference date and are all subject to the same reporting frequencies and submission deadlines.

Part A of DISP 1 Annex 1R requires (for the relevant reporting period) information about:

- the total number of complaints received by the firm;
- the total number of complaints closed by the firm;
- the total number of complaints:
  - upheld by the firm in the reporting period; and
  - outstanding at the beginning of the reporting period; and
- the total amount of redress paid in respect of complaints during the reporting period.

For the purpose of DISP 1.10.2R, DISP 1.10.2-AR and DISP 1.10.2AR, when completing the return, the firm should take into account the following matters.
(2) Under DISP 1.10.2R(3)(a) or DISP 1.10.2-AR, a firm should report …

(3) If a firm reports on the amount of redress paid under DISP 1.10.2R(4), DISP 1.10.2-AR(4) or DISP 1.10.2AR, redress should be interpreted …

(4) If a firm reports on the amount of redress paid under DISP 1.10.2R(4), DISP 1.10.2-AR(4) or DISP 1.10.2AR, redress should not, however, include …

1.10.4 R The Unless DISP 1.10.4AR applies, the relevant reporting periods are:

1.10.4A R If a firm has permission to carry on only credit-related regulated activities and has revenue arising from credit-related regulated activities that is less than or equal to £5,000,000 a year, the relevant reporting period is the year immediately following the firm’s accounting reference date.

Meaning of revenue

1.10.10 G In DISP 1.10, references to revenue in relation to any firm do not include the amount of any repayment of any credit provided by that firm as lender.

Obligation to publish summary of complaints data or total number of complaints

1.10A.1 R (1) Where Unless (1A) applies to the firm, where, in accordance with DISP 1.10.1R, a firm submits a report to the FCA reporting 500 or more complaints, it must publish a summary of the complaints data contained in that report (the complaints data summary).

(1A) (a) This paragraph applies to a firm which:

(i) has permission to carry on only credit-related regulated activities; and

(ii) has revenue arising from credit-related regulated activities that is less than or equal to £5,000,000 a year.

(b) Where a firm to which this paragraph applies submits a report to the FCA in accordance with DISP 1.10.1R reporting 1000 or more complaints, it must publish a summary of the complaints data contained in that report (the complaints data
(2) Where, in accordance with DISP 1.10.1CR, a firm submits a joint report on behalf of itself and other firms within a group and that report reports 500 or more complaints, it must publish a summary of the complaints data contained in the joint report (the complaints data summary), unless it is a firm to which (1A) applies.

(3) Where, in accordance with DISP 1.10.1CR, a firm to which (1A) applies submits a joint report on behalf of itself and other firms within a group and that report reports 1000 or more complaints, it must publish a summary of the complaints data contained in the joint report (the complaints data summary).

(4) Where, in accordance with SUP 16.12.4R and SUP 16.12.29CR, a firm with a limited permission submits data item CCR007 to the FCA reporting 1000 or more complaints, it must publish the total number of complaints received.

1.10A.3 R (1) Where the firm's relevant reporting period (as defined in DISP 1.10.4R or DISP 1.10.4AR as the case may be) ends between 1 January and 30 June, the firm must publish the complaints data summary no later than 31 August of the same year.

(2) Where the firm's relevant reporting period (as defined in DISP 1.10.4R or DISP 1.10.4AR as the case may be) ends between 1 July and 31 December, the firm must publish the complaints data summary no later than 28 February of the following year.

(3) Where the firm is a firm with only a limited permission and its accounting reference date falls between 1 January and 30 June, the firm must publish the total number of complaints received no later than 31 August of the same year.

(4) Where the firm is a firm with only a limited permission and its accounting reference date falls between 1 July and 31 December, the firm must publish the total number of complaints received no later than 28 February of the following year.

1.10A.4 R A firm must immediately confirm to the FCA, in an email submitted to complaintsdatasummary@fca.org.uk, that the complaints data summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) accurately reflects the report submitted to the FCA, that the summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) has been published and where it has been published.
A firm will be taken to have complied with DISP 1.10A.1R(1), (1A), (2), (3) or (4) if within the relevant time limit set out in DISP 1.10A.3R the firm:

1. ensures that another person publishes the complaints data summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) on its behalf; and

2. publishes details of where this summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) is published.

Any firm covered by a joint report, other than the firm that submitted the joint report, must provide details of where the complaints data summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) is published to any person who requests them.

Firms may choose how they publish the complaints data summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate). However, the summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) should be readily available. For this reason, the FCA recommends that firms should publish the summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) on their websites.

(1) The FCA recommends that firms should publish additional information alongside their complaints data summaries or total number of complaints (as appropriate) in order to relate the number of complaints to the scale of the firm's relevant business. Firms are recommended to publish the relevant standard metrics set out in the table at DISP 1 Annex 1AG with the summaries. Where the complaints data summary or total number of complaints (as appropriate) relates to a joint report the metrics should cover all the firms included in the joint report.

In DISP 1.10A, references to revenue in relation to any firm do not include the amount of any repayment of any credit provided by that firm as lender.

NOTES ON THE COMPLETION OF THIS RETURN

Nil returns

If no complaints have been received during the reporting period and no complaints were outstanding at the beginning of the period, the firm may submit a NIL RETURN by clicking on the relevant box.…

Product/service groupings

Complaints Unless otherwise specified, complaints should be allocated to these groupings based on the product or service the complaint relates to.

If a firm has not received any complaints relating to a particular product or service during the reporting period, the relevant box should be left blank.

Product and cause categories

The 'other' categories should only be used in exceptional circumstances when none of the specific product or cause categories are appropriate.

A complaint should be reported against the product/service element complained about; this may be different to the main policy itself. For example, for a term assurance policy with an attaching critical illness option, where the complaint relates to the term assurance element, it should be reported under 'other pure protection' but where the complaint relates to the critical illness element, it should be reported under 'critical illness'.

A complaint should only be reported in Part B if it is not covered by a specific category in Part A.

A lender should report complaints about the way in which it collects debts due under loans where it is the lender in the relevant lending category.

Amendments to the Credit Unions sourcebook (CREDS)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text.

1.1.2 G …

(2) Other permissions are covered elsewhere in the Handbook. So, for example, a credit union seeking a permission to undertake a regulated mortgage activity would need to comply with the requirements in the Mortgages and Home Finance: Conduct of Business sourcebook (MCOB), and a credit union seeking a permission to undertake insurance mediation in relation to non-investment insurance contracts would need to comply with the requirements in the Insurance: Conduct of Business sourcebook (ICOBS).

1.1.2A G A credit union seeking a permission to undertake a credit-related regulated activity would need to comply with the requirements in the Consumer Credit sourcebook (CONC).

2.2.24 G SYSC 9.1.1R requires that a credit union takes reasonable care to make and retain adequate records of all matters governed by the Act or the CCA, secondary legislation under the Act or the CCA, or rules (including accounting records). These records should be capable of being reproduced in the English language and on paper.

9.2 Reporting

9.2.1 R A credit union must provide the FCA, once a year, with a report in the format set out in CREDS 9 Annex 1R (Credit Union complaints return) which contains (for the relevant reporting period) information about:

(2) (for the product/service groupings within section 5) the number of complaints closed by the credit union:
(2A) (for other lending or credit-related activity within section 5A) the number of complaints closed by the credit union;

[Note: a transitional provision applies provisions apply to this rule: see CREDS TP 1.16, CREDS TP 1.17 and CONC 12.1.4R.]

Knowingly or recklessly giving the FCA information which is false or misleading in a material particular may be a criminal offence (section 398 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000) and a breach of regulatory requirements.

In signing this form, the credit union acknowledges that the data supplied may be used by the FCA in a variety of different ways (including making it publicly available) in support of its principal functions and statutory objectives as provided for under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000.

I confirm that I have read the notes and that the information given in this return about complaints received by the credit union named at Section 1.02 is accurate and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Notes on completion of this return

... Leave blanks where no complaints have been received.

All credit unions provide the product “Savings (inc Cash ISA) and other banking” (members’ shares) and “Unregulated loans” (members’ loans not secured on land) and may receive complaints for those products. These rows have been left shaded to help credit unions with completion; all other rows are clear. Some categories of complaint (shown in the column headings) may not apply to those products.

... Section 5 – Complaints closed during reporting period

Credit unions will usually receive complaints relating to the 'Banking and credit cards' product/service grouping only and this row is shaded to help with completion. As above – some credit unions may also provide other products; if so they should also fill in the appropriate row even though it is not shaded.

Section 5A – Credit-related complaints

All credit unions carry on “Other lending” (i.e. lending other than credit cards, overdrafts or loans secured on land) and may receive complaints about those activities. The corresponding row in the form has been left shaded to help credit unions with completion (a complaint should only be reported in section 5A if it is not covered by a specific category in sections 4 and 5). Complaints should be included irrespective of whether the lending is regulated under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and CONC, or is exempt.

Some credit unions may also carry on other credit-related activities (such as debt counselling or debt adjusting), for which they may require further permission. If so, they should enter the number of complaints received in relation to these activities in the box for “All other credit-related activity”.

Section 6 – Declaration & signature

The declaration must be signed by an appropriate individual for the credit union submitting this return.

If you have any questions or need help with this return, please approach your usual supervisory contact at the FSA FCA.

10.19 Where the person is not a firm or an appointed representative, the FCA will generally pass the case to the Office of Fair Trading, with a recommendation that it take the enforcement action. The Office of Fair Trading may then decide whether or not to take enforcement action liaise with the Competition and Markets Authority or (as appropriate) a qualifying body under the Unfair Terms Regulations.

...

19. Non-FSMA powers

...

19.39 The FCA, together with several other UK authorities, has powers under Part 8 of the Enterprise Act to enforce breaches of consumer protection law. Where a breach has been committed, the FCA will liaise with other authorities, particularly the Office of Fair Trading (the OFT), Competition and Markets Authority (the CMA), to determine which authority is best placed to take enforcement action. The FCA would generally expect to be the most appropriate authority to deal with breaches by authorised firms in relation to regulated activities.

...

19.41 The Community legislation falling within the FCA's scope under the Enterprise Act is:

- the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Directive;\(^{14}\)
- the Comparative and Misleading Advertising Directive;\(^{15}\)
- the E-Commerce Directive;\(^{16}\)
- the Distance Marketing Directive;\(^{17}\) and
- the Unfair Commercial Practices Directive;\(^{18}\) and
- the Consumer Credit Directive.\(^{19}\)

\(^{19}\) Directive 2008/48/EC
Before the FCA may apply for an enforcement order, it must consult with:

- the OFT give notice to the CMA of its intention to apply for an enforcement order; and
- consult the person against whom the enforcement order would be made.

The period for notification and consultation is 14 days before an application for an enforcement order can be made, or 7 days in the case of an application for an interim enforcement award. The aim of consultation is to ensure that any action taken is necessary and proportionate, and to ensure that businesses are given a reasonable opportunity to put things right before the courts become involved.

The FCA anticipates that its powers under the Act will be adequate to address the majority of breaches which it would also be able to enforce under the Enterprise Act and that there will therefore be limited cases in which it would seek to use its powers as an Enterprise Act enforcer. Where the FCA does use its powers under the Enterprise Act, it will have regard to the enforcement guidelines which are published on the OFT’s and CMA’s website.19

...

Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004

...

The FCA may apply to the courts for an injunction or interim injunction against a person who appears to it to be responsible for a breach of the Regulations. The FCA must consult with the OFT before exercising this power. The FCA may also accept undertakings from the person who committed the breach that he will comply with the Regulations. The FCA must publish details of any applications it makes for injunctions; the terms of any orders that the court subsequently makes; and the terms of any undertakings given to it or to the court.

...

The Consumer Protection Co-operation Regulation22

19.66 The FCA is a competent authority under the CPC Regulation, which aims to encourage and facilitate co-operation between competent authorities across the EU in consumer protection matters. The FCA is a competent authority for the purposes of specified EU consumer protection laws23 in the context of the regulated activities of authorised firms and of breaches by UK firms concerning “specified contracts” as defined in the Financial Services (Distance Marketing) Regulations 2004 (for which see paragraphs 19.60 to 19.62).

After EG 19 insert the following new chapter. The text is not underlined.

20. Enforcement of the Consumer Credit Act 1974

20.1 The CCA Order gives the FCA the power to enforce the CCA through the application of its investigation and sanctioning powers in the Act by reference to the contravention of CCA Requirements and criminal offences under the CCA. The FCA’s investigation and sanctioning powers include the following:

- power to censure or fine an approved person, or impose a suspension or a restriction on their approval under section 66 of the Act, for being knowingly concerned in a contravention by the relevant authorised person of a CCA Requirement;
- power to require information and documents, under section 165 of the Act, it reasonably requires in connection with the exercise of the functions conferred on it by the CCA Order;
- power to appoint an investigator under section 167 of the Act for reasons related to its functions under the CCA Order;
- power to appoint an investigator under section 168 of the Act where there are circumstances suggesting that an offence under the CCA may have been committed or that a person may have failed to comply with a CCA Requirement;
- power to impose a requirement under section 196 of the Act on an incoming firm by reference to the contravention or likely contravention of a CCA Requirement;
- power to censure (under section 205 of the Act) or fine (under section 206 of the Act) an authorised person, or impose a suspension or restriction on their permission (under section 206A of the Act) for the contravention of a CCA Requirement;
- power to apply to the court for an injunction under section 380 of the Act by reference to the contravention or likely contravention of a CCA Requirement;
- power to apply to the court for a restitution order under section 382 of the Act by reference to the contravention of a CCA Requirement;
- power to impose a restitution requirement under section 384 of the Act by reference to the contravention of a CCA Requirement; and
- power to prosecute under section 401 of the Act an offence committed under the CCA.

20.2 The FCA's approach to taking enforcement action under the CCA Order will mirror its general approach to enforcing the Act, as set out in EG 2. It will seek to exercise its enforcement powers in a manner that is transparent, proportionate, responsive to the issue and consistent with its publicly stated policies. It will also seek to ensure fair treatment when exercising its enforcement powers. Finally, it will aim to change the behaviour of the person who is the subject of its action, to deter future non-compliance by others, to eliminate any financial gain or benefit from non-compliance and, where appropriate, to remedy the harm caused by the non-compliance.

20.3 The FCA has decided to adopt procedures and policies that it currently has in place for the enforcement of the Act in exercising its powers to enforce the CCA. Key features of the FCA's approach are described below.

Information gathering and investigation powers

20.4 The CCA Order applies much of Part 11 of the Act. The effect of this is to apply the same procedures under the Act for appointing investigators and requiring information when investigating contraventions of the CCA Requirements and offences committed under the CCA.

20.5 The FCA will notify the subject of the investigation that it has appointed investigators to carry out an investigation under the CCA Order and the reasons for the appointment, unless notification is likely to result in the investigation being frustrated. The FCA expects to carry out a scoping visit early on in the enforcement process in most cases. The FCA's policy in civil investigations under the CCA Order is to use powers to compel information in the same way as it would in the course of an investigation under the Act.

Decision making under the CCA Order

20.6 The RDC is the FCA’s decision maker for decisions which require the giving of warning or decision notices under the CCA Order, as set out in DEPP 2 Annex 1G. The RDC will make its decisions following the procedure set out in DEPP 3.2 or, where appropriate, DEPP 3.3.

20.7 The CCA Order does not require the FCA to publish procedures about its approach towards the commencement of criminal prosecutions. However, the FCA will normally follow its equivalent decision-making procedures for similar decisions under the Act as set out in EG 12.

20.8 The CCA Order does not require the FCA to publish procedures about its approach towards applications to the court for an injunction or restitution order. However, the FCA will normally follow its equivalent decision-making procedures for similar decisions under the Act as set out in EG 10 and EG 11.

20.9 The CCA Order requires the FCA to give third party rights as set out in section 393 of the Act and to give access to material, as set out in section 394 of the Act, in relation to warning notices and decision notices given under the CCA Order.

20.10 The CCA Order applies the procedural provisions of Part 9 of the Act, as modified by the CCA Order, in respect of matters that can be referred to the Tribunal. Referrals to the Tribunal in respect of decision notices given under sections 67 (pursuant to article 3(3) of the CCA Order) and 208 (pursuant to article 3(7) of the CCA Order of the Act are treated as disciplinary referrals for the purpose of section 133 of the Act.

Public censures, imposition of penalties and the impositions of suspensions or restrictions in relation to contraventions of the Consumer Credit Act 1974

20.11 When determining whether to take action to impose a penalty or to issue a public censure in relation to the contraventions of a CCA Requirement, the FCA’s policy includes having regard to the relevant factors in DEPP 6.2 and DEPP 6.4. When determining the level of financial penalty, the FCA’s policy includes having regard to relevant principles and factors in DEPP 6.5 to DEPP 6.5B, DEPP 6.5D and DEPP 6.7.

20.12 As with cases under the Act, the FCA may settle or mediate appropriate cases involving civil contraventions of CCA Requirements to assist it to exercise its functions. DEPP 5, DEPP 6.7 and EG 5 set out information on the FCA’s settlement process and the settlement discount scheme.

20.13 When determining whether to take action to impose a suspension or restriction in relation to the contraventions of CCA Requirements, the FCA’s policy includes having regard to the relevant factors in DEPP 6A.2 and 6A.4. When determining the length of the period of suspension or restriction, the FCA’s policy includes having regard to relevant principles and factors in DEPP 6A.3.

20.14 The FCA will apply the approach to publicity that is outlined in EG 6.

Prosecution of criminal offences under the Consumer Credit Act 1974

20.15 The FCA’s policy with respect to the prosecution of criminal offences is set out in EG 12 and applies to the prosecution of CCA offences under section 401 of the Act. The FCA will not prosecute a person for an offence under the CCA in respect of an act or omission where the FCA has already disciplined the person under section 66, 205, 206 or 206A of the Act in respect of that act or omission.

1.5.1 G General guidance on the perimeter is also contained in various FCA documents (mainly fact sheets and frequently asked questions) that are available on the FCA website at www.fca.org.uk. These documents, and the URL on which they may be accessed, include:

(1) FCA Guidance Note GN9 (2010) on financial regulation for social housing providers which is available at http://www.fca.org.uk/your-fca/documents/fsa-guidance-9; [deleted]

2.2.1 G Under section 23 of the Act (Contravention of the general prohibition or section 20 (1) or (1A)), a person commits a criminal offence if he carries on activities in breach of the general prohibition in section 19 of the Act (The general prohibition). An authorised person also commits a criminal offence if he carries on a credit-related regulated activity in the UK, or purports to do so, otherwise than in accordance with his permission (unless the person is an appointed representative carrying on the activity in circumstances where, as a result of section 39 (1D) of the Act, sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply). For these purposes, entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender, exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement and debt collecting are credit-related regulated activities, except in so far as the activity relates to an agreement under which the obligation of the borrower to repay is secured on land. Although a person who commits the criminal offence is subject to a maximum of two years imprisonment and an unlimited fine, it is a defence for a person to show that he took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid committing the offence.

2.2.1 A G A regulated credit agreement that is made by an authorised person who does not have permission to do so, in contravention of section 20 of the Act, could be unenforceable against the borrower (see section 26A of the Act).

2.2.3 G Any person who is concerned that his proposed activities may require authorisation will need to consider the following questions (these questions are a summary of the issues to be considered and have been reproduced, in slightly fuller form in the decision tree in PERG 2 Annex 1 G):

(3B) Are my activities related to information about a person’s financial standing (see PERG 2.7.20KG)?

(4) If the answer is ‘Yes’ to (3), (3A) or (3B) or (3a), will my activities be, or include, regulated activities (see PERG 2.7)?

2.3 The business element

2.3.2 G There is power in the Act for the Treasury to change the meaning of the business element by including or excluding certain things. They have exercised this power (see the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Carrying on Regulated Activities by Way of Business) Order 2001 (SI 2001/1177), the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No.2) Order 2003 (SI 2003/1476), the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Carrying on Regulated Activities by Way of Business) (Amendment) Order 2005 (SI 2005/922), and the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Carrying on Regulated Activities by Way of Business) (Amendment) Order 2011 (SI 2011/2304) and the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No 2) Order 2013. The result is that the business element differs depending on the activity in question. This in part reflects certain differences in the nature of the activities:

(3B) If a not-for-profit body is carrying on debt adjusting, debt counselling or providing credit information services (or agreeing to carry on a regulated activity so far as relevant to any of those activities), it is to be regarded as doing so by way of business. It is immaterial whether the not-for-profit body also carries on other activities. This change to the business element does not apply, however, if the not-for-profit body carries on that activity only on an occasional basis.

(4) The business element for all other regulated activities is that the activities are carried on by way of business. This applies to the activities of effecting or carrying out contracts of insurance, certain activities relating to the Lloyd's market, entering as provider into a funeral plan contract, entering into a home finance transaction or administering a home finance transaction, and operating a dormant account fund and credit-related regulated activities carried on by persons other than not-for-profit bodies.

2.3.4 G …

Whether someone is carrying on his or her own business

2.3.5 G Another aspect of the general prohibition is that an employee will not breach the general prohibition by carrying on a regulated activity on behalf of his employer. The reason for that is that it is the employer who is carrying on that activity. The employee is simply carrying on the employer’s business.

2.3.6 G This principle potentially also applies to agents and others who assist another to carry on that other’s business. That does not mean however that agents and other such persons can never carry on a regulated activity. Apart from anything else it is clear that some regulated activities are meant to be carried on by such persons, such as dealing in investments as agent.

2.3.7 G In the FCA’s view the following factors are relevant in deciding whether a person (referred to in this paragraph as “an individual”) is to be treated as carrying on his own business (in which case he may require authorisation unless an exemption or exclusion is available) or whether he is carrying on the business of the person for whom he works (in which case he will not require authorisation). In this paragraph, the person for whom the individual works is referred to as the principal firm.
(1) The degree of control the principal firm has over the individual (the greater the control the more likely it is that the general prohibition does not apply). This takes into account the power of deciding the tasks to be carried out, the way in which the tasks are to be done, the means to be employed in doing them and the time when and the place where they are to be done. For example, at one end of the spectrum the individual may merely agree to achieve an end result without that end result being specified in detail. At the other end of the spectrum, the individual may be controlled in every detail of how things are to be done.

(2) The degree to which the individual is integrated into the principal firm’s business (the greater the integration the more likely it is that the general prohibition does not apply). One may look at how much the individual is subject to the managerial procedures of the principal firm in relation to such matters as quality of work and performance.

(3) The degree to which the individual takes on the financial risks and rewards of an independent business (the more the individual takes on such risks the more likely it is that the general prohibition does not apply). For example, one might take into account whether the individual provides his own equipment; whether he hires his own helpers; what degree of financial risk he takes; what degree of responsibility for investment and management he has; whether and how far he has an opportunity of profiting from sound management in the performance of his task.

(4) For example, if the individual is tasked with finding customers it may be relevant whether he is paid a commission for each customer gained. However, commission is not a particularly strong factor as many conventional employees are paid by commission.

(5) The degree to which the individual deals with the principal firm’s customers in his own name (if the individual deals with customers in his own name that points towards the general prohibition applying). For example, it may be relevant whether the individual receives monies from the principal firm’s customers into a bank account in the individual’s name.

(6) The degree to which the services supplied by the individual to the principal firm are ones that the individual supplies to other clients as well. If the individual supplies services to more than one client (principal firm), it is very likely that the individual is in the business of providing those services generally and that, as a result, he is carrying on his own business and hence needs authorisation or an exemption from the general prohibition.

(7) Whether the individual is a natural person. It is unlikely that a company or a partnership will fall outside the general prohibition on the grounds in PERG 2.3.6G.
2.3.8  G  In practice, a person is only likely to fall outside the general prohibition on the grounds that he is not carrying on his own business if he is an employee or performing a role very similar to an employee.

2.3.9  G  Even though working for more than one firm is likely to mean that the person will not be able to rely on the grounds in PERG 2.3.6G to escape the general prohibition (see PERG 2.3.7G(6)), that will not always be the case. In particular, say that a person is acting as an employee of one firm (Firm A) and as a self-employed agent of another firm (Firm B). In his capacity as an employee of Firm A, the person would not be carrying on his own business. Thus, the general prohibition does not apply in relation to his work for Firm A. If the only firm for which that person acts on a self-employed basis is Firm B, he could still fall outside the general prohibition in relation to Firm B too. The situation would be different if he was providing services to, or on behalf of, more than one client firm on a self-employed basis as under such circumstances he would be likely to be carrying on his own business.

2.3.10 G  One example in the consumer credit industry of how the factors in PERG 2.3.7G might apply can be found in the home collected credit sector. Home collected credit firms supply small, short-term, unsecured loans direct to customers in their homes. It is common practice in this sector for some of the larger firms, in particular, to deal with their customers via self-employed agents. Self-employed agents are not paid a salary by an employer. These agents call on customers in their homes to provide loans and/or collect repayments due on loans, on behalf of the home collected credit providers they represent, and they receive commission on the repayments they collect. Agents of home collected credit firms may:

- introduce new clients to the credit provider;
- arrange for the completion of the relevant credit agreements by new clients; and
- collect repayments.

2.3.11 G  Although the overall relationship between a home collected credit provider (the principal firm) and a person providing the services described in PERG 2.3.10G (the individual) will need to be taken into account, meeting the following criteria is likely to mean that the individual is carrying on the business of the principal firm (as its agent) and not his own, meaning that the individual does not require authorisation or to be exempt:

(1) the principal firm appoints the individual as an agent;
(2) the individual only works for one principal firm;
(3) the principal firm has a permission from the FCA for every activity the individual is carrying on for which the principal firm would need permission if it was carrying on the activity itself;
the contract sets out effective measures for the principal firm to control the individual;

(in the case of collecting debts) receipt of repayment by the individual is treated as receipt by the principal firm so that the debtor is not disadvantaged if the individual becomes insolvent before the money is passed to the principal firm;

the principal firm accepts full responsibility for the conduct of the individual when the individual is acting on the principal firm’s behalf in the course of its business; and the individual makes clear to customers that it is representing a principal firm as its agent and the name of that principal firm.

Whether a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement is subject to the law of a country outside the United Kingdom is immaterial to whether an activity is credit broking, see PERG 2.7.7EG.

The activities of providing credit information services and providing credit references are not required to relate to a specified investment to be regulated activities, but rather relate to information about a person’s financial standing.

Rights under a credit agreement and an article 36H agreement

In accordance with article 60B (3) of the Regulated Activities Order, a credit agreement is an agreement between an individual (“A”) and any other person (“B”) under which B provides A with credit of any amount. In accordance with article 36H (10) of the Regulated Activities Order, rights under an article 36H agreement are also specified investments. The definition of an article 36H agreement is set out in PERG 2.7.7HG.

Rights under a consumer hire agreement

2.6.31 G In accordance with article 60N(3) of the Regulated Activities Order, a consumer hire agreement is an agreement between a person (“the owner”) and an individual (“the hirer”) for the bailment or, in Scotland, the hiring, of goods to the hirer which:

(1) is not a hire-purchase agreement; and

(2) is capable of subsisting for more than three months.

...

2.7.7D G ...

Credit broking

2.7.7E G There are six activities that fall within credit broking. These are:

(1) effecting an introduction of an individual who wishes to enter into a credit agreement to another person, with a view to that person entering as lender into a credit agreement by way of business;

(2) effecting an introduction of an individual who wishes to enter into a consumer hire agreement to another person, with a view to that person entering as owner into a consumer hire agreement by way of business (except where the exemption relating to the supply of essential services would apply to the consumer hire agreement, see PERG 2.7.19OG);

(3) effecting an introduction of an individual who wishes to enter into a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement to a person who carries on an activity in (1) or (2) by way of business;

(4) presenting or offering an agreement which would (if entered into) be a credit agreement;

(5) assisting an individual by undertaking preparatory work with a view to that person entering into a credit agreement;

(6) entering into a credit agreement on behalf of a lender.

2.7.7F G An activity is not credit broking within PERG 2.7.7EG(1), (4), (5) or (6) if the exemption relating to the number of repayments to be made would apply to the credit agreement, see PERG 2.7.19GG.
An activity is also not credit broking within PERG 2.7.7EG(1) to (6) in so far as the activity is operating an electronic system in relation to lending, see PERG 2.7.7HG.

Operating an electronic system in relation to lending

This activity is aimed at what are sometimes referred to as peer-to-peer lending platforms. A person (“A”) will be operating an electronic system in relation to lending if he operates an electronic system which enables him to facilitate persons (“B” and “C”) becoming the lender and borrower under an article 36H agreement.

To be caught, all of the following conditions must be met:

(a) the electronic system operated by A must be capable of determining which agreements should be made available to each of B and C (whether in accordance with general instructions provided to A by B or C or otherwise);

(b) A, or another person (“X”) acting under an arrangement with A or at A’s direction, undertakes to:
   (i) receive payments in respect of interest and capital due under the article 36H agreement from C; and
   (ii) make payments in respect of interest and capital due under the article 36H agreement to B; and

(c) A, or another person (“X”) acting under an arrangement with A or at A’s direction, undertakes to perform, or A undertakes to appoint or direct another person to perform either or both of the following activities:
   (i) taking steps to procure the payment of a debt under the article 36H agreement;
   (ii) exercising or enforcing rights under the article 36H agreement on behalf of B.

For the purposes of (2)(b):

(a) an agreement by A to appoint X to perform the activities is to be treated as an undertaking by A; and

(b) it is immaterial that:
   (i) payments may be subject to conditions;
   (ii) A, or X, may be entitled to retain a portion or the entirety of any payment received from C.

(4) An article 36H agreement is an agreement by which one person provides another person with credit and either:

(a) the lender is an individual; or

(b) the borrower is an individual; and

(i) the amount of credit provided is less than or equal to £25,000; or

(ii) the agreement is not entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the borrower. If the agreement includes a declaration by the borrower that it is entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for business purposes, this may create a presumption that this is the case (see PERG 2.7.19DG).

(5) An agreement may be an article 36H agreement and not a credit agreement, for example if it is an agreement by which an individual provides credit to a company. An agreement may, equally, be both an article 36H agreement for the purposes of operating an electronic system in relation to lending and a credit agreement for the purposes of other credit-related regulated activities if it is within the relevant definitions.

(6) It is immaterial whether the lender is carrying on a regulated activity.

(7) The following activities are also caught by operating an electronic system in relation to lending if carried on by the operator in the course of, or in connection with, the activity in (1):

(a) presenting or offering article 36H agreements to B and C with a view to B becoming the lender under the article 36H agreement and C becoming the borrower under the article 36H agreement;

(b) furnishing information relevant to the financial standing of a person to assist a potential lender to determine whether to provide credit to that person under an article 36H agreement;

(c) taking steps to procure the payment of a debt due under an article 36H agreement;

(d) performing duties, or exercising or enforcing rights under an article 36H agreement on behalf of the lender;

(e) ascertaining whether a credit information agency holds information relevant to the financial standing of an individual;

(f) ascertaining the contents of such information;

(g) securing the correction of, the omission of anything from, or the making of any other kind of modification of, such information; or

(h) securing that a credit information agency which holds such information stops holding the information, or does not provide it to any other person.

... Debt adjusting

2.7.8B G This activity comprises:

(1) negotiating with the lender or owner, on behalf of the borrower or hirer, terms for the discharge of a debt;

(2) taking over, in return for payments by the borrower or hirer, that person’s obligation to discharge a debt; or

(3) any similar activity concerned with the liquidation of a debt; when carried on in relation to debts due under a credit agreement or consumer hire agreement.

Debt-counselling

2.7.8C G Giving advice to a borrower about the liquidation of a debt due under a credit agreement is a regulated activity. Giving advice to a hirer about the liquidation of a debt due under a consumer hire agreement is a regulated activity. See PERG 17 for further guidance on debt-counselling.

Debt-collecting

2.7.8D G (1) Taking steps to procure the payment of a debt due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement is a regulated activity.

(2) Taking steps to procure the payment of a debt due under an article 36H agreement (see PERG 2.7.7HG(3)) which has been entered into with the facilitation of an operator of an electronic system in relation to lending is also a regulated activity.

(3) The activity is not a regulated activity in so far as the activity is operating an electronic system in relation to lending (article 36H of the Regulated Activities Order) see PERG 2.7.7HG.

Debt administration
2.7.8E G (1) Taking steps to perform duties or to exercise or to enforce rights under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement on behalf of the lender or owner is a regulated activity.

(2) Taking steps to perform duties or to exercise or to enforce rights under an article 36H agreement (see PERG 2.7.7HG(3)) which has been entered into with the facilitation of an operator of an electronic system in relation to lending is also a regulated activity.

(3) In so far as the activity is operating an electronic system in relation to lending (article 36H of the Regulated Activities Order, see PERG 2.7.7HG) or debt-coll ecting (article 39F of the Regulated Activities Order) it is not also debt administration.

Regulated credit agreements

2.7.19A G (1) Entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender is a regulated activity.

(2) It is also a regulated activity for the lender or another person to exercise, or to have the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement.

Exempt agreements

2.7.19B G A credit agreement is not a regulated credit agreement for the purposes of PERG 2.7.19AG if it is an exempt agreement. PERG 2.7.19CG to PERG 2.7.19JG describe the categories of exempt agreement.

Exemptions relating to the nature of the agreement

2.7.19C G A credit agreement is an exempt agreement in the following cases:

(1) if it is a regulated mortgage contract or a home purchase plan;

(2) if:
   (a) the lender provides the borrower with credit exceeding £25,000; and

   (b) the agreement is entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the borrower;

(3) if:
   (a) the lender provides the borrower with credit of £25,000 or less; and
(b) the agreement is entered into by the borrower wholly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the borrower; and

(c) the agreement is a green deal plan;

(4) if it is made in connection with trade in goods or services:

(a) between the United Kingdom and a country outside the United Kingdom; or

(b) within a country outside the United Kingdom; or,

(c) between countries outside the United Kingdom; and the credit is provided to the borrower in the course of a business carried on by the borrower.

2.7.19D G If a credit agreement includes a declaration which:

(1) is made by the borrower;

(2) provides that the agreement is entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the borrower; and

(3) complies with the rules in CONC App 1.4;

the credit agreement is to be presumed to have been entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for business purposes. This presumption does not apply, however, if the lender or any person who has acted on behalf of the lender knows or has reasonable cause to suspect that the agreement is not entered into by the borrower wholly or predominantly for business purposes. This also applies to the exemption in PERG 2.7.19CG(3), as if the word “predominantly” were omitted.

Exemption relating to the purchase of land for non-residential purposes

2.7.19E G A credit agreement is an exempt agreement if, at the time it is entered into:

(1) any sums due under it are secured by a legal or equitable mortgage on land; and

(2) less than 40% of the land is used, or is intended to be used, as or in connection with a dwelling:

(a) by the borrower or a related person of the borrower; or

(b) in the case of credit provided to trustees, by an individual who is a beneficiary of the trust or a related person of a beneficiary.

(3) For these purposes, a person is related to a borrower or a beneficiary of a trust if they are a spouse or civil partner, or a parent, brother, sister, child, grandparent or grandchild of the borrower or beneficiary or if their relationship with the borrower or beneficiary has the characteristics of the relationship between husband and wife.

(4) This exemption is intended to mirror the definition of regulated mortgage contract so that buy-to-let loans (that are not secured by a legal mortgage on the borrower’s or a related person’s residence) are not regulated either as regulated mortgage contracts or as regulated credit agreements.

Exemptions relating to the nature of the lender

2.7.19F G A credit agreement is an exempt agreement in the following cases:

(1) if the credit agreement is a relevant credit agreement relating to the purchase of land and the lender is a local authority;

(2) if the credit agreement is a relevant credit agreement relating to the purchase of land specified in CONC App 1.3 and the lender is a person or within a class of persons specified in CONC App 1.3;

(3) if the credit agreement is secured by a legal or equitable mortgage on land, that land is used or is intended to be used as, or in connection with, a dwelling and the lender is a housing authority; or

(4) If the lender is an investment firm or a credit institution, and the agreement is entered into for the purpose of allowing the borrower to carry out a transaction relating to one or more financial instruments.

Exemptions relating to number of repayments to be made

2.7.19G G A credit agreement is also an exempt agreement in the following cases:

(1) if (subject to PERG 2.7.19HG):

(a) the agreement is a borrower-lender-supplier agreement for fixed-sum credit;

(b) the number of payments to be made by the borrower is not more than four;

(c) those payments are required to be made within a period of 12 months or less (beginning on the date of the agreement); and

(d) the credit is:

(i) secured on land; or

(ii) provided without interest or other charges;

(2) if (subject to PERG 2.7.19HG):
(a) the agreement is a borrower-lender-supplier agreement for running-account credit;

(b) the borrower is to make payments in relation to specified periods which must be, unless the agreement is secured on land, of three months or less;

(c) the number of payments to be made by the borrower in repayment of the whole amount of credit provided in each period is not more than one; and

(d) the credit is:

   (i) secured on land; or

   (ii) provided without interest or other significant charges;

(3) if:

   (a) the agreement is a borrower-lender-supplier agreement financing the purchase of land;

   (b) the number of payments to be made by the borrower is not more than four; and

   (c) the credit is:

       (i) secured on land; or

       (ii) provided without interest or other charges;

(4) if:

   (a) the agreement is a borrower-lender-supplier agreement for fixed-sum credit;

   (b) the credit is to finance a premium under a contract of insurance relating to land or anything on land (for example, house or contents insurance);

   (c) the lender is the lender under a credit agreement secured by a legal or equitable mortgage on that land;

   (d) the credit is to be repaid within the period (which must be 12 months or less) to which the premium relates;

   (e) in the case of an agreement secured on land, there is no charge forming part of the total charge for credit under the agreement (see CONC App 1) other than interest at a rate not exceeding the rate of interest payable under the mortgage loan in (c);

   (f) in the case of an agreement which is not secured on land, the credit is provided without interest or other charges; and

(g) the number of payments to be made by the borrower is not more than 12;

(5) if:

(a) the agreement is a borrower-lender-supplier agreement for fixed-sum credit;

(b) the lender is the lender under a credit agreement secured by a legal or equitable mortgage on land;

(c) the agreement is to finance a premium under a life insurance policy that meets certain conditions;

(d) in the case of an agreement secured on land, there is no charge forming part of the total charge for credit under the agreement (see CONC App 1) other than interest at a rate not exceeding the rate of interest payable under the mortgage loan in (b);

(e) in the case of an agreement which is not secured on land, the credit is provided without interest or other charges; and

(f) the number of payments to be made by the borrower is not more than 12.

2.7.19H G The exemptions in PERG 2.7.19GG (1) and (2) do not apply to:

(1) credit agreements financing the purchase of land;

(2) conditional sale agreements or hire-purchase agreements; or

(3) credit agreements secured by a pledge (other than a pledge of documents of title or of bearer bonds).

Exemptions relating to the total charge for credit

2.7.19I G A credit agreement is also an exempt agreement in the following cases:

(1) if it is a borrower-lender agreement, the lender is a credit union and the rate of the total charge for credit (see CONC App 1) does not exceed 42.6 per cent;

(2) if (subject to (5) and (6)):

(a) it is a borrower-lender agreement;

(b) it is offered to a particular class of individual and not offered to the public generally;

(c) it provides that the only charge included in the total charge for credit (see CONC App 1) is interest; and

(d) interest under the agreement may not, at any time, be more than the sum of one per cent and the highest of the base rates published by the banks in (4) on the date 28 days before the date on which the interest is charged;

(3) if (subject to (5) and (6)):

(a) it is a borrower-lender agreement;

(b) it is an agreement of a kind offered to a particular class of individual and not offered to the public generally;

(c) it does not provide for or permit an increase in the rate or amount of any item which is included in the total charge for credit (see CONC App 1); and

(d) the total charge for credit under the agreement is not more than the sum of one per cent and the highest of the base rates published by the banks in (4) on the date 28 days before the date on which the charge is imposed;

(4) the banks (referred to in (3)(d)) are:

(a) the Bank of England;

(b) Bank of Scotland;

(c) Barclays Bank plc;

(d) Clydesdale Bank plc;

(e) Co-operative Bank Public Limited Company;

(f) Coutts & Co;

(g) National Westminster Bank Public Limited Company;

(h) the Royal Bank of Scotland plc;

(5) the exemptions in (2) and (3) do not apply, however, if the total amount to be repaid by the borrower may vary according to a formula which is specified in the agreement and which has effect by reference to movements in the level of any index or other factor;

(6) unless the agreement:

(a) is secured on land; or

(b) is offered by a lender who is an employer to a borrower as an incident of employment with the lender; the exemptions in (2) and (3) apply only if:

(c) the agreement is offered under an enactment with a general interest purpose; and

(d) the terms on which the credit is provided are more favourable to the borrower than those prevailing on the market, either because the rate of interest is lower than that prevailing on the market or because the rate of interest is no higher than that prevailing on the market, but the other terms on which credit is provided are more favourable to the borrower.

High net worth exemption

2.7.19J G A credit agreement is an exempt agreement if:

(1) the borrower is an individual;

(2) the agreement is either secured on land or for credit which exceeds £60,260;

(3) the agreement includes a declaration, made by the borrower which provides that the borrower agrees to forgo the protection and remedies that would be available to the borrower if the agreement were a regulated credit agreement, which complies with CONC App 1.4;

(4) a statement has been made in relation to the income or assets of the borrower which complies with CONC App 1.4; and

(5) the connection between that statement and the credit agreement complies with CONC App 1.4; and

(6) a copy of that statement was provided to the lender before the agreement was entered into.

Regulated consumer hire agreements

2.7.19K G (1) Entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner is a regulated activity.

(2) It is also a regulated activity for the owner or another person to exercise, or to have the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement.

Exempt agreements

2.7.19L G A consumer hire agreement is not a regulated consumer hire agreement for the purposes of PERG 2.7.19KG if it is an exempt agreement. PERG 2.7.19MG to PERG 2.7.19PG describe the categories of exempt agreement.

Exemptions relating to nature of agreement

2.7.19M G A consumer hire agreement is an exempt agreement if the hirer is required by the agreement to make payments exceeding £25,000, and the agreement is entered into by the hirer wholly or predominantly for the purposes of a business carried on, or intended to be carried on, by the hirer.

2.7.19N G As in the case of a credit agreement (see PERG 2.7.19DG), if a consumer hire agreement includes a declaration which:

(1) is made by the hirer;

(2) provides that the agreement is entered into by the hirer wholly or predominantly for business purposes; and

(3) complies with CONC App 1.4;

the consumer hire agreement is to be presumed to have been entered into by the hirer for business purposes. This presumption does not apply, however, if the owner or any person who has acted on behalf of the owner knows, or has reasonable cause to suspect, that the agreement is not entered into by the hirer for business purposes.

Exemption relating to supply of essential services

2.7.19O G A consumer hire agreement is an exempt agreement if the owner is a body corporate which supplies gas, electricity or water under an enactment and the subject of the agreement is a meter or metering equipment which is used in connection with that purpose.

High net worth exemption

2.7.19P G This exemption is substantially the same as the one for credit agreements in PERG 2.7.19JG.

Providing credit information services

2.7.20K G (1) Taking any of the steps in (2) on behalf of an individual is a regulated activity.

(2) This activity catches steps taken with a view to:

(a) ascertaining whether a credit information agency holds information relevant to the financial standing of an individual;

(b) ascertaining the contents of such information;

(c) securing the correction of, the omission of anything from, or the making of, any other kind of modification of, such information; or

(d) securing that a credit information agency which holds such information stops holding the information or does not provide it to any other person.
Giving advice to an individual in relation to the taking of any of the steps in PERG 2.7.20KG(1)(a) to (d) is also a regulated activity.

A credit information agency that takes any of the steps in PERG 2.7.20KG(1)(a) to (d) in relation to information held by that agency does not provide credit information services.

In so far as taking any of the steps in PERG 2.7.20KG(1)(a) to (d) is the activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending, then it is not also providing credit information services.

Providing credit references

Furnishing of persons with information relevant to the financial standing of individuals is a regulated activity if the person has collected the information for that purpose.

A person requires authorisation for this activity only if its business primarily consists of the activities in (1).

This activity does not include an activity in so far as it is operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

Two Three exclusions apply to the regulated activity of accepting deposits. The first is that a deposit taker providing its services as an electronic commerce activity from another EEA State into the United Kingdom (see PERG 2.9.18G) does not carry on a regulated activity. The second relates to a firm with a Part 4A permission to manage an AIF or manage a UCITS (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs)). There is also excluded from accepting deposits any activity which is carried on by a local authority (see PERG 2.9.23G). In addition to the situations that are excluded from being 'deposits' (see PERG 2.6.2G to PERG 2.6.4G), several persons are exempt persons in relation to the regulated activity of accepting deposits (see PERG 2.10.8G(2)).

The regulated activity of dealing in investments as principal applies to specified transactions relating to any security or to any contractually based investment (apart from rights under funeral plan contracts or rights to or interests in such contracts). The activity is cut back by exclusions as follows:

A person will not be treated as carrying on the activity of dealing in investments as principal if, in specified circumstances (outlined in PERG 2.9), he enters as principal into a transaction:

...

(h) where it is in connection with or for the purposes of managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs));

(i) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

2.8.5 G The regulated activity of dealing in investments as agent applies to specified transactions relating to any security or to any relevant investment (apart from rights under funeral plan contracts or rights to or interests in such rights). In addition, the activity is cut back by exclusions as follows:

...

(3) In addition, exclusions apply in specified circumstances (outlined in PERG 2.9 (Regulated activities: exclusions available in certain circumstances)) where a person enters as agent into a transaction:

...

(k) where it is in connection with or for the purposes of managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs));

(l) as a local authority in relation to certain contracts of insurance (see PERG 2.9.23G);

(m) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

2.8.6A G The exclusions in the Regulated Activities Order that relate to the various arranging activities are as follows:

...

(13) The following exclusions from both article 25(1) and (2) (outlined in PERG 2.9) apply in specified circumstances where a person makes arrangements:

(m) in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs));

(n) as a local authority in relation to certain contracts of insurance (see PERG 2.9.23G);

(o) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

The exclusions referred to in (a), (b), (g), (h), and (m) and (n) also apply to arranging activities related to home finance transactions (in that context, the exclusion in (n) covers any activity which is carried on by a local authority). More detailed guidance on the exclusions that relate to contracts of insurance is in PERG 5 (Insurance mediation activities).

Credit broking

2.8.6C G The following activities are excluded from the regulated activity of credit broking:

Introducing by individuals in the course of canvassing off trade premises

(1) Activities carried on by an individual by canvassing off trade premises:

(a) a restricted-use credit agreement to finance a transaction between the lender or a member of the lender’s group and the borrower; or

(b) a regulated consumer hire agreement; are excluded from credit broking, as long as the individual does not carry on any other activity in PERG 2.7.7EG(1) to (3).

Activities for which no fee is paid

(2) The activities in PERG 2.7.7EG(4) to (6) carried on by a person for which that person does not receive a fee are excluded from credit broking.

Transaction to which the broker is a party

(3) Activities carried on by a person in relation to a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement into which that person enters or is to enter as lender or owner are excluded from credit broking.
Activities in relation to certain agreements relating to land

(4) Activities carried on with a view to an individual entering into a regulated mortgage contract are excluded from credit broking if the person carrying on the activity is an authorised person who has permission to:

(a) enter into a regulated mortgage contract as lender (see PERG 4.7); or

(b) make an introduction to an authorised person who has permission to enter into a regulated mortgage contract as lender (see PERG 4.5 on arranging regulated mortgage contracts).

(5) Activities carried on with a view to an individual entering into a home purchase plan are excluded from credit broking if the person carrying on the activity is an authorised person who has permission to:

(a) enter into a home purchase plan as home purchase provider (see PERG 14.4); or

(b) make arrangements for a client to enter into a home purchase plan as home purchaser by introducing the client to an authorised person who has permission to enter into a home purchase plan as home purchase provider (see PERG 14.4).

Activities carried on by members of the legal profession

(6) Activities carried on by:

(a) a barrister or advocate acting in that capacity;

(b) a solicitor acting in the course of contentious business;

(c) a person acting in the course of contentious business who, for the purposes of the Legal Services Act 2007, is authorised to exercise a right of audience or conduct litigation; are excluded from credit broking. For these purposes, business done in, or for the purposes of, proceedings begun before a court or before an arbitrator, not being non-contentious or common form probate business, is contentious business.

Other exclusions

(7) The exclusions for electronic commerce activities by an incoming ECA provider (see PERG 2.9.18G) and activities carried on by local authorities (see PERG 2.9.23G) also apply to credit broking.
Operating an electronic system in relation to lending

2.8.6D  G  (1)  An activity of a kind specified below is excluded from the regulated activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

(a)  dealing in investments as principal;
(b)  arranging (bringing about) deals in investments;
(c)  making arrangements with a view to transactions in investments;
(d)  managing investments;
(e)  advising on investments.

(2)  The exclusion for electronic commerce activities by an incoming ECA provider (see PERG 2.9.18G) also applies to the regulated activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending.

Managing investments

2.8.7  G  The activities of persons appointed under a power of attorney are excluded under article 38 of the Regulated Activities Order, from the regulated activity of managing investments, if specified conditions are satisfied. The exclusion only applies where a person is not carrying on insurance mediation or reinsurance mediation and is subject to further limitations discussed below. In addition, the following exclusions (outlined in PERG 2.9) apply in specified circumstances where a person manages assets:

...

(6)  in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs)); or

(7)  while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

2.8.7B  G  The following exclusions from assisting in the administration and performance of a contract of insurance also apply to a person in specified circumstances:

...

(7)  where it is in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G)
(Managers of UCITS and AIFs)); or

(8) as a local authority in relation to certain contracts of insurance (see PERG 2.9.23G); or

(9) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

Debt adjusting, debt counselling, debt collecting and debt administration

2.8.7CG (1) Activities carried on by:

(a) the lender or owner under the agreement;

(b) the supplier in relation to the credit agreement;

(c) a credit broker who has acquired the business of the person who was the supplier in relation to the credit agreement; or

(d) a person who would be a credit broker but for the exclusion in PERG 2.8.6CG(1) where the agreement was made in consequence of an introduction (by that person or another person) to which that exclusion applies; are excluded from the regulated activities of debt adjusting, debt counselling and debt collecting.

(2) Steps taken under, or in relation to, an agreement by any of the persons in (1) are excluded from being debt administration.

(3) Activities carried on by a relevant energy supplier in relation to debts due under a green deal plan associated with the supplier are excluded from being debt adjusting, debt counselling, debt collecting or debt administration. A green deal plan is associated with a supplier if the payments under the plan are to be made to the supplier.

(4) There is also an exclusion from debt adjusting, debt counselling, debt collecting and debt administration for any activity that relates to a regulated mortgage contract or a home purchase plan to the extent that the activity constitutes a regulated activity (other than only debt adjusting, debt counselling, debt collecting and debt administration), where entering into that contract as lender constitutes entering into a regulated mortgage contract or entering into that home purchase plan as provider constitutes entering into a home purchase plan.

(5) Activities carried on by:

(a) a barrister or advocate acting in that capacity;

(b) a solicitor acting in the course of contentious business;

(c) a person acting in the course of contentious business who, for the purposes of the Legal Services Act 2007, is authorised to

(6) The exclusions relating to electronic commerce activities by an incoming ECA provider (see PERG 2.9.18G) and for activities carried on by a local authority (see PERG 2.9.23G) or an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G) also apply to these regulated activities.

Safeguarding and administering investments

2.8.8 G The exclusions from the regulated activity of safeguarding and administering investments are as follows:

(4) The following exclusions apply in specified circumstances where a person safeguards and administers assets (or arranges for another to do so):

(h) belonging to the participants in a business angel-led enterprise capital fund, but only where such safeguarding and administration is carried on by a body corporate as specified in article 72E(7) of the Regulated Activities Order; and

(j) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

Sending dematerialised instructions

2.8.9 G Exclusions from the regulated activity of sending dematerialised instructions apply in relation to certain types of instructions sent in the operation of the system maintained under the Uncertificated Securities Regulations 2001 (SI 2001/3755). The various exclusions relate to the roles played by participating issuers, settlement banks and network providers (such as Internet service providers) and to instructions sent in connection with takeover offers (as long as specified conditions are met). In addition, the following exclusions (outlined in PERG 2.9) apply in specified circumstances where a person sends dematerialised instructions:
(4) where it is in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs));

(5) while acting as an insolvency practitioner (see PERG 2.9.25G).

Managing a UCITS, managing an AIF and establishing etc collective investment schemes

2.8.10 G (1) The exclusion for incoming ECA providers (see PERG 2.9.18G) applies to the range of activities specified as being regulated in relation to AIFs and collective investment schemes (see PERG 2.7.13AG). The exclusion for business angel-led capital funds (see PERG 2.9.20G) applies to the activities of managing an AIF, managing a UCITS and establishing, operating and winding up a collective investment scheme. There is a third exclusion for insolvency practitioners (see PERG 2.9.25G).

Establishing etc pension schemes

2.8.11 G Two Three exclusions apply to the range of activities specified as being regulated in relation to stakeholder pension schemes and personal pension schemes. The first relates to incoming ECA providers (see PERG 2.9.18G). The second relates to firms with a Part 4A permission to manage an AIF or manage a UCITS (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs)). The third relates to insolvency practitioners (see PERG 2.9.25G).

2.8.12A G Advice given by an unauthorised person in relation to a home finance transaction in the circumstances referred to in PERG 2.8.6AG(5)(a) or (b) (Arranging deals in investments and arranging a home finance transaction) is also excluded. In addition:

(1) the following exclusions apply in specified circumstances where a person is advising on investments or advising on a home finance transaction:

(c) as an incoming ECA provider (see PERG 2.9.18G); and

(d) where it is in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs)); and

2.8.14B G The following exclusions apply in specified circumstances where a person is administering a home finance transaction:

(4) in connection with, or for the purposes of, managing a UCITS or managing an AIF and the person has a Part 4A permission to manage a UCITS or manage an AIF (see PERG 2.9.22G (Managers of UCITS and AIFs)); and

(5) if the person is a local authority (see PERG 2.9.23G).

Regulated credit agreements

2.8.14Z G A person who is not an authorised person and exercises, or has the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement does not require authorisation to do so where he:

(1) arranges for another person to do so and the other person is an authorised person with permission to carry on that regulated activity;

(2) does so for up to one month after an arrangement of the kind in (1) comes to an end; or

(3) does so under an agreement with an authorised person who has permission to carry on that regulated activity.

2.8.14Z B Activities carried on by an EEA authorised payment institution or an EEA authorised electronic money institution exercising passport rights in the United Kingdom in accordance with article 16(3) of the Payment Services Directive (in the latter case, as applied by article 6 of the Electronic Money Directive) are excluded from the regulated activities of entering into a

(2) There is also an exclusion from entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender and exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement for any activity carried on by a local authority in so far as the credit agreement is of a kind to which the Consumer Credit Directive does not apply under article 2(2) of that Directive (see PERG 2.9.23G).

Regulated consumer hire agreements

2.8.14Z D G (1) The exclusions for electronic commerce activities provided by an incoming ECA provider and an activity carried on by a local authority (see PERG 2.9.23G) also apply to the regulated activities of entering into a regulated consumer hire agreement as owner and exercising, or to having the right to exercise, the owner’s rights and duties under a regulated consumer hire agreement.

Insolvency practitioners

2.9.25 G This group of exclusions applies, in specified circumstances, to the regulated activities of:

1) dealing in investments as principal;
[224 of 294]
2) dealing in investments as agent;
3) arranging (bringing about) deals in investments;
(4) making arrangements with a view to transactions in investments;
(5) operating a multilateral trading facility;
(6) managing investments;
(7) assisting in the administration and performance of a contract of insurance;
(8) debt adjusting;
(9) debt counselling;
(10) debt collecting;
(11) debt administration;
(12) safeguarding and administering investments;
(13) sending dematerialised instructions;
(14) managing a UCITS;
(15) acting as trustee or depositary of a UCITS;
(16) managing an AIF;
(17) acting as a trustee or depositary of an AIF;
(18) establishing, operating or winding up a collective investment scheme;
(19) establishing, operating or winding up a stakeholder pension scheme;
(20) establishing, operating or winding up a personal pension scheme;
(21) advising on investments;
(22) providing credit information services.

2.9.26 G These exclusions apply to a person acting as an insolvency practitioner. The term “insolvency practitioner” is to be read with section 388 of the Insolvency Act 1986 or, as the case may be, article 3 of the Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989. The exclusions relating to debt adjusting, debt counselling and providing credit information services also apply to any activity carried on by a person acting in reasonable contemplation of that person’s appointment as an insolvency practitioner.

2.9.27 G A person acting as an insolvency practitioner or in reasonable contemplation of that person’s appointment as an insolvency practitioner include anything done by the person’s firm in connection with that person so acting. For these purposes, the reference to “the person’s firm” means the person’s employer, the partnership in which he is a partner or the limited liability partnership of which he is a member, as the case may be.

2.10.3 G The Act provides that appointed representatives (see PERG 2.10.5G), recognised investment exchanges and recognised clearing houses (see PERG 2.10.6G) and certain other persons exempt under miscellaneous provisions (see PERG 2.10.7G) are exempt persons (although in certain circumstances, an appointed representative may not be an exempt person, but may have a limited permission to carry on certain credit-related regulated activities). Members of Lloyds and members of the professions are not 'exempt persons' as such, but the general prohibition in section 19 of the Act only applies to them in certain circumstances. The distinction is significant in relation to various provisions (such as those in the Regulated Activities Order) that apply only to transaction and other activities that involve exempt persons.

2.10.5 G With one exception, a person is exempt if he is an appointed representative of an authorised person. In some circumstances, however, a person may be an appointed representative and not be exempt, if the person has a limited permission for certain credit-related regulated activities. See SUP 12 (Appointed representatives). But where an appointed representative carries on insurance mediation or reinsurance mediation he will not be exempt unless he is included on the register kept by the FCA under article 93 of the Regulated Activities Order (Duty to maintain a record of unauthorised persons carrying on insurance mediation activities) (see PERG 5.13 (Appointed representatives)).

Insert the following new section after PERG 2.10. The text is not underlined.

2.11 Persons who are exempt for credit-related regulated activities

2.11.1 G Various persons are exempted by Order made by the Treasury under section 38 of the Act from the need to obtain authorisation for certain credit-related regulated activities in the circumstances specified in the Order (for example, in some cases, a person is exempt only when acting in a particular capacity or for particular purposes). Persons exempt under the Order cannot be exempt in relation to some regulated activities and authorised in relation to others (except where the person is an authorised person with only interim permission).

Official receivers

2.11.2 G A person acting as:
(1) an official receiver; or

(2) a judicial factor;

is exempt in respect of debt adjusting, debt counselling, debt collecting, debt administration or providing credit information services.

Cycle to work

2.11.3 G This exemption applies to a scheme under which an employer provides or makes available to their employees a cycle or cyclist’s safety equipment up to the value of £1,000 (which is designed to allow employees to take advantage of section 244 of the Income Tax (Earnings and Pensions) Act 2003). An employer does not require authorisation for the regulated activities relating to regulated consumer hire agreements just because it operates such a scheme.

Tracing agents

2.11.4 G A person who takes steps to ascertain the identity or location (or the means of ascertaining the identity or location) of a borrower or hirer is exempt from debt-collecting as long as the person is not the lender or owner under the agreement concerned, takes no other steps to collect debts due under the agreement and carries on no other activity which requires authorisation.

Enterprise schemes

2.11.5 G There are also exemptions from credit broking, debt adjusting, debt-counselling and providing credit information services for an enterprise scheme as long as it does not carry on the activity for, or with the prospect of, direct or indirect pecuniary gain. Sums reasonably regarded as necessary to meet the costs of carrying on the activity do not constitute a pecuniary gain for this purpose.
PERG 2 Annex 1G Authorisation and regulated activities

Amend the following as described below.

The flowchart shown in this annex has been amended by the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (Consequential Amendments) Instrument 2014 (FCA 2013/14). Following the amendments made by that instrument, the following further amendments are made by this instrument to that flowchart:

A new ‘balloon’ is inserted between the current second and third balloon (i.e. after the balloon which reads “Are you, or will you be, involved with specified investments of any kind?”).

The new balloon reads “Are your activities related to information about a person’s financial standing?”

A linking arrow “No” is inserted linking the left side of the previous balloon to the top side of the new balloon (replicating the arrow from the current second to the current third balloon).

A linking arrow “No” is inserted linking the left side of the new balloon to the top side of the next balloon (replicating the arrow from the current second to the current third balloon).

The new balloon is linked, at its right side, to the vertical line, with “Yes” appearing above the link.

To the right of the right-hand link is inserted the following text “Consult articles 89A and 89B of the RAO”.

2 Annex 2  Regulated activities and the permission regime

1.3 Part II of the Regulated Activities Order (Specified activities) specifies the activities for the purposes of section 22 of the Act. This section states that an activity is a regulated activity if it is an activity of a specified kind which is carried on by way of business and:

Note 8:

Note 9:
For the purposes of the permission regime with respect to the regulated activities of entering into a regulated credit agreement as lender and exercising, or having the right to exercise, the lender’s rights and duties under a regulated credit agreement, this is sub-divided into:

(i) a regulated credit agreement (excluding high-cost short-term credit, a home credit loan agreement and a bill of sale loan agreement);

(ii) high-cost short-term credit;

(iii) a home credit loan agreement;

(iv) a bill of sale loan agreement.

For the purposes of operating an electronic system in relation to lending, rights under a credit agreement include rights under an article 36H agreement within the meaning of article 36H (4) of the Regulated Activities Order.

Note 10:
Article 4 (2A) of the Regulated Activities Order specifies the activities (zae) and (zaf) for the purposes of section 22(1A)(a) of the Act (these activities are expressed as relating to information about a person’s financial standing rather than to a specified investment) and accordingly will be regulated activities when carried on by way of business.

4.2.4 Even if the person does not require authorisation, he may still require a licence under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 to carry on the activity (see PERG 4.17 (Interaction with the Consumer Credit Act 1974)). [deleted]

4.7 Entering into a regulated mortgage contract

Exclusions

4.7.2 The Regulated Activities Order contains an exclusion which has the effect of preventing certain activities of trustees, nominees and personal representatives from amounting to entering into a regulated mortgage contract. There is also an exclusion for local authorities. These are referred to in PERG 4.10 (Exclusions applying to more than one regulated activity). In addition, there is also an exclusion where both the lender and borrower are overseas, which is referred to in PERG 4.11 (Link between activities and the United Kingdom).

Other Exclusions

4.8.8 The Regulated Activities Order contains an exclusion which has the effect of preventing certain activities of trustees, nominees and personal representatives from amounting to administering regulated mortgage contracts. There is also an exclusion for local authorities. These are referred to in PERG 4.10 (Exclusions applying to more than one regulated activity). In addition, there is also an exclusion where both the administrator and borrower are overseas, which is referred to in PERG 4.11 (Link between activities and the United Kingdom).
Exclusion: Local authorities

4.10.9 G …

There are exclusions that apply, in relation to each of the regulated mortgage activities if the person carrying on the activity is a local authority.

4.12.2 G Unless a person has only a limited permission for certain credit-related regulated activities, a person who is an authorised person cannot be an appointed representative (see section 39(1) of the Act (Exemption of appointed representatives)).

4.17 Interaction with the Consumer Credit Act

Entering into and administering a regulated mortgage contract

4.17.1 G Article 90 of the Regulated Activities Order essentially carves out regulated mortgage contracts from regulation under the Consumer Credit Act 1974 (CCA). Many loans that fall within the regulated mortgage contract definition are already exempt from much of the detail required under the CCA. The cumulative effect of article 20(3) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No.2) Order 2013 (the 2013 Order) and Chapter 14A of Part 2 of the Regulated Activities Order is to essentially carve out regulated mortgage contracts from regulation under the CCA and from regulation as a credit-related regulated activity.

4.17.2 G Some loans that will fall within the regulated mortgage contract definition are also currently classified as regulated agreements under the CCA. In these cases, the impact of the carve-out in article 90 of the Regulated Activities Order is likely to be more significant. In particular, most of the CCA controls in respect of entering into, operation and termination of agreements will not apply. Article 90 also, however, provides that section 126 of the CCA (Enforcement of land mortgages) and other provisions relating to it, apply to agreements which would otherwise be regulated agreements. In the FCA's view, it follows that section 126 of the CCA and related provisions including sections 129, 130, 131, 135 and 136 (dealing amongst other things with extension of time and protection of property pending proceedings) will apply to these regulated mortgage contracts. Section 126(2) of the CCA (as inserted by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) Order 2014) provides, however, that for the purposes of section 126(1) of the CCA (a land mortgage securing a regulated credit agreement is enforceable (so far as provided in relation to the agreement) on an order of the court only) and Part 9 of the CCA (judicial control) a regulated mortgage contract which would, but for the exemption in PERG 2.7.19CG(1), be a regulated credit agreement is to be treated as if it were a regulated credit agreement. This is subject to section 140A(5) of the CCA (unfair relationships between creditors and debtors), which provides that an order under section 140B of the CCA (powers of court in relation to unfair relationships) shall not be made in connection with a credit agreement which is an exempt agreement under PERG 2.7.19CG.

4.17.3 G Regulated mortgage contracts that were in place at 31 October 2004 and which are subject to the CCA CCA will remain subject to that the regime in the CCA and may be regulated credit agreements for the purposes of the credit-related regulated activities in Chapter 14A of Part 2 of the Regulated Activities Order and will come within the FCA's remit. But there may be instances where a variation of an existing contract amounts to entering into a new regulated mortgage contract (see PERG 4.4.4G and PERG 4.4.13G).

4.17.4 G Unsecured loans, as well as loans secured on second and subsequent charges on property, are not subject to the article 90 carve-out described above and may be regulated credit agreements for the purposes of the CCA and the credit-related regulated activities for which a person may need permission. Many of these loans are currently covered by the CCA and the position will not change.

4.17.5 G In some cases, lenders may provide a flexible mortgage product comprising both a secured first charge loan and unsecured borrowing, for example credit card facilities. In this example, in addition to considering the need for full authorisation, the lender will also require a CCA licence in respect of the unsecured lending, even where the product is sold under a single agreement. [deleted]

Advising on and arranging a regulated mortgage contract

4.17.6 G The CCA also regulates persons who carry on certain types of ancillary credit business including "credit brokerage", "debt-adjusting" and "debt-counselling", as defined by section 145 of the CCA. One aspect of the CCA regime is that a licence is required for these activities. Article 20 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) (Amendment) (No. 1) Order 2003 (SI 2003/1475) adds new exceptions to section 145 of the CCA in relation to these activities. [deleted]
Amended section 146 of the CCA defines "relevant agreement" as meaning a consumer credit agreement secured by a land mortgage, where entering into that agreement as lender is a regulated activity. "Qualifying broker" is defined in the same section as meaning a person who may effect introductions of the kind mentioned in PERG 4.17.7 G without contravening the general prohibition under section 19 of the Act. "Credit brokerage" itself includes introducing an individual seeking to obtain credit to finance the acquisition of a dwelling to be occupied by himself or his relatives, to any person carrying on a business in the course of which he provides credit secured on land (for full definition see section 145(2) of the CCA).

In addition to the provisions of the exception under amended section 146 of the CCA, introducers are referred to the guidance in PERG 4.5.10 G dealing with the provisions relating to introducing in the Regulated Activities Order.

Article 20(2) amends section 146 of the CCA by providing that it is not "debt adjusting" to carry on an activity which would otherwise be "debt adjusting" under section 146(5) of the CCA if (a) the debt in question is due under a "relevant agreement"; and (b) that activity constitutes a regulated activity. "Debt adjusting" includes in relation to debts due under consumer credit agreements (a) negotiating with the creditor, on behalf of the debtor, terms for discharge of the debt, or (b) taking over, in return for payments by the debtor, his obligation to discharge a debt, or (c) any similar activity concerned with the liquidation of the debt (see full definition in section 145(5) of the CCA).

In addition to the provisions of the exception under amended section 146 of the CCA, debt adjusters and arrangers are referred to the guidance in PERG 4.5 dealing with the provisions relating to arranging and, in particular, PERG 4.5.1G(1)(b) dealing with varying a regulated mortgage contract.

Article 20(2) amends section 146 CCA by providing that it is not "debt-counselling" for a person to give advice to debtors if (a) the debt in question is due under a "relevant agreement"; and (b) giving that advice constitutes a regulated activity. "Debt-counselling" includes the giving of advice to debtors about the liquidation of debts due under consumer credit agreements (see the full definition in section 145(6) of the CCA).

In addition to the provisions of the exception under amended section 146 of the CCA, debt counsellors and advisers are referred to the guidance in PERG 4.6 dealing with advising on regulated mortgage contracts and, in particular, PERG 4.6 (Definition of 'advising on regulated mortgage contracts') dealing with varying a regulated mortgage contract. [deleted]

4.17.14 G The CCA's licensing regime will still apply to credit brokers, debt adjusters and debt counsellors in respect of non-regulated mortgages and other loans, as well as to authorised persons or appointed representatives who carry on ancillary credit business in addition to regulated activities. Accordingly, mortgage intermediaries requiring authorisation may also need to retain their CCA licences. [deleted]

Financial Promotion and advertisements

4.17.15 G Articles 90 and 91 of the Regulated Activities Order include provisions that have the effect of removing from CCA regulation financial promotions about qualifying credit. Such promotions will not therefore be subject to Part IV of the CCA or regulations made under that Part. Article 17 of the 2013 Order has the effect that the controlled activity of providing relevant consumer credit for the purposes of the financial promotion regime does not include regulated mortgage contracts.

4.17.16 G For more detailed guidance concerning the interface between application of the financial promotion regime and the regulation of credit advertisements under the CCA to qualifying credit and relevant consumer credit, see PERG 8.17.19G.

5.11.8  Chapter XVII of the Regulated Activities Order (Exclusions applying to several specified kinds of activity) contains various exclusions applying to several kinds of activity. Four Five exclusions of relevance in relation to contracts of insurance are dealt with in this section and a fifth sixth, overseas persons, in PERG 5.12 (Link between activities and the United Kingdom).

5.11.18  Article 72G (Local authorities) excludes from the activities of dealing in investments as agent, arranging (bringing about) deals in investments, making arrangements with a view to transactions in investments, assisting in the administration and performance of a contract of insurance and advising on investments any activity carried on by a local authority which relates to a contract of insurance which is not a life policy.

5.11.19  Article 72H (Insolvency Practitioners) excludes from the activities of dealing in investments as agent, arranging (bringing about) deals in investments, making arrangements with a view to transactions in investments, assisting in the administration and performance of a contract of insurance and advising on investments any activity carried on by a person acting as an insolvency practitioner.

5.13.1  Section 39 of the Act (Exemption of appointed representatives) exempts appointed representatives from the need to obtain authorisation (or, in relation to an appointed representative with a limited permission, provides that sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply in relation to the carrying on of the regulated activity which is comprised in the business for which his principal has accepted responsibility and for which he does not have limited permission).

5.13.2  Unless a person has only a limited permission for certain credit-related regulated activities, a person who is an authorised person cannot be an appointed representative (see section 39(1) of the Act (Exemption of appointed representatives)).

5.13.6  Where a person is already an appointed representative and he proposes to carry on any insurance mediation activities, he will need to consider the following matters.

(1) He must become authorised if his proposed insurance mediation activities include activities that do not fall within the table in PERG 5.13.4G (for example, dealing as agent in pure protection contracts) and he wishes to carry on these activities. The Act does not permit any person to be exempt for some activities and authorised for... others (although a person with only a limited permission for certain credit-related regulated activities may also be an appointed representative for other regulated activities specified in the Appointed Representatives Regulations (see SUP 12.2.2AG)). He will, therefore, need to apply for permission to cover all the regulated activities that he proposes to carry on.

5.14.5 G In addition to certain named persons exempted by the Exemption Order from the need to obtain authorisation, the following bodies are exempt in relation to insurance mediation activities that do not relate to life policies:

(1) local authorities but not their subsidiaries; [deleted]

(2) ...

Introductions (article 15)

8.12.11 G ...

8.12.11A G This exemption does not apply to any financial promotion that is made with a view to, or for the purpose of, an introduction to a person who carries on the controlled activities of:

(1) credit broking;

(2) operating an electronic system in relation to lending; or

(3) agreeing to carry on the above activities.

Exempt persons (article 16)

8.12.12 G This exemption covers two three distinct situations. Article 16(1) applies to all exempt persons where they make financial promotions for the purpose of their exempt activities. These persons would include appointed representatives (except appointed representatives to whom the exemption in article 16(1A) applies; see PERG 8.12.12AG), recognised investment exchanges, recognised clearing houses, recognised auction platforms and those who are able to take advantage of the Exemption Order. So, it allows exempt persons both to promote that they have expertise in certain controlled activities and to make financial promotions in the course of carrying them on. Article 16(1) does not apply to unsolicited real time financial promotions. Persons to whom the general prohibition does not apply because of Part XX (Provision of financial services by members of the professions) or Part XIX (Lloyd's members and former underwriting members) of the Act are not, for the purposes of article 16, exempt persons for their Part XX or Part XIX activities.

8.12.12A G Article 16(1A) applies to non-real time financial promotions and solicited real time financial promotions made:

(1) by an appointed representative who is carrying on an activity to which sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply as a result of section 39(1D) of the Act; and

(2) for the purposes of the appointed representative’s business of carrying on a controlled activity which is also a regulated activity to which sections 20(1) and (1A) and 23(1A) of the Act do not apply by virtue of section 39(1D) of the Act.

SUP 12.2.2AG(3) provides guidance on section 39(1D) of the Act.

...

8.14.18 G This exemption allows a person in another EEA State who lawfully carries on a controlled activity in that State to promote into the United Kingdom. The terms of the exemption are that the promotion must comply with the rules in COBS 4, or MCOB 3 or CONC 3 (as relevant). Care should be taken, as any failure to satisfy any of the relevant requirements of these rules may mean that this exemption is not satisfied and the financial promotion may breach section 21 if it has not been approved and no other exemption applies to it. The FCA recommends that anyone seeking to rely on this exemption either seeks professional advice or contacts the FCA before communicating the financial promotion. This exemption does not apply to unsolicited real time financial promotions.

8.14.40A G E Credit agreements offered to employees by employers (article 72F)

8.14.40A G EA Article 72F exempts any financial promotion which is made to an employee by or on behalf of a person in relation to an exempt staff loan. An exempt staff loan is defined as a credit agreement which is:

(1) entered into by the employee as borrower and the employer, or an undertaking in the same group as the employer, as lender; and

(2) an exempt agreement under a provision of article 60G (exempt agreements: exemptions relating to the total charge for credit) of the Regulated Activities Order other than article 60G(2) (relating to loans by credit unions). Guidance on article 60G can be found in PERG 2.7.19IG.

8.14.40A  G The exemptions described in PERG 8.14.40AG to PERG 8.14.40AEAG should enable employers (and their contracted service providers) to promote employee benefits packages that include any pension schemes, work-related insurance schemes and staff mortgages and certain staff loans to employees without undue concern that they may be breaching the restriction in section 21 of the Act. PERG 8.14.34G (Communications by employers and contracted service providers to employees) has further guidance about the application of section 21 to employers and contracted service providers generally.

8.15.6  G A financial promotion made under article 55A must contain a statement in the following terms: "The [firm/company] is not authorised under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 but we are able in certain circumstances to offer a limited range of investment and consumer credit-related services to clients because we are members of [relevant designated professional body]. We can provide these investment and consumer credit-related services if they are an incidental part of the professional services we have been engaged to provide". The financial promotion may also set out the Part XX activities which the person is able to offer to his clients, provided it is clear that these are the incidental services to which the statement relates. The exemption also provides that a defect in the wording of the statement does not affect its validity. This is provided that the defect does not alter the meaning of the communication.

8.17  Financial promotions concerning agreements for qualifying credit

8.17.1  G Section 21 applies to financial promotions concerning agreements for qualifying credit and relevant consumer credit. PERG 8.17.1AG to PERG 8.17.18G has guidance about the treatment of such financial promotions concerning agreements for qualifying credit. PERG 8.17-AG has guidance about financial promotions concerning relevant consumer credit. Section 21 applies not only to financial promotions about regulated mortgage contracts but also to financial promotions about certain other types of credit agreement. This is explained in more detail in PERG 8.17.2G to PERG 8.17.3G.

Article 46 (Qualifying credit to bodies corporate) exempts any financial promotion about providing qualifying credit (or relevant consumer credit or consumer hire) if it is:

...

Article 28B (Real time communications: introductions) exempts a real time financial promotion that relates to one or more of the controlled activities about regulated mortgage contracts, as well as home reversion plans, home purchase plans, and regulated sale and rent back agreements, certain consumer hire agreements and relevant credit agreements. The exemption is subject to the following conditions being satisfied:

1. the financial promotion must be made for the purpose of, or with a view to, introducing the recipient to a person (\textit{N}) who is:

(b) an appointed representative, where the controlled activity is also a regulated activity in respect of which the appointed representative is exempt or in relation to which sections 20 (1) and (1A) and 23 (1A) of the Act do not apply by virtue of section 39(1D) of the Act (see SUP 12.2.2AG(3)); or

(c) an overseas person who carries on the controlled activity to which the communication relates; for this purpose, an 'overseas person' is a person who carries on any of the controlled activities about home finance transactions or of providing relevant consumer credit or consumer hire but does not do so, or offer to do so, from a permanent place of business maintained by him in the United Kingdom; and

Most credit advertisements are, with various exceptions, regulated under the Consumer Credit Act 1974. However, article 90(3) (Consequential amendments of the Consumer Credit Act 1974) and Article 91(1) (Consequential amendments to subordinate legislation under the Consumer Credit Act 1974) of the Regulated Activities Order disapply the provisions of the Consumer Credit Act 1974 to any financial promotion other than an exempt generic communication. An exempt generic communication is a financial promotion that is exempt under article 17 of the Financial Promotion Order (Generic promotions) (see PERG 8.12.14 G (Generic promotions (article 17))). Hence, an advertisement about credit of any kind will either be regulated under Section 21 of the Act or under the Consumer Credit Act 1974. Such an advertisement will only be subject to regulation under both statues if it is about secured and unsecured lending. Typical examples showing which statute regulates particular types of credit advertisements are given in the table in PERG 8.17.18 G (Table—Guide to the application of the Act and the Consumer Credit Act 1974 to credit advertisements). Interaction with providing relevant consumer credit

8.17.19 G Rights under a relevant credit agreement are also a controlled investment. A relevant credit agreement is a credit agreement other than a regulated mortgage contract or a regulated home purchase plan. Entering into a relevant credit agreement as lender, or exercising or having the rights to exercise the rights of the lender under such an agreement, is a controlled activity under paragraph 10BA of Schedule 1 to the Financial Promotion Order, except where the agreement is for the provision of qualifying credit. Further guidance on providing relevant consumer credit is given in PERG 8.17-A.

8.17.20 G
CONC 3 contains rules about financial promotions relating to credit-related regulated activity. CONC 3 does not apply, however, to the communication, or approval for communication, of a financial promotion to the extent it concerns qualifying credit. MCOB 3 applies to the communication or approval of a financial promotion of qualifying credit. This means that a financial promotion about credit will not usually be subject to both MCOB 3 and CONC 3 unless it is about secured and unsecured lending. Guidance on the potential application of MCOB 3 and CONC 3 to particular types of financial promotion of credit is given in the table in PERG 8.17.21G. Firms must also comply with Principle 7 (a firm must pay due regard to the information needs of its clients, and communicate information to them in a way which is clear, fair and not misleading).

8.17-A  Financial promotions concerning consumer credit and consumer hire

8.17-A.1  Section 21 of the Act applies to financial promotions in relation to relevant consumer credit and consumer hire. This section sets out guidance about such financial promotions.

Controlled investments

8.17-A.2  Rights under a relevant credit agreement are a controlled investment. A relevant credit agreement is defined as a credit agreement other than a regulated mortgage contract or a regulated home purchase plan.

8.17-A.3  Rights under a consumer hire agreement are also a controlled investment.

Controlled activities

8.17-A.4  Providing relevant consumer credit is a controlled activity. This is defined as entering into a relevant credit agreement (other than an agreement under which qualifying credit is provided) as lender, or exercising or having the rights to exercise the rights of the lender under such an agreement.

8.17-A.5  The controlled activities also include providing consumer hire. A person provides consumer hire if he enters into a regulated consumer hire agreement (or an agreement that would be such an agreement were it not exempt under article 60O (exempt agreements: exemptions relating to the nature of the agreement) or 60Q (exempt agreement: exemptions relating to nature of hirer) of the Regulated Activities Order) as owner or exercises or has the right to exercise the rights of the owner under such an agreement.

8.17-A.6  Operating an electronic system in relation to lending is a controlled activity. For the purposes of this controlled activity, the controlled investment of rights under a relevant credit agreement includes rights under an agreement within paragraph 4C(4) of Schedule 1 to the Financial Promotion Order (which is similar to an agreement within article 36H of the Regulated Activities Order, guidance on which is given in PERG 2.7.7HG).

8.17-A.7  There are three other controlled activities that involve both of the controlled investments of relevant credit agreements and consumer hire agreements:

   (1) credit broking;

   (2) debt adjusting;
8.17-A.8 G The controlled activities in PERG 8.17-A.6G and PERG 8.17-A.7G are substantially the same as the regulated activities of operating an electronic system in relation to lending, credit broking, debt adjusting and debt counselling (although there are some technical differences between the controlled activity of credit broking and the regulated activity of credit broking. For example, the credit broking controlled activity captures all relevant credit agreements (including those to which the exemption relating to number of repayments to be made in article 60F of the Regulated Activities Order applies). Also, an activity is not the controlled activity of credit broking to the extent that it constitutes the controlled activity of arranging qualifying credit. Guidance on these regulated activities is given in PERG 2.7.7EG (credit broking), 2.7.7HG (operating an electronic system), 2.7.8BG (debt adjusting) and 2.7.8CG (debt counselling). Agreeing to carry on the above activities also constitutes a controlled activity.

Application of exemptions to financial promotions about agreements for relevant consumer credit or consumer hire

8.17-A.9 G Financial promotions about relevant consumer credit or consumer hire are subject to the exemptions in Part IV of the Financial Promotion Order (Exempt communications: all controlled activities). A number of the exemptions in Part VI of the Financial Promotion Order (Exempt communications: certain controlled activities) also apply. Guidance on some of these (which apply to financial promotions about both qualifying credit and relevant consumer credit) is given in PERG 8.17.10G to PERG 8.17.12G. There is one exemption that applies specifically to relevant consumer credit and consumer hire, referred to in PERG 8.17-A.10G.

Promotions of credit for business purposes (article 46A)

8.17-A.10 G (1) Article 46A of the Financial Promotion Order exempts a communication which relates to the controlled activities of operating an electronic system in relation to lending, providing relevant consumer credit or providing consumer hire.

(2) This exemption applies only if the communication:

(a) indicates clearly that a person is willing to engage in the investment activity for the purposes of another person’s business; and

(b) does not indicate (by express words or otherwise) that the person is willing to engage in the investment activity for any other purpose.

(3) For the purposes of this exemption, references to a “business” do not include a business carried on by the person communicating the promotion, or by a person who is a credit broker in relation to the agreement to which the promotion relates.

Amend the following provisions as shown.

Yes, if you are:
• a person who is specifically exempt under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Exemption) Order 2001, such as a local authority or a registered social landlord; or
• an appointed representative whose agreement with his principal permits him to carry on the activities in question; or
• an exempt professional firm.

14.8 Financial promotions

(2) Exempt persons (article 16 of the Financial Promotion Order). This applies, subject to certain conditions, if you are an exempt person such as a local authority, a registered social landlord or an appointed representative.

After PERG 16 insert the following new chapter. The text is not underlined.

17 Consumer credit debt counselling

17.1 Introduction
Q1.1 What is the purpose of the questions and answers in this chapter?

The purpose is to consider the scope of the regulated activities specifically relating to consumer credit debt counselling.

Q1.2 What are the regulated activities specifically relating to consumer credit debt counselling?

The regulated activities that specifically relate to consumer credit debt counselling are both to be found in article 39E of the Regulated Activities Order. They are:

1. giving advice to a borrower about the liquidation of a debt due under a credit agreement; and

2. giving advice to a hirer about the liquidation of a debt due under a consumer hire agreement.

Q1.3 What is the scope of this chapter?

This chapter is not a complete discussion of the regulated activities relating to consumer credit. It just concentrates on the things that are specific to debt counselling. In particular, it does not discuss the meaning of borrower, credit agreement, consumer hire agreement or hirer.

Q1.4 Are there transitional arrangements?

Yes, but they are outside the scope of this chapter.

17.2 The basic elements of debt counselling

Q2.1 What is the basic definition of debt counselling?

It involves the following elements:

1. It is advice given to:

   (a) a borrower about the liquidation of a debt due under a credit agreement; or

   (b) a hirer about the liquidation of a debt due under a consumer hire agreement;

   (see PERG 17.3 for more about what the advice must be about).

2. The advice must relate to a particular debt and debtor (see PERG 17.4).

3. It covers the giving of advice. It does not cover just giving mere information. This is explained in PERG 17.5.
(4) If an exclusion applies, the activity is not a regulated activity (see PERG 17.6).

Q2.2 Can you give some examples of what is and is not debt counselling?
Yes. There are examples in PERG 17.7.

Q2.3 What other factors are relevant to whether authorisation is needed?
(1) Whether the activity is carried on by way of business (see PERG 2.3).
(2) Whether an exemption is available (see PERG 2.11).
(3) Whether the person can carry on the activity without authorisation (see PERG 2.10.12G to PERG 2.10.16G).

17.3 What the advice must be about

Q3.1 What does liquidation of a debt mean?
It has a wide meaning. For example, it would cover the following:

- paying off the debt in full and in time;
- agreeing a rescheduling or a temporary halt to paying off the debt;
- the debtor being released from the debt;
- agreeing a reduced repayment amount (including the creditor agreeing to accept token repayments);
- a third party taking over the debtor’s obligation to discharge the debt;
- discharging the debt or making it irrecoverable through personal insolvency procedures such as bankruptcy, a voluntary arrangement or a debt relief order.

Q3.2 What does due mean?
As described in the answer to Q2.1 (What is the basic definition of debt counselling?), debt counselling relates to debts that are due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement. As the regulation of debt counselling is a consumer protection measure the “due” should in the FCA’s view be interpreted fairly broadly and should not be limited to debts that are immediately payable (for example, where the debtor is in default). Therefore, for instance, it would cover present obligations to make payments in the future.
Debt counselling is not limited to debts that are overdue. It also covers debts that are not overdue.

Q3.3 Does it matter if the advice also covers debts that are not due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement?

No. If advice is given to a debtor about his debts, some of which are not payable under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement, that advice is regulated as long as some of the debts are due under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement. There is nothing in the definition of debt counselling or in the policy for regulating it that restricts debt counselling to a situation in which all the debts are consumer credit ones. Where advice covers both the consumer credit debt and the other debt, the advice on both types of debt is likely to be debt counselling as what is done about non-consumer credit debt is likely to affect consumer credit debt, particularly if the advice does not distinguish between the two types of debt. This is similar to the position for the advisory regulated activities in relation to transactions in regulated investments, which cover not only advice on the transaction in the regulated investment itself but also any advice with a view to, or in connection with, that transaction and advice as to any associated or ancillary matter.

For the same reason other kinds of advice that would not otherwise be treated as debt counselling will be included if that other kind of advice is given with a view to or in connection with the liquidation of consumer credit debts. See example (11) in the table in the answer to Q7.1 for an example of this.

17.4 Advice must relate to a particular debt and debtor

Q4.1 Does debt counselling cover advice given to the public in general rather than to a particular debtor?

Debt counselling covers giving advice about “a” debt. This means that the advice must relate to the debts of a particular debtor or debtors. Advice will normally not be covered if it is not given to any particular debtor. So for example, it would not generally cover advice in a newspaper, periodical publication, journal, magazine, publication or a radio or television broadcast. General advice open to everyone on a website is unlikely to be debt counselling for the same reason. On the other hand advice given to a particular debtor over the Internet may be regulated. Please see Q5.5 about whether decision trees involve debt counselling.

Q4.2 Must advice be given to a borrower?

Yes. Debt counselling means giving advice to a borrower under a credit agreement or a hirer under a consumer hire agreement. So for example it does not cover advice given to persons who receive it as:
- a lender under a credit agreement or the owner under a consumer hire agreement; or
- an adviser who will only use it to inform advice given by him to others (but see Q4.3); or
- a journalist or broadcaster who will use it only for journalistic purposes.

Q4.3 What about advice that is passed on through an intermediary?

This question covers advice prepared by A which is then passed on to the debtor by B.

If the debtor knows of this arrangement and knows that B does not exercise any judgement but just acts as a conduit, it is likely that A is debt counselling and B is not.

17.5 The meaning of advice

Q5.1 Broadly speaking, what is advice?

Advice means giving an opinion as a guide to action to be taken, in this case the liquidation of debts. It either explicitly or implicitly steers the customer to a particular course of action.

A key question is whether an impartial observer, having due regard to the regulatory regime and guidance, context, timing and what passed between the parties, would conclude that advice had been given. One should look at whether what the adviser says could reasonably have been understood by the client as being advice which would help him make up his mind.

The concept of advice is broad enough to include any communication with the debtor which, in the particular context in which it is given, goes beyond the mere provision of information and is objectively likely to influence the debtor's decision whether or not to undertake the course of action in question.

Any course of action does not have to be identified in any detail. For example advice to opt for one of a number of identified possible debt solutions without advising which one of those the client should adopt may, depending on the circumstances, be debt counselling.

Q5.2 Does advice include a recommendation?
Yes, a recommendation to carry out a specific course of action to liquidate a relevant debt is likely to be debt counselling. However, something falling short of an explicit recommendation can be regulated too. Any element of evaluation, value judgment or persuasion is likely to mean that advice is being given.

Q5.3 Is giving information advice?

In the FCA's view, advice requires an element of opinion on the part of the adviser or something that might be taken by the debtor, expressly or by implication, to suggest or influence a course of action. Information, on the other hand, involves statements of facts or figures.

In general terms, simply giving balanced and neutral information without making any comment or value judgement on its relevance to decisions which a debtor may make is not advice. The provision of purely factual information does not become regulated advice merely because it feeds into the debtor's own decision-making process and is taken into account by him.

Therefore, a neutral and balanced explanation of the implications of entering into different debt solutions need not, itself, involve debt counselling.

In the FCA's opinion, however, such information is likely take on the nature of advice if the circumstances in which it is provided give it, expressly or by implication, the force of a recommendation.

For example the adviser may provide information on a selected, rather than balanced and neutral, basis that would tend to influence the decision of the debtor. This may arise where the adviser offers to provide information about certain ways of liquidating the debtor’s debts that contain features specified by the debtor. The adviser may then exercise discretion as to which course of action to highlight.

A key to the question whether advice is given is whether that information is either accompanied by a comment or value judgment on the relevance of that information to the client's decision, or is itself the product of a process of selection involving a value judgment so that the information will tend to influence the decision of the recipient. In both these scenarios, the information acquires the character of a recommendation.

One factor in deciding whether what was said by an adviser in a particular situation did or did not amount to advice is to look at the inquiry to which the adviser was responding. If a debtor asks for a recommendation, any response is likely to be regarded as advice.
On the other hand, if a debtor makes a purely factual inquiry it may be the case that a reply which simply provides the relevant factual information is no more than that. In this case it is relevant whether the adviser makes it clear that it does not give advice or whether the adviser runs a debt counselling business.

Q5.4 PERG says a lot about generic advice in relation to other sorts of regulated advice. Is the idea of generic advice relevant to debt counselling?

Generic advice is a term the FCA uses to refer to something that is advice rather than mere information but which is not regulated because, although it relates to investments, it is not about the merits of buying or selling a particular investment.

The concept of generic advice is potentially relevant to debt counselling. As explained in the answer to Q1.2 (What are the regulated activities specifically relating to consumer credit debt counselling?) and Q4.1 (Does debt counselling cover advice given to the public in general rather than to a particular debtor?) debt counselling relates to the particular debts of a debtor. Advice that does not relate to particular debts in this way is likely to be generic advice.

However, as explained in the answer to Q5.1, advice may be debt counselling even though the advice does not identify a course of action with any precision. This narrows the types of advice that will be excluded from being debt counselling on the grounds of being generic advice. Another reason for generic advice being less relevant to debt counselling is that other types of regulated advice relate to a very specific activity, such as buying or selling investments, while the range of activities covered by debt counselling is wide.

See example (5) in the table in Q7.1 for an example of where generic advice is relevant to debt counselling.

Q5.5 Does a decision tree involve debt counselling?

Scripted questioning involves using any form of sequenced questions in order to extract information from a person with a view to facilitating the selection by that person of a method of liquidating his debts under a credit agreement or a consumer hire agreement. A decision tree is an example of scripted questioning. The process of going through the questions will usually narrow down the range of options that are available. Scripted questions must be prepared in advance of their actual use.
Undertaking the process of scripted questioning gives rise to particular issues concerning debt counselling. Whether or not scripted questioning in any particular case is debt counselling will depend on all the circumstances. If the process involves identifying one or more particular courses of action then, in the FCA's view, to avoid debt counselling, the critical factor is likely to be whether the process is limited to, and likely to be perceived by the debtor as, assisting the debtor to make his own choice of how to liquidate his debts. The questioner will need to avoid making any judgement on the suitability of one or more courses of action for the debtor.

The potential for variation in the form, content and manner of scripted questioning is considerable, but there are two broad types. The first type involves providing questions and answers which are confined to factual matters (for example, the nature and size of the debts). There are various possible scenarios, including the following:

1. The questioner may go on to identify several courses of action which match features identified by the scripted questioning; provided these are presented in a balanced and neutral way (for example, they identify all the possible courses of action, without making a recommendation as to a particular one) this need not, of itself, involve debt counselling.

2. The questioner may go on to advise the debtor on the merits of one particular course of action over another. This would be debt counselling.

3. The questioner may, before or during the course of the scripted questioning, give information that considered on its own would not involve debt counselling and, following the scripted questioning, identify one or more particular courses of action. The factors described in the answer to Q5.6 are relevant to deciding whether there is debt counselling.

The second type of scripted questioning involves providing questions and answers incorporating opinion, judgement or recommendations. This will involve advice not just information. There are various possible scenarios, including the following:

4. The scripted questioning may not lead to the identification of any particular course of action; in this case, the questioner has provided advice, but it is generic advice and does not amount to debt counselling. As explained in the answer to Q5.4 (generic advice) this will be an uncommon scenario.

5. The scripted questioning may lead to the identification of one or more particular courses of action. This is likely to be debt counselling.
Q5.6 What are the factors mentioned in paragraph (3) of the answer to Q5.5?

The FCA considers that it is necessary to look at the process and outcome of scripted questioning as a whole. Factors that may be relevant in deciding whether the process involves debt counselling include the following:

1. any representations made by the questioner at the start of the questioning relating to the service he is to provide;
2. the context in which the questioning takes place;
3. the role played by any questioner who guides a person through the scripted questions;
4. the outcome of the questioning (how many courses of action are highlighted, how precise they are, whether the questioner will help the debtor to carry out the course of action, whether the questioner identifies any third party who might help the debtor to carry out the course of action and the relationship between the questioner and that third party and so on); and
5. whether the scripted questions and answers have been provided by, and are clearly the responsibility of, an unconnected third party (for example, the FCA), and all that the questioner has done is help the debtor understand what the questions or options are and how to determine which option applies to his particular circumstances.

Q5.7 Does the medium used to give advice matter?

The medium used to give advice should make no material difference to whether or not the advice is debt counselling. Advice can be provided in many ways including:

- face to face;
- orally to a group;
- by telephone;
- by correspondence (including e-mail and text messaging);
- through the provision of an interactive software system.

However advice given in a publication, broadcast or website raises different issues (see the answer to Q4.1 (Does debt counselling cover advice given to the public in general rather than to a particular debtor?)).
17.6 Exclusions

There are a number of exclusions that apply to debt counselling. The following table lists them and says where further information on them can be found in PERG.

(11) A person explains how to fill in a form for entering into an IVA

It is unlikely that a person would provide this advice on its own by way of business.

If a person provides this help in the course of carrying on some other unregulated activities he will not be debt counselling as it should be seen as providing information not advice.

If though he provides this help in the course of a wider debt counselling business it will be included as part of that debt counselling activity.

If the explanation is given by the insolvency practitioner the exclusion in article 72H of the RAO (Insolvency practitioners) is likely to be available (see Q6.1 (What exclusions are available?)).

(12) A person uses direct marketing and other forms of advertising (for example, on websites promoted on search engines) and cold calling, to gather personal information from debtors, which is then sold on to providers of debt advice.

It is not debt counselling as it does not involve advice to debtors about the liquidation of debts due.

However, a person providing such referrals will be debt counselling if during the course of communicating with a debtor he makes a recommendation to the debtor as to how he might liquidate his consumer credit debt.

(13) A person recommends that a debtor obtains advice from a particular debt counselling firm, ABC Debt Management.

Taken on its own it is not debt counselling because the adviser is advising the debtor to obtain advice from another adviser.

However, if ABC Debt Management only offers one debt solution (e.g. a debt management plan), the referral could constitute a recommendation intended implicitly to steer the debtor in the direction of that particular debt solution and, therefore, could be advice (in which case it would be debt counselling).

Consequently, whether or not debt counselling is involved will depend on the individual circumstances in each case and is likely to involve a consideration of the process as a whole.

| (14) Adviser: “I recommend you prioritise the repayment of your electricity bill over all other debts” | This is likely to constitute debt counselling if, having considered all of a debtor’s outstanding debts, an adviser advises the debtor to prioritise the repayment of a utility bill (e.g. an electricity bill) over his other outstanding debts (including debts arising under credit agreements or consumer hire agreements). This constitutes advising on the liquidation of debts due, since there is an implied recommendation that the debtor should postpone repaying his consumer credit related debts until he has repaid another debt or debts. |
| (15) A person (for example, a money adviser) helps a debtor to draw up a budget, e.g. providing a budget planner to see how much disposable income the client has each month or how long the client’s money could last over a particular period. | This is not debt counselling if all the adviser does is to provide a debtor with information about his budget and the process is limited to, and likely to be perceived by the debtor as, assisting him to make his own choice as to a course of action he might take in liquidating his consumer credit-related debts. It may not be advice at all, in that it just puts into a convenient form information that the consumer has himself supplied. Even if it goes beyond just organising information supplied by the debtor, as long as the adviser gives the information in a balanced and neutral way, the adviser should be seen as providing information rather than advice. The adviser is supplying material that could be used for the purposes of deciding how to liquidate debts but not advising on liquidating them. |
| (16) An adviser gives budgetary advice | This is debt counselling if the adviser goes beyond the services in example (15) and advises the debtor on how to match income and debts. For example, the adviser may advise the debtor to reduce discretionary spending to a set amount each month to enable him to | pay off a certain amount of a large credit card bill each month.

It does not matter if the result of the advice is that the debtor should pay off his debts in full, rather than by instalments over a period of time or by entering into some sort of repayment plan, as debt counselling is not limited to advice about being released from paying the debt in full or rescheduling.

(17) Mortgage adviser: “I advise you to consolidate your unsecured consumer credit debts into this regulated mortgage contract”

This is unlikely to be debt counselling. Leaving aside the exclusions, this would be debt counselling as the mortgage adviser is proposing that the debtor should consolidate a number of his consumer credit debts into a single (potentially more manageable) debt with a view to the debtor being better able to liquidate all of his debts.

However, the exclusion in article 39J of the RAO (Activities carried on in relation to a regulated mortgage contract or a home purchase plan) is likely to apply. So far as applicable to this example, the exclusion works like this:

(a) The advice must relate to a regulated mortgage contract. This condition is satisfied.

Example (18) illustrates the issues that would arise if the adviser did not advise on specific regulated mortgage contracts.

(b) Giving the advice must be a regulated activity. If the only regulated activity involved in giving the advice is debt adjusting, that is not enough. Another regulated activity must apply too. However, the exclusion can still apply if the advice involves debt adjusting in addition to another regulated activity.

This condition is met because the adviser is advising on regulated mortgage contracts.
Note: Technically this condition (giving the advice must be a regulated activity) would not be satisfied if the only regulated activity carried on by the adviser is debt adjusting, debt collecting or debt administration. However, this example only mentions debt adjusting as, if any of these three regulated activities apply, it is likely only to be debt adjusting.

(c) When the mortgage lender enters into the mortgage it will be carrying on the regulated activity of entering into a regulated mortgage contract. PERG 4.7 explains when entering into a regulated mortgage contract applies.

| (18) Mortgage adviser: “I advise you to consolidate your unsecured consumer credit debts into a single regulated mortgage contract. However, I can’t advise you what mortgage contract you should enter into or which mortgage lender you should use.” | This is debt counselling. The exclusion in article 39J of the RAO (Activities carried on in relation to a regulated mortgage contract or a home purchase plan) does not apply.

The difference between this example and example (17) is that the advice in this example does not relate to a particular regulated mortgage contract (or several different regulated mortgage contracts). As explained in more detail in PERG 4.6.5G this means that the adviser is not advising on regulated mortgage contracts. The exclusion in article 39J does not apply because the adviser is not carrying on another regulated activity, which means that one of the conditions for article 39J to apply is not met.

See example (17) for an explanation of the conditions that must be satisfied if the article 39J exclusion is to apply. |

| (19) A person operating a peer-to-peer lending platform advises a debtor on the liquidation of a debt due under a consumer credit agreement entered into with a lender or lenders (via the platform). In this example, the platform operator is carrying on the regulated activity of operating an electronic... | This is debt counselling as long as the loan agreement is a credit agreement.

The *regulated activity of operating an electronic system in relation to lending covers agreements that are called article 36H agreements, which covers more than just credit agreements. If the consumer credit agreement is an article... |

| system in relation to lending. | 36H agreement but not a credit agreement the advice will not be debt counselling. |
Annex R

Amendments to the Unfair Contract Terms Regulatory Guide (UNFCOG)

In this Annex, underlining indicates new text and striking through indicates deleted text.

1.1.2  G We have agreed with the Office of Fair Trading (“OFT”) Competition and Markets Authority (“CMA”) that the FCA will consider the fairness (within the meaning of the Regulations) of financial services contracts for carrying on any regulated activity.

1.1.3  G The OFT will consider the fairness of other financial services contracts which involve activities governed by the Consumer Credit Act 1974. This includes second charge mortgage loans, buy-to-let mortgages, and non-mortgage personal loans (including credit cards). Also, Where the firm concerned is not a firm or an appointed representative, the OFT CMA may take enforcement action under the Regulations in respect of financial services contracts involving the carrying on of regulated activities (see EG 10.16 and EG 10.17).

1.2.4  G …

(2) Under regulation 14 of the Regulations the FCA has a duty to pass details of these cases to the OFT CMA.

(3) The OFT CMA also publishes details of cases that it, and other qualifying bodies, have dealt with in accordance with the OFT’s CMA’s duties under regulation 15 of the Regulations.

1.4.2  G There are three main ways in which we might receive a complaint from a consumer or other person. These are:

(3) from the OFT CMA.

1.4.5  G (1) …
(2) In some cases, it might be appropriate for us to use other powers to deal with issues identified under the Regulations. The powers available to the FCA under the Act may vary depending on the regulated activities which the firm carries out. For example, the use of the unfair term might involve a breach of a Principle or a rule in COBS, CONC, MCOB or ICOBS. If so, the FCA might also address the issue as a rule breach.

1.5.1 G …

(3) As part of their risk management, firms that have not themselves given an undertaking or been subject to a court decision should remain alert to undertakings or court decisions about other firms, since these will be of potential value in indicating the likely attitude of the courts, the FCA, the OFT CMA or other qualifying bodies to similar terms or to terms with similar effects.

1 Contact details and timings for this application

Contact for this application

1.3 Details of the person we should contact about this application.
This should be an individual in the UK.

Timings for this application

1.4 Does the applicant firm have any timing factors that it would like us to consider?

If you wish your application to be granted by a specific date, for example in time for a product launch, we will try to do so. However, the time taken to determine each application is significantly affected by the quality of the application submitted and whether it is complete. If you leave a question blank, do not sign the declaration or do not attach the required supporting information, we will have to treat the application as incomplete. This will increase the time taken for us to assess your application.

We are required by law to determine applications within the earlier of (a) 6 months of receiving a complete application or (b) 12 months of receiving an incomplete application. However, we aim to make a decision about the application as soon as possible.

2 Variation of Permission – Consumer Credit activities

It is your responsibility to make sure the regulated activities you request adequately cover the activities the applicant firm intends to carry on. Use this section to request any changes you wish to make to the firm's permission.

You need a Permission Notice that matches the applicant firm’s needs and covers every aspect of regulated business it wants to carry on. The Permission Notice shows the range of regulated activities the applicant firm will be authorised to carry on. It will also contain what we refer to as ‘requirements’ and ‘limitations’.

Broadly speaking, a limitation is included in the description of a specific regulated activity and will limit how it is carried on, in some way.

A requirement is on the firm to take, or not to take, a specified action (eg, not to hold client money). A requirement may extend to activities of the firm which are not regulated activities.
If the applicant firm carries on a regulated activity that is not set out in its permission notice it could be in breach of FSMA and subject to enforcement action.

3 Variation of Permission – Client Money

The rules and guidance about how applicant firms hold client money are designed to provide an adequate level of protection for consumers.

4 Reason for Variation

No additional notes.
Threshold Conditions are the minimum requirements a firm must satisfy to be, and to continue to be, authorised. When we consider the applicant firm’s application, we will assess whether you will satisfy, and continue to satisfy, the threshold conditions which are set out in full in Chapter 2 of the Threshold Conditions sourcebook (COND 2) of the Handbook at: www.fshandbook.info/FS/html/handbook/COND/2.

Location of Offices
This is a requirement of Threshold Condition 2.2.

Effective Supervision
The appropriate regulator must be capable of effectively supervising the firm. This is a requirement of Threshold Condition 2.3.

Appropriate resources
We must be satisfied the applicant firm has adequate resources. We assess the quality and quantity of the applicant firm’s resources for its:

- financial resources;
- management;
- staff; and
- systems and controls.

This is a requirement of Threshold Condition 2.4.

Prudential category
We differentiate between our financial requirements by putting applicant firms in different prudential categories. The firm will fall into at least one prudential category (including if there is no specific prudential requirement); and it may fall into more than one prudential category, depending on its regulated activities.

The prudential categories relevant to consumer credit activities are set out in the following table:

Table A

</tbody>
</table>

For other consumer credit activities, there is no specific prudential requirement and you should answer question 5.5 “no”.

Compliance
A firm must establish, maintain and carry out a Compliance Monitoring Programme of actions to check it complies, and continues to comply, with regulations. When assessing this application, we need to be satisfied the applicant firm has the appropriate compliance arrangements in place to meet its regulatory obligations. The applicant firm will need, as a minimum, to have in place procedures to meet our rules for the subject areas in the table below. These procedures must be ready for inspection at any time.

There are different controlled functions relevant to the different types of businesses we regulate.
